The above is from the St. Hilaire Spectator and is not only cheerfully admitted but most emphatically endorsed both as to fact and intent. Without any reservation The Times hereby places itself on record as declaring that not only is the territory referred to the most dependable and productive in Pennington county, but that St. Hilaire is situated in what is the brightly burnished buckle of the agricultural belt of the entire United States. Furthermore, there is no excuse for making a mistake about this while the Spectator continues the champion of that highly favored region. Long may it spectate.

Now go ahead with your fall plowing.

THE VALUE OF ADVERTISING.

Says John Wanamaker: "If there is one business on earth that a 'quitter' should leave severely one, it is advertising. To make a success of advertising, one must be prepared to stick to it like a barnacle on a boat's bottom. He should know before he begins it that he must spend money—considerable of it. Somebody should tell him also that he cannot hope to reap results commensurate with his expenditures early in the game. Advertising doesn't jerk; it pulls. It begins very gently at first, but the pull is steady. It increases day by day and year by year, until it exerts an irresistible power. It is likened to a team pulling a heavy load. A thousand spasmodic, jerky pulls will not budge the load! while one-half the power exerted in steady effort will start and keep it moving. There are three ways to make advertising pay, and these are the only ways. There are no others. First, is to keep at it; second, is to keep at it; third, is to keep at it."

TEN AND 20 YEARS AGO

Twenty Years Ago.

Lieut. Bartelson, Privates C. E. Travers, Joseph Johnson, Frank Wiley, Sam Torgerson, Harry Jones and Lyman Rogers returned to their homes, having been discharged from the United States army in which they enlisted to enter the fight with Spain.

There was a merry political war on, the battle centering on the contest for county auditor and county attorney.

The family of F. J. Stebbins moved to their new home in Porter's addition.

The Chippewa Indians at Leach lake were giving the authorities considerable trouble.

Senator J. P. Doliver of Iowa, was scheduled to speak at Hamre's hall on Oct. 17. Congressman Eddy was announced for the 18th.

Ten Years Ago.

The high school football team was made up of the following members: Louis Iverson, Leslie Brady, John Ihle, Conrad Johnson, George Jacobson, Allan Lipscomb, Will Rinker, Fred Protz, Odin Brude, Rasmus Bartelson, Ingvold Fossum, Alfred Berry, James Curran, Harry Prichard, Henry Chittick.

Ben Johnson, a deserter from the United States army, gave himself up to Patrolman J. F. Farr and was taken to Fort Snelling.

Damose Bray, after whom the township was named, died at Red Lake Falls. He had resided in the county 32 years.

The proposition to locate an agricultural school at St. Hilaire was turned down by a vote of three to one.

Friends of Miss Kate McAulty were circulating a petition to place her name on the ballot as candidate for school superintendent against her brother, J. A. McAulty.

Auto Mechanics Wanted.

The American Red Cross is in need of 1200 truck drivers and 300 mechanics at an early date. This call has been cabled from the French commission. It offers an opportunity for every member of the A. A. A. to help in this patriotic and highly important task. Anyone wishing further information concerning this service is asked to write Paul A. Brooks, 202 Essex Building, Minneapolis.

PUBLISH NAMES OF ALL BOND BUYERS

COMPLETE LIST OF PURCHASERS WILL APPEAR IN THE TIMES.

The Times expects that Liberty bonds will be sold in every home in Pennington county. Uncle Sam has apportioned to us the neat little sum of $350,000, and we are going to buy that much and more.

Every person who buy all the bonds he or she can is doing a real "bit" toward defeating the kaiser, and is entitled to the credit of doing it. Their names should have a place on the Pennington county roll of honor, and The Times proposes to put them there.

While we are confident every home in this community will be represented by at least one name in this roll of honor, we are in hopes that for very many of the homes the name of each member of the family will be included in the list. We should like to see this roll of honor contain the names of every man and woman, every boy and girl in the county.

This roll of honor will be printed in The Times, and the only way to get on it is to buy at least one bond. We do not propose to print the amount of bonds you buy, because that would be unfair to those who can buy only a small amount, and the person who can only afford to and does buy one $50 bond is entitled to just as much credit as the person who can afford to and does buy a much larger amount.

The name of every real, 100 per cent American—and The Times believes all of the people of Pennington county are that—will be found in this roll of honor buyers.

Beginning with the first issue after the sale of bonds opens The Times will begin printing the names of purchasers, giving in that edition all names that have been reported to the sales director up to the day before the paper is issued. Each following issue will contain additional names of purchasers and this will be continued up to the time the sale closes and the names of all purchasers have been printed.

If you buy a bond and do not find your name in the issue of The Times following its purchase be sure to report it to this office at once, as it would not be fair to our county to have the name of a single bond purchaser omitted.

Boosts Pink Ballot.

A reader contributes the following and asks that it be given space in the columns of The Times:

The Forty-second Annual Convention of the Womans Christian Temperance union held at Duluth Sept. 17-20 was a jubilee festival for the victories already won and an inspiration for continued prayers to God Almighty for a greater victory in the future. Let every Christian man and woman join hands and oust the Kaiser's greatest Ally, King Alcohol, before our boys come home.

Vote the pink ballot Nov. 5.

Want Many Sweaters.

The Pennington County Chapter of the Red Cross has been asked to supply 350 sweaters during the month of October. This is considerable of an order, requiring the production of more than ten of the garments each day, but the officers are in hopes of meeting the demand. Headquarters in this city will look after the matter as far as possible but it will be necessary to draft all knitters of the auxiliaries into service if the task is to be accomplished. Assurances have been given that the necessary yarn will be forthcoming.

Mrs. J. Burkhart of Omemee visited for a few hours in this city Wednesday evening of last week enroute to Minneapolis, where she is visiting at the home of her niece, Mrs. C. E. Schwadler.

Keep Your Rugs Like New

YOU can easily regain the original beauty and coloring of your rugs by applying occasionally a soft lather of 20 Mule Team Borax Soap Chips. Let it remain for a few minutes, then remove with a stiff brush. Will not injure colors or fabric, as the Borax simply softens and loosens the dirt and the soap dissolves it away.

81 HERDS AVERAGE $82 PAST MONTH

LOCAL CREAMERY PAYING 60c PER POUND FOR BUTTERFAT.

The Thief River Falls Co-operative creamery this week announces a price of 60c per pound for butterfat, this being the highest figure the product has reached since dairying became an established industry in this section. The receipts during the past month have been very good and there is every indication that this condition will continue. If there are still those among our farmers who are bothering with dairy butter or who are taking chances on prices and tests at centralizing plants they should realize that they are losing money by not sending their product to one of the best creameries in the state. They will be assured of securing the highest price for their milk and cream, a special effort will be made to keep in touch with them and notices of market changes promptly sent out.

The government has commandeered 60 per cent of the entire butter output of the country, this being largely responsible for the advance. This will also insure a high price for butterfat for some time to come. Dairymen should ask to be placed on the mailing list of the Thief River creamery and thus keep posted on all market changes.

During the month there were 81 patrons who received checks for over $50, the average being $82. Their names, with the amount paid, follow:

A. J. Funnesdahl, $216.18; Hans Anton, $163.92; Mrs. J. J. Berg, $150.24; Kirk and Christensen, $137.62; S. Mork, $137.38; Matt Barzen, $132.31; John Krebeck, $111.52; Ed. Grundhaus, $131.55; Ed. FIRST BARREL OF FRUIT PITS SENT

GROCERS HAVE BEEN ORGANIZED AS COLLECTING FORCE BY CHAIRMAN HERRICK.

Thief River Falls citizens have a reputation of responding with alacrity to any request made by the government, even though its purpose is not always understood. A week ago The Times stated that fruit pits were wanted, and Secretary Scott Laird is now awaiting shipping instructions for the first barrel filled. This was placed at the Auditorium corner and our people, many of them, made special trips for the purpose of depositing the needed pits in the receptacle. By some the request was not at once taken seriously, but these will hereafter see that none of the valuable material is wasted.

Chairman F. H. Herrick of the fair price committee, was asked to add this feature to his other duties and has asked all grocers in the city to provide receptacles for the pits and also to impress upon their customers the importance of the matter. The order has been complied with and the material may now be left at any grocery store and at the drug store of Andrew Bottleson on the East Side.

Fruit pits, the shells of nuts and prune stones are wanted. They go for the purpose of making charcoal to be placed in gas masks for the protection of our soldiers. The housewife who saves these pits may thus be the direct agent in preventing some American soldier from being killed or disabled by the chlorine gas used by the Germans in the war.

Moved to Thief River.

Grygla Eagle: The family of A. J. Anderson moved to Thief River Falls this week where they will make their future home. Mr. Anderson will continue to look after the interests of the Citizens State Bank in this village. Abe Johnarud, assistant cashier in the above bank, will occupy the rooms vacated by Mr. Anderson. We all regret to see the Anderson family move from the village but as Mr. Anderson will spend much of his time here and another family take their place it will help some.

High School Football.

Frank E. McKnight has been chosen as coach of the 1918 football team of the Thief River Falls high school. He has 22 husky youngsters as candidates for positions on the team and is busy forming his lineup.

In some quarters an opinion seems to prevail to the effect that school athletics should be curtailed this year because of the war, but this position is not well taken. The government at this time is particularly urging that young men be given every opportunity for physical training, and for this purpose nothing is better than football. Mr. McKnight expects to be able to announce his lineup next week and to play his first game within a very short time thereafter.

NEED WORKERS IN RED CROSS FIELD

PERSONS WANTED TO DEVOTE ENTIRE TIME TO SOCIETY'S BUSINESS.

Secretary Scott Laird of the Pennington County Chapter, American Red Cross, has been appealed to by the Northern Division to find additional Red Cross workers who can go to such posts as they may be assigned to and carry on the work of this great organization.

This involves furnishing field directors and assistant field directors, recruiting personnel to conduct the work at national and divisional headquarters, and furnishing clerical and stenographic help to every department whenever needed.

Of course the pay is not much but it is presumed that there are still sufficient men in this country who have not been called for service who may wish to do their bit by assisting the Red Cross. All expenses are paid by the Red Cross and in some instances small salaries are also paid.

Full information may be obtained from the bulletin which has been placed in the lobby of the post office of this city. Mr. Laird also has another copy in case any young man wishes to interview him personally.

RED CROSS LINEN SHOWER IS NEXT

LOCAL CHAPTER EXPECTED TO FURNISH 615 ARTICLES FOR FRANCE.

The American Red Cross needs nearly six million linen articles of different kinds for shipment to France this fall, and Pennington county's allotment of this total is 615 pieces, divided as follows: One hundred twenty-five bath towels, 250 hand towels, 175 handkerchiefs, 15 napkins and 50 sheets. The country at large is asked to contribute 1,250,000 bath towels, 2,500,000 hand towels, 125,000 napkins and 32,500 sheets. This is a large order but very important and the different chapters will at once begin the collection.

The intention is to designate the dates from Sept. 30 to Oct. 5, and Red Cross Linen Shower Week when committees will devote as much of their time and attention to the securing of these needed articles as may be necessary. It is stipulated that the articles must be new or nearly so and that not more than one item is wanted from each family, it being desired that the general household stock shall not be reduced to any extent.

Mrs. T. L. Melgaard is chairman of the committee having the work of collection in charge and has appointed the following as her aids:

The Public Forum

Readers of The Times are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas on topics of general interest, but discussion of sectarian religious differences as well as personalities are barred. All communications must be signed, not necessarily for publication, but in order to show the good faith of the writer. In thus throwing open its columns to the public, The Times assumes no responsibility for the opinions expressed, nor is it to be assumed that their tenor necessarily corresponds with the policy of the paper.

More Nurses Needed.

We have just had word from Washington that more student nurses will be needed than were called in the first drive. It is likely that the Army School of Nursing and the Civilian hospitals will affiliate and their second and third year students may have the chance to go into military hospitals either in this country or overseas.

This means that we may enroll all girls who can meet the requirements from now on.

Girls enrolling for the Civilian School must be between 19 and 35, and for the Army School between 21 and 35. They must have either high school education or have done some work that is the equivalent. The government does not pay the railroad fare to the training schools.

Women who desire to be hospital assistants must be either married women whose husbands are in overseas service and who are free to give this service, who are between 21 and 40 and in good physical condition; or single women between 35 and 45. They must be high school graduates or present an acceptable equivalent.

Nurse's aid for foreign service must have at least the course in home care of the sick under the Red Cross, and a slight knowledge of French; at least a six weeks' course. This service is desired to be mostly voluntary, but expenses will be allowed in exceptional cases.

Application blanks may be secured from Mrs. J. H. Hardesty, 417 Red Lake Blvd., Thief River Falls, Minn.

More About Potatoes.

Editor Times:—I was very much pleased with Dr. Gambell's letter in your paper a short time ago. I wish to draw the attention of the potato growers of Pennington county to the difference in price in the Minneapolis market and that paid at Thief River Falls—$2.25 as against 90 cents per hundred pounds.

Don't you think it would be worth your time to attend one of the meetings of the Pennington County Potato Growers association in the near future? You could help devise ways and means to protect yourself in the future. Talk to your neighbors and friends and come prepared with ideas and suggestions. Let us take action that will surprise our friends the potato buyers. Yours truly,

H. ANTON,
Pres. Penn. Co. Potato Growers Ass'n.

NEW ORDERS ARE GIVEN PUBLISHERS

THE REGULATIONS GOVERNING SENDING OF NEWSPAPERS TO BE UNDERSTOOD.

Those among the subscribers of The Times who have not lately been getting the paper may have wondered why they have been cut off. The reason is that the government has issued strict orders regarding the publication of newspapers and that The Times has hastened to comply. In the first place it is ordered that the subscription list must be cut 15 per cent from what it was a year ago. This was an easy matter for The Times as with the absorption of the News-Press and Goodridge Banner there were naturally numerous duplications. There were cases where both of these papers, besides The Times, were formerly taken, and where only the one publication now goes. Because of this fact there is less print paper used in the county now than before, even though the list remained where it has been for the past year.

One of the orders of the government reads: "No publisher may continue subscriptions after three months after date of expiration, unless subscriptions are renewed and paid for." This would give the subscriber a leeway of three months, but absolutely at the publishers risk. At the end of that time, if the subscriber did not choose to pay up he would have to be cut off anyway. For this reason most papers have demanded that the subscription shall be paid in advance in every case.

Among the other rules laid down are the following: No exchanges are permitted with papers farther away than 40 miles; papers may not be sold at an exceedingly low price; subscriptions cannot be taken for a sum lower than the published price; no special holiday or other editions may be issued; no free papers may be sent to camps or cantonments, except copies to the Y. M. C. A., Red Cross, or K. C., or to libraries established at the camp.

A sworn statement is required of the publisher to show that the rules have all ben complied with.

$45,000 IN BONDS HELD FREE OF TAX

INCOME AND EXCESS PROFITS ARE NOT ASSESSED AGAINST SECURITIES.

For the benefit of liberty bond buyers the new law provides that liberty bonds are exempt from income and excess profit taxes for holdings up to $30,000, of the forthcoming loan and up to $45,000 in the aggregate of either issues, this includes either converted first loan bonds or bonds of the second or third issues provided the amount of previous issues on which exemption is claimed does not exceed one and one half times the amount subscribed to the fourth loan and still owned at date of tax return. These exemptions are in addition to the present five thousand dollar principal exemption for aggregate ownership of any previous issues of liberty bonds bearing four percent or four and one quarter percent. Take the example of any individual who subscribes less than thirty thousand dollars. A subscriber for five thousand dollars, fourth loan is entitled to exemption on seventy-five hundred dollars aggregate of previous issues plus five thousand which has always been exempt thus making total exemption seventeen thousand, five hundred dollars. These percentages may be applied to any amount not exceeding thirty thousand dollars. This is in addition to the first issue of three and one-half percent bonds which by their terms are tax exempt. This exemption from income and excess profit taxes lasts for two years after end of war which will undoubtedly be the period of highest taxes.

Army Welfare Campaign.

The United War Work campaign, designed to raise $170,000,000 for the aid of auxiliaries now in the field for the purpose of aiding soldiers and sailors, will open on Nov. 11, and close Nov. 18. The campaign for Pennington county will be in charge of David Gustafson and he has been informed that the sum is to be divided among the following auxiliaries: Y. M. C. A., $100,000,000; Y. W. C. A., $15,000,000; National Catholic War Council including the work of the Knights of Columbus and special war activities for women), $30,000,000; Jewish Welfare Board, $3,500,000; American Library association, $3,500,000; War Camp Community service, $15,000,000; Salvation Army, $3,500,000.

FARMERS CAN BUY FLOUR FOR A YEAR

MUST AGREE, HOWEVER, TO USE USUAL AMOUNT OF SUBSTITUTES.

Food administrators from North and South Dakota, Minnesota, and Montana, at a conference in Fargo last Saturday approved the plan to allow farmers to obtain a year's supply of flour without taking the substitutes when the flour is delivered. Farmers must sign a pledge, however, in which they agree to use the usual amount of substitutes. The reason for this is because corn flour and corn meal do not keep well in warm weather and to compel a purchase of 20 pounds of these substitutes when 100 pounds of flour is ordered, might result in a serious food loss.

District Food Administrator.

The work of food conservation will be more actively presented than ever in the Red River Valley counties as a result of the appointment by the United States Administration of Miss Esther Ferris as food demonstrator in the Northwestern district. Miss Ferris was formerly in charge of the Domestic Science department of the Crookston high school and is well equipped to carry Hoover's message into every home in the Red River Valley. She will work actively in co-operation with the Ninth Congressional District committee of the Minnesota Women's Auxiliary of which Mrs. C. G. Selvig, of Crookston, is chairman. Pennington county's representative on this committee is Mrs. J. H. Hardesty of Thief River Falls, who reports very gratifying progress in the observation of food conservation, increased canning work and other war measures necessary to preserve an equilibrium of world food supply.

Drafted Men For Navy.

Under a new order received last week by Minnesota and North Dakota county draft boards, the term "military service" is held to include naval service, including service in the Marine corps.

Under the old plan of induction men drawn thru the regular channels by the provost marshal general's office have been selected only for service in infantry and other branches, exclusive of the naval and marine departments.

The new order provides that all future calls upon the local boards throughout the nation will be designated by letter, "A" for army service, "N" for naval service and "M" for service in the Marine corps.

Scarcity of Cattle Cars.

The Minnesota Northwestern railway had orders for four cattle cars to be spotted at the Goodridge yards last Saturday but were unable to fill the order because no cars were available. The Saturday previous 10 cars were shipped from the station, this being the largest number for the season.

The company has built a stock pen at Mavie and will begin shipping from that point in the near future. The stock business is becoming an item of great importance in the eastern end of the county and the road will keep up with the demand for facilities so far as conditions make this possible.

Red Cross Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Mayfield Red Cross will be held at the John Solberg home on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 12th. The selection of officers and other important business will be transacted. All members are urgently requested to be present.

Week's Food Fact

The first year's work of the United States food administration cost the government less than two cents for every person in the United States. It may be safely said that it saved dollars instead of cents in the cost of living for everybody.

The sugar division of the federal food administration for Minnesota issued certificates for 19,000,000 pounds of sugar for canning purposes in Minnesota in July, August and September. This indicates the use of 25,000,000 pounds of sugar a year for home canning in Minnesota, enough to preserve 60,000,000 quarts of fruit or 25 quarts for every person in the state.

The national association of the motion picture industry reports that motion picture theater owners in the west have been giving "Peach-stone matinees" for the collection of fruit pits and nut shells for the Red Cross. Fruit pits and nut shells make the best carbon for the gas masks used in fighting the Germans.

"I believe," says Herbert C. Hoover "we can bring this dreadful business (war) to an end if every man, woman and child in the United States tests every action every day and hour by the one touchstone—does this or that contribute to winning the war?" Serve by saving!

One slice of bread wasted every day in every home in the United States makes a loss of 7,600,000 bushels of wheat or 456,250,000 pound loaves of bread. One-half cup of milk so wasted means 912,500,000 quarts of milk a year. Our waste of these things is one reason why prices are high.

To eat more than will actually satisfy one's bodily needs is to waste food. It is as much the duty of the consumer to eat less and save this waste as it is the duty of the farmer to produce more.

AID FOR BELGIANS IS ACKNOWLEDGED

LOCAL RED CROSS CHAPTER RECEIVES THANKS OF OFFICERS AT HEADQUARTERS

Pennington County Chapter of the American Red Cross, and incidentally those who have aided in the collection of clothing and other necessities for the relief of the population of Belgium, have received an acknowledgement of the donations from Red Cross headquarters. The acknowledgement is in the shape of an engraved certificate bearing the signature of all the national officers and reads as follows:

"The Commission for Relief in Belgium, 120 Broadway, New York. For the people of Belgium, with their deep appreciation and lasting gratitude, we acknowledge the donation of Pennington County Chapter of the American Red Cross of Thief River Falls, State of Minnesota."

The work in Belgium is by no means finished, however. A circular accompanying the acknowledgement states: "Vast as was the response, it is not yet enough. Of the ten million inhabitants of the occupied region, one-half at least must look to the outside world for all their protection against the rigors of winter. All supplies of clothing and war material have disappeared from Belgium, and the world's markets cannot provide the garments or material necessary to make them in sufficient quantities to meet the need.

"The National Red Cross has once more offered to use its efficient organization in furthering this work. In the week of Sept. 23 to 30, under its auspices another energetic campaign will be inaugurated for the collection of clothing. It is confidently expected that this renewed appeal will not fail to elicit an even greater response than before."

Mrs. J. J. Richter is the chairman of the committee in charge of this particular work in Pennington county and full information may be obtained from her. As the time for collection is rapidly coming to a close it is urged that all who can in any way aid in the work will respond at once.

Want More Scrap Books.

Orders have been received from Red Cross headquarters for 250 more scrap books to be made up every month by Pennington county chapter. The work has been delegated to the Junior auxiliary and the young women will at once take it on as a regular chore. The books will contain light reading matter, cartoons, pictures and other things that may be found of interest by fighting men far from home who have not very much of this kind of stuff with which to while away whatever of spare time they may have.

Hooray for Banana Peel "Gets-It"

Only Real Way to Get Rid of Corns.

Which do you prefer—a corn that pulls or a corn that peels? Butchery or blessedness? Only "Gets-It" can get rid of your corn the peel-off way, the blessed way. You don't need a pull.

"Corns Never Trouble Me, I Use 'Gets-It'"!

Why hump yourself up on the floor and with your jaws set and eyes popping from pain, jerk and gouge and cut your corns? Why irritate your toes with some salve or wrap your toe into a big painful bundle with some sticky tape or plaster? Life is too short. Use "Gets-It"—it takes a few seconds to apply and there's no fussing. Corn-pains go. Wear new shoes if you want. Peel off the corn with your fingers—the whole thing, root and all, clear and clean, and it's gone! Only "Gets-It" can do this. Take no chances.

COUNTY HOME OF FAMOUS AVIATOR

FOLKS LIVE AT ST. HILAIRE

HAS MADE 1800 SUCCESSFUL FLIGHTS AND VISITED ALL SECTIONS OF COUNTRY.

Persons who resided in the southern section of Pennington county a few years ago will remember the Hans Wilson family. Mr. Wilson is now the owner of a restaurant at St. Hilaire and father of one of the most famous aviators on the American continent.

The aviator is James J. Ward and the reason for the change of name will be later explained. Young Wilson, or Ward, ran away from home when he was 11 years of age and for a long time nothing was heard of him. For a while he worked as a newsboy in Crookston, going later to New York where he spent two years in school. Coming west again he landed in Chicago and went to work in a garage. From this point his actual history begins.

Interested in Airplanes.

Becoming interested in airplanes he sought an opening with the Curtis people. He was rejected because he failed to make the required weight. He persisted in his effort to gain his goal, however, and was finally successful. In the meantime he had achieved considerable of a reputation as a racing driver and it was during one of these events that an accident occurred which made it necessary for him to change his name. He was accused of carelessness in a race where his machine went through a fence and killed a spectator and his license was revoked. Under a new name he continued to race, however, appearing on many of the most famous tracks in the country.

Began Flying Career.

He kept studying aviation and was soon master of the art of flying. It was not long before he held both the altitude and endurance records for men of his age. After having made some 1800 flights he decided to seek other pursuits and moved to California. This was in 1913. The call of the profession had too strong a hold upon him, however, and he returned to the excitement of aviation. His machine was at the Pennington county fair two years ago but was operated by another man.

Is Now In the Army.

When America entered the war his experience at once proved an asset. He enlisted in the aviation service and has been an instructor at different flying schools ever since. That he is a person of some note in his chosen profession is evidenced by the following, published in the last issue of Love Field Loops, Love Field, Texas, under the head "Jimmie Ward, Boy Aviator, Comes Here":

"J. J. Ward, in point of service, one of the oldest fliers in America, is now testing ships at the repair depot. The boy aviator, as he was called when he started flying ten years ago at Hammondsport, N. Y., has made exhibition flights all over this country and Cuba. During his eight years of professional work he has never had a serious accident, and during the two years service as civilian flying instructor in the air service of Uncle Sam, Jimmy has never broken a wire, as he puts it.

"Ward reported for duty here Sept. 19, from Park Field, Millington, Tenn., where he was senior civilian instructor. He has personally supervised the instruction and training of more than 75 flying cadets, of whom but four remain to be commissioned as reserve military aviators.

Is Responsible Job.

"'The work of instructing is one that tries a man's soul,' said Mr. Ward. 'You have such a tremendous responsibility, but there is a lot of real satisfaction in knowing that you have put your best efforts into turning out good careful pilots.' Mr. Ward is authority for the statement that most crashes are the result of faulty planning and care. He emphasized the importance of knowing you're right before going ahead, and his own career certainly gives him the right to a respectful hearing. Many young pilots over-control their planes, he said, leaving too little to the ship, which will generally come out of it if left alone.

Is An Enthusiast.

"Mr. Ward is enthusiastic over his work here. He had been told that Texas winds are treacherous but has not encountered any difficulty of this sort. He is thoroughly experienced in testing and praises the way ships are turned out here. 'Why it's simply wonderful,' he said, pointing to a spanking new Curtiss which was being tuned up by another pilot. 'Everyone of those ships was a total loss. Almost everything from rudder to radiator had to be renewed. It's a lot bigger job to rebuild a wreck than to turn a new ship out of the factory. We go over them mighty carefully, and when they go our they've got to be right.'

"Mr. Ward is visiting Dallas for the first time since he made an exhibition flight here in 1910. Mr. and Mrs. Ward live at the Oak Lawn Inn on Cedar Springs Road."

Helped Registry Board.

Misses Blanche Chittick and Anna Brokke saw an opportunity last week to help in the office of the local registration board, and offered their services in addressing and other such work to Clerk T. P. Anderson. For several days they put in their off hours at this task and helped greatly in getting the questionnaires and cards started toward their destination. They also did a large amount of copying and in other ways relieved the pressure on the overburdened office. The aid was highly appreciated by the board members.

A Reprehensible Trick.

J. H. Hardesty could, without the slightest compunction of conscience, wring the neck of the miscreant who cut his auto tires almost in two the other day, and would be amply justified in so doing. He was out in his auto on the state road east of town when he ran full tilt into a sickle section driven into a board and half buried on the road bed. His machine ran into the destructive agent far from any residence and it must have been placed there by someone for just the purpose it accomplished. Two tires were cut almost in two, casings, tubes and all. It would be interesting to know just who is contemptible enough to do a trick of this kind. He might be prevailed upon not to repeat it.

ASK BUTTER PRICE SET FOR COUNTRY

DAIRY INTERESTS AFRAID OF COLAPSE WHEN PRESENT DEMAND CEASES.

Through the appointment of a committee to investigate the present situation as to dairy products, the national food administration has announced that first steps have been taken to stabilize the butter market.

Increased demands from the army, navy and the Allies have produced a temporary shortage of butter, the food administration has been informed by representatives of the dairy interests. With the increasing scarcity the price of butter has risen steadily and consumption by the civilian population has decreased. These conditions, dairymen have agreed, will sooner or later produce a collapse in butter prices, possibly below the cost of production. Dairymen have recommended that when such a fall occurs government purchases be used to support the market at a reasonable level.

HAUG GARAGE SOLD TO J. J. AGA & SON

FORMER OWNER LEAVES TO JOIN ARMY AS AVIATION MECHANIC.

Fred A. Haug, Hugh McDaniel and Ralph Rasmussen left Sunday night for Minneapolis where they will take the examination necessary for joining the mechanical branch of the army aviation corps. All three have for some time wished to get into this service and interested Lieut. James Curran in their behalf during the latter's visit here last week. He looked up the proper parties for them and they were advised by telegraph to be on hand Monday morning.

Mr. Haug, who was the only one of the three engaged in business, disposed of his garage at once to J. J. Aga & Son, who have taken charge of the plant. It is their intention to move their machinery from the present location on West Second street to the rear of the garage and engage more extensively than ever in auto and tractor repair work. They will also continue the general garage business left by Mr. Haug, retaining in all probability the agency for the Buick car. The blacksmith shop will not be moved, it being the intention to run this as a separate department at its present location.

At the Princess.

The week at the local playhouse starts out tonight with Robert Warwick in "The Silent Master." This story of adventures in the Paris underworld is one of the most intensely exciting ever filmed.

Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne appear on Saturday night's bill in "The Brass Check." This is a clever story along the lines which these two artists like best to portray.

The big special feature for Sunday is "Uncle Tom's Cabin," starring Marguerite Clark. This is a wonderful production of the most famous play ever written. It is quite easy to see how the story will lend itself better to picture work than dramatic setting.

Earl Williams has not been seen here for some time and should be greeted by a full house when he appears in "The Creel Mystery" on Monday night. Miriam Miles is his co-star in this piece, which is of such unusual nature as to be regarded as a special attraction at many of the best theatres.

"The Beloved Traitor" is the title of the play in which Mae Marsh appears on Tuesday evening. If there is any such thing Mae should certainly be able to show what it is.

Another Elsie Ferguson success closes the week. This great actress comes on Wednesday night in "Heart of the Wilds." In this play Miss Ferguson appears as the daughter of a tavern keeper on the American-Canadian boundary. Indians, northwest mounted police and all kinds of interesting people figure in the play.

DISTRICT SECURES RESIDENT NURSE

SCHOOL BOARD DECIDES TO FOOT COST OF IMPORTANT DEPARTMENT.

A registered nurse whose duty it will primarily be to look after the health of the children in the public schools of Thief River Falls, will soon be installed and given a regular office at the Lincoln high school. The matter was decided upon at the last meeting of the school board. It may be necessary to locate the nurse's office in one of the other schools, but if room can be provided the high school is regarded as being the best location.

The board responded to a general demand in taking this step. It has for some time been recognized that a special nurse should be secured whose duty it would be to look after the children's welfare and make such reports and suggestions to parents as would correct existing trouble and prevent any in the future. Progressive communities everywhere have taken this step and find that it is one of far-reaching value and benefit.

No nurse is at once available, the demand being very great, but the state board has given assurances that one will be sent here within the next week or two.

LAST VACANT ROOM IS NOW OCCUPIED

PART OF NORTHRUP SCHOOL LEFT UNFINISHED IS IN COMMISSION.

The wisdom of providing school room sufficient to make allowance for future growth when putting up new buildings has been proven. The last rooms in the new Northrup building have now been fixed up and used as class rooms. Only eight of the ten rooms were completed last year, it being decided that the other two would not be needed for some time. At the opening of the present term, however, it was discovered that while the housing facilities were ample, the efficient handling of the pupils would require the placing into commission of every available room. The work of finishing up the vacant part has been completed and the primary grades have been moved from the Central to the north end structure. The change requires the employment of but one additional teacher and makes the entire arrangement a great deal better.

Influenza Stops Entrainment.

Because of epidemics of Spanish influenza in army camps, Provost Marshal General Crowder has canceled calls for the entrainment, between October 7 and 11, of 142,000 draft registrants.

The malady has caused the government considerable worry, but now seems to be abating. At one time practically every army camp in the country was affected and the situation was with difficulty kept from becoming alarming.

The Pennington county draft board had already selected the 23 men who were to entrain during the four days between Oct 7 and 11 and these are now awaiting orders.

More Econ-O-Kleen Boosters.

E. E. Lackey of Grand Forks, representing the Econ-O-Kleen Fuel company of this city through northern North Dakota, was in the city Monday. He says the product is gaining steadily in favor in his section and that next spring will see it in general use.

H. J. Rustad returned this week from Kindred, N. D., where he has been looking after his father's farm. He says that the farmers in that neighborhood have been using Econ-O-Kleen in their tractors with the very best results. One dealer in Kindred secured a sample can to try out and recently sent in an order for eight cases. The product is proving wonderfully efficacious in saving gasoline and removing carbon from tractor motors.

Home Guard Dance.

Company C, 11th Battalion, Minnesota Home Guard, will give a dance at the Auditorium on Friday evening, Nov. 1. A committee has been appointed to look after the details and it is the intention to make this the great event of the fall season. The arrangements for music, supper and other necessary matters have not yet been completed but will be properly looked after. It is the intention to make this affair just a little different from anything of the kind yet attempted and that it will provide occasion for a most enjoyable evening is certain.

Installing New Front.

A new front is put in at the Louis DeCremer meat market on Main avenue. The entrance will be at the south side of the store instead of in the center as formerly, giving opportunity for a large display window. The work is being done by L. C. McAdam.

Red Cross Meeting.

The Rocksbury Red Cross auxiliary will hold a meeting at Walhalla school house on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 6, at 2 o'clock. Officers will be elected for the coming year and other business of much importance taken up. It is desired that all members be present.

Thrift Card Found.

Postmaster John Morgan has in his possession a Thrift Card containing a number of stamps that was handed in to him in the hope that the owner would be found. The card was issued to Edwin Boysen. Owner may have same by applying to Mr. Morgan and proving identity.

GETS MACHINE TO MAKE BURLAP BAGS

THIEF RIVER HIDE & FUR CO. WILL ENGAGE IN MANUFACTURING.

Charles Fiterman of the Thief River Hide & Fur company is awaiting the arrival of a new sewing machine built specially for the mending of burlap sacks. His concern has gone into the sack business quite extensively the past year and he says that as yet only a beginning has been made. It is the intention to equip a factory for the manufacture of these sacks here, the demand in this section being so great as to make such an enterprise one of much promise. As every year finds more and more land devoted to potato raising and the different items necessary for the carrying on of a business of this kind will be needed where they may be secured with the least delay and expense. Mr. Fiterman is preparing himself to be ready to meet the demand.

The building formerly used as a barracks by the Salvation Army has been rented and is being used as a store and sales room for this department of the business.

A GOOD FRIEND.

A good friend stands by you when in need. Thief River Falls people tell how Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test. Mrs. Geo. Williams of 412 Main Ave. N., Thief River Falls endorsed Doan's seven years ago and again confirms the story. Could you ask for more convincing testimony?

"I used many remedies for kidney trouble and backache but had no permanent relief until I bought Doan's Kidney Pills at Curtis' Drug Store," says Mrs. Williams. "This remedy not only cured my back but made me feel better in every way. I am only sorry that Doan's didn't come to my attention sooner." (Statement given September 29, 1910.)

On November 30, 1917, Mrs. Williams said: "During the past seven years Doan's Kidney Pills have done fine work whenever I have used them for kidney weakness. I hold Doan's in the same high estimation as when I first endorsed them."

Permit Us to Help You Select the Right Stove

So many folks come in to buy a stove for a certain price they feel they want to pay. Instead of satisfying themselves as to just what the stove will do, they let the question of price decide the purchase.

A heating stove should be bought not for one year or five years, but for a generation. That is why we recommend the stove that renders the greatest service—

The Genuine Round Oak

(burns all fuels)

When we sell it to you by the pound, the price is no greater than others charge for inferior stoves which would be extravagant in fuel and in a few years play out.

Why not let facts, rather than price, determine your selection?

SCHOOLS CLOSE; INFLUENZA HERE

CRURCHES AND THEATRES ALSO FORBIDDEN TO OPEN UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE.

SITUATION IS NOT SERIOUS

NO ALARM SHOULD BE FELT BECAUSE OF PRECAUTIONARY MEASURES.

PRECAUTIONS ALL SHOULD OBSERVE.

In order that all reasonable precautions may be taken to prevent the spread of Spanish influenza in Thief River Falls, Dr. O. F. Mellby, city health officer, has issued the following instructions for the guidance of the citizens:

Keep away from any sick persons, especially those who cough.

Do not handle things others have handled.

Wash the hands before eating.

Keep away from crowds, so far as business permits.

Walk to work, wherever possible.

If ill, isolate yourself.

Cover the mouth and nose when sneezing or coughing.

Keep the teeth clean.

Spanish influenza has reached Thief River Falls. As yet the cases are not numerous nor are those stricken considered in any danger, but Health Officer O. F. Mellby asks that everyone do all in their power to help keep the epidemic down, taking such ordinary precautions as not to expose themselves or others to contagion.

Schools Ordered Closed.

At a meeting of the health officials and the school board held yesterday afternoon it was decided that public safety demanded the closing of the schools, churches and theatres for the present or until such time as the danger has somewhat abated. Dr. Mellby does not wish this state of affairs to continue any longer than is absolutely necessary and hesitated in taking a step that must of necessity cause a great deal of inconvenience, but the responsibility would in a great measure be his if an epidemic resulted because all precautions had not been taken. This order went into effect this morning and applies to all public gatherings.

Only Few Cases as Yet.

The doctors report less than half a dozen cases in the city, so far, but this is enough to make them fully awake to the danger. None of the patients are regarded as being dangerously sick, but the disease is of such nature that no chances of any kind should be taken.

What to Remember.

The disease acts much the same as any other attack of grippe, the gravest danger being the great depression generally following an attack and which leaves the system open to pneumonia or similar diseases. The most important thing in treating the disease is to send the patient to bed in a warm room and keep him there until at least 24 hours after all active symptoms have disappeared. Give light food frequently but in small quantities at a time. Delay in going to bed and too great a hurry in leaving it may bring on a serious chill or relapse. Complete rest is absolutely necessary.

EPIDEMIC CAUSING DEATHS IN CAMPS

EMIL OLSON OF EXCEL BURIED HERE TUESDAY—HUBERT GARCEAU ALSO.

Emil Olson died at the Great Lakes training camp last week of Spanish influenza, being the first enlisted man from this section to fall a victim to the epidemic.

Olson was 30 years of age and a resident of Baudette at the time of his enlistment, although his father, Louis Olson, is a farmer in Excel township, Marshall county. Considerable difficulty was experienced in getting track of his people, the notification of death having been sent to his father instead of the brothers at Baudette. The body was shipped to this city as the nearest railroad point to his home and was buried here on Tuesday afternoon, Company C, forming a guard of honor to the cemetery.

Besides his parents, the dead sailor leaves three brothers, Elmer, Arvid and John, all of Baudette, and a sister, Mrs. Victor Sandstrom of Plummer. All were present at the funeral.

Hubert Garceau Dead.

The Times yesterday received word from the family of Hubert Garceau, who was one of the contingent leaving on Sept. 5, stating he had died at Camp Hancock, Ga., of pneumonia, superinduced by Spanish influenza on Oct. 8. Besides his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Garceau, he leaves the following brothers and sisters: Ernestine, Era, Emma, Dewey, Frank and Mae. Deceased was born in Red Lake Falls and was 26 years of age.

Harry Stucy Dead.

Sheriff W. J. LaBree returned last evening from the eastern part of the county and brought word that the relatives of Harry Stucy had been notified of the death of that young man. Stucy was one of the Pennington county boys who went to camp in September. Pneumonia, following influenza, was the cause of death in this case also.

Directory Publisher Here.

John H. Ley of St. Cloud, publisher of the city directory of Thief River Falls and a dozen or so other places, is in the city this week gathering data for the next directory, which will appear about the first of the year. Mr. Ley is perhaps the most painstaking and competent man in his line in the entire Northwest. His productions are the standard reference works of the several cities he visits and he always meets with a welcome reception. It is to be feared that he will have fewer names to place in the Thief River Falls directory than there were two years ago, the war having called away a considerable number of our young men. The slump will be smaller than is generally believed, however.

BACK BROKEN IN FALL FROM BARN

ALFRED ERICKSON, PAINTER, MEETS DEATH ON ED CROWN FARM.

Alfred Erickson, 70 years of age, died at the Physicians hospital on Saturday morning as the result of injuries received Thursday. He was at work painting a barn on the Ed Crown place in Bray township and fell from the scaffolding to the ground, a distance of about 40 feet. His back was broken and he received a concussion of the brain besides other injuries that made any hope for his recovery out of the question.

The aged man was working alone and it is supposed that he stepped backward off the scaffold, although he may have been blown off as the day was very windy. No one was at home and he was not found for more than an hour after the accident happened. He was taken to the hospital in this city and showed remarkable vitality, living more than 30 hours.

A son, Martin Erickson, is farming for an uncle in the neighborhood, and deceased also has a wife and several younger children in Sweden. He was an expert workman and highly regarded in the neighborhood which he had made his home for some years.

UNUSUAL LIST OF ACCIDENT VICTIMS

MIDDLE RIVER CITIZEN VICTIM OF PECULIAR KIND OF ASSAULT.

Accidents have been responsible for increasing the list of inmates at the Physicians hospital in an unusual degree during the past ten days. All the victims are coming along all right, but in some cases the injuries received were of a decidedly serious nature.

Anton Sorenson of Middle River, was the victim of a peculiar accident last week. He was driving his car along the road east of that village when he was struck on the head by some kind of a missile, the nature of which has not been determined. The supposition is that a stone was picked up by the auto tire and hurled with sufficient force to cause the damage. One side of his face was badly lacerated and he had lost considerable blood when discovered. He is on the road to recovery.

Sivert Schulzon, a resident of Lancaster, was brought to the hospital suffering from a concussion of the brain. He was at work on the roof of a building when he lost his balance and struck on his head on the ground. He is also out of danger.

Little Marcella Quammen will go through life with one short finger. The tot somehow managed to get the member caught in the gearing of a separator on her parent's place north of the city, making amputation necessary.

John Hagen received two fractured ribs when he fell off a wagon in this city. He was crossing a place where there was a depression left when workmen finished some repair job and the jar threw him to the ground, the wagon running over him.

Will Assist Housewives.

Miss Esther Ferris has been appointed by the United States Food Administration to have charge of food demonstration work in the Ninth district, which includes Pennington. She offers her services in any capacity in which she can assist in conducting demonstrations, giving informations regarding food regulations or anything else that will help win the war. It is suggested that communities avail themselves of her services. Miss Hazel Rockwood, head of the domestic department of the Northwest school of agriculture, is also willing to help whenever she can get away. With these two competent women to help, Pennington county should be 100 per cent efficent in food conservation.

GREAT INTEREST IN STOCK SALE

BUYERS FROM NEBRASKA AND BOTH DAKOTAS WILL BE PRESENT.

EVERY ANIMAL INSPECTED

COMMITTEE HAS PASSED UPON CLAIMS OF EACH INDIVIDUAL ENTRY.

The greatest event of its kind this season will be the combination live stock sale of the Pennington county breeders to be held at Ramstad's barn in this city next Wednesday and Thursday. The sale will begin promptly at 10:30, the first animals to be offered being those donated to the Red Cross by Pennington county farmers. There are about 25 head in this lot, which will be sold five head at a time.

Holsteins Come First.

On Wednesday afternoon the Holsteins will be offered, the Guernseys and Shorthorns being left until Thursday. There are 56 grades and nine purebreds in the Holstein offerings, while the Guernsey class consists of 26 grades and purebreds, and the Shorthorn of three grades and three purebreds.

Sheep and Hogs.

Seventy-five choice Shropshire breeding ewes, 50 ewe lambs and three pure bred rams will constitute the sheep division. The entries of hogs do not go so much into numbers but all are pure bred and from some of the best stock in the state. They consist of two purebred Hampshire, three purebred Berkshire, four purebred Duroc Jersey and seven purebred Poland China hogs.

Buyers From Far Off.

Information has reached the office of County Agent Ross P. White to the effect that buyers will be here from Nebraska, North and South Dakota and all parts of Northern Minnesota. As this is one of the largest sales of its kind ever held in the state plans are being made for the accommodation and entertainment of a large crowd. Breeders of note throughout the state acknowledge that the blood lines represented in the cattle are as good as are offered anywhere. Many of the animals trace their ancestry back to the greatest sires of the breed.

All Have Been Inspected.

From the individual standpoint every animal will be one of merit, as a committee of three, consisting of Ben Rosendahl, representing the Holstein breeders, Harry Woolson, representing the Guernsey breeders and S. E. Hunt, representing the Shorthorn breeders, has passed upon every animal entered and only the best has been accepted for entry in the sale, thus assuring the purchaser of good, sound stock.

All of the cattle listed for the sale have successfully passed the tuberculin test, administered within the past thirty days by federal veterinarians here for that purpose. Thus the purchaser of purebred cattle will be furnished with a health certificate issued by the State Live Stock Sanitary board.

HOLD WHEAT FOR STIPULATED PRICE

HOOVER ADVISES FARMERS NOT TO PART WITH CROP FOR LESS.

Warning to wheat farmers not to sell their grain at less than the government price was contained in a message on Monday from Herbert Hoover, by the food administration grain corporation. "Enlarged demands by General Pershing for material resulting from the advances on the western front has made a temporary diversion of grain supplies to his service," Mr. Hoover said. "This temporarily curtails the wheat movement resulting in congestion at the seaboard and terminal elevators and this checks the movement from primary points. It has been reported that some farmers have been selling their wheat at less than government prices. There is no occasion for this if the farmers will have patience. Shipments of wheat will soon begin again."

WISE WOLVES WILL STAY HID SUNDAY

EVERYONE ASKED TO JOIN IN HUNT TO EXTERMINATE THE PESTS.

A regular old fashioned circle wolf hunt will take place next Sunday. While certain portions of Rocksbury and Smiley townships have been selected as the particular hunting ground, citizens of other sections are invited to join in the campaign of extermination.

Wolves have become somewhat of a nuisance in some parts of the county and farmers are beginning to complain of their depredations. This hunt is primarily for the purpose of clearing them out but will also serve as a community hunting expedition. Every man who can tote a firearm is expected to be on hand, while those who don't own or can't borrow a gun are wanted to help make a noise. This is one of the most important requisites of a wolf hunt. Bells, whistles—anything that will make a racket—is needed.

The line will form promptly at 1:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, assuming the following formation: From the cemetery eastward along the river to Fred Beerbower's place in section 7, Smiley township; then south to school house on the southeast quarter of section 30 in the same town; thence west to the southwest of section 27 of Rocksbury, thence north to the point of beginning.

A meeting will be held at the Commercial club rooms on Saturday evening for the purpose of electing captains and completing the arrangements.

COUNTY'S QUOTA IS NOW ASSURED

$115,000 SECURED IN CITY

NUMBER OF TOWNSHIPS BEING RESOLICITED WITH VERY GOOD RESULTS.

Pennington county is going to raise its quota of $350,000 in the fourth Liberty Loan campaign. According to Oscar Sponheim, who is assisting Chairman C. L. Hansen in the tabulation of the returns, these now total $335,500, leaving only $14,500 to be secured. This result is all the more gratifying when it is noted that even the large, wealthy communities are finding it difficult to raise the amount required.

Are Still At Work.

The solicitors, together with other volunteer workers, have been busy during the week securing the county for those who escaped signing up when first approached. A determination to "make the grade" has been evident on every hand and if anyone has been permitted to get away without pledging himself to take the allotment assigned to him something in the nature of a most unusually good excuse must have been presented.

Peace Talk Hurts.

There is no doubt but that the peace talk of the past week has hurt the bond sale. Chairman Hansen early posted a bulletin from state headquarters warning people to pay no attention to such reports as they were but thinly veiled German propaganda, but some mischief was nevertheless done. If the war was nearly over people could see no necessity for subscribing more money. It had to be proven that the war is not over, nor liable to be for some time to come.

Getting Good Results.

Solicitors have been very successful during the past week and there is now no doubt of the county's meeting its allotment. The subscriptions in the city so far total $115,000 and this will be brought up to $125,000 before the end of the week. There are several good sized subscriptions still to come in and quite a number of smaller ones.

Railroads Behind.

The railroads are also behind their allotments. An effort will be made to bring these up to the first estimate also.

The outside districts have subscribed $191,000. There are a number of townships where the quota has not been reached and these are being resolicited with much success. No person wishes to have the community in which he lives regarded as a slacker and those able to do so are willingly subscribing more than was alloted to them.

Much Credit Due.

Every person who has had anything to do with the work of securing the subscriptions for this loan in Pennington county is entitled to a great deal of credit, which extends also to the public spirited citizens who met the somewhat heavy allotment cheerfully and worked to make others understand the need for it. The community has no need to be ashamed of the fact that the proposition did not go through with a whoop. Others are in the same boat and many have but a poor chance of working out.

The Ninth Reserve district is second in the list, being topped by the St. Louis district and by a small margin.

Dead in Montana.

Torkel Froisness, formerly of this city, died at Scobie, Mont., on Sept. 4th of pneumonia, following an attack of Spanish influenza. Mrs. Froisness and Tarje, a brother of the dead man, were also down with the disease but are now on a fair way to recovery. The Froisness brothers were formerly in the livery business in this city, leaving for the West a little over a year ago.

WILSON REPLIES TO GERMAN NOTE

"GET OUT OF OCCUPIED TERRITORY" IS PRESIDENT'S FIRST REQUEST.

NO ARMISTICE POSSIBLE

WANTS TO KNOW IF GERMAN PEOPLE ARE BEHIND MOVE FOR PEACE.

President Wilson on Tuesday informed the German government that before the United States can discuss an armistice German troops must withdraw from all invaded territories.

He asked Chancellor Maximillian whether he represented the German people or the authorities of the empire who are conducting the war.

The President's message was not a reply, but in the form of an inquiry. The imperial government is asked whether it accepts the terms laid down by the President in his address to Congress January 8, and subsequent addresses.

"Sir—I have the honor to acknowledge, on behalf of the President, your note of October 6, inclosing the communication from the German government to the President, and I am instructed by the President to request you to make the following communication to the imperial German chancellor:

"Before making reply to the request of the imperial German government, and in order that that reply shall be candid and straightforward as the momentous interests involved require, the President of the United States deems it necessary to assure himself of the exact meaning of the note of the imperial chancellor.

"Does the imperial chancellor mean that the imperial German government accepts the terms laid down by the President in his address to the Congress of the United States on the 8th day of January last and in subsequent addresses, and that its object in entering into discussions would be only to agree upon the practical details of their application?

"The President feels bound to say with regard to the suggestion of an armistice that he would not feel at liberty to propose a cessation of arms to the governments with which the government of the United States is associated against the Central powers, so long as the armies of those powers are upon their soil. The good faith of any discussion would manifestly depend upon the consent of the Central powers immediately to withdraw their forces everywhere from invaded territory.

"The President also feels that he is justified in asking whether the imperial chancellor is speaking merely for the constituted authorities of the empire who have so far conducted the war. He deems the answer to these questions vital from every point of view.

"Accept sir the renewed assurances of my high consideration.

"ROBERT LANSING."

"Flu" at Camp Dodge.

Word was received from Oscar Cerny, who is in training at Camp Dodge, to the effect that fatalities from Spanish influenza are fewer than last week. The hospitals are crowded with patients, he says, and anyone going into any building used by the boys who are ill, must wear masks and take every precaution to evade the "Influence."

Died at Hospital.

Beryl, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Garth Roth of St. Hilaire, died at the Physicians hospital in this city on Thursday, following an operation for appendicitis. The appendix burst during the operation.

FORFEITS PRIVILEGE TO AVOID SERVICE

MAN WITHDRAWS DECLARATION RATHER THAN GO TO WAR.

Jens Peterson Lyngen, 28 years of age, a registrant in the first draft call, will never become a citizen of the United States although he declared his intention of making himself eligible to citizenship as far back as 1910. Further than this, he is satisfied to make the disgraceful declaration that the reason he does not complete his citizenship is that he does not want to fight for this country. He is a Norwegian and will so remain, much to the disgust of the hundreds of thousands of men of that race who have elected to fight for the land they voluntarily chose as their home.

Lyngen registered in Pennington county while employed on the new sanitorium building and Auditor T. P. Anderson has had a lot of correspondence in regard to his case. The local board was determined that he should take his turn and went after him through the Hennepin board, Lyngen being now a resident of Minneapolis. Following is a copy of the response received:

"State of Minnesota, County of Pennington, ss. I, Jens Peterson Lyngen, do solemnly swear that I reside at Minneapolis, Minn.; that I am registered with Local Board of Pennington county; that my order number is 41, and serial number is 601; and that I am a citizen or subject of Norway, which is neutral in the present war. I further swear that on the 2nd day of March, 1910, I declared my intention to become a citizen of the United States in the district court of Hennepin county, Minnesota, under the name of Jens Peterson Lyngen; that I hereby withdraw my intention to become a citizen of the United States, which withdrawal I understand shall operate and be held to cancel my declaration to become a citizen of the United States and shall forever debar me from becoming a citizen of the United States in accordance with the act of congress approved July 9, 1918; that I herewith surrender my original duplicate copy of my declaration of intention to become a citizen of the United States, Serial Number 3356."

AKRE NEW CASHIER OF FIRST NATONAL

OSCAR SPONHEIM ALSO ASSOCIATES HIMSELF WITH SAME BANK.

Willis H. Akre, during the past three years assistant cashier of the First National bank in this city, was this week promoted to the position of cashier by the board of directors. He entered upon the duties of his new office immediately.

The selection of Mr. Akre for this important post is in line with the First National's policy of promoting employes of demonstrated worth and ability rather than seek elsewhere for men to fill high positions as vacancies occur. Still a young man, Mr. Akre has practically grown up in the service of the institution which now advances him to one of the highest positions of responsibility and trust connected with his business. His long service has given him a knowledge of the methods and aims of the banking house which will be an asset to the customers as well as the stockholders of the bank.

An important addition to the personnel of the First National was announced this week when Oscar Sponheim was made auditor. It is understood that the particular branch to which Mr. Sponheim will devote his attention will be the loan department of the bank. This department has grown to such proportions that the directors found it advisable and necessary to place a man specially trained to assist President Hansen and the choice naturally fell upon Mr. Sponheim.

OSCAR SPONHEIM.

He is another young man who has grown up in the banking business in this city. He was an officer of the Peoples State Bank from the time of its organization up to a few months ago and in that capacity gained an extended acquaintance throughout the county. His many friends will be pleased to learn that he has again associated himself with a local banking institution.

Dr. Huenenken Returns.

Dr. Huenenken, children's specialist of the State Board of Health, will be in Thief River Falls on Oct. 26, for the purpose of conducting a clinic on child welfare. He will be at the Central school from 10 to 12 o'clock and from 1 to 6. A registered nurse will accompany him on this trip and give instructions to mothers in the care of children.

The clinic conducted by Dr. Huenenken in this city about two months ago was one of the most successful of the entire child welfare campaign in this state and he promised at that time to make our people another visit. It is expected that the interest in the forthcoming visit will be even greater than at that time.

A meeting of the Cloverleaf Red Cross chapter will be held at the Mavie hall next Monday evening, Oct. 14. Election of officers will take place and all members are earnestly requested to be present.

PEAT PLOTS FOR FOUR TOWNSHIPS

STATIONS WILL BE SCATTERED THRU REINER, STAR, HICKORY AND GOODRIDGE.

PHOSPHATE IS PURCHASED

PAYMENT FOR TWENTY TONS IS GUARANTEED BY LOCAL BANKERS.

A meeting of much importance to the peat farmers of the Red River valley was held in the farm bureau office at Thief River Falls on Monday. Dr. F. J. Alway, peat expert from University farm, addressed the business men regarding the advisability of conducting demonstrations throughout the northwest counties similar to the one just completed at the Golden Valley station in Marshall county. Many of those present had visited the fields at the Golden Valley plot and were much impressed with the results obtained, but they were completely surprised when Dr. Alway gave them the figures showing the increase in yield which has been secured through the different treatments.

As a result of the meeting a carload of acid phosphate was ordered which will be sold out at cost to the peat farmers of the northwest for experimental and demonstration purposes.

Payment Guaranteed.

Dr. Alway stated that about $700 would be needed in order to secure the 20 tons of phosphate available and as it would be necessary to send the order in at once the question of guaranteeing payment came up. President C. L. Hansen of the First National bank, and Cashier T. L. Melgaard of the Citizens' State bank promptly offered to guarantee the payment of the sum required, looking for re-emburscment to the farmers who would wish to secure the phosphate after its arrival here. Neither gentleman is seeking a profit on this transaction and simply volunteered to foot the original cost in order that there may be no danger of this section being left out in the distribution.

Stations in Pennington.

Thief River Falls will be a distributing point for this material. Plans have already been completed whereby the University of Minnesota, through its soil division, will conduct six co-operative demonstration plots throughout Reiner, Star, Goodridge and Hickory townships. As there is not a sufficient amount of state funds available for more plots, the demand which exists among the farmers who visited the Golden Valley plots during the summer for demonstrations of this sort, has resulted in financing and conducting a number of these plots by the Farm Bureau association in cooperation with the farmers and the University of Minnesota.

These plots will be mainly located in the south central portion of the county, although arrangements will be made to serve as many farmers as practical.

County Agents Instructed.

At the close of the meeting of business men the county agents adjourned to the school library, where detail plans and instructions were given those who will be directly responsible for the demonstrations conducted in their respective counties. Frank E. Balmer of St. Paul, state leader of county agents, addressed the meeting on the subject of "Correlation and Unification of Project Work." Dr. F. J. Alway discussed the question of "Peat Farming," illustrating his talk with a large number of photographs. W. E. Morris, assistant county agent leader for the Red River valley counties, outlined a plan for conducting the peat experiments and made final arrangements for the work. Supt. J. H. Hay spoke a few words of encouragement to those who were trying to solve this most difficult farm problem.

MERELY A MISUNDERSTANDING.

When The Times last week stated that "the Fourth Liberty Loan got away to a poor start in this county" it did not necessarily imply that the men at the head of the campaign had been lax in their duty or faulty in their methods. Our people did not respond with the vim which characterized their attitude toward the third loan, and for this fact certain circumstances surrounding the previous campaign are somewhat to blame.

The third loan was greatly oversubscribed. Our people not only met their allotments but in a large majority of cases made their subscription for more than was required. The county received considerable excellent advertising out of the fact and everyone was proud of the record. But it hurt the fourth loan.

When the solicitors appealed to the same people again they were made just as welcome but were told in a great many instances that the increase over the previous allotment would not be paid. Farmers particularly stated that they were willing to subscribe all that the government asked of them but that they would not take the figures of the committee as correct. They maintained that the aim was simply to make a big showing again and that they had no money to loan out for the purpose of advertising the county's liberality and patriotism. Pointing out that the loan was much larger than last time did not help matters. The farmers had made up their minds as to just how much they were going to subscribe and that was the end of it.

It is possible that right here the mistake was made. A man was sent up from St. Paul to straighten things up and point out to the backward ones that they must come across. No matter how good a man this importation may have been in his own line of business, he did not understand handling people and managed to gum the situation up worse than ever. Had he stayed away things would have been straightened out much more easily.

But the farmers were also somewhat to blame. The allotments were as equitably made as was possible under the circumstances. The loan was larger and their share naturally had to be proportionately increased. The improved condition in which the section finds itself as compared with last spring encouraged everyone in thinking that there would be no trouble in raising the added amount. It was explained that there was no desire to go away over the top at this time because there is hardly a doubt but that another loan will be needed. In spite of this it has required a considerable amount of extra work to make the quota.

The management and solicitors are certainly not to blame for this. These men are giving of their time as well as incuring a considerable expense in thus going out as solicitors in a cause no more important to them than to those whom they visit. They are whole-hearted, patriotic citizens who have undertaken the task simply as a patriotic duty. It is no small matter to attempt to raise practically a quarter of a million dollars in Pennington county within a week and those who lay aside their own business for the purpose of attempting it—not because they are paid, but simply that the needs of the government may be met—are entitled to something besides abuse and suspicion from their fellow citizens.

It is to be hoped that not only the farmers but others as well will bear this fact in mind. Raising this money is not a personal matter with anyone. Our boys in France must be kept supplied with everything needful in the great work they are doing. Our part is as nothing compared with theirs. We are asked to loan our credit to the best government on earth at a good rate of interest. They are compelled to risk their lives every hour of the day. Let's quit carping about allotments; stop accusing others of showing favoritism; do what is given us to do and be sorry only that we are not able to do more. In that way we will help end the war quickly and be doing all we can to bring our boys back safe.

THE WATER SITUATION.

Any person who would keep right on going after discovering that he was on the wrong road would be something of a chump. The fact that it had taken a long time and cost a lot of money to get to the place where he found out his mistake would make no difference. If he had any sense he would turn back. He might not be to blame for going wrong in the first instance, but would most certainly be held responsible for anything that might happen to him if he persisted in his mistaken course.

This applies to the water supply situation in Thief River Falls just now. A year or more ago the city council decided to secure a supply of pure water for the people. Different plans were discussed and a committee of citizens appointed to assist the councilmen in deciding upon the best course to pursue. The subject was more or less thoroughly investigated and it was the opinion of the majority that deep wells would be the least costly as well as give the greatest promise of success. There were those who considered this a mistake, believing that water from the Red Lake river should be used in connection with a filtration plant, but these were in the minority.

It has now been proven that there is but slight hope of getting any satisfactory results by means of wells. Only one well out of the four or five attempted is producing water, and this is by no means of the most desirable quality. The others have proven absolute failures for one reason or another.

Further expense along this line should be stopped. No one is blaming the council for the failures. The city government has done everything in its power to supply what the people wanted and has kept the expense down as low as possible, but continued outlay is unwarranted. The people are not even now murmuring loudly and no fault would be found with any part of the proceeding if there seemed any posibility of its eventually being successful, but they have lost faith in ever being able to secure water by the means empoyled. They need the water more than ever, but want some other plan tried out.

There is nothing either surprising or unusual about this failure. Crookston spent about $25,000 on wells before discovering that a filtration plant was the only solution. Bemidji, located in a section supposed to contain an abundance of the best water in the world, had the same experience. The wells were a failure. Both communities finally quit experimenting, purified the water right at their doors through filtration and now have an excellent supply.

The council acted for the best in trying to hold down the expense. The citizens committee recommended the course pursued and did so with the best intention in the world. Neither body could be expected to know just what the outcome would be. This knowledge has now been acquired and paid for—and experiments should cease.

Prof. Ladd of the university of North Dakota, says that the water from the Red Lage river is chemically pure. A filtration plant will make it in every way desirable for all purposes. Let us stop throwing good money after bad and start over, following the only plan which promises eventual success.

WHAT IS HE WORTH TO YOU?

If it were proven that a donation of one dollar and seventy cents would insure the safety, provide some comfort or promote the happiness of one of our boys now fighting in France, how long would it take for you to dig up the required sum?

That is the question you will be required to answer during the week of November 11-18. Only your donation should be considerably larger than the minimum, as there will be many who cannot contribute their share.

During the week mentioned the different army welfare agencies of the country will attempt to raise $170,000,000 for the purpose of carrying on the work of caring for our soldiers and sailors in the field, training camp or cantonment—and money was never requested for a more noble purpose.

At the suggestion of President Wilson all welfare activities have been placed under one head and the money secured will be divided among them according to their opportunities for usefulness. The funds needed for continuing the work of the Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., Knights of Columbus, Y. W. C. A., War Camp Community Service, Salvation Army and Jewish Relief Society are to be secured in this one effort instead of having each association attempt through a number of different campaigns to secure what is needed from persons interested in the work of that particular branch of the service.

This arrangement will meet with the approval of all our people. All these organization are working toward the same end—that of making the burden of our fighting men lighter. No one needs to be told of the wonderful achievements to their credit. Wherever American soldiers or sailors have appeared—and often long before their appearance—some one of these auxiliaries has been on the ground to see to their comfort. Every letter arriving from France contains some reference to the great work that is being accomplished by the men and women who have enlisted for a service as arduous and dangerous almost as war itself.

Americans will be glad to give of their surplus toward such a cause. Some may have preferred to make their donations direct to the auxiliary in which they are especially interested, but they do not fully understand the magnitude of the undertaking. The men in the army or navy are not there as Catholics or Protestants, Jews or Gentiles. They are all simply Americans and entitled in an equal degree to our support and protection.

This is an appeal to the heart and a demand upon the purse of America. There is not a doubt as to what the answer will be, but every section should make sure that the expectations are met. Nothing can be so disgraceful as a failure to do this small thing for those who are risking their all for us.

THE LITTLE PINK BALLOT.

(Duluth Herald.)

The liquor interests won't fight. They see the handwriting on the wall and the uselessness of opposition and they'll throw away no money opposing statewide prohibition in Minnesota this year.

Maybe so.

Maybe those who are back of the prohibition amendment won't have the brewers to fight.

But they WILL have over-confidence and neglect to fight, and these are far more dangerous enemies than the brewers could possibly be by any expenditure of money.

Anybody who, because he thinks that the fight is won or that there is no fight, neglects to vote "yes" on the little pink ballot November 5, has cast a vote for the saloon; for failure to vote on the amendment counts precisely the same as a vote AGAINST prohibition.

Don't forget to vote November 5. Don't neglect to put your cross after the word "yes" on the little pink ballot.

THIS IS NO TIME TO QUIT.

It would almost seem as if the good news from Europe has had the effect of hurting the Liberty Bond sale, whereas the exact opposite should have been the case. If the war were to stop tomorrow the government would still require the money represented in this loan—and maybe more. It will take a long time and a pile of cash to bring home the boys we have been sending over there and we cannot very well stop feeding them the minute they are through fighting. The American people will have to keep right on shelling out for some time to come, even after the actual fighting is all over.

Keep right on buying Liberty Bonds, no matter what the reports from the front convey. There will be no danger of our getting too much.

Let Us Reason Together

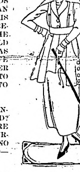
THE WOMAN WHO STARTS OUT TO MAKE THE SELECTION OF HER GARMENTS FOR FALL AND WINTER WEAR THIS YEAR IS EMBARKING ON A VERY IMPORTANT MISSION. NO ONLY ARE PRICES HIGHER THAN USUAL, BUT SCARCITY OF DESIRABLE MATERIAL HAS GIVEN UNSCRUPULOUS MANUFACTURERS AND MERCHANTS AN OPPORTUNITY TO WORK OFF INFERIOR GOODS AT A TREMENDOUS ADVANCE IN PRICES.

WE WERE EARLY ADVISED BY THE WHOLESALERS WITH WHOM WE ARE ASSOCIATED THAT THERE WOULD BE TROUBLE IN GETTING THE FINE CLASS OF GOODS TO WHICH OUR TRADE HAS BECOME ACCUSTOMED AND TOOK IMMEDIATE STEPS FOR THEIR PROTECTION. WE BOUGHT EARLY, MADE PERSONAL SELECTION AND INSISTED THAT EVERY STIPULATION AND AGREEMENT CONCERNING QUALITY SHOULD BE STRICTLY ADHERED TO. WHOLESALERS KNOW THAT LOKEN BROTHERS BUSINESS IS AN ITEM OF DECIDED IMPORTANCE EVERY YEAR AND ARE AS CAREFUL ABOUT WHAT THEY SUPPLY AS WE ARE OF WHAT WE SELL. THE RESULT IS THAT THE BUYER IS DOUBLY PROTECTED.

We Have a Reputation to Maintain

THIS FIRM HAS BEEN IN BUSINESS IN THIEF RIVER FALLS FOR SOME YEARS AND INTENDS TO REMAIN FOR MANY MORE. OUR BUSINESS HAS BEEN BUILT UP ON A STRICT AGREEMENT WITH THE CUSTOMER TO THE EFFECT THAT SHE MUST BE SATISFIED FIRST. THE LOSS OR FAILURE TO MAKE A SALE IS AS NOTHING TO US COMPARED WITH THE DANGER OF LOSING A FRIEND AND CUSTOMER. FOR THIS REASON WE DARE NOT MISREPRESENT OUR GOODS OR PERMIT THE WHOLESALERS TO MISREPRESENT THE WARES HANDLED BY US. WHEN WE SAY AN ARTICLE, AND PARTICULARLY A GARMENT, HAS A CERTAIN VALUE, THAT VALUE MUST BE REPRESENTED—THE COST TO US OF HAVING IT OTHERWISE WOULD BE TOO GREAT.

—ALL THIS WAS TAKEN INTO CONSIDERATION WHEN WE SELECTED OUR STOCK OF WOMEN'S WEAR FOR THIS SEASON. QUALITY WAS OUR FIRST CONCERN, AND WHILE WE ALSO REALIZED THAT PRICE WOULD BE A DETERMINING FACTOR WHEN IT CAME TO MAKING SELECTIONS, WE FELT THAT OUR CUSTOMERS WOULD UNDERSTAND THE DIFFICULTIES WITH WHICH WE WERE CONFRONTED AND MAKE ALLOWANCES FOR WHAT WE COULD NOT HELP. WE BOUGHT EARLY ENOUGH SO THAT WE ARE ENABLED TO SELL GOODS AT A MUCH LOWER FIGURE THAN ANY OTHER MERCHANT IN THIS SECTION AND OF THIS FORESIGHT OUR CUSTOMERS GET THE BENEFIT. MANY OF THE BETTER GARMENTS WE ARE SHOWING COULD NOT NOW BE BOUGHT WHOLESALE FOR WHAT WE ARE QUOTING AS THE RETAIL PRICE. THIS APPLIES TO EVERYTHING—THE EXCLUSIVE PRINTZESS PATTERNS AS WELL AS THE LESS KNOWN AND CHEAPER LINES. OUR STORE IS ONLY AS GOOD AS OUR CUSTOMERS WISH IT TO BE, AND THEY HAVE GIVEN EVERY INDICATION OF WISHING IT TO BE THE BEST.



DO YOU NOT THINK THAT OUR STOCK MERITS AT LEAST AN INSPECTION BEFORE THAT ORDER FOR YOUR FALL GARMENT IS PLACED? WE KNOW WHAT HAPPENS NINE TIMES OUT OF TEN WHEN WE ARE BUT GIVEN AN OPPORTUNITY TO SHOW OUR LINE. WE URGE THE PURCHASER TO LOOK AROUND; WE WANT HER TO BE SATISFIED THAT NO OTHER STORE OFFERS HER SUCH VALUES, QUALITY CONSIDERED—AND THEY RETURN HERE AFTER MAKING THEIR INVESTIGATIONS.

WE POSITIVELY KNOW THAT THERE IS NOT A BETTER STOCK IN NORTHWESTERN MINNESOTA. OUR SYSTEM OF BUYING ENABLES US TO OFFER IT AT PRICES THAT CANNOT BE DUPLICATED. WILL YOU GIVE US THE PLEASURE OF PROVING THIS? IT IS A DELIGHT TO US TO BE ABLE TO SHOW THE LADIES OF THE DISTRICT THROUGH THE DIFFERENT DEPARTMENTS. THEY NEED NOT PURCHASE A SPOOL OF THREAD—NOR WILL THEY BE ASKED TO DO SO. WE SHALL APPRECIATE THEIR VISIT, KNOWING THAT A STOCK SUCH AS OURS CANNOT HELP BUT IMPRESS THEM.

WE HAVE MADE THE ABOVE APPEAL DIRECTLY TO YOUR INTELLIGENCE.

STAMP SALES ARE BELOW THE QUOTA

BUT SHORT TIME REMAINS IN WHICH TO RAISE SUM DEMANDED.

If Pennington county is to raise the $219,000 required in War Savings Certificates and Thrift Stamps before the first of December the people will have to get busy. The amount purchased through the postoffice during the month of September was $4,422.90, which just about averages up. There was a falling off of about $1200 as compared with the previous month but this is easily accounted for by the fact that the fourth bond campaign practically put a stop to investments in the smaller securities.

The sales at the postoffice have averaged $4,494.60 per month since the campaign was launched ten months ago. This is practically $173 per day and looks like a very good record. It must, however, be improved if the quota is to be reached.

Considerable assistance is expected from the schools now that the session has opened. The children proved among the best and most consistent collectors of stamps before the summer vacation and there is no doubt but they will again become interested. The teachers will be asked to bring the importance of the matter before their classes at an early date.

Following is the record of sales as announced by the postoffice for the ten months:

December	$ 885.97
January	3,584.27
February	4,937.05
March	7,933.79
April	6,000.50
May	2,946.40
June	3,753.51
July	4,794.46
August	5,687.30
September	4,422.90

SOUTH AMERICANS WANT ECON-O-KLEEN

REQUEST FOR PRICE LIST RECEIVED FROM FIRM AT SANTIAGO, CHILE.

The fame of one product manufactured at Thief River Falls is becoming international. Econ-O-Kleen, the carbon remover and gasoline saver, has already been sent to the Hawaiian Islands, China, England and France, and this week Manager Scott Laird received a request for literature and prices from a concern in Chile, South America. The letter is a very good sample of the correspondence style employed by business houses in that section of the world:

"Santiago, Chile, August 23, 1918. Econ-O-Kleen Fuel Co. Dear Sirs:—We have the pleasure of directing ourselves to you, asking you for your catalogues and lists of prices which you no doubt have, by return mail. As soon as we receive your catalogues we shall study them and see if your prices suit us in order that we may send you an order at once, which will be paid at once with ready money from The National City Bank, an institution which has given us credit for our buying in North America.

"We avail ourselves of this opportunity of soliciting the exclusive agency of your product, or that you bear us in mind so that you see fit to name us first agents in this country.

"Respecting reference of our firm we are well known by many commercial houses and firms of the United States, among which we can name the following: The Beckley-Ralston & Co., The General Tire and Rubber Co., Anderson Vulcanizing Co., E. Edelman & Co., The National City Bank, and many other commercial houses.

"Thanking you in advance for your favorable and prompt answer in this regard, we remain

"Sincerely yours,
"ECHEVERRIA CD CI'A."

TRAINING HARD AT OFFICERS' SCHOOL

G. HOWARD SMITH FINDS REGIMENT SERVICE HARD BUT LIKES IT.

Anyone who is laboring under the impression that the young men who are attending schools for officers in different sections of the country are having a nice, easy time of it would reverse their opinion if they could see the candidates at work. G. Howard Smith of this city, is at Camp Pike, Ark., and while he likes the life first rate he admits that there is a little hardship connected with it. In a letter to E. O. Mogensen he says:

"We are sure hitting the ball hard here and have reached the hardest part of the program—modern warfare under French officers, use of the gas mask, bayonet drill, etc. In marching we wear the mask an hour at a time without removing it.

"I have not had a demerit charge against me yet and am making good grades in my examinations. The physical strain is fierce, but you know that war is rather rough sport. Everything we are going through is part of the game."

The writer asks that all mail for him be directed carefully as there are a number of Smiths at the school. Letters or papers with the following inscription will reach him without trouble: Private George Howard Smith, 4th Co., 2nd Bat., C. O. T. S., Camp Pike, Little Rock, Ark.

EXTEND TIME FOR REPORT ON BABIES

DATA RECEIVED HAS ALREADY PROVEN OF GREAT VALUE TO PEOPLE.

Letters and telegrams asking the children's bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor to extend the time for the weighing and measuring test have been so urgent that the bureau has announced its intention of removing entirely the time limit for receiving reports of the test. However, the bureau calls attention to the fact that the sooner these reports are received at the Chicago office of the bureau, at 540 South Dearborn Street, the sooner can the information concerning the health of American children, as revealed by the reports, be compiled and given out.

Extensive local use has already been made of the report cards for the weighing and measuring test. The facts they reveal have been used to stimulate work for child welfare. In some cities arrangements have been made to send a public health nurse at regular intervals to the home of every baby whom the weighing and measuring test has revealed to be underweight to advise the mother concerning the care and feeding of her child until it has been brought up to the normal standard. In many places weighing and measuring is recurrent. Parents are urged to bring their children to the stations at intervals of three months so that their progress may be noted and recorded. The State Board of Health of Wisconsin has passed a resolution asking that the weighing and measuring of children under six years of age be made an annual event.

The condition of babies and little children as revealed by the weighing and measuring test has aroused public interest in the physical condition of older children. Agitation for regular medical inspection of school children has become part of the Children's Year program in several states and in a number of places the provision of warm, well-cooked luncheons for school children is being urged as a Children's Year activity.

Goodridge Man Injured.

Louis Jelle of Goodridge, was seriously injured last Thursday when an automobile in which he was riding overturned on the Jefferson highway near Red Lake Falls. In the car with him at the time were J. H. Pinney of Pierre, and Clarence Kitchen of Blunt, S. D. Mr. Jelle's right arm was broken, a deep gash was cut in his foot and his leg and hip bruised. He was doing the driving and the car upset in turning a corner. The machine landed right side up and was but little damaged.

The Public Forum

Editor Thief River Falls Times:—As solicitor for the Fourth Liberty Loan for Numedal township, I take this way of expressing my most sincere thanks on behalf of our Uncle Sam, for the kindness of the people in lending him their money at a time when he needs it, and needs it in such a large amount as he does at present.

Generally speaking, the people were very willing to do all they could to help him out—only in a couple of instances did I meet with a flat refusals. But as we all know, the people are pretty heavily taxed one way or the other, both rich or poor, so I have not much of criticism to make of my townspeople as a whole. On the contrary, when summing up the circumstances and taking in consideration the financial condition of the people, I had the honor to see on this errand, I can not feel but very thankful for the result obtained.

It is not a very pleasant job to be a solicitor. It was almost with tears in my eyes I asked people for a loan where I found two stars in the window already and the third one to be put up, perhaps in a little while.

This was plain evidence of their patriotism, plain evidence that these people had loaned even more than their money—had loaned our country something dearer, something of a far greater value than their money, something so valuable that a person not in the same situation has not the least idea of it, but still the old folks took their allotment and took it gladly too.

Honor where honor belongs. With a hope that when the next bond issue comes out, presumably next spring, if it ever does, the people in general and especially in my township will be in a better financial condition and consequently more able to meet their allotment, and again expressing my most hearty thanks to one and all for the courteous and gentlemanly manner in which I was received as solicitor for the Fourth Liberty Loan, I beg to remain

Yours truly,
ALFRED FORSLUND.

Only One Corn Peeler, "Gets-It"

Stop Corn Pains; See Corn Peel Off

It is just when a corn hurts that you want to feel surest about getting rid of it. Why take chances of keeping the corn and having the pain grow worse? You'll use "Gets-It" anyhow, sooner or later; might as well use it sooner. Then you are absolutely sure that the corn will loosen from your toe so that you can peel the whole thing off painlessly with your fingers, in one complete piece—just like peeling a banana. It takes a second or two to apply "Gets-It." There's no fussing or puttering. Corn-pains will vanish—that'll keep you sweet while the "Gets-It" does the rest. Nothing new for corns has been discovered since "Gets-It" was born. Follow the judgment of the millions; use "Gets-It" and be sure to be corn and pain free! You'll say it's magic.

GEO. M. GUNDERSON

Candidate for Supt. of Schools Pennington county.

This is what one of his neighbors has to say:

"To whom it may concern: Mr. Geo. M. Gunderson is a personal acquaintance of mine. He is a farmer and school teacher, has held and still holds every office of honor which a township can bestow upon one of its citizens, without said offices conflicting. At the present time he is our township clerk, assessor, justice, chairman of soldiers' welfare committee, loyalty officer, vice-president of the Silverton band, secretary of the Silverton farmers club and several more positions of a charitable nature which are too numerous to mention. Any citizen of our township who seeks Mr. Gunderson's aid and advice is never turned away. He is a self-sacrificing man and at the present time devotes so much of his time to serving fellow citizens of his township that his own farm is greatly neglected; but Mr. Gunderson feels it his duty to be of some value to his neighbors and others and looks to their welfare before his own.

I am sure that all the citizens of our township join me in saying that he is our choice for the office of superintendent of schools. Make it a point to make him yours.

Yours truly,
HALVOR FODSTAD,
Township Treas. and Treas. of the T. R. F. Co-op. Creamery Ass'n."

Art Diebel in the Navy.

He stated that so far as he knew there was but one Thief River Falls boy at Seattle besides himself, and that is Arthur Diebel, formerly a compositor on The Times. Diebel went to Canada after leaving Thief River Falls and became engaged in grain buying but must have returned to this country for the purpose of enlisting.

Mr. Olson says that the ship to which he is attached has been expecting sailing orders for some time and that he will probably be on the ocean, headed for somewhere, soon after his return. His present address is the naval training station, university of Washington, Seattle.

MILK

The Between-Meals Meal

Growing children are naturally hungry. Between meals they require something to tide over that empty feeling.

Milk is the ideal between-meals meal—bread well spread with butter and plenty of milk to drink.

The Milk Way is the Health Way

Milk gives your children more resistance to the ailments and dangers of school days. Milk protects them by making good the deficiencies of all other foods they eat. Milk alone contains the vital elements necessary to life, health and growth. Dr. McCollum says, "Milk is the Protective Food."

Prepare your children now, ensure their health today. Ensure them strong minds. The health way is the milk way. The economy of milk as the foundation food—the first food in household importance—should be considered by every housewife.

The Milk Way is the Health Way

That's what Dr. McCollum says and what practice has proved. Your children should be fed at least a quart of milk per day.

Adults too, need milk to renew and re-energize both body and brain.

Shop and Railroad News

Women as Railroad Employes—Miss Albina Doucet was this week transferred from the position of clerk at the city freight office to night ticket agent at the passenger station of the Soo. Miss Doucet is the third woman ticket agent to be employed in this city. Miss Selma Simonson has been holding down the Soo day shift for some time while Mrs. Helen Montgomery has been the regular ticket dispenser at the Great Northern station since it was discovered that women would have to take the places of young men who were called into the army. Much of the office work of the roads is now being done by them. Miss Esther Gjertsen is cashier at the Great Northern, Mrs. H. A. Pratt and Mrs. W. H. BonDurant are clerks at the Soo freight house, Miss Bertha Leimers is clerk in the office of Master Mechanic J. W. Hendry, Miss Alvina Jonas holds a similar position in the domain of Car Foreman G. J. Conklin and Miss Lena Robertson is the new clerk at the yard office.

Influenza at Crookston—Thus far the railroaders with headquesters at Thief River Falls have escaped the Spanish influenza epidemic. At Crookston, however, the disease seems to have taken particular toll of railroad workers. One conductor on the Great Northern is reported to have died and others have been in a dangerous condition. Every effort is being made to stamp out the disease and it now looks as if the greatest danger is over.

Grain Embargo Tightens—Local railroad agents were this week notified that no grain would be accepted for shipment except on a permit issued by the Grain Control Committee. This has had the effect of slowing up the movement somewhat but grain is coming through at a fair rate even as it stands. The agent at the point of shipment is required to make a report every day giving the amount of grain loaded or ready for shipment and must receive permission to forward it before it can leave the yards. The arrangement will prevent any congestion at the large terminal elevator points, and this seems to be the big idea just now.

Earlier Closing Hours—Under the new eight-hour arrangement put into effect by the government it has been found necessary to make certain changes in the working time of the ticket gants at the Soo. The office will hereafter be closed from 4 until 7:15 p. m. This will involve no particular inconvenience as no trains arrive or leave within the closed period. The freight house will also be closed earlier and all business with that department must be transacted before 4:30. There is no possible way that these rules may be deviated from and shippers and passengers will save themselves annoyance by bearing the changes in mind.

Quota Not Reached—The Winnipeg division of the Soo line was alloted $92,000 in the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign and is still short $20,000 of the required amount. A special effort will be made to raise the money and there is no doubt but that it will be forthcoming. The solicitors say that some of the boys who have already subscribed their quota will be perfectly willing to go just a little harder when it comes to a question of keeping up the reputation of the division and it only means a little extra work for those who have been appointed to make the rounds. Practically every department of the railroads in Thief River Falls went over the quota alloted, but in some other sections the result was not quite so good.

Division Jottings.

Elling D. Larson, carman, has resigned his post and left for the West where he expects to go to work in the ship yards.

John Reed, car repairer, went to Warren this week for the purpose of consulting a doctor concerning a troublesome ailment.

Car Foreman G. J. Conklin was in the cities on a business mission on Monday.

Thomas Hofek, who has been a patient at the Physicians hospital for the past three weeks, was around saying hello to the boys at the roundhouse this week. He expects soon to be able to get back on the job.

WELFARE WORKERS TO HOLD MEETING

THOSE FROM NORTHWEST WILL GATHER AT CROOKSTON NEXT WEDNESDAY.

Bert N. Wheeler of Duluth, district chairman in charge of the impending soldier and sailor welfare drive, was in the city on Monday in conference with County Chairman C. David Gustafson. Mr. Wheeler stated that there will be a general conference of the chairmen of the ten northwestern Minnesota counties held at Crookston on the 16th, at which time the general plan to be followed in the campaign of Nov. 11 to 18 will be discussed. During this drive it is the intention to raise $170,500,000 for the purpose of carrying on the work of the different war service bodies for another year. It will be the only campaign of its kind held for at least twelve months and indications are that it will be the last one necessary.

The money raised will go toward continuing the work of the following organizations: The Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., National Catholic Council, Jewish Welfare Board, American Camp Community Service, American Library association, Salvation Army.

The drive will be intensive, lasting but one week. President Wilson suggested that all these activities be brought under one head in order that successive campaigns be done away with and one big drive answer the requirements for an entire year.

Mrs. J. M. Bishop, county chairman of the Y. W. C. A., will have charge of the women's share in the coming drive. She will attend the Crookston meeting and make her appointments after all details of the campaign have there been gone over.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to the citizens of Thief River Falls for the interest shown and given our son, Beryl, during his late illness and death. Especially do we appreciate the attention of Drs. Gambell and Froehlich, the nurses at the Physicians hospital and Mr. Carl B. Larson.

FIVE DOLLARS FINE FOR BEING A HERO

GEORGE MARCEAU TOO ENERGETIC IN PROTECTING ABUSED YOUNG WOMEN.

George Marceau of North Dakota, punched Marvin Johnson of Pennington county in the eye and a few other places one day last week. He paid $5 for the pastime and left town utterly disgusted with the brand of justice handed out in Judge N. W. Tarrant's court.

Johnson had the Dakota man arrested, charging assault. Marceau admitted having laid violent hands upon the person of Johnson but claimed to have done so in defense of a couple of young ladies who were being mistreated—or treated—by his victim. Marceau had just arrived from Minneapolis and must have carried something in his satchel besides a tooth brush and comb. He was considerably tuned up, at any rate, when he ran across Johnson. The latter was, according to Marceau's story, trying to get the waiter girls in a local restaurant to drink from a bottle of whiskey, a proceeding which jarred fiercely on the acute sensibilities of the man from North Dakota. The latter proceeded to mop up the surrounding premises with Mr. Johnson and his arrest followed.

Judge Tarrant decided that $5 and costs would be about punishment enough. Marceau laid his coat, vest and hat down on a chair in the court room, declaring that he would be eternally hornswoggled if he would pay the damages and would like to see the color of the man's hair who would put him in jail for refusing. So Chief of Police Erickson ran him in, keeping his cap in the meantime. When the iron doors closed behind him Marceau changed his mind and asked permission to pay his fine.

The Times deems itself justified in expatiating somewhat on this story, seeing that Marceau was the only man arrested in Thief River Falls during the month of September.

PASTORS ASSIGNED FOR COMING YEAR

REV. J. A. ORROCK RETURNED TO M. E. CHURCH IN THIS CITY.

Rev. James A. Orrock, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church in this city, was assigned to continue in his present place for another year by the district conference held in Duluth this week. Rev. Orrock was appointed to fill the vacancy caused when Rev. G. O. Parish was granted a leave of absence for the purpose of engaging in temperance work some time ago, and the appointment has now been made permanent. This will be highly pleasing not only to the members of the congregation but to the people of the city generally.

Outside of the naming of a new district superintendent there were few changes made by the conference. The new superintendent is Rev. J. C. Craig, who has been on detached service during the past two years. He succeeds Rev. S. L. Parish, who assumes the pastorate of the Winona church. Rev. Barthelow was returned to Warren and Rev. Shaw to Crookston. No pastor was appointed for St. Hilaire.

Well Work Stops.

A representative of the Swanson Artesian Well company, the concern having the contract for drilling the city wells, met with the city council on Tuesday evening for the purpose of securing a settlement for work done and instructions for the future. The company has now gone to the depth contracted for on the third attempt to find water at the Duluth avenue location and have stopped work. The council wants the company to take a quantity of pipe off its hands, a matter that the representative said he would have to take up with the home office.

President O. L. Ihle, Councilman Severn Brandon and City Clerk A. H. Akre, the latter appointed as substitute by Mayor Penney, were selected to attend the meeting of the League of Minnesota Municipalities at Rochester on Oct. 16 and 17.

The food administration will use all of its enforcement machinery against dealers who attempt to reap large profits from the American butter market. Butter, both storage and fresh, must be sold at prices not to exceed a stipulated margin over what the butter costs the dealers.

Attends Brother's Funeral.

Scott Laird of this city, left Sunday night to attend the funeral of Mr. Laird's brother at Winona. Deceased was William Hayes Laird, 59, owner, editor and publisher of the Winona Republican Herald, and a thirty-third degree Mason, who died Friday night following a three months' illness. He was a veteran of the lumber milling industry and at one time was past grand master of Masonic affairs in Minnesota. He leaves a wife and daughter.

$25,000 MORE IS LOAN AIM HERE

QUOTA OF COUNTY IS MET ONLY IF RAILROADS ARE INCLUDED.

SOLICITORS STILL WORKING

HEARINGS HELD FOR THOSE WHO FAILED TO MEET ALLOTMENT.

With the returns from the third collection district still to come in and the subscriptions of the railroad employes excluded the total subscribed for the Third Liberty Loan in Pennington county is $295,100, which is about $55,000 short of what was demanded. Paul Borgie, chairman of the missing district, has been unable to complete the work entirely but informs The Times that the amount will be practically $30,000. The subscription of the Soo railway employes foots up $29,300, which makes the final footing $354,400, or $4,400 more than was asked.

Railroads Do Not Count.

The actual amount with which the county stands credited at this time is, however, only $325,000. It was understood before the campaign that while the railroad subscriptions would be credited to the county in the final accounting it was expected that the entire quota should be raised without this aid, which would afterward be thrown in for good measure. It will consequently take $25,000 more before Pennington county has done its full share.

Still Trying Hard.

C. L. Hansen and L. A. Lampert, chairman and vice chairman respectively of the campaign, are still in hopes that the required sum will be forthcoming. There are a number of townships from which the final reports have not been received and there are also a number of persons in the city who are expected to subscribe, but it is admitted that the railroad quota will probably have to be included in order to meet the requirements.

Delinquents Are Heard.

The County Public Safety Commission is in session every day hearing cases against those who failed to subscribe or who refused to take their full allotment. In every case so far the obdurate one is brought to see the necessity for doing his share in order to make the undertaking a success and the allotment has been taken without any further difficulty. In most instances misunderstanding has been at the root of the trouble and when things are properly explained there is very little difficulty in getting them straightened out.

All the delinquents from outside the city have been heard and a considerable sum realized. There are a number residing in the city who will be asked for an explanation and if the same success attends the commission's efforts in these cases, the total will be considerably larger than at present.

Results in Detail.

In the following report the townships of Kratka, Mayfield, River Falls, Rockbury, Smiley and Wyandotte are not complete, and it is likely that there will be minor changes in some of the others:

NO SCHOOL WHILE INFLUENZA RAGES

NURSE WILL BE IN CHARGE WHEN SESSIONS ARE RESUMED.

All parents and some of the pupils are naturally anxious to know just when school will open again. This cannot be definitely stated, the school board and Supt. J. H. Hay deeming it unwise to commence sessions until the danger from Spanish influenza has passed. At the time of closing it was thought that it might be possible to resume in a week, but the disease seems to be as firmly established as ever and the danger has by no means been lessened during the past ten days. Reports from Washington yesterday stated that Minnesota is the only state west of the Mississippi where the disease is stationary, all the others showing an increase in the number of cases reported. Pennington county has escaped pretty well so far and will continue to do so if precautionary measures will bring this about.

Ample notice of the opening of school will be given and parents may be assured that when this is done it will be perfectly safe to send the children. The new community nurse will be in charge at that time and will see that all precautions against the disease are taken.

When the notice of reopening comes parents should see that the children resume their school duties. In some cases there may be an inclination to hold off, but this will not be permitted. The rules governing attendance will be in force as soon as things again resume their normal condition.

SOLICITING FUNDS FOR FIRE VICTIMS

MAYOR APPOINTS COMMITTEE AND PEOPLE ARE RESPONDING MOST LIBERALLY.

The people in the fire-swept area of Minnesota are in an awful plight. Those who escaped did so barely with their lives and have to be helped until such time as they can get on their feet. Practically every city in Minnesota, northern Wisconsin and Northern Michigan has telegraphed its willingness to aid in every way possible and a general campaign for funds is in progress.

The need for prompt and liberal action was never greater. These people are without homes and without money, the only clothing they possess being that in which they escaped from the flames. Their plight is terrible. Those who managed to get to Duluth and Superior soon after the fire swept away their belongings are being cared for, but every hour discloses what is left of some family wandering about the devastated district without food and practically without clothing.

These are our own people—almost our next door neighbors. In the face of their suffering and loss anything that we may have to put up with can hardly be regarded as even an annoyance. No matter how heavy we may consider the drain upon our resources to be, we are among the fortunate of the earth when compared to these people and something in the way of material aid should flow out to them with our sympathy.

Mayor Penney has appointed a committee to look after the collection of funds, believing that time can be saved in this manner. The committee is composed of Robert McGinn, Carl Christofferson and Anton M. Langseth. Should it be found that more solicitors are necessary these have been authorized to call others to their aid.

INFLUENZA CLAIMS TWO SOLDIER BOYS

CASPER HANSON AND ROBERT DEMPSEY ARE VICTIMS AT CAMP.

Influenza is still demanding numerous victims at the army camps. Four young men who went from Pennington county, but only two of whom were residents here, have died during the past ten days and the bodies sent back for burial.

Casper G. Hanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Halvor Hanson of Sanders township, died last week at Augusta, Ga., the funeral taking place at St. Hilaire yesterday. Robert Dempsey, son of Mrs. Anna Dempsey of Rudell, died at Camp Grant and will be buried from the Catholic church in this city this afternoon. Andrew Rosette, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lars Rosette of Germantown, was buried last Saturday. He died at Camp Grant. Herbert Garceau, whose death was announced last week was buried at Red Lake Falls yesterday.

A firing squad from Company C went to Germantown for the purpose of attending the funeral of Rosette and a similar honor was to have been shown the remains of Garceau yesterday, but the rainy weather prevented. A military funeral will be accorded the remains of Dempsey today.

Called to St. Paul.

Dr. H. W. Froehlich, county physician, left last evening for St. Paul, having been called there by Dr. H. M. Bracken, executive officer of the state board of health. Dr. Froehlich said he expected the call was general and issued for the purpose of discussing the influenza outlook.

The situation at Oklee is said to be particularly bad. There have been three deaths and it seems as if half the houses in the village are harboring patients. Miss Haggert, community nurse, went down to assist in getting a nursing corps organized as the arrangements for taking care of the patients are far from ideal.

APPALLING LOSS IN FOREST FIRES

DEATHS MAY REACH 1,200 AND PROPERTY DESTRUCTION IS ENORMOUS.

28 VILLAGES WIPED OUT

MOST AWFUL HOLOCAUST IN HISTORY OF STATE LAYS WASTE LARGE AREA.

The forest fires which on Saturday and Sunday swept over between 10,000 and 12,000 square miles of territory in north-central Minnesota caused the death of 1,200 persons and a property loss estimated at from $75,000,000 to $100,000,000. The destruction is so appalling that all former experiences of the kind seem comparatively insignificant.

Fanned by Gale.

The fire got beyond control on Saturday. Fanned by a 60-mile gale it swept across Carlton county, taking in its path parts of St. Louis, Itasca, Pine, Aitkin and Cass counties. Thriving villages were wiped off the map in a twinkling, while in the larger cities, such as Cloquet, the fire made such rapid headway that scores of people were unable to get out of its path and perished while trying to escape.

600 Bodies Found.

The fire had pretty well spent itself by Sunday morning and the work of rounding up the survivors was at once begun. All the machinery at the command of the state was put in action, Gov. Burnquist himself going to the devastated region to take charge of the rescue work. The morgues at Duluth and Superior have been filled and additional bodies are steadily arriving.

Cloquet Wiped Out.

Cloquet, a city of 9,000 people has been practically destroyed. One saw mill and the large paper mill escaped the flames, but outside of these there is hardly a house remaining. While the property loss there is perhaps the heaviest, the death roll is small when compared with that at Moose Lake in the same county. In the latter village fully 300 persons lost their lives, the streets and buildings being filled with the corpses of those who found every avenue of escape cut off. When the home guard companies sent out from Duluth to render whatever aid was possible arrived they found an indescribable condition. The dead were piled in cellars and in buildings where they had rushed to escape the flames. The streets were strewn with corpses and the plight of the survivors was heartrending.

The Greatest Sufferers.

The towns which have been reported totally or partially destroyed include Cloquet, Moose Lake, Kettle River, Lawler, Adolph, Munger, Five Corners, Harney, Grand Lake, Maple Grove, Twig, Barnum, Mathew, Atkinson, French River, Clifton, Brookston, Brevator, Pike Lake, Pine Hill, Kalavala, Ronald, Salo, Split Rock, Automba, McGregor and Warba.

Many towns which were in danger were on Tuesday reported safe. Among these are Crosby, Ironton, Cass Lake, Bemidji, Hill City, Grand Rapids, Deer River, Cohasset, Aitkin, Two Harbors, Grand Marais, Virginia, Deerwood, Brainerd, Palisade, Barnum, Floodwood, Kimberley, the east end of the range and the north shore of Lake Superior.

Measures for Relief.

The devastation is so widespread that it is impossible for communities in the immediate neighborhood to meet the requirements for food and clothing. Nearly every city in Minnesota and northern Wisconsin has telegraphed aid to the central committee at Duluth and a general collection of funds is being carried on. A committee started out in Thief River Falls yesterday morning and thus far has met with most liberal response.

HOME GUARD MAY RECEIVE SUMMONS

LOCAL ORGANIZATION READY TO HELP IN FIRE ZONE ON SHORT NOTICE.

The forest fires in the eastern part of the state were again fanned into action by the wind yesterday after having been checked during Monday and Tuesday. The situation about Lawler and McGrath became so threatening as to cause the gravest alarm. Home guard companies from all nearby points have been called out and even the units at places so remote as Minneapolis, Osseo and Columbia Heights have been ordered to the point of danger.

Company C of this city has not yet been sent for but Capt. W. B. Fuller would not be surprised to receive a call at any time. The reason that this has not arrived before is thought to be a fear that it may be needed nearer home. Bemidji and Crookston companies are also held in reserve, there being danger that the fire may extend to the timbered sections about the first-named city. Should such be the case Company C would be among the first to be ordered out. Officers and men are ready to go at a moment's notice as the call has been expected for some days.

First Payment Due.

The first installment on the Fourth Liberty Loan is due on or before Saturday, Oct 19. It is very important that all subscribers make their payments promptly. The government has sent out notices asking that the payment be met without fail. All subscribers should go to the bank through wihch their subscription was taken and attend to the matter. Do it while you think of it.

CHILD WELFARE CLINIC OCT. 26

DR. HUENEKENS WILL MAKE SECOND VISIT HERE ON THAT DATE.

PIONEERS IN MOVEMENT

MINNESOTA IS SECOND STATE TO RECOGNIZE IMPORTANCE OF THIS WORK.

The hope that some day we might have a child welfare clinic in every community in Minnesota has really come to pass and every community that desires such a clinic may have one. We should be proud of this in Minnesota as Massachusetts is the only other state in the union to have anything of the kind.

The State Board of Health has created a new division called the Division of Child Conservation. Dr. E. J. Huenekens is the director of this division and one child clinic has already been held in Pennington county on August 27, following the weighing and measuring test.

Dr. Huenekens will be here again October 26. Children up to five years are admitted to the clinics and older children are admitted where it seems necessary. The weighing and measuring test will be valueless unless there is definite follow-up work, and these clinics have been brought about by the federal work for child conservation. If these clinics can be established in every community of Minnesota, the child welfare problem will be solved. Bring sick children to help them get well and well children to keep them well. Dr. Huenekens, advice is free and where it is necessary he refers cases back to the local physicians, advising with them.

The Children's Bureau believes that the lives of 100,000 babies can be saved this year and that these will count for strength of our country in the future.

Meetings Postponed.

There will be no meetings of the Woman's club until after the influenza epidemic has abated. The weekly drill of the home guard company was also dispensed with last Thursday for the same reason and it is not likely that these will be resumed until after the danger has passed.

A warning against visiting has been issued. This is one of the surest ways of spreading the disease. Stay away from friends' houses for a week or so. There is no sense in courting danger.

"Flu" is Bad at Oslo.

Tarje S. Brokke of the local post-office force, is this week functioning as postmaster at Oslo. Spanish influenza seems to be having its own way with the citizens of the river village, 200 cases being reported there at one time. The entire post-office crew has been laid up and it was necessary to call for help in order to keep the office running.

MESSAGE DIRECT FROM TRENCHES

CONGRESSMAN T. D. SCHALL WILL SPEAK IN THIEF RIVER FALLS OCT. 31.

VISITED AT BATTLEFRONT

MOST INTERESTING AND AUTHENTIC REPORT BROUGHT TO OUR PEOPLE.

Thomas D. Schall of Minneapolis, Minnesota's blind congressman, will deliver an address to the people of Northwestern Minnesota at the Auditorium in this city on the evening of Thursday, Oct. 31. The meeting will be under the auspices of the America First association and will be one of the most interesting and instructive ever held in the state. Congressman and Mrs. Schall recently returned from a trip to the fighting line in Europe and the message they bring back, while of great interest, is of special importance to the people of Minnesota.

Visited the Trenches.

Congressman Schall who, because of his inability to see things for himself, is always accompanied by Mrs. Schall on all his journeys, she acting as his eyes and interpreter, held personal interviews with Minnesota soldiers as well as Allied generals and other officers. They spoke to large numbers of German prisoners and are thus in a position to tell just what these think about the war and its probable outcome. They have with them many relics that were taken from the dead bodies of German soldiers as well as picked up on the battlefields.

A Speaker of Note.

Congressman Schall is an eloquent and entertaining talker. He has been among the house members who has stood behind the President in his war program from the outset and has given a vast amount of study to every phase of the great conflict. Vice President D. P. O'Neill of the America First association, has been anxious to secure him for an address at Thief River Falls and as he was booked for a speech at Bemidji on the 25 it was possible to arrange a date here for the 31st, the intervening day being given to Red Lake Falls. The government is attaching much importance to these addresses as they are first-hand evidence of what is going on at the front.

All Are Invited.

Every opportunity will be given people from the surrounding sections to hear the distinguished speaker. As it will be impossible for him to visit Marshall county on this trip it is expected that many from there will come for the purpose of hearing him. Arrangements are being made to advertise the meeting extensively as it will be one of the most interesting held in the Northwest since the beginning of the war.

Justice Brown Here.

Chief Justice Calvin L. Brown of the Minnesota supreme court was in the city over Sunday. Justice Brown was on his way to visit certain land holdings he has in the neighborhood of Holt.

34 WILL BE SENT WEEK OF OCT. 21

DEMING GETS NINETEEN AND CAMP FOREST THE OTHER FIFTEEN.

Unless the influenza situation is such as to again make the postponement of troop movements necessary, next week will see 34 men go from Pennington county to fill the regular October call to the training camps. During the five day period beginning on the 21st, 19 will entrain for Camp Cody, Deming, N. M., while 15 more will go to Camp Forest at Lytel, Ga., during the same period.

These men must all come from Class 1, and will practically exhaust those now available in that division, including everything up to the last registration. None of those in the latter classification may as yet be inducted into service.

Those who will be required to make up this quota are the following:

To Camp Cody—Ole G. Granum, Alexander Swanson, Lyman W. Fossum, Carl J. Skjerping, Harold H. Spink, Gust Freitag, Hubert Jacobson, Ole J. Olson, Oliver O. Ronning, Nils Monsebraaten, John Kallonen, August Althoff, Arthur Baird, Edward Granum, Clarence E. Johnson, Thuri A. Carlson, Milton G. Weeks, Harold Haugen, Elmer Alvin Dahlen, Melvin Svare, Martin R. Odegaard.

COMPANY OF LITTLE RED CROSS WORKERS.

Kaiser Abdicates, Germany to Quit is Latest Report

(SPECIAL TO THE TIMES: 9:30 A. M.)—REPORTS FROM AMSTERDAM LAST NIGHT AND CONTINUING TODAY STATE THAT THE KAISER IS GOING TO ABDICATE AND THAT GERMANY WILL SURRENDER UNCONDITIONALLY. WHILE THERE IS NOTHING OFFICIAL REGARDING THESE REPORTS, THEY ARE PERSISTENT AND ALMOST ANYTHING MAY BE EXPECTED. THE GERMAN REICHSTAG MEETS TOMORROW TO DISCUSS PRESIDENT WILSON'S REPLY TO GERMANY'S PEACE NOTE.

INFLUENZA CLOSES COUNTRY SCHOOLS

CHURCHES ALSO WILL REMAIN CLOSED FOR ANOTHER SUNDAY AT LEAST.

Thief River Falls still continues practically immune from Spanish influenza. But one case has been added to the four reported last week, this last being a brakeman on the Soo, who was stricken while out on his run on the Wheatline. The disease is spreading somewhat in the farming sections, but no deaths have been reported and physicians believe they have it pretty well in hand.

As a measure of safety the country schools were ordered closed by Commissioners Peter Wold and J. S. Roy, and Dr. H. W. Froehlich, county board of health. It was also ordered that members of households where the disease has made its appearance shall keep closely at home and not come in contact with other persons. These orders have been very generally obeyed and the disease has not secured the foothold here it has in other localities.

The eastern end of the county is now as badly situated as any other part, several cases being reported from that district. The western section has quite a number of cases. There are 13 down with the disease in one neighborhood, eight being members of one family. The infection became general at a church gathering held there a short time ago and the authorities have traced the origin of the trouble right back to its source. Every step in its progress in this particular district goes to prove that the utmost care should be taken to prevent coming in contact with persons who are suspected of having it.

Temporary quarters have been fitted up in the city as an isolation hospital in order to insure that those who may be brought down with the disease will get the best of care and also to protect others against infection.

The schools, churches and theatres will remain closed for the remainder of the present week at least. Their opening will depend entirely upon how soon the danger is over.

SECURES HERD OF PURE-BRED CATTLE

TEN HEAD BOUGHT AT ARGYLE FOR CITIZENS' BANK FARM, GOODRIDGE.

A. J. Anderson returned yesterday from Argyle where he represented the Citizens' State bank in the purchase of a herd of ten registered Red Polled cattle. Nine of the animals are cows and heifers from two to five years of age and the other a registered bull. This stock is from the famous Jean DuLuth strain, which includes prize winners at nearly every stock show of any importance in both this country and Europe.

The herd will be placed on the Citizens' Bank farm about two and a half miles northwest of Goodridge and will be in charge of Knute Haugen, the farm manager.

These animals are among the finest ever brought to the county. So far as its pedigree goes nothing in America is their superior. The Jean DuLuth farms are famous for the excellence of the Red Polls raised there, the stock being in great demand for breeding purposes wherever cattle of this class are fancied.

Red Cross Social.

There will be a pound social given at the Groven school house on the evening of Saturday, Oct. 19. The proceeds will go to the Red Cross and a general invitation has been extended to everyone to attend.

$280 FOR SIRE AT STOCK SALE

PRICE PAID BY HANS ANTON FOR FINE THOROBRED HOLSTEIN.

GRADE COW BRINGS $125

FAIR ATTENDANCE AT FIRST AUCTION OF PENNINGTON COUNTY BREEDERS.

The first day of the combination sale of the Pennington County Stock Breeders' association brought out between 250 and 300 buyers. The number of entries was so large that it was found impossible to conduct the sale at the Ramstad [illegible] as advertised and the animals were taken to the stock sheds at the fair grounds. Nearly every cattle stall was filled, there being more of a stock exhibit than is often found at the county fair.

Milch Cows in Demand.

While the crowd was no record-breaker, every man present was there because he was interested in the cattle offered. The day was devoted to the sale of Holsteins exclusively and nearly every offering found a buyer. The demand for fresh milch cows was particularly brisk, mature sires being also good sellers. The record of sales could not be secured for this issue of The Times but the list of transactions will be given next week.

The Top Price-Bringers.

The fine registered Holstein bull, Ormsby Beat Clothilde, from the herd of C. L. Rude of Viking, was purchased by Hans Anton of St. Hilaire, for $280, this being the highest price brought by any entry yesterday. A grade cow of the same breed, offered by Ben Rosendal, was bought for $125 by Hans Rud. These were the best prices at the sale.

Outsiders Present.

Thore Ellingson of Valley City, N. D., bought three head of grade cows, securing them at a price satisfactory to both buyer and seller. Parties from Roseau and Badger were among the most interested bidders present at the sale.

The Red Cross stock was not put up at auction yesterday as at first intended. The sale was late in getting started and it was thought best to postpone this part of the program until today.

W. J. LaBree is the auctioneer while G. M. Gunderson officiates as clerk. County Agent R. P. White has general charge of the proceedings.

COMMUNITY NURSE IS NOW IN CHARGE

FIRST RECOMMENDATION HAS TO DO WITH COMBATING INFLUENZA.

Miss Laura Haggart of Minneapolis, has been assigned as community nurse for Thief River Falls by the state board of health and arrived to take up her duties last week. Miss Haggart is a graduate of the Northern Pacific hospital at Brainerd and has had a great deal of experience along the lines which will prove of great value in this community. She comes with the very highest recommendations, Dr. Gardner, with whom she has worked, having the following to say concerning her qualifications:

"She is alert, agreeable, aggressive, tactful, pleasant and quick to see any detail of the work." Miss Haggart's first recommendation upon reaching the city was that clerks and others who come in contact with large numbers of people wear masks to aid in preventing the spread of Spanish influenza. This is being done in practically all the larger cities, Grand Forks and Fargo even go so far as to order these masks worn by everyone on the street.

This recommendation is being complied with and the Red Cross sewing rooms are furnishing 80 masks for distribution among the clerks.

Child Reported Burned.

It was reported here the first of the week that a child had been burned to death when a farmer's house in the Mud Lake section was destroyed on Saturday. The child had been left alone in the house for but a short time while the other members of the family went out to fight threatening brush fires. They discovered nothing wrong until the house was a mass of flames.

May Tax Bank Checks.

A stamp tax of 2 cents on all bank checks is provided for in an amendment to the War Revenue bill adopted by the senate finance committee, which is revising the house draft. The amendment was adopted by a vote of 8 to 6. Many members, however, expressed a doubt as to its acceptance by the senate. Such a tax is opposed by treasury department officials and many senators because it not only would be a serious inconvenience to business, but would tend to discourage thrift and encourage hoarding.

STILL DOUBT HIS WORD.

It is not considered good form to keep on pounding the stuffing out of an adversary after he has squealed and promised to be good, but in cases where such a one has time and time again given indisputabel proof that his word is not to be tackn the other fellow is justified in exacting something besides a promise that there shall be no further cause for chastisement.

The Hun has lied so often, used trickery so continuously, employed invariably such despicable means to gain his ends, that the civilized world is certainly justified in looking with suspicion at any overtures he may make. For this reason his peace propositions are meeting with a chilly reception everywhere.

Germany is not yet beaten to her knees. Nearly every writer of note who is at all conversant with the facts warns the Allied peoples against getting any such notion. If Germany is willing to quit it is simply because the rulers at that country believe they can do so to better advantages now than later. They perhaps realize that the time will soon come when they will be compelled to sue for an unconditional peace, but it is doubtful if that time has yet arrived.

It is certain that had Germany made these peace overtures a year ago they would have been hailed with the greatest enthusiasm in the Allied countries. She would at that time have been able to command better terms than can possibly be obtained now. Things have changed, however, and there is an almost overpowering sentiment among her enemies that mere restitution is not sufficient punishment for the damage she has done. France and England are demanding that the war continue until Germany has been forced to experience some of the suffering she has inflicted on others. Right here in America the feeling is very much the same even though we have not so great a reason for being vengeful. It is certain that the acceptance of anything short of an absolute surrender would raise a storm of protest—and the boys on the fighting line would protest the loudest.

The newspapers of the country reflect public sentiment pretty accurately and these with practicaly one accord are of the opinion that the war might better now be continued. The Minneapolis Journal, a paper not subject to hysterics, voices exactly what we all think in the following paragraph of an editorial headed "The Torch and the Olive Branch:

> "There is only one cure for the Hun—bitter doses of his own medicine. He must be made to suffer what he is inflicting on invaded France. The stern decree of France that for every yielded city the German now wrecks, there shall be a similar fate meted out to a German city, is fully understandable. Who shall stay the vengeance of France for the destruction of Cambrai, a wanton deed without the poor excuse of military necessity? None of her Allies surely. City for city, village for village, castle for chateau, let the German pay for his barbarism."

But we cannot very well keep on hammering a man who begs for mercy, says he is sorry and offers to make good any damage he has done. The same rule applies to nations, presumably, but we will be justified in making certain his protestations are sincere before turning our backs.

BETTER SAFE THAN SORRY.

Pennington county has been fortunate in thus far escaping any serious effect from the influenza epidemic now raging throughout the world. Only three or four cases have been found in the city and perhaps twenty in the county, more than half of the latter being in one neighborhood. Prompt action on the part of the health authorities has prevented any spread of the disease and it is generally considered that the gravest danger is now past. As a margin of safety, however, the restrictions against public gatherings of any kind will be continued until the epidemic has run its course.

There are naturally those who fail to understand why such drastic measures as closing the churches and schools and demanding complete isolation of those stricken should have been necessary, but the general opinion is that the authorities are entitled to a great deal of credit for thus meeting the situation even before it was fully developed. It is possible that no great harm would have resulted had things been permitted to run as usual, but the result in other communities does not argue in favor of any such contention. The slight inconvenience to which we are being put is a small price to pay for practical immunity from one of the most serious epidemics that have visited this country for years.

NEW FOOD ORDERS.

New styles for public eating places have been decreed by the United States food administration in 12 general orders which take effect Monday, Oct 21. Do not be surprised therefore if next time you take dinner at a hotel, you do not find your bread ration brought to the table until after the first course is served, an allowance of only one kind of meat at any one meal, no bacon to be used as a garniture, no more than one-half ounce of butter or one-half ounce of American cheese to be served at any one meal, no sugar bowl on the table, no "double cream." Under the new orders these are all things of the past. The text of the new orders appears in full in another column of this issue of The Times.

OVER THE TOP AGAIN.

Raising more than the $350,000 alloted as Pennington county's share of the Fourth Liberty Loan issue is a record of which our citizens may well be proud. The sum represents practically $35 for every man, woman and child, which is doing pretty well for a county with practically no industries outside of agriculture. No matter how prosperous a farmer may be, he is seldom in the class known as "ready money men" and in this section at least he has many and varied uses for every dollar he is able to get together. That he subscribed so liberally is very much to his credit, all things considered.

The people of the city did all that was expected of them. In previous bond sales they have had to carry the greater part of the burden—and did so willingly, understanding the situation of the farmer. Now that conditions were to some extent reversed the latter was asked to take his full share of the bonds, and he did so, except in a very few cases where his explanations to the committee in charge was sufficiently convincing to prove his allotment unjust.

There will in all probability be further bond issues. This is considered unavoidable even though steps are at once taken toward peace. In such case it is likely that another plan will be employed in securing subscriptions. Personal solicitation is all right, but it imposes on a few men the task of interviewing every citizen in the county. Better results seem to be secured by the counties where the citizens are asked to come to a central office and make their subscriptions directly to the loan board. The allotments are made in the same manner and the citizen is notified to come and sign up. Where he fails to comply the board issues a regular legal subpoena for his appearance and he is brought in by the sheriff. There is no escaping his duty in this regard, and very few make any attempt to do so. This places all on an equal footing and takes a lot of responsibility off the willing workers who have heretofore been called upon to make the rounds.

There is no denying the fact that it took hard work to make the grade this time and Chairman Hansen, Vice Chairman Lampert and the volunteer committeemen who day after day worked to see that every man and woman bought bonds to the extent of their ability, are entitled to a great deal of credit. But little complusion had to be employed, our record in this regard being as clear as that of any community in the state.

THE FIRST STOCK SALE.

An event of more than ordinary significance is the sale of the Pennington County Live Stock Breeders association, held here this week. There may be sales in the state in which a larger number of animals are listed, but in none will greater interest be shown nor will a higher grade of stock be offered.

This sale is one of the many achievements already to be credited to the farm bureau. In order to carry any enterprise of this kind to a successful issue it is necessary that someone in whom all have full confidence take the lead. Such an agency is provided by the bureau. To R. P. White, the county agent, is in a great measure due the success attending the first sale of its kind held in the county, but he has been ably seconded in his efforts by owners and others who are interested in seeing the raising of live stock become the principal industry of the section.

The sale was a genuine success. No higher tribute could have been paid to the live stock of the county than the interest evinced in the different entries by buyers residing at a distance. The prices brought were not record-breaking, but it was not the intention that they should be. Those who secured one of the splendid animlas offered received more than their money's worth and will be strong advertisers for Pennington county stock at future sales.

That there will be future sales is certain. The event will within a short time be as firmly established as the county fair and of vastly more actual value. A good start has been made and the experience gained will be of great assistance in maping out a program for the next event.

IT'S NOW UP TO GERMANY.

The Hun now knows just exactly what will be required of him in order to prevent having his country overrun by the armies of the Allies. The terms upon which the war can be brought to an end have been stated so plainly by President Wilson that even German diplomacy will be unable to see any way out of the situation other than looking it squarely in the face. Whether or not Germany accepts the terms and surrenders is a matter of far greater importance to her than to the rest of the world. The conditions will certainly not be less exacting in case she elects to continue the struggle.

It is now a question of self-determination for other peoples or self-destruction for her own. The Germans have their choice. No excuse for misunderstanding exists. If the President in a previous note permitted a feeling of uncertainty to obtrude, the doubt has now been dispelled and the country accepts the decision with a shout.

A way has been pointed out for the people of Germany. They may follow their present leaders to destruction or they may cast them off and begin reestablishing themselves in the estimation of mankind. It will take generations for them to accomplish this, but the longer they continue in their present course the longer will be their period of probation.

Just suppose for a moment that a notorious outlaw broke into your house, carried off everything of value that he could move and destroyed the rest; suppose he mistreated your wife, carried off your children and behaved generally like an inhuman beast; suppose further that after having grappled with him for a long time you had him at your mercy—do you think that his promise to replace everything the way he found it would satisfy you? If so, you would deserve everything that had happened to you. Just that, however, is the proposition Germany is now making to America and England and France and Servia and the other nations whose homes her soldiers have ravished and whose citizens they have wantonly killed. It hardly seems adequate, does it?

YOU'RE RIGHT, WILLIAM!

GERMANY
WILHELM

THIS CARTOON FURNISHED BY THE MINNESOTA COMMISSION OF PUBLIC SAFETY

AMERICAN STEADFASTNESS.

(Winnipeg Free Press.)

The fact that the central powers are making their bid for peace through President Wilson carries a hint that Germany believes the American people are more desirous of peace than are the British or the French. If there was any basis for such a supposition, if the United States were already war-weary and ready to sacrifice allied interests in order to stop the war in Europe, we should be in a very unpleasant position, and the future would be gloomy enough for the nations that have held on grimly for four long years.

Fortunately, however, there is no nation warring against Germany today more determined to see the business through to a decision than the United States. With nearly 2,000,000 men already in France and fresh troops being landed at the rate of 10,000 a day, with millions more being called to the colors this month, with the whole nation on a war footing and organized to the last man and the last dollar for the successful carrying on of the war, and with a people confident that their leadership will bring them complete victory in another year, there is little place for the suggestion that peace proposals will weaken their resolve to finish what they have begun.

The spirit of our American allies is, in some respects, the most promising factor in the whole situation today. Much of the buoyancy and enthusiasm that characterized the troops of the allied armies in the first two years of the struggle has given place to grim determination and stern resolve to fight to the bitter end. British and French soldiers, after four gruelling years, have developed qualities that make defeat impossible. But the young warriors flowing in from America are imparting a spirit of optimism, a youthful enthusiasm, that makes victory an absolute certainty. More important still is the fact that the whole American nation, proud of the initial achievements of its citizen army and conscious of the service it can render a world in distress, stands ready to make any sacrifice rather than bow to the overlordship of a gang of militarists and plunderers. German writers themselves have accused the American people of "war madness."

It is not at all likely, then, that German politicians will find any hope in an insincere appeal to the American people. They cannot drive a wedge between the great republic and the allies at this stage of the game. President Wilson may have found it difficult to bring his country into line on the side of justice and humanity, but Germany will find it more difficult to get him and his country out of it again.

BOND SOLICITORS MEET ALL KINDS

SOME WILLING TO GIVE ALL THEY HAVE; OTHERS NOTHING.

Solicitors for the Fourth Liberty Loan are a patient bunch and entitled to more credit than falls to their lot. They ran across so many different conditions in their rounds during the past two weeks that a recounting of the interesting incidents would take an entire newspaper. All kinds of persons were encountered, some utterly opposed to subscribing a single dollar toward the government and others willing to give everything they have.

Two instances of the latter class are particularly worthy of note. Out in Norden township resides J. A. Blumberg, a farmer with two sons in the army, and down on the list for $100. The wife and mother was the only person visible when the solicitors called, the head of the house being so badly crippled with rheumatism that he did not come downstairs except when absolutely necessary. He came down to meet the city men, however, and subscribed his allotment without a murmur. A neghbor of the Blumbergs—a young man without children and in splendid health—had to be ordered into town to appear before the allotment board and the most severe pressure brought to bear on him ere he would subscribe the $500 alloted to him. He has just sold his wheat crop for $5,000. As he finally came across The Times will withhold his name.

Met Every Demand.

Lars Hanson resides in Silverton township. While speaking English but haltingly he showed an understanding of the conditions which made it necessary for our government to go to war that astonished the solicitors. He proved that he had purchased $200 worth of bonds of the first loan, $300 of the second, $1,000 of the third, and took $600 of the fourth. While he thought that he had perhaps done his share he was willing to turn the balance of what he owned over to the government if the need should arise.

The solicitors arose and called him blessed. There is one man in this county who will have two staunch friends, no matter what may betide him at some future time.

These things are all part of the day's work with the solicitors. Sometimes they get mad enough to fight; sometimes the situation is simply aggravating and again they find something that makes them plub glad a rather onerous job was thrust upon them.

Political Announcement.

The undersigned begs leave to announce his candidacy to succeed himself to the Office of Superintendent of Schools of Pennington County.

I have endeavored in the discharge of my duties to give full service to the schools. I shall, at the pleasure of the citizen voter, do no less in the future. No question as to qualification is raised and none can be raised.

Your support and vote for re-election at the General Election, Nov. 5th will be greatly appreciated.

Respectfully,
E. A. MOSTUE

Ice Boxes on Wheels

Refrigerator cars for carrying meat are ice boxes traveling on wheels.

Most people in America would have to go without fresh meat, or would have to pay more for what they could get, if it were not for these traveling ice boxes.

Gustavus F. Swift, the first Swift in the packing industry, saw the need of these traveling ice boxes before others.

He asked the railroads to build them. The railroads refused. They were equipped, and preferred to haul cattle rather than dressed beef.

So Gustavus F. Swift had to make the cars himself. The first one was a box car rigged up to hold ice. Now there are 7,000 Swift refrigerator cars. Each one is as fine an ice box as you have in your home.

Day and night, fair weather and foul, through heat and cold, these 7,000 cars go rolling up and down the country, keeping meat just right, on its way to you.

Thus another phase of Swift & Company's activities has grown to meet a need no one else could or would supply, in way that matched Swift & Company ideas of being useful.

When you see one of these Swift & Company cars in a train, or on a siding, you will be reminded of what is being done for you as the fruit of experience and a desire to serve:

NEW DIRECTORS FOR RED CROSS

THREE CLERGYMEN MADE MEMBERS OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

REPORTS ARE SUBMITTED

START MADE TOWARD SECURING CROP PLEDGED FOR COMING YEAR.

The annual meeting of the Pennington County Chapter, American Red Cross, was held in the Commercial club rooms last week, with a good attendance both of local members and those from the various branch chapters thruout the county.

After the adoption of reports, Chairman Thos. A. Way spoke of the Christmas packages which are to be sent to the boys overseas. Mr. Way also told of the Christmas parcels for prisoners in the hands of the enemy and of how these should be sent. He also stated that the county chapter had been called on to furnish 300 property bags during the present month. The annual reports of committees were presented as follows: Hospital supplies, Mrs. T. L. Melgaard; Knitting, Mrs. W. W. Prichard, Sr.; Civilian Relief, Daniel Shaw; Inspection, Mrs. G. A. Penney; Branch and Auxiliary Allotments and Accounting, Mrs. A. Craik; Bandage Work, Mrs. Daniel A. Shaw; Military Relief, Mrs. J. J. Richter; Crop Pledges, Ross P. White.

These reports will be printed next week in The Times and will give a good idea of the broadness of the Red Cross work as now carried on.

Directors Elected.

The matter of electing five directors to succeed those who had been elected at the organization of the Chapter for two terms and whose time had now expired was next before the meeting. A nominating committee of three was appointed, composed of Mr. Shaw, Mrs. L. G. Larson and Mrs. W. W. Prichard, Sr. After a conference the following names were brought in: Rev. I. T. Aastad, Rev. M. J. Noesen, Rev. R. L. Barackman, Mrs. W. H. Froehlich, S. O. Lee. Mr. Lee announced that he would be unable to serve and the name of Mr. Shaw submitted. The report of the committee was then adopted.

Recommends Budget.

Chairman Way stated that he thought the Chapter should have a budget system for the coming year; that there should be another crop pledge solicitation in the country for 1919; that there should be fewer members on the various committees, and that there should be an accounting system for the various branches and auxiliaries.

The Potato Donation.

A report that the ten acre piece of ground donated by Mr. Borden as a potato patch had netted the local chapter $600 was submitted. An estimate of the amount of work in caring for the potatoes showed that $302.50 worth of time and labor had been put in on this Red Cross donation, and for which the Pennington County Chapter is deeply indebted to Mr. Borden.

Given Vote of Thanks.

Mr. Shaw believed that the retiring officers and committee chairmen had been very faithful in their work and he moved that the Chapter members extend an extra vote of thanks to Chairman Thos. A. Way, Vice-Chairman Mrs. T. L. Melgaard, Secretary Scott Laird and Treasurer T. L. Melgaard, and to the respective chairmen of the various committees for their valuable and untiring labors during the past sixteen months of service. The motion was carried by the unanimous vote of all present.

FIVE CANDIDATES FOR CITIZENSHIP

ONE HAD TO BE PASSED UPON BY NATIONAL EMIGRATION BOARD.

Persons born in Austria or Germany find it rather more difficult to become American citizens now than formerly. Frederick Robert Head has had an application before the district court for a year, and while there was no objection to his joining Uncle Sam's big family, there were certain formalities to be observed before he could be admitted. The national board of emigration had to be notified and investigations made by that body as to the candidate's antecedents and behavior since arriving in this country. The record must have been clear and Mr. Head will in all probability have no more trouble.

Alfred Godfred Johnson was born a United States citizen but did not have the good judgment to remain that way. He is one of a number who have during the past three years sought repatriation because they took up homesteads in Canada and foreswore all allegiance to the land of their birth in order to do so.

Percy Lamb, a former citizen of England, is one of the candidates. The other two, Olof Tharaldson Berg and Hans Sahl, are of Norwegian birth.

For County Treasurer

(Inserted by John Gullingsrud in his own behalf as candidate for County Treasurer. Amount to be paid, 30c per inch.)

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of County Treasurer and solicit the vote and support of my fellow citizens at the general election Nov. 5, 1918. I have been a resident of Pennington county for the past 22 years and for the past three years have been in the employ of the Oen Mercantile Company.

JOHN GULLINGSRUD.

HAS FOUR CLAIMS; TO PRESENT NONE

ONE CITIZEN WHO WILL JOIN ARMY WITHOUT ANY URGING.

Stephen Singer of Kratka, comes within the age limits of those who must first report among the registrants between 31 and 36 years. He brought his questionnaire in to County Auditor T. P. Anderson this week and waived all claims for exemption. At his own request he will be placed in Class 1 and likely be called at an early date.

Mr. Singer would not have to go to war if he did not so choose. There is perhaps not another man in Pennington county who has so many valid claims for exemption, did he select to present them. In the first place he is married, which would automatically place him among the deferred availables. In the next place he is postmaster at Kratka and the government has held this class of official's exempt on general principles. As a final exemption claim he could easily prove that he is one of the prominent farmers of his neighborhood and that his presence at home is required on this account. He is also a merchant, but this would not be held as an excuse for his not going to war.

Mr. Singer already has one brother in the army.

George M. Gunderson

Candidate for Supt. of Schools

Another recommendation and several more like this:

To Whom It May Concern:

Mr. Gunderson, whom I know personally, also one of my neighbors, is a school teacher as well as a farmer. He taught our school and gave entire satisfaction.

Being that he is a farmer and aiding in the work of raising crops for Uncle Sam, he may not be in a position to see every voter personally. At the time several of the voters of Silverton, Cloverleaf, Smiley, Kratka, and other townships asked him to be their candidate for county superintendent, he mentioned this fact; but they decided they would not let him decline their proposal for that reason. As his neighbors we believe it to be our duty to aid him all we can in this campaign and will see to that his crop and work is properly taken care of if he is not so able himself. We feel he has been a credit to our community and we wish to place him in a position where he can through our schools place before our people the necessity of better stock, more corn, more silos and better farms, by introducing into our schools more agriculture.

Mr. Gunderson brought his boys from one of the rural schools to my farm and I must say I never had a more interested bunch examine my throrobred stock than those boys. Some day those boys are going to make better farmers than we ever dreamed of being. They will be the farmers who must help pay a part of our war depts. And, I am sure that through the instruction they received from Mr. Gunderson as their teacher, will make them more fit for this very important duty.

Mr. Gunderson is our township assessor and you all know the assessor in general is the most hated fellow in the community. Its different with Mr. Gunderson. By his fairness and squareness in that office he has gained the support of nearly all the residents of our township and when it gets to valuation our town is one of the highest in Pennington county.

Mr. Gunderson is our candidate for County Superintendent of Schools, make him your's.

Yours turly,
H. C. WOOLSON,
Secretary of Pennington County Guernsey Breeders Association.

Our Soldier Land Committee.

The attempt to secure lands for returning soldiers has taken on a business aspect. The Minnesota Red River Valley Development association has undertaken to aid the Federal Government in this matter and a strong committee has been appointed to work out the details. R. C. Mathwig of Warren, has been named as chairman of the executive committee, which is composed of the following members: C. G. Selvig, Crookston, general; M. E. Dahl, Norman county; V. M. Higinbotham, Red Lake; A. D. Stephens, Polk; C. A. Baker, Becker; J. M. Witherow, Clay; John Bratrud, Pennington; T. M. George, Kittson; R. J. Bell, Roseau; A. L. Thompson, Mahnomen.

An effort will be made to have all land dealers in the counties represented provide lists of their holdings, together with description, prices, etc., in order that the whole may be gotten together in correct shape for presentation through a general State and Northwestern States committee.

Save Wheat! Why? We Must Save	Save Meat! Why? We Must Save	Save Sugar! Why? We Must Save	Save Fat! Why? We Must Save
Our Allies can better utilize wheat than any other grain.	120 million people in Europe rely on us for their meat.	The territory captured by the Germans included the sugar beet fields and sugar factories, taking the sugar away from the French, Belgian and Italian nations.	Fats are need in the manufacture of high explosives and the lubrication of machinery and for ointments.
Wheat stands the overseas shipments better than other grains.	One million head of cattle have been slaughtered in Europe since the war began with no chance of replenishing.	Our soldiers need sugar as a power producer.	Our allies are sorely in need of fat for its food value.
Our Soldiers need wheat as an energy producer.	Our soldiers need meat as a body repairer.		Our soldiers need fat as a heat producer.

URGES SAVING OF FUEL EVERYWHERE

ATTENTION OF AGENTS IS CALLED TO THIS IMPORTANT MATTER.

W. A. Barnard of this city, superintendent of the Soo, has issued general instructions to all agents of the road within his jurisdiction, requesting them to use every care to conserve fuel, and particularly coal. The instructions are published in the current issue of the publication issued monthly by the road for the guidance of employes and contains much that may be studied with beneficial results by others besides railroaders:

All Agents—The prospects are that we will have a greater fuel shortage this winter than we had last.

I wish, therefore, to call your attention to a few things which you, as an agent, can do to conserve fuel and prove your loyalty to our Government.

Way Freights and Through Freights—Have way freight on platform in station order, so trainmen will not be delayed in loading. When possible, have it on trucks.

Where you have any switching to do, have a written switch list ready on arrival of train and be out on platform with it.

Where it entails extra switching, do not allow shippers to pick out certain cars to load because they are a little better than others, but arrange your switching so it can be done in the easiest possible way.

When you go off duty at night and on Sundays, leave a switch list together with way bills, in the bill box for any loads or empties you have to go, so trains will not be delayed. Trainmen have instructions to report to me where this is not done.

Passenger Trains—Have your mail, baggage and express on trucks, if at a station not provided with trucks, have it on platform opposite where baggage and mail car stops, and be on hand promptly on arrival of train in order to avoid delay, which consumes fuel.

Coaling Stations—Make a daily inspection of coal plant in order to see that every pound of coal is removed from cars before taken away. See that coal is not allowed to lie around on the ground, but is cleaned up every day. Tell the coal heaver what is required and see that he handles it accordingly.

Station Fuel—Practice economy in the use of fuel used to heat station. A great deal of coal is wasted and stoves damaged by overloading stoves.

Electric Lights—Do not burn electric lights any longer than is absolutely necessary, as it takes fuel to furnish the current. See that your station force handle accordingly.

RAILROAD WORKERS WILL BE RECALLED

THOSE NOT ALREADY OVERSEAS EXPECTED TO BE RETURNED TO SERVICE.

Thousands of railroad men who have enlisted or have been drafted but have not been sent overseas are to be returned to railroad service, according to word received here at St. Paul by Federal rail officials.

Northwest lines with virtually all others of the nation are suffering from a shortage of experienced men, particularly operating men, and the War department has agreed that the situation is so serious that drastic move is imperative.

Many railroad men are in railway or other technical units but there also are thousands who are in other units where their skill is not being utilized.

George M. Busby has been named by the division of operation of the Federal railroad administration to co-operate with heads of the roads in obtaining deferred classification for such employes as are not subject to call and to return them to their former occupations or hold them there.

Winter brings added difficulties in operating and increased demands for skilled labor.

Stations Wiped Out—The forest fires raging in the north-central section of the state during the past week have proved very costly to the railroads. The Soo properties at Bain, Lawler, Kettle River, Moose Lake and Otumba were entirely destroyed as were several stations along the Posston branch of the Great Northern. The Soo train from Duluth has been running out over the Northern Pacific tracks as far as McGregor in Aitkin county. A bridge was burned just this side of McGregor but by filling the gap with piling, ties and timber a support for the tracks was constructed sufficiently secure to permit of the train passing over.

Are Down With the "Flu"—Employes have fallen victims to Spanish influenza but not to such an extent as to handicap the work. J. R. Bratley, a brakeman, is the only one down with the disease in this city, but the incapacities have been so general J. P. Tonolli, traveling auditor, found it necessary to take the place of one man for whom a substitute could not be secured at once. Otto F. Ehlers, agent at Alexandria, is down with the disease; so is W. E. Nash at Fillmore. Agent F. S. Dalton at Ardock, is a victim as is also Ed Gulden at Conway. F. M. Howe relieves Nash and L. M. Roderick will work until Gulden is again on the job.

Ship Stock Tuesdays—An embargo on stock shipments from this section has been declared by the St. Paul yards, the restriction against receipts applying to Sundays and Mondays. Heretofore stock trains have left here on Saturday afternoon, this being also the shipping time of many other assembling points. This had the effect of overloading the yards on Sundays and during the early days of the week. The new arrangement will cure this.

Went Over the Top—It required a little extra-work in the shape of re-solicitation, but the Winnipeg division of the Soo went over the top in the Liberty Loan drive. The total allotment was $92,000 and the subscriptions $94,350. The average amount taken by each employe thruout the entire division was $143.30. This is a very good showing and the solicitors feel as if they have reason to be proud of their record.

Met Death in Fire—T. F. Mickelson, agent at Lankin, N. D., received the sad intelligence this week that his mother and two brothers, residing in the Moose Lake neighborhood, were among the victims of the forest fire. He left at once for the scene, his place being taken by Mr. Tonolli.

Wheat Movement Normal—All wheat is still being shipped only on permits issued by the Grain Board of the administration. The movement is steady and no trouble is found in taking care of the receipts at the terminals, but the rush found generally at this time is not in evidence.

Division Jottings.

Oslo seems to be the bright particular playground of the influenza germ. Practically everyone in town has it and business is kept going with difficulty. Frank A. Gorman, warehouseman, is down with it, but the rest of the crew has so far escaped.

Mrs. Helen Montgomery, operator at the Great Northern, was in Crookston over Sunday. While there she attended a meeting of Great Northern officials and employes, called for the purpose of boosting the Liberty Loan.

Greene station, N. D., has been placed in charge of Mrs. O. R. Stavenau while Mr. Staveneau is at Southam taking the trick of W. E. Bens, who is down with the influenza.

F. M. Chaffee has been put on as operator at Detroit, relieving F. M. Howe, who was sent to Fillmore to take the place of W. E. Nash while the latter battles with an attack of the "flu."

H. W. Houston has been put on as operator at division headquarters, relieving A. L. Chapman, who in turn takes the place of Agent F. S. Dalton, influenza victim, at Ardock.

Master Mechanic J. W. Hendry was transacting business at Shoreham and Minneapolis the first of the week.

John Skog, machinist, and Charles Skog, helper, were at Henning on a visit over Sunday.

Sam Skramsted, H. H. Simondson and Alfred Johnson have been put on as car repairers during the past week.

Leo. F. Tevagt is the new helper at Ogema, taking the place of L. J. Jedlocka, resigned.

Joseph Widener has been employed as wiper and sent to the roundhouse at Fordville.

Machinist H. A. McQuire visited with relatives in Bemidji over Sunday.

Engineer Knut Mellby is at his home here sick with influenza.

Hotel Dyckman is Minneapolis' newest downtown fireproof hotel. 300 rooms; each room has its own private bath. Rates $1.75 to $3.50 per day. —a-8-tf.

List of Registrants in Pennington County and Order of Call

The order in which the men between the ages of 19 to 21 and 32 to 45 will be called for examination as to their fitness for military service was received at the office of County Auditor T. P. Anderson on Thursday afternoon of last week. Work of arranging the list in the rotation indicated by precedence in the drawing at Washington was at once begun and was practically completed on Saturday night. Following is the order in which the calls will be issued, but there is nothing to indicate the age division. For instance, all men between 32 and 36 have been ordered up for examination and classification, but this is not shown by the list. For this reason the order of call will not apply except as it indicates priority. The order number is placed at the end of the line and the serial number at the beginning:

COUGHS AND COLDS QUICKLY RELIEVED

Dr. King's New Discovery used since Grant was President
Get a bottle today

It did it for your grandma, for your father. For fifty years this well-known cough and cold remedy has kept an evergrowing army of friends, young and old.

For half a century druggists everywhere have sold it. Put a bottle in your medicine cabinet. You may need it in a hurry. Sold by druggists everywhere.

Bowels Acting Properly?

They ought to, for constipation makes the body retain waste matters and impurities that undermine the health and play havoc with the entire system. Dr. King's New Life Pills are reliable and mild in action. All druggists.

PURPOSE AND EFFECT

PREPARED BY

CLIFFORD L. HILTON

Attorney General of Minnesota.

Addressed to

JULIUS A. SCHMAHL

Secretary of State

OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL.
ST. PAUL, MINNESOTA.

April 29, 1918.

HON. JULIUS A. SCHMAHL,
Secretary of State.

SIR:

As required by Section 46, General Statutes of the State of Minnesota for the year 1913, I have the honor to furnish you herewith a statement of the purpose and effect of the amendment proposed to the Constitution of the State of Minnesota by the Legislature of 1917, and which is to be submitted to the electors of said State at the General Election in 1918.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT.

Chapter 515 of the Session Laws of Minnesota for the year 1917, proposes an amendment of Article 15 of the Constitution of said State by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

"Section 6. The manufacture, sale, barter, gift, disposition, or the furnishing, or transportation, or keeping or having in possession for sale, barter, gift, disposition, or the furnishing, or transportation of intoxicating liquor of any kind, in any quantity whatever, except for sacramental, mechanical, scientific, or medicinal purposes, shall be forever prohibited within this state from and after the first day of July, 1920, and this amendment shall be self-executing. The legislature shall enact laws for the enforcement of this section and shall provide suitable penalties for the violation thereof."

THE PURPOSE of the proposed amendment is to forever prohibit within the State of Minnesota after July 1, 1920, the manufacture, sale, barter, gift, disposition or the furnishing or transportation, or the keeping or having in possession for any of such purposes, of intoxicating liquor of any kind in any quantity whatever, except for sacramental, mechanical, scientific or medicinal purposes.

THE EFFECT of the proposed amendment, if adopted, will be to make unlawful and forever prohibit the manufacture, sale, barter, gift, disposition or the furnishing or transportation or the keeping or having in possession for any of such purposes, of intoxicating liquor of any kind in any quantity whatever, except for sacramental, mechanical, scientific or medicinal purposes, within this state after July 1, 1920, and to place it beyond the power of any legislative authority to permit the doing of any such acts. If adopted, the doing of any of the prohibited acts automatically becomes unlawful after July 1, 1920, without any action on the part of the legislature or other legislative body. The amendment is made self-executing. A duty is, however, imposed upon the legislature to enact laws for the enforcement of this section, if adopted, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof.

Yours respectfully,
CLIFFORD L. HILTON,
Attorney General.

In a letter to Axel Axelson from relatives at Wannaska, Roseau county, this state, is told the tragical death of Mrs. J. Boehme, former pioneer resident of Rosewood, at that place last week. Mrs. Boehme had been residing alone on a farm near said place for some time, and was one day discovered dead in her home with the upper half of her body submerged in a wooden barrel filled with water. All indications tend towards direct suicide, and in a letter left in the home Mrs. Boehme disclosed her intention to end her life and also directions for the disposal of her property and burial. Mrs. Boehme was since many years ago, divorced from her husband, who is still living and resides but a short distance from where Mrs. Boehme resided. Their married life is alleged not to have been very happy.

"Gets-It," a Liberty Bottle for Corns!

There's Only One Genuine "Corn-Peeler"—That's "Gets-It."

Ever peel a banana? That's the way "Gets-It" peels off corns. It's the only corn treatment that will. "Gets-It" is a guarantee that you won't finally have to gouge, pick, jerk or cut out your corns. If you want the pleasure of getting rid of a corn, be sure to get "Gets-It." It is its wonderful formula that has made "Gets-It" the corn marvel that it is, used by more millions than any other corn treatment on earth. A few drops on any corn or callus, that's all. It can't stick. It is painless, eases pain. You can kick your "corny" feet around, even in tight shoes, and your corns won't crucify you. You can go ahead and work, dance, live, love and laugh as though without corns. "Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'f'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Thief River Falls and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by J. P. Curtis.

RED CROSS BOXES ONLY MAY BE USED

PRESENTS FOR BOYS OVERSEAS CAN BE SENT IN NO OTHER MANNER.

There is a large number of families in Pennington county having boys who are now serving their country and are located over seas. They should all get Christmas presents but this is possible only where certain rules are followed, these in brief being:

Cards are being distributed to the boys over there by the war and navy departments. These cards are to be signed by them and sent home. Then the relatives can pack a box and send it to that boy in service. And these boxes must be mailed not later than Nov. 15.

The boxes are provided by the Red Cross and will be sent to each chapter and branch shortly. They are nine inches long by six inches wide and four inches high. Only one box can be sent to a boy in service. These boxes will be given only to such persons as present the card signed by the boy in service across the seas.

Thus everyone should write their boys across the waters to sign and return these cards at once. The boxes must not be sealed for they are to be inspected by the local committee before being taken to the post office for further inspection and mailing. Let everyone get busy and write their boy now.

WATSON FAMILY IN FIRE-SWEPT ZONE

FORMER RESIDENTS OF THIS CITY LOSE EVERYTHING IN HOLOCAUST.

Wallace W. Watson, for years a resident of Thief River Falls and until a short time ago engaged in the grocery business in the present Ostby store, is among those who lost everything they had in the forest fire that raged for two days in the district about Duluth. Mr. Watson and family were living on a farm near Munger in St. Louis county, this being one of the settlements entirely wiped out.

The family escaped with their lives and were taken to St. Mary's hospital in Duluth with hundreds of other refugees. Inquiries instituted by F. H. Herrick of this city, brother-in-law of Mr. Watson, brought the information that the latter had received slight burns but that he was not seriously hurt. Their house, barns and other property was totally destroyed, however, the same being the case with all those residing in that particular neighborhood. This is a very serious loss to Mr. Watson, as he was just getting a start in dairying and general farming.

REV. PARISH LIKES NEW SURREUNDINGS

The Times is in receipt of the following short communication from Rev. G. O. Parish, formerly pastor of the Methodist church in this city, who left on Oct. 5 for Kellogg, Idaho, to assume charge of the church there:

"Just a line or two to say first of all that I wish you to send my Times to me here at Kellogg, Idaho. We wish to be able to read all about our many friends in Thief River Falls.

"I might also say that we had a fine trip. We left Wadena Thursday at about 5 o'clock, reached Spokane at 8 o'clock Saturday morning and by Saturday noon we were here at Kellogg. We like it here very much. We have a fine city in most every way. On every side we can see the mountains that lift themselves about 6,000 feet above us. Some day I hope to climb to the top of one and look down on the world around me. We have had no killing frosts here as yet but people here are looking for it any time. We have a fine church and a fine opportunity, also a fine lot of people to work with."

WORK IS ALLOTED TO LOCAL CHAPTER

The Pennington County chapter, American Red Cross, has just received another of its various allotments and as rapidly as possible the work will be gotten under way. The latest order includes 85 pneumonia jackets, 20-five yard rolls, 1200 wipes, 6x6 inches.

The first named articles are to be made by the hospital supplies committee while the last one is for the surgical dressings committee.

Thus each committee will, with work already assigned to it, have an exceptionally large amount of work to turn out before November 1, and an urgent call must be made to the women of the city to turn out and assist.

The rooms are open nearly every afternoon and evening of the week and young girls as well as older women are asked to come and help work for the boys over there who are daily giving up their lives for those who are at home.

Killed in France.

Arthur Johnson, formerly operator at the Western Union telegraph office in this city, has been killed in action on the western front, according to information received by former friends in this city. Johnson's home at the time of his enlistment was Minneapolis.

Last Payment Due.

The last payment on the pledge cards of the second Red Cross drive is now due and should be paid at the Farmers' and Merchants' bank. This is a very important matter as the funds are badly needed in order that the work may be carried on without interruption. Quite a number of our citizens have neglected this matter.

Exonerates Mr. Naplin.

Editor Times: I understand that some of the Liberty Bond solicitors are blaming Mr. O. A. Naplin for my not taking the full amount of bonds at once. This is to inform them and others of their kind that they are mistaken, and badly so.

I had not spoken to Mr. Naplin or anyone else about my Liberty Bonds until the second time I was called to Thief River Falls. I wish to say right here that if the men who came out and tried to bulldoze me into taking bonds had explained the matter as Mr. Naplin did I would have taken my share without delay.

Upon his advice and explanation I took my full share, which I had determined not to do. I still feel that I was given a larger amount than my circumstances call for, however.

Yours truly,
SOREN KNUTSON.

MILK

The Between-Meals Meal

Growing children are naturally hungry. Between meals they require something to tide over that empty feeling.

Milk is the ideal between-meals meal—bread well spread with butter and plenty of milk to drink.

The Milk Way is the Health Way

Milk gives your children more resistance to the ailments and dangers of school days. Milk protects them by making good the deficiencies of all other foods they eat. Milk alone contains the vital elements necessary to life, health and growth. Dr. McCollum says, "Milk is the Protective Food."

Prepare your children now, ensure their health today. Ensure them strong minds. The health way is the milk way. The economy of milk as the foundation food—the first food in household importance—should be considered by every housewife.

The Milk Way is the Health Way

That's what Dr. McCollum says and what practice has proved. Your children should be fed at least a quart of milk per day.

Adults too, need milk to renew and re-energize both body and brain.

SCHOOLS IN CITY REMAIN CLOSED

IF NO INFLUENZA APPEARS SESSIONS MAY BE RESUMED IN COUNTRY.

TWO DEATHS THIS WEEK

RECORD IS GOOD BUT GREAT CARE IS URGED ON EVERYONE.

Two deaths from Spanish influenza have occurred in Pennington county—one in the city of Thief River Falls and the other in the country. The first to die was Miss Mamie Weiner, 25 years of age, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Casper Weiner of Smiley township, who passed away Saturday. Deceased returned a short time ago from Grand Forks where she had been attending a business college and is supposed to have carried the infection from there.

The second death is that of Mrs. P. J. Michaels, wife of a Soo railway conductor, residing at 117 LaBree avenue south, city.

Schools Remain Closed.

It was the intention of the board of education early this week to permit the opening of the schools in Thief River Falls next Monday. The situation is now such, however, that this step would be fraught with a great deal of danger and the date of opening has been indefinitely postponed.

In certain districts the country schools will be permitted to reopen on Monday morning. Where the disease prevails to any extent, however, the date of opening will be postponed until the danger is past.

Dr. Froehlich has called all rural teachers in for a meeting at the court house on Saturday at 1 o'clock for the purpose of discussing the situation and also to receive instructions as to the identification of the disease, manner of reporting, etc. It is very important that all teachers attend.

28 Cases in City.

According to Dr. O. F. Mellby, city health officer, there have been but 28 cases reported in Thief River Falls, many of the patients being now well on the road to recovery. Some have already been released from quarantine and have resumed their usual duties.

The city has been particularly fortunate during this epidemic. In nearly all nearby communities the sick list has been much larger than here, the immunity being undoubtedly due to the steps taken to at once isolate all cases, the closing of the schools, churches and theatres and the warning sent out against visiting. It is thought that the disease has about run its course in this neighborhood and that with ordinary care the greatest danger should be past.

In the Country Districts.

Dr. H. W. Froehlich, county physician, is perhaps the busiest man in these parts. He returned last week from St. Paul where he was at the conference of county physicians called by the state board of health for the purpose of discussing measures for the successful combating of the influenza. He has issued new orders for the isolation of patients and additional warnings against crowds. His advice is being pretty generally heeded, but in certain instances there is room for improvement.

Spread by Threshers.

It is practically certain, according to Dr. Froehlich, that the disease in the eastern part of the county has been carried from one neighborhood to another by threshing crews. Measures have now been taken to prevent any further spread of the disease through this agency.

Candidate a Visitor.

Martin O. Sortedahl of Red Lake county, candidate for the legislature, whose announcement and platform appear in another column of this issue, was in the city on Tuesday evening looking over the situation. Mr. Sortedahl has resided in what is now Red Lake county for many years, having been deputy clerk of court while that section was still a part of Polk county. He is well known in that section of the district and also has many acquaintances in this neighborhood. Mr. Sortedahl left yesterday morning for a visit to the eastern townships and intends going all over the district before election day.

✚ NOTICE TO SCHOOLS AND TOWN OFFICERS ✚

Following out the policy of the State Board of Health, the rural schools will be permitted to open on Monday morning, provided there are no cases of influenza in the district.

All rural teachers are asked to meet at the court house on Saturday at 1 o'clock p. m., to discuss the influenza situation and receive instructions as to the steps to be taken to prevent its spread.

No public gatherings will be permitted.

H. W. FROEHLICH, M. D.,
O-24 County Health Officer.

✚ WEAR MASKS FOR SAFETY. ✚

The wearing of gauze masks as a protection against influenza is something that is done in every community where the disease has secured a foothold—except Thief River Falls. This is something that all should do, particularly those who come in contact with many persons during the day. These masks should be worn in the postoffice, the banks, stores and in other places where there is a steady stream of travel.

Let's not take any more chances than necessary. The flu has not been severe here as yet and we should certainly be anxious to take every precaution to prevent its becoming so. The wearing of masks is one of the best protections.

$1,400 COLLECTED FOR FIRE VICTIMS

NEARLY EVERYONE CONTRIBUTED SOMETHING TOWARD THIS CAUSE.

The people of Thief River Falls, with a little aid from the farmers in the immediate neighborhood, this week have subscribed $1400 toward aiding those who were made destitute by the forest fires in the eastern section of the state. Mayor G. A. Penney appointed a committee on solicitation composed of Robert McGinn, A. M. Langseth and Carl Christofferson, these in turn enlisting a number of the ladies of the city in the work. These latter are responsible for the collection of about $400 of the total, this being gathered in the residence sections. The balance was secured by the committee in the business district.

The response was general. In but two or three instances were refusals met with, everyone almost seeming only too glad to be able to do something for their stricken neighbors.

Mayor Penney and the committee are very much pleased with the showing made and wish to thank all those who helped to the extent of their ability. It is not the amount given in cases like this that counts. When anyone does his or her bit it does not take a great deal from each to make a sum that helps quite a little in the aggregate, as is evidenced by the result of this short campaign for these fire sufferers.

VISITORS AT SALE ARE ENTHUSIASTIC

HAD NO IDEA COUNTY PRODUCED STOCK OF SUCH SUPERIOR QUALITY.

The next sale held by the Pennington County Live Stock Breeders association will bring buyers here by the trainload. The quality of the stock offered at the first one proved an eyeopener to those who still figured that the county was in its infancy as a cattle center. It is safe to say that outside of the sections where stock raising and dairying has been the chief industry for a score of years or more there will not another sale be held this year at which such high grade animals are offered.

A number of buyers were present from Argyle who stated that had the people in their neighborhood known what was to be offered here there would have been two hundred of them on the ground. Men coming from Dakota said the same thing, while the farmers of Roseau county are very likely to look toward Pennington county as their chief source of supply when anything in the line of blooded stock is required.

For a first sale it was more than successful. Most of the trading was with people living in the neighborhood, but a number of fine animals will be taken out of the country entirely. One thing the sale is certain to do and that is stimulate interest in the breeding of pure breds. Many of our own stock raisers needed lessons in the value of steadily striving for better grades, and these were furnished by the sale.

The undertaking would have been worth all it cost if not a single critter had changed hands. The advertising given the live stock of the county will score heavily another year.

Child Severely Scalded.

The five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Bugge, 624 Kinney avenue north, was severely scalded by overturning a kettle of hot water onto himself on Monday. The kettle was on the stove at the time and the contents at the boiling point. Grabbing hold of the edge the little fellow tipped the kettle sufficiently to get quite a shower of the scalding liquid. He was badly burned about the face, arms and neck.

Children's Clinic Postponed.

Dr. Huenekens of the State Board of Health will not be in Thief River Falls for the purpose of holding a clinic on any date in the near future. The Spanish influenza situation is such that it is dangerous for even comparatively small numbers of people to be associated together in close quarters at one time and he does not consider even a welfare clinic of sufficient importance to take any chances.

QUOTA IS MADE IN FOURTH LOAN

COUNTY HAS A FEW THOUSAND TO SPARE OVER THE REQUIRED AMOUNT.

STILL AFTER TARDY ONES

SAFETY COMMISSION DETERMINED NONE SHALL ESCAPE THEIR FULL DUTY.

The actual amount reported in to Chairman Hanson of the Fourth Liberty Loan committee up to last evening was $362,250. This puts the county over the top to the extent of $2,250. There will be additional sums to report, however, as there are always unavoidable delays in getting the exact figures. The county safety commission is continuing its sessions and succeeding very satisfactorily in bringing the delinquents to time. It is thought that another thousand dollars will easily be unearthed through this agency while a similar amount remains to be cleared up at the different banks.

The Final Standings.

The result must therefore be regarded as highly satisfactory. Practically every district met the requirements. Local conditions in some instances warranted the changing of original figures slightly, but for the most part the original figures were accepted and the quota met. Following is a corrected table of the amounts subscribed:

Bray	$ 9,100
Black River	6,400
Cloverleaf	5,300
Deer Park	6,100
Goodridge Twp.	1,800
South Hickory	1,600
Highlanding	9,450
Kratka	10,000
Mayfield	4,250
Norden	9,000
North	25,000
Numedahl	4,050
Polk Center	4,300
Reiner	4,500
Rocksbury	25,000
River Falls	11,550
Sanders	12,700
Silverton	16,300
Smiley	8,500
Star & No. Hickory	6,200
Wyandotte	8,400
Goodridge Village	5,250
St. Hilaire Village	13,200
City of T. R. Falls	120,000
Soo Ry. Employes	29,300
Total	$362,250

25,000,000 Buyers.

Probably 25,000,000 or more individuals bought bonds of the Fourth Liberty Loan, unofficial reports show. A large proportion of these filed their subscriptions during the last few days of the campaign, which ended Saturday night. Consequently, it will be a task of many days to actually count the number of pledges and to compile reports from the entire country.

$100,000 IN FARM LOANS ARE PLACED

FEDERAL OFFICIAL SEES GREAT OPPORTUNITY FOR FUTURE DEVELOPMENT.

The Walhal Federal Land Loan bank, which is the name of the branch having charge of the loans in this section, has secured one more appraisal than any other branch in the state. According to Secretary L. A. Lampert this indicates that a great deal of interest is taken in the section and its development by the managers.

The Walhal bank has placed over $100,000 worth of farm loans and there are a large number of applications pending. A movement is on foot to try and get the restriction forbidding the loaning of money on peat lands removed, at least in part, and it is probable that federal officials will be in the neighborhood in the near future for the purpose of investigating the possibilities and dependability of this class of soil.

Peat has demonstrated its ability to carry the very finest kind of crops under proper cultivation and should the loan officials consider the risk safe after investigation it will mean that a much greater attempt will be made to develop and reclaim it. This requires money, and if it can be had from the land bank at a low rate of interest it will mean a decided boost for peat cultivation.

They Found the Ducks.

Leonard DuCamp and E. J. Strupp went duck hunting last week. Just where they went is none of anyone else's business, according to the hunters themselves. It has been learned, however, that they put in two days somewhere in the vicinity of Red Lake and brought back 53 fine mallards, butterballs and bluebills to prove it. It was by far the finest layout of ducks brought to town this season and it is not surprising that they have been pestered nearly to death to tell where they found them.

✚ TO THE PEOPLE OF THIEF RIVER FALLS ✚

I am going to ask your help in a new movement—new in Minnesota but already in practice in Washington and other eastern places. This is to introduce a custom of standing still for one minute at noon, in loving tribute to our men in the camps, on the battle front and on the seas.

In places where this habit has taken hold of the community it has produced wonderful effect, giving every one a sense that we are standing together for a common cause and for victory that shall bring peace once more to the world.

Friday Nov. 1 has been selected as the day to inaugurate this plan and I therefore call upon all our patriotic and peace loving people to use their influence towards adopting this custom of silently honoring our boys, and urge every organization of men and women in this community to fall in line and hereafter make it a daily feature in our city's life during the remainder of the war.

G. A. PENNEY,
Mayor.

SCHALL ADDRESS IS CALLED OFF

NO MEETINGS OF ANY KIND PERMITTED BECAUSE OF INFLUENZA.

CANDIDATES STAY HOME

ARE GENERALLY CONFINING THEMSELVES TO SENDING LITERATURE.

The people of this section will not have the opportunity of hearing Congressman Thomas D. Schall tell of his experiences on the western front on Saturday night. Owing to the danger of spreading the Spanish influenza all such meetings have been ordered stopped by the state health authorities. This is a wise move and will generally be so considered even though there will be some disappointments. There has been a great deal of interest displayed in the blind congressman's visit to the city and he would have been greeted by one of the largest audiences in the history of the city had not the order of the health board intervened.

All Meetings Stopped.

Thus far the present campaign has been the quietest in the history of Minnesota and it will be quieter yet from now on. The health authorities have forbidden the holding of political rallies everywhere in the state, no matter under what auspices they may be attempted. For this reason there will be an absence of spellbinding on behalf of candidates and the people will be deprived of one of their biennial amusements. There were no political addresses scheduled for Thief River Falls in the near future, but in some localities the advertising had already been done when the order was issued. Candidates generally are staying away from crowds and doing all their campaigning through the mails.

Applies to County Also.

This influenza epidemic is rather hard on candidates for county office. The outlying sections are the ones most heavily hit by the disease and it is particularly there that the candidates expected to do their most effective work. They have not entirely ceased their visits but are staying away from places where the malady is known to be raging. This is not on their own account so much as it is a desire on their part not to be responsible for the spreading of the disease.

Using Much Mail Matter.

Everybody from the state candidates down are employing the mails in their canvass. It was expected that Congressman Steenerson would be in Thief River Falls to make an address even though he has no opposition in the election, but he has cancelled all dates and will not appear on the platform in spite of the fact that a great many would like to get a first hand report of the doings of the last congress, particularly with regard to the taxation measures and the war.

Is the Quietest Campaign.

Never in the history of Minnesota has there been such a campaign. There was not a great deal of excitement over politics before influenza put a damper on things generally, but since that time there has been absolutely nothing doing. If the candidates can stand it the rest of the people will probably be able to manage somehow.

Is Safe in France.

Edwin Stebbins, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Stebbins, is safe in France. He is attached to the mechanical department of the flying corps and has gained rapid promotion because of the close attention he has given to his duties. The young man's parents were somewhat alarmed for his safety for a time, it being known that he was on the ocean at the time reports of submarine sinkings were quite prevalent.

GAPS IN RANKS CAUSED BY FLU

VOLUNTEERS AMONG SEPTEMBER REGISTRANTS HELP FILL MONTH'S QUOTA.

MANY FARMERS CALLED

TOTAL OF 33 MEN LEAVE FOR TWO CAMPS DURING PAST WEEK.

Sickness is beginning to cause considerable trouble in the selection of men for the army. Pennington county was called on to furnish 33 for general service during the past week and the registration board was forced to change the list time and again before the two contingents could be sent on their way.

Youngsters are Willing.

It would have been decidedly more difficult to meet the requirements had not some of the boys who registered in September of this year come forward and offered themselves as substitutes for those who could not go at this time. The young fellows are entitled to much praise for the manner in which they grasped the seriousness of the situation and volunteered to remedy it. The late registrants who would not in the ordinary course of events have been called at this time but who nevertheless came forward and offered themselves are: Conrad O. Ronning, Obert H. Morbin, John S. Steen, Harold L. Selstad, Shefferd O. Johnson, Carl H. Norquist, George D. Brink and Henry A. Kolstad.

Many Farmers in Lot.

Out of the 33 men sent 23 gave their occupation as farmers. This is the heaviest percentage of men from the rural districts that has ever been sent from Pennington county. Heretofore the city has furnished practically half of the quotas but now threshing and fall work is at an end and the boys from the farms are coming forward and asking to be taken in their turn.

Sent to Two Camps.

Nineteen went on Tuesday afternoon. Because of the warnings against drawing crowds the home guard did not form an escort on this occasion as heretofore. The first bunch went to Camp Cody at Deming, N. M., and was made up of the following:

Oliver O. Ronning, Nils A. Rolstad, John M. Gran, Harold Haugen, Rupert Swanson, Conrad O. Ronning, Frank Kusmek, Clarence E. Johnson, John A. Hallonen, Obert H. Morbin, John S. Steen, farmers; Thure A. Carlson, and Edwin Granum, clerks; Hans Kolstad, railroader; Harold L. Selstad, banker; Shefford O. Johnson, tire repairer; Carl H. Norquist, machinist; Gustav M. Freitag, laborer; Milton G. Weeks, student.

The following left on Wednesday with Camp Forest, Lytel, Ga., as their destination: George D. Brink, Engineer; Henry A. Kolstad, buttermaker; Nis Asmus C. Anton, Ole Mossestad, Wm. Dokken, George H. Kezer, Harris Heggestuen, Melvin Svare, Willis Gilbertson, Alexander Anderson, August Althoff, August H. Stroberg, Elmer A. Dahlen and Oscar T. Wiberg, farmers.

In accordance with the ruling of the State Safety commission the boys were given an opportunity to vote and all those legally entitled to cast a ballot did so. For many of them this was the first experience of the kind.

TWO LOCAL NAMES IN CASUALTY LIST

ADOLPH SOLUM KILLED IN ACTION; EINER SELSTAD AMONG WOUNDED.

Adolph Solum, who was sent to Camp Dodge from Pennington county with the March contingent, was killed in action in France on the 29th, according to a report received by the registration officials here. Solum was 32 years of age and married. He was formerly engaged in business at Holt but at the time of registration was making Thief River Falls his home. His parents, six brothers and six sisters are left to mourn him.

Solum started out as an artillerist but was tranferred to a machine gun battalion shortly after reaching France.

Einer Selstad of Thief River Falls, was among those wounded on the same day that Solum met his death. He left with the same contingent and was in the infantry, according to the best information obtainable here. Before going into the army he was employed at the plant of the Thief River Creamery association.

Osmund Ordahl, whose parents reside west of town, is reported among those slightly wounded. The extent or nature of his injuries is not yet known.

Promoted to Captain.

W. J. Brown, an attorney who formerly had offices in this city but who of late years has been a resident of Houston, Tex., left last week for Fort Worth, in the same state, having been appointed a captain in the quartermaster's corps.

✚ FOR BELGIAN RELIEF. ✚

Mayor G. A. Penney has appointed Mrs. J. J. Richter as chairman of the committee having in charge the gathering of clothing to be sent to the destitute Belgians. All those who may have anything to contribute to this worthy cause should send it to collection headquarters in the basement of the Mogenson store.

It is very important that this appeal be responded to at once. Winter is coming on and many Belgian women and children must freeze unless Americans come to their rescue with clothing. If Mrs. Richter is notified where to send, some means will be provided for getting the donations to headquarters.

FUNERALS OF TWO SOLDIER VICTIMS

BOTH DIE OF INFLUENZA AND WERE BURIED ON FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

Two soldier victims of Spanish influenza were buried in Pennington county cemeteries on Friday afternoon, a firing squad of the Home Guard company accompanying the remains to the grave in each instance.

Robert Dempsey, son of Mrs. Anna Dempsey of Rudell, died some time ago at Camp Grant, Ill., but owing to some error having been made in giving his home address at the time of his induction, almost a week elapsed before notice of his demise was received here. He was buried in the Catholic cemetery.

Casper Guy Hanson, son of Halvor Hanson, residing northwest of St. Hilaire, died at Camp Hancock, Augusta, Ga., the cause of death in his case being also pneumonia superinduced by influenza. He was inducted into the service on August 26 with a large bunch from the neighborhood and went first to Camp Grant. Besides his father he leaves two sisters and two brothers. Interment was at the cemetery near the family home.

NORWEGIAN MISSION BOARD IN SESSION

MEETINGS HELD AT OUR SAVIOR'S LUTHERAN CHURCH IN THIS CITY.

The home mission board of the Norwegian Lutheran church for the District of Northern Minnesota, met at Our Savior's church on Monday afternoon for a one-day session.

Those present were Rev. J. M. Sunhelm, Fisher, president; Rev. H. Bjornson, Kratka; Rev. A. N. Skogerboe, Thief River Falls; Rev. J. H. Stenberg, Duluth; Rev. A. G. Quammen, Syres, and Mr. P. O. Onstad, Ada, the board members appointed at the time of the general church consolidation last year.

The affairs of the mission field were gone over and plans for the carrying on of the work discussed. Reports from the different sections were to the effect that the smaller congregations are in good condition as a general thing and that interest in church work has been greatly increased since the union was effected.

A Narrow Escape.

Dr. G. W. Booren, Ole Ihle, Anton Langseth and S. Myhrum of this city, left early Sunday morning for Roy Lake, near Mahnomen, where they spent the day hunting. They intended to stay for a few days, but found the ducks so few and far between that they were ready to return the same evening. Dr. Booren narrowly escaped being the victim of a serious accident. He was talking with a member of another party of hunters when some ducks flew over. The gentleman with whom he was conversing became excited and just as the doctor turned to look, discharged his firearm, the charge coming so close that a portion of the wadding struck the doctor in the face. Most of the charge lodged in a tree about 12 feet behind the parties.

Appointed Epidemiologist.

Dr. H. W. Froehlich returned on Saturday from attendance at a meeting of county physicians called for the purpose of discussing the influenza situation, at St. Paul. While there he was appointed epidemiologist for this section of the state and will have general charge of all work inaugurated by the state board in Pennington and surrounding counties. He has already entered upon his duties, which are certain to require a considerable share of his time under the present circumstances.

Would Adopt Orphan.

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Holmes are trying to get in touch with those in charge of the children orphaned by the great forest fire last week. They wish to adopt a little girl and will offer a good home to such a one if she can be found.

In mentioning the matter Mr. Holmes said he felt quite sure there were other couples in this neighborhood who would follow his example if they knew the proper procedure for getting in touch with those who are looking out for the waifs. He will make an attempt to get some information through the Red Cross.

NO WATER YET; ABANDON TRIAL

PLAN TO SECURE SUPPLY BY MEANS OF WELLS IS ABANDONED.

LOWER INSURANCE RATES

CHANGES CONSIDERED WOULD MAKE DIFFERENCE OF 7 TO 10 PER CENT.

To judge by the sentiments expressed by the councilmen at the meeting on Tuesday evening it is practically certain that no further attempt will be made to secure an adequate supply of water for the city by means of wells. Things have now come to a point where the cost of drilling is so much greater than when the work was first undertaken that the councilmen did not feel justified in spending any more money on a project the success of which would be decidedly problematical at best.

The Mains Laid.

There will be no objection on the part of the citizens because this work is abandoned. It has for some time been evident that a satisfactory water supply was not to be had by means of wells—at least not in the particular section in which the work was being carried on—and the general impression has been that no more money should be spent in the experiment.

There is some slight fault found with the council's action in laying the Second street main before the water supply at its end was assured, but this work is by no means a total loss. There is but one place of transfer for water at that place and that is at the far south end of town. Through pipes laid at this point all the western section of the city is supplied, making a long, heavy lift for the pressure apparatus. The new main on Second street can be used at any time to supply the avenues west of Main and this may in the end prove a very good thing.

For Lower Rates.

Mr. Hitchcock, representing the state insurance department, accompanied by Daniel Shaw as the representative of the city insurance men, waited on the council with a proposition that received the closest attention. It was explained that by making certain changes in the city's fire fighting equipment the classification could be reduced one point in the table of insurance risks, which would mean a reduction of from seven to ten per cent in the premium rate.

Would Need Auto.

An additional pump would be needed having direct connection with the river. An auto truck for the apparatus would also be necessary instead of the horse-drawn arrangement serving at present. Two paid men would be required to stay at the station at all hours. A chemical tank with a capacity of 40 gallons and with 400 feet of hose is also a requirement.

Changes Not Expensive.

It was pointed out that the wagon used at present could be transferred to auto chassis can easily be made to meet the requirements, thus cutting down the cost of making the change very much. The wiring in the city would also have to be changed in some instances so as to meet the specifications of the National Electrical Code.

Will Rate This Fall.

The city will be rated by the state board this fall and the changes could not be made effective before this is done. It was the opinion of Mr. Hitchcock, however, that in case the city decided to go ahead with the changes at once it would be possible to come in under the new classification even though the work of alteration had not been completed in every instance.

ASK $17,500 FROM COUNTY IN DRIVE

THIS IS AMOUNT OUR PEOPLE MUST RAISE FOR WAR WELFARE CAMPAIGN.

Pennington county's share of the $170,000,000 asked for the United War Work campaign of Nov. 11-18 will be $17,500, or a little more than an average contribution of $1.70 by every man, woman and child in the county. And in the advantages of this drive seven notable—and noble—organizations will share. These are the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., the National Catholic War Council, the Jewish Welfare Board, the War Camp Community Service, The American Library Association and the Salvation Army. Contributions to individual organizations may be made but will not be encouraged since the division of the money contributed is to be on a pro rata basis.

Pte. Talmadge Hanson, who acted as military escort for the body of Jasper Hanson, who died at Camp Hancock from influenza and was shipped to his home in this city last Friday, returned to camp Friday afternoon of last week.

FIRE SUFFERERS NEED CLOTHING

SCHOOLS ARE APPEALED TO FOR HELP IN GATHERING SUBSCRIPTIONS.

ORGANIZATION WILL LOOK AFTER COLLECTION AND DISTRIBUTION.

People living in the regions of northern Minnesota devastated by fire last week are sadly in need of a great many things, but clothing is one of the first required in order to aid them in again getting a start. The schools of the state have been appealed to in the hope that the children and teachers will take it upon themselves to form corps of collectors. County Superintendent E. A. Mostue and City Superintendent J. H. Hay, have been asked to give the fullest possible publicity to the campaign and will give the matter every attention and encouragement possible.

The people in the burned-out districts need help immediately. Food is being provided by the relief committee. Temporary homes for the winter will be put up at once. Clothing is an absolute necessity. Nothing was saved where the house and contents were burned. Clothing is needed for the fire sufferers, both in the towns and country districts. There can be no delay. Help must be given at once. Cold weather and winter is upon us. These people are facing the most serious and critical situation that has ever visited Minnesota.

The schools will make this clothing collection under the direction of the Junior Red Cross. Mr. Mostue and Mr. Hay will organize the teachers of their respective systems to direct the collection of clothing by the pupils of the schools. Each will adopt the plan found to be most effective. The appeal applies alike to public and to private schools. Individuals should not send contributions on private account, as that causes confusion and extra work.

Drive Next Week.

Because of the fact that the schools, both in the city and country, are closed this week the drive cannot be carried on here at the time set for the rest of the state. The original plan was to make October 23, 24 and 25 the dates upon which this work was to be carried on, but this will have to be changed, at least so far as Pennington county is concerned, and postponed for just one week. It has been suggested that next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday be made the collection dates everywhere, at which time the garments and bed clothing should be brought to the headquarters of the Auxiliary Junior Red Cross, selected as the temporary assembling point. As soon as the collection is completed it should be sent to Red Cross headquarters, Thief River Falls.

Of Great Importance.

The need for immediate aid is most urgent. Both Mr. Mostue and Mr. Hay fully recognize the importance of the work and hope that the response will be liberal in spite of the fact that the request comes at a time when complying is a little inconvenient because of the schools being closed. Every effort to meet the need should be made, however. These destitute people are our neighbors and their situation is decidedly serious.

Get Full Instructions.

School teachers and officials should secure full instructions either from Mr. Mostue or Mr. Hay. A great deal of confusion will be avoided if a clear idea of what is wanted is obtained before starting the campaign.

CROOKSTON IS SEAT OF DISTRICT BOARD

PENNINGTON COUNTY IS LEFT OUT WHEN MEMBERS ARE SELECTED.

District Exemption Board No. 5 has been created with headquarters at Crookston. Polk county has two representatives on the board while Beltrami, which can hardly be regarded as a northwestern county, has one. Pennington county is left without representation, as is Marshall.

Martin O'Brien of Crookston, has been transferred from District No. 4 at Duluth and made chairman of the new organization. The other members are: Henry O. Bjorge, Lake Park, who was also transferred from Duluth; Dr. N. M. Watson, Red Lake county; Bert W. Lakin, Beltrami, and Stephen H. Withey, Polk. Besides the above counties the district comprises the following: Kittson, Marshall, Pennington, Clay, Hubbard, Roseau, Mahnomen, Becker, Clearwater and Wadena.

The new board will pass upon all agricultural and industrial claims for exemption arising in the district and the location of headquarters at Crookston instead of Duluth will prove a great convenience. Living in a section essentially agricultural the members will have a clearer understanding of the needs and demands of farmers at any given season of the year and will have first hand knowledge of conditions surrounding practically every claim.

Club Meeting Postponed.

On account of the prevalence of Spanish influenza it has been deemed advisable to postpone the regular meeting of the Silverton Farmers' club, which was to have been held next Saturday evening. The meeting will be held one week from that date—Saturday evening, Nov. 2. All interested are kindly asked to bear this fact in mind.

VICTIMS OF FIRE TELL OF ESCAPE

STAYED IN POTATO PATCH

FATHER OF MRS. WATSON FOUGHT DEATH FOR TWO DAYS THERE.

Rev. R. L. Barackman of the Presbyterian church, was in Duluth shortly after the sufferers from the fire swept regions began coming in last week and he states that no one not present has any idea of the conditions. Families were separated and not the least part of the arduous task imposed upon those who were trying to alleviate the suffering was the finding of lost children or lost parents, as the case might be, the securing of the names of the rescued for posting and the straightening out generally of things in such manner as to make the work of rescue most efficient.

The W. W. Watson family, residing near Winger, barely escaped with their lives, according to the story told Rev. Barackman. They waited until the fire was very near them before attempting to get away, and came near hesitating too long. Mr. and Mrs. Watson with their two children piled what few belongings they could hastily grab onto a Ford truck, topping off the load with 15 chickens—the only live stock they managed to save. They had gone but a short distance toward Duluth when the load caught fire and parts of it had to be thrown off. They just managed to cross a bridge when the structure collapsed behind them.

Compelled to Crawl.

Nearly suffocated by the smoke, they kept right on until about half a mile from the outskirts of the city. Here the engine stalled and the four passengers were compelled to get down as close to the ground as possible and crawl on their hands and knees to a point of safety. All were badly burned about the face and hands, but will recover. They were among those taken in at St. Mary's hospital.

In spite of his burns Mr. Watson at once enlisted as a member of a rescue party starting out to look for more victims of the fire. He was lost to his family for two entire days while engaged in this work but finally showed up when the danger was past and others had taken the places of the first searchers.

Took to Potato Patch.

Mrs. Watson's father, who was stopping with the family, could not be found when the other members of the family left, and so threatening was the outlook that the others would surely have been engulfed had they stopped to look for him. He was found two days later, not greatly hurt, and taken to Duluth. When the house caught fire he went out into the potato patch and laid down on the ground. The fire swept all around and above him, but in spite of the heat and smoke he managed to keep the flames away from his person. He was one of the few who stayed in the open during those two awful days and nights who is still alive to tell of his experiences.

RUSSIAN AGENT IS AFTER GAS-SAVER

ASKS THAT INFORMATION CONCERNING ECON-O-KLEEN BE SENT HIM.

The success attained by Econ-O-Kleen, the product manufactured in Thief River Falls for the saving of gasoline and prevention of carbon in internal combustion engines, has reached to the far corners of the earth, if one is to judge by the inquiries arriving at the home office. Last week The Times reprinted a letter received from a concern in Santiago, Chile, asking to be appointed general agent for that country and now Manager Scott Laird has another from the Russian Embassy, division of supplies, with offices in the Flatiron building, New York, requesting all the information available on the subject of the new preparation. This last request was forwarded to the concern's Chicago offices for attention.

Interest in Econ-O-Kleen has now been evinced in nearly every country in the world. China has sent inquiries, so has France, England and Japan. The Hawaiian Island were early users of the product and samples have been sent to Alaska. It is yet too early to know just what the result of all this excellent advertising will be, but that it has had the effect of acquainting the people in the far corners of the earth with Econ-O-Kleen and incidentally with a place called Thief River Falls is certain.

The company now has regular Chicago offices at 624 South Michigan avenue, from which point much of the country is supplied. It has been found advisable to increase the size of the cans and to make the retail price $1.50 instead of $1, the change going into effect as soon as the present supply of containers is exhausted. This will take but a short time at the rate the orders are coming in.

A strong advertising campaign will be maintained during the winter months and it is safe to predict that next spring will see Econ-O-Kleen in general demand wherever its excellent qualities are known.

One of the most gratifying things in connection with the increased demand is that much of it comes from farmers who not only use it in their automobiles but also find that it gives more power and saves trouble when placed in fuel for tractors.

The Drive is On.

Crookston Times: The drive to secure subscriptions for the live stock building that it is planned to erect at Crookston in which winter live stock shows and sales will be held has begun in all the townships and cities of Polk county. The building will cost $25,000 and it is planned to secure subscriptions for one-half that amount in Polk county. Angus and Andover townships are the first to go over the top.

Committees are at work in all of the townships, however, and it is predicted that it will not take long before Polk county's share of the building is raised. Kittson, Red Lake, Marshall, and Norman counties have already pledged their quotas and other counties in the district are at work and will soon reach the amount alloted them.

SAVED 21 MILLION GALLONS OF JUICE

GASLESS SUNDAYS NO LONGER NECESSARY—ANOTHER PLAN WILL BE TRIED.

There is no denying the fact that quite a number of persons residing right here in Thief River Falls considered the request that no gasoline be used on Sundays as entirely uncalled-for and wondered how any such move could aid materially in winning the war. These will be pleased to learn that the ruling has been abandoned and a new plan for restricting use of gasoline by automobiles will take its place. A plan will be outlined by W. Champlin Robinson, chief of the fuel administration's oil and conservation division, attempting to restrict the use of gasoline without actually using a card rationing system.

Those who observed the rules for "gasless Sundays" did not sacrifice their pleasure for nothing, according to a recent report of the Fuel Administration. The first four gasless Sundays netted a total saving of 21 million gallons of gasoline, or 500,000 barrels. Ten ships, each carrying 50,000 barrels, were sent to France as a result of this Sunday saving.

Oil is one of the great requisites for successful warfare. Senator Berenger of France said in regard to it: "For the conduct of hostilities to victory, oil is recognized today to be as necessary as blood. On the battlefield, on the land, on the sea, or in the air, a drop of petrol is equal to a drop of blood."

Letters from the BOYS

OVER TOP THREE TIMES IN A DAY

JAMES McCRUM CROWDS LOT OF EXPERIENCE INTO SHORT SPACE OF TIME.

OFFICER YIELDS SOUVENIR

WANTED TO ARGUE MATTER BUT PROD OF BAYONET CONVINCED HIM.

Mr. and Mrs. W. I. McCrum of Smiley township, have four boys in the Allied service. One is with the Canadian army, one with the Yanks in France and two are in the navy. James, with the Canadians, has seen the greatest amount of service, having been among those who early went out from the Dominion to battle with the Hun. His parents received two letters from him last week, one dated Sept. 5 and the other Sept 12. The first came in a German envelope marked "Feldpostbrief." From the general contents of the letter it is to be inferred that this stationery is part of the plunder secured by chasing the Germans out of their positions. Private McCrum promises to send more souvenirs as soon as means can be found for getting them out.

Three Times in a Day.

"I have been intending to write ever since coming out of the line," he begins, "but it just seems as if I can't sit still long enough. Guess I was a little nervous, but you see we went over the top three times in 24 hours. You will probably see more about that in the papers than I am permitted to write, however.

"It sure was a warm time, but for all of that I wouldn't have missed it for anything. Guess I will be able to tell a little of what happened. We 'kicked off' or went over about four o'clock in the morning, gained our first objective about 10 and started to dig in to beat the Old Nick until we were deep enough to be covered. We had no dinner and after a little while went over again and gave them another run. I stayed out all night in a shell hole until about four o'clock the next morning, when the fun began in earnest.

Had Enemy Scared.

"Well, after we had kept things going for about an hour and a half the Heinies started to come in. Say, you should have seen them. If anyone pointed a bayonet at them or looked mad the frightened cusses would turn over everything they owned such as watches, knives and all sorts of things that would make good souvenirs, but I didn't have time to stop for anything like that as I was afraid of missing something up in front and you can bet your life I was going to have my share of the fun.

Captured Twenty of Them.

"As I was hurrying along a trench I ran into about 20 or 30 Germans and they threw up their hands and started to yell 'kamerad.' I merely waived my rifle and bayonet at them and motioned for them to beat it on a run. Away they went. Just then I saw an officer coming toward me and stuck my bayonet in front of him, making motions for him to shed his watch and any other thing he might have on his person.

Wanted to Argue.

"The funny part of it was that he wanted to argue the matter. He started to say that he was an officer and that men of his standing didn't give souvenirs. However, it didn't take many seconds after my bayonet began tickling his ribs before he pulled off a fancy gold watch, a little pistol and a pair of field glasses. I sold most of the stuff and sent the watch away. I have another one, also a few of Heinie's buttons, and as soon as I can get them out I will send them to you.

Went After the Sniper.

"After I left the officer I found a place and started shooting over the top of the trench at some Heinies who were getting away. Just at this point one of the enemy snipers 'got' my buddie and as he was running a machine gun I jumped into his place and kept the weapon going, turning it on the position of the sniper. I must have gone mad, I guess, because I kept the gun turned on that sniper—and it fires 400 shots a minute. I kept it pointed there awhile and then turned it to where there were hundreds of them. They started to beat it and I hung onto that trigger for about five minutes.

"There were five men of my company, including myself, who made our objective about three o'clock that afternoon, having gone about altogether 8,000 yards since we started. In about an hour they began to come in—or those of them who were able to come.

Is Expert Digger.

"That is about all that happened at this particular time except that Heinie started to put some big shells into us. Right here I might state that if you ever want a hole dug in a hurry just start putting some of these big shells around me and I will show you how to dig. Didn't think there was another move in me until those big 'uns started to come and then I forgot everything but how to dig and I want to tell you that I warmed my little entrenching tools up.

"We stayed until about two o'clock that morning when we were relieved. Then we walked until daylight and finally got a chance to eat. Then I went to sleep—I will just repeat that I went to sleep.

"Can't think of anything else to tell you. What I have set down is only a part—and a very small part—of what happened during those 48 hours."

SAVING FRUIT PITS FOR OUR SOLDIERS

FIRST SHIPMENT MADE THIS WEEK—MORE ARE URGENTLY NEEDED.

The first shipment of fruit pits and nut shells is being made to Red Cross headquarters this week. The work of collection has been in charge of F. H. Herrick and has been very successful. The supplies are being sent to the American Red Cross, 44 South 12th street, Minneapolis. The requirements are that the supplies be shipped in 70 pound sacks by parcel post.

While the response to the request of the government has been general, the work is by no means completed. An urgency call has this week been issued for more stones and pits. The material is badly needed for the production of charcoal to be used in gas masks for our soldiers and there is no other way of meeting the demand.

This enterprise is one in which the children can be of great help. By saving the fruit pits, prune stones and nut shells from the family kitchen and table and placing them in the boxes at the stores or the barrel at the Auditorium, they may be saving the life of one of our boys in the trenches. If their interest is once awakened there will be a large shipment from Thief River Falls every week.

Hotel Dyckman is Minneapolis' newest downtown fireproof hotel, 300 rooms; each room has its own private bath. Rates $1.75 to $3.50 per day. —a-8-tf.

GREAT RECORD OF RAINBOW DIVISION

GEN. MENOHER ISSUES STATEMENT HIGHLY COMMENDING OFFICERS AND MEN.

The Rainbow Division is one of the finest fighting units in France and Thief River Falls has a particular interest in its record as four of the boys from this city are artillery men connected with the organization. During the past week relatives have received circulars issued by Maj. Gen. Charles T. Menoher, commanding the division, complimenting the officers and men in the highest terms for their devotion and bravery.

The Thief River Falls boys who received copies are Martin Langseth, Harold Provencher, Hardy Bothun and Fred T. Scanlan. As the circular recounts the actions in which they have been engaged it will prove of interest to all the home folks. Gen. Menoher's communication is as follows:

"Headquarters, 42nd Division, American Expeditionary Forces, France, August 13th, 1918.

"To the Officers and Men of the 42nd Division: A year has elapsed since the formation of your organization. It is, therefore, fitting to consider what you have accomplished as a combat division and what you should prepare to accomplish in the future.

"Your first elements entered the trenches in Lorraine on February 21st. You served on that front for 110 days. You were the first American division to hold a divisional sector and when you left the sector June 21st, you had served continuously as a division in the trenches for a longer time than any other American division. Although you entered the sector without experience in actual warfare, you so conducted yourselves as to win the respect and affection of the French veterans with whom you fought. Under gas and bombardment, in raids, in patrols, in the heat of hand to hand combat and in the long dull hours of trench routine so trying to a soldier's spirit, you bore yourselves in a manner worthy of the traditions of our country.

"You were withdrawn from Lorraine and moved immediately to the Champagne front where during the critical days from July 14th to July 18th, you had the honor of being the only American division to fight in General Gouraud's Army which so gloriously obeyed his order, 'We will stand or die,' and by its iron defense crushed the German assault and made possible the offensive of July 18th to the west of Reims.

"From Champagne you were called to take part in exploiting the success north of the Marne. Fresh from the battle front before Chalons, you were thrown against the picked troops of Germany. For eight consecutive days, you attacked skillfully prepared positions. You captured great stores of arms and munitions. You forced the crossings of the Ourcq. You took Hill 212, Sergy, Meurcy Ferme and Seringes by assault. You drove the enemy, including an Imperial Guard Division, before you for a depth of fifteen kilometers. When your infantry was relieved, it was in full pursuit of the retreating Germans, and your artillery continued to progress and support another American division in the advance to the Vesle.

"For your services in Lorraine, your division was formally commended in General Orders by the French Army Corps under which you served. For your services in Champagne, your assembled officers received the personal thanks and commendation of General Gouraud himself. For your services on the Ourcq, your division was officially complimented in a letter from the Commanding General, 1st Army Corps, of July 28th, 1918.

"To your success, all ranks and all services have contributed, and I desire to express to every man in the command my appreciation of his devoted and courageous effort.

"However, our position places a burden of responsibility upon us which we must strive to bear steadily forward without faltering. To our comrades who have fallen, we owe the sacred obligation of maintaining the reputation which they died to establish. The influence of our performance on our allies and our enemies cannot be over-estimated for we were one of the first divisions sent from our country to France to show the world that Americans can fight.

"Hard battles and long campaigns lie before us. Only by ceaseless vigilance and tireless preparation can we fit ourselves for them. I urge you, therefore, to approach the future with confidence but above all with firm determination that so far as it is in your power you will spare no effort whether in training or in combat to maintain the record of our division and the honor of our country."

FIRST WAR VICTIM IS FINALLY PLACED

ERIC SEVERSRUD PEOPLE WELL KNOWN IN EASTERN PART OF COUNTY.

A week or two ago The Times announced that the first man from Pennington county to fall in battle was Eric Seversrud of Eric, but that no trace could be found of any such person having joined the army from here. Stephen Singer was in the city on Saturday and stated that the Seversrud family was well known in Star township, where they resided for years, leaving there last spring for Canada. Eric enlisted in North Dakota while his parents were still living in Pennington county and gave the postoffice address of his parents as his permanent place of residence. Mr. Singer also stated that no further particulars as to how the young man met his death had been received in the neighborhood where the family formerly resided, so far as he know. It is now practically certain that this young man is the first from this county to die on the field of battle.

It has also been learned that Richard Lund of Eric, wounded in battle sometime in June, has been returned to this country and is now in the army hospital at Des Moines. A part of his foot has been shot away.

Bertha Leimers spent Sunday in Minneapolis with friends.

"Spokes"—and the Swift "Wheel"

What would you consumers think of a wheel without spokes?

What would you think of a man who would take any or all of the spokes out of a wheel to make it run better?

Swift & Company's business of getting fresh meat to you is a wheel, of which the packing plant is only the hub. Retail dealers are the rim—and Swift & Company Branch Houses are the spokes.

The hub wouldn't do the wheel much good and you wouldn't have much use for hub or rim if it weren't for the spokes that fit them all together to make a wheel of it.

Swift & Company Branch Houses are placed, after thorough investigation, in centers where they can be successfully operated and do the most good for the most people at the least possible cost.

Each "spoke" is in charge of a man who knows that he is there to keep you supplied at all times with meat, sweet and fresh; and who knows that if he doesn't do it, his competitor will.

How much good would the hub and the rim of the Swift "wheel" do you if the spokes were done away with?

WE ARE AT WAR WITH IT ALL.

It is probable that no utterance of President Wilson has been so generally and genuinely endorsed by Americans as his declaration to the effect that "we are not at war with the German people." At the same time it is doubtful if anything more erroneous and absolutely untrue could have been subscribed to.

We are at war with the German people. We are at war with their armies, their aims, their ideals and their entire philosophy of life. We are at war with their methods of procedure in practically every department of human endeavor. Not to recognize this fact is to be wilfully blind.

It is all very well to talk of making Germany safe for democracy along with the rest of the world, but the fact of the matter is that the Germans themselves are daily piling up evidence to show that they do not wish the world to be made safe for anything but themselves and their particular brand of "kultur." There is no doubt about it. President Wilson, whose intention toward the German people was at the outset so charitable, has himself come to recognize that "force, force to the utmost," is the only kind of argument the German understands. This applies alike to high and low—from the kaiser down to the lowest private in the ranks.

To blame all the atrocities committed by German soldiers onto the officers commanding them, at the same time holding the actual perpetrators up as unwilling tools, is giving the latter credit for traits of humanity they have never disclosed any indications of possessing. Any attempt to excuse them is about equivalent to saying that American or British or French soldiers would have done the same things in the unthinkable contingency of their officers giving such orders.

Does anyone actually believe that American or Canadian soliders, for instance, could ever reach a point where they would nail babies to barn doors, even though commanded to do so? Is it conceivable that the Scotchmen and Canadians who went mad and wanted to rush the German trenches when they heard the cries of the mishandled women there would themselves have become responsible for such cries if they had been differently officered? We all know better and the bare idea is too monstrous to be even entertained.

The fact of the matter is that the German soldier, officer and private, is a brute. To some extent this may be the result of the system under which he has been educated and trained, but the brutality must be inherent in his nature. To think otherwise is to imply that soldiers of other nations —even our own—would in like circumstances behave in a like manner.

In a way we all realize this—that the German soldier is not different at heart from the German officer. Both are products of the same system; both follow the dictates of their inclination. All this sympathy for the poor soldier who is forced to obey the orders of his superior officers is misplaced. When our own boys get back they will have something to disclose concerning the humane impulses of their late enemy. They have seen him at close range and noted the results of his work. It is safe to say there will be no appologists for him in that outfit and there should be none among the rest of us.

We are at war with everything German, from the kaiser down, and nothing should make us for one moment forget the fact. The reply to President Wilson's latest note is a protest against his arraignment of the Germans for their many inhuman practices. It may be that they think the world is ready to overlook the Lusitania, Belgium, the sinking of hospital ships, and the bombing of hospitals and come to a point where it is willing to admit that this is all a necessary part of civilized warfare. If so they are mistaken. Every last item records a crime for which Germany stands indicted —government, officers and people.

THE RESULT OF NIGGARDLINESS.

It would probably be incorrect to state that recent legislatures have done their best to bring about just such a calamity as overtook the north central part of the state last week when more than a thousand people lost their lives and between ten and twenty million dollars worth of property was destroyed by fire. It is, however, hard to hold the law-making body entirely blameless in the matter.

The state forestry board is operating under the handicap of insufficient funds. This condition was brought to the attention of successive legislatures but all attempts to secure an appropriation in any manner adequate to the work to be done proved unavailing.

The danger from fire was known. It was recognized that just such calamities as had heretofore visited the cutover sections of the state might recur at any time. The nature of protective measures, so far as these were possible of application, were well known. Patrolling, inspection and the prompt prosecution and punishment of those whose carelessness or wilfull disregard of the law might be responsible for forest fires getting a start were the precautions that could and should have been taken. This would require the expenditure of a considerable sum of money and the appropriation was denied.

The people's attitude toward the forest wealth of the state is hard to explain. Could anything happen to destroy a similar amount of iron ore or shipping or railroad property there would be laws and appropriations plastered all over the statute books to prevent it. Forests and farms—yes, and lives—apparently do not matter so greatly and measures for their protection can wait until there is a lot of money available that cannot be used for anything else.

It is very foolish for the farming sections to oppose the appropriation of money for the protection of property in another section of the state. Our forests, like our waterways, are the common heritage of the people and should be conserved. The state itself is by far the greatest loser in a disaster of this kind.

The money loss in this fire, to say nothing of the loss of life, would be sufficient to maintain a really effective force of forest rangers on the job for half a century.

DON'T FORGET THE PINK BALLOT.

Failure to vote on the proposition to submit the constitutional amendment providing for a dry Minnesota is equivalent to voting against it. Bear this in mind when you go to the polls on Nov. 5.

Depending on there being enough votes to carry it through without yours is liable to defeat the proposition. If you are in favor of a dry state—and nine-tenths of the people at least are—be as certain of voting the pink ballot as you are the blue or the white. The outcome may hinge on a very few votes and every one will count.

Overconfidence is more liable to defeat the dry amendment than is active opposition. There is very little of the latter—so little in fact that those favoring the measure may be lulled into a false security. People are liable to get the idea that anything so strongly favored cannot help but carry. This is just the attitude hoped for by the opponents of the proposition. They know by experience how easy it is for a constitutional amendment to be defeated in Minnesota and are placing their dependence upon the indifference of the voters. For this reason they are making no campaign, figuring that the less said about the matter the better—for them.

Vote the pink ballot on Nov. 5. Failure to do so alligns you with those opposed to a dry state.

IF THEY CAN STRUGGLE AND DIE"

"If they can struggle and die together to make forever secure our liberties, we can plan and work together to get the money needed to serve them." Thus Dr. John R. Mott, director general of the United War Work Campaign planned for November 11-18. "The dollars given to the common fund will reach the boys through seven different channels, but every dollar will be made to do a maximum work, and no matter what sign is painted over the door of any hut and any hostess house its door will be equally open to every boy."

It is characteristic of the spirit of mutual sympathy and service animating the various participants in the United Wark Work Campaign that John G. Ager of the Roman Catholic War Council moved the choice of Dr. John R. Mott of the Y. M. C. A. as campaign director, while a member of the Jewish Welfare Board, Mortimer L. Schiff, seconded the motion. The campaign, to be strictly non-secretarian in every respect, will be shared by the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., the National Catholic War Council, the Jewish Welfare Board, The War Camp Community Service, the American Liberty Association and the Salvation Army.

"Keep Them Smiling."

MUST SURRENDER SAY THE PEOPLE

EVEN THOUGH SINCERE IN PEACE EFFORTS, GERMANY MUST QUIT.

RESENT CRUELTY CHARGES

CLAIM MADE THAT NO AVOIDABLE BARBARITIES WERE PRACTICED.

The tone of the press in every section of the country indicates that nothing but an absolute surrender on the part of Germany will satisfy the American people. Germany has replied to President Wilson with a note which, though no one is prepared to say it will lead the president even to continue exchanges on the subject of an armistice and peace, at least has served almost to bring conviction here that the people of Germany actually are taking the reins of government and sincerely desire peace on any terms the United States and the Allies are willing to give.

May Not Be Answered.

It is not even certain that the President will reply to the latest note from Germany. Many think he will simply ignore the propositions held forth for any kind of conference and will rest on his original proposition that Germany lay down her arms before peace can be declared.

Evacuation Before Armistice.

The official view here so far has been that evacuation of invaded territory must be completed before there can be an armistice. Should President Wilson, after consultation with the allies, adhere to this view, the work of driving the Germans to and across their own borders would proceed and the opportunity for fixing details which the new note suggests "be brought about," would come only through a request from the German lines under a white flag on the battlefield.

The German Answer.

Following is the text of the reply received at the State Department from the foreign secretary, as reported by wireless:

"In accepting the proposal for an evacuation of occupied territories the German government has started from the assumption that the procedure of this evacuation and of the conditions of an armistice should be left to the judgment of the military advisers and that the actual standard of power on both sides in the field has to form the basis for arrangements safeguarding and guaranteeing this standard.

"The German government suggests to the president that an opportunity should be brought about for fixing the details. It trusts that the president of the United States will approve of no demand which would be irresconcilable with the honor of the German people and with opening a way to a peace of justice.

Denies Wanton Destruction.

"The German government protests against the reproach of illegal and inhumane actions made against the German land and sea forces and thereby against the German people. For the covering of a retreat destructions will always be necessary and they are carried out in so far as is permitted by international law. The German troops are under most strict instructions to spare private property and to exercise care for the population to the best of their ability. Where transgressions occur in spite of these instructions the guilty are being punished.

"The German government further denies that the German navy in sinking ships has ever purposely destroyed life boats with their passengers. The German government purposes with regard to all those charges that the facts be cleared up by neutral commissions.

No More Sinking of Ships.

"In order to avoid anything that might hamper the work of peace, the German government has caused orders to be dispatched to all submarine commanders precluding the torpedoing of passenger ships without, however for technical reasons, being able to guarantee that these orders will reach every single submarine at sea before its return."

Governmental Control.

"As a fundamental condition for peace the president prescribes the destruction of every arbitrary power that can separately, secretly and of its own single choice disturb the peace of the world. To this the German government replies:

"Hitherto the representation of the people in the German empire has not been endowed with an influence on the formation of the government.

"The constitution did not provide for a concurrence of representation of the people in decisions of peace and war. These conditions have just now undergone a fundamental change. A new government has been formed in complete accordance with the wishes (Principle?) of the representation of the people based on equal, universal, secret, direct, franchise."

"The leaders of the great parties of the reichstag are members of this government. In the future no government can take or continue in office without possessing the confidence of a majority of the reichstag."

"The responsibility of the chancellor of the empire to the representation of the people is being legally developed and safeguarded. The first act of the new government has been to lay before the reichstag a bill to alter the constitution of the empire so that the consent of the representation of the people is required for decisions on war and peace.

"The permanence of the new system is however, guaranteed not only by constitutional safeguards, but also by the unshakable determination of the German people whose vast majority stands behind these reforms and demand their energetic continuance.

"The question of the president—with whom he and the governments associated against Germany are dealing—is therefore answered in a clear, unequivocal manner by the statement that the offer of peace and an armistice has come from a government which is free from any arbitrary and irresponsible influence, is supported by the approval of an overwhelming majority of the German people."

TEN AND 20 YEARS AGO

Twenty Years Ago.

The Press and The News were having the usual bi-ennial scrap over election. Contrasting the present quiet campaign with the doings of those early days one is led to the conclusion that our people are growing tame. Concerning its own attitude towards certain candidates the Press stated: The opinions of the Press are not matters of bargain and sale and we had rather assume the responsibility of entertaining honest convictions even in political matters than to rent our opinions to the highest bidder, or eject all tenants from our intellectual mansion and wear our hat on a vacuum."

O. H. Myran of Ada, candidate for the state senate from this district, was in the city in the interest of his candidacy. This was Mr. Myran's first trip here.

W. I. McCrum and Henry Bye came down from their Red Lake farms to make arrangements for moving their families out there for the winter.

John L. Finke, residing west of town on the sandridge, threshed 352 bushels of wheat from 16 acres. This was an average of 22 bushels per acre and one of the best yields reported in the county for the year.

Vol. 1, No. 1, of the Red Lake Courier was received in the city. It was published at Red Lake Falls by E. F. West.

Ten Years Ago.

The convention of the Red River Valley Dairymens association was scheduled to be held at St. Hilaire on Nov. 11 and 12.

The river work for the lumber company was completed for the season. Foreman Herron and Capt Eberhart arrived in the city with the intention of staying here until the break-up in the spring.

Rev. James B. Smith was returned to the pastorate at Thief River Falls by the Methodist conference. Rev. T. H. Sweet was assigned to St. Hilaire.

Gov. John A. Johnson, Democratic candidate for re-election as governor, and J. F. Jacobson, his Republican opponent, spoke in the city within a few days of each other.

Homer Mussey and Ed. Hermanson left for Montana where Homer expected to enter the employ of a street railway company while Ed intended going into a newspaper office.

D. P. O'Neill left for Big Stone and Traverse counties where he intended going on the stump for the Republican state ticket.

Anxious to Enlist.

Grant Ohm left Monday evening for Minneapolis where he will attend to business matters for Albert Lieberman and also visit with friends. Mr. Ohm will also look up the army proposition while there.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF MINNESOTA

By the Legislature at Its General Session, 1917, to be Submitted to the People of Said State at the General 1918 Election, Together with a Statement of Its

CLIFFORD L. HILTON
Attorney General
of Minnesota.

Addressed to
JULIUS A. SCHMAHL
Secretary of State

OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL,
ST. PAUL, MINNESOTA.

April 29, 1918.

HON. JULIUS A. SCHMAHL,
Secretary of State.

SIR:

As required by Section 46, General Statutes of the State of Minnesota for the year 1913, I have the honor to furnish you herewith a statement of the purpose and effect of the amendment proposed to the Constitution of the State of Minnesota by the Legislature of 1917, and which is to be submitted to the electors of said State at the General Election in 1918.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT.

Chapter 515 of the Session Laws of Minnesota for the year 1917, proposes an amendment of Article 15 of the Constitution of said State by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

"Section 6. The manufacture, sale, barter, gift, disposition, or the furnishing, or transportation, or keeping or having in possession for sale, barter, gift, disposition, or the furnishing, or transportation of intoxicating liquor of any kind, in any quantity whatever, except for sacramental, mechanical, scientific, or medicinal purposes, shall be forever prohibited within this state from and after the first day of July, 1920, and this amendment shall be self-executing. The legislature shall enact laws for the enforcement of this section and shall provide suitable penalties for the violation thereof."

THE PURPOSE of the proposed amendment is to forever prohibit within the State of Minnesota after July 1, 1920, the manufacture, sale, barter, gift, disposition or the furnishing or transportation, or the keeping or having in possession for any of such purposes, of intoxicating liquor of any kind in any quantity whatever, except for sacramental, mechanical, scientific or medicinal purposes.

THE EFFECT of the proposed amendment, if adopted, will be to make unlawful and forever prohibit the manufacture, sale, barter, gift, disposition or the furnishing or transportation or the keeping or having in possession for any of such purposes, of intoxicating liquor of any kind in any quantity whatever, except for sacramental, mechanical, scientific or medicinal purposes, within this state after July 1, 1920, and to place it beyond the power of any legislative authority to permit the doing of any such acts. If adopted, the doing of any of the prohibited acts automatically becomes unlawful after July 1, 1920, without any action on the part of the legislature or other legislative body. The amendment is made self-executing. A duty is, however, imposed upon the legislature to enact laws for the enforcement of this section, if adopted, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof.

Yours respectfully,
CLIFFORD L. HILTON,
Attorney General.

TAKES THE YANKS TO CLEAN 'EM UP

THIS YOUNG MAN IS SURE AMERICANS ARE THE BEST FIGHTERS.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. A. Way have received a letter from their nephew, Corp. G. L. Davis, with the engineers in France, in which he sure plays up the work of the Americans strong. The young fellow is one of the enthusiastic millions who are cleaning up the Hun at every angle. He says:

"We are having some very rainy weather over here now. It has been this way for about two weeks. They say the rainy season has set in and it will continue this way until it freezes up this winter. It makes it very hard driving heavy trucks, when it is so slippery. Our work has been mostly at night, until now. Since the drive began it will be different.

"Things were pretty exciting around here for a while, but now they have advanced so far that we can hardly hear the guns. They surely do capture a lot of prisoners. Things were so hot for them all they could do was to throw up their hands and be taken prisoners. It was just one continual shower of lead and bursting shells.

"You ought to see the Yanks bring in the German prisoners. Looked like it does out west—when the ranchmen round up their stock and bring them in. The men, mounted on horseback and driving them into a large yard, where they search them to see that they have nothing they can do any damage with. Then they take them further back where they put to work. All day yesterday they were bringing them in, in large droves that would reach one half or three quarters of a mile long. The French people line up along the streets and roads as though a circus was coming to town, and cheer as the Huns go marching along under American control. The French people know who brings back what they go after. The Americans do not just send over one shell and then wait to see if the Germans are going to return it or not. That is about the way they have been handling things over here before we came to take a hand in the fight.

"Last night at six o'clock Old Glory was waving over land that the French had been trying to get for four years and we were about eighteen hours stirring them up and driving them back eight or more miles. The French people are good fighters but too slow. They will hold a place, but they cannot advance fast enough.

"The wind was in the wrong direction for the Germans to use gas in this drive and the Americans do not use much gas unless the Huns start it first because the boys go over the top so fast that they run into their own gas and it makes it harder to fight."

RED CROSS NEEDS WORKERS AT ONCE

REQUIREMENTS FOR COMING MONTH ARE ANNOUNCED BY HEADQUARTERS.

The Pennington County Chapter, American Red Cross, has just received another allotment for the coming four weeks. It is for 50 convalescent robes and 50 women's skirts.

With the growing activities along the western front there is a greater demand for articles and the Red Cross in this country will be called on for more and more right along. This means that more workers must respond to the call and those in charge of the local work rooms hope that the women will stand ready to do their part.

Some days there have been an abundance of workers and on other days hardly a person shows up. Those in charge of the rooms would like to have the women and young ladies ask if they can be of service on any special day and thus be able to assign them to such days as are not over-plentiful with help.

Another requisition was made this week on the local and branch chapters and they are required to furnish 420 socks and 60 sweaters between now and Christmas. This will mean that not only will the women of the city have to knit but so will also those in the country. It will be knit, knit, knit.

New Fire Teamster.

Simon Brennan has purchased the fire team from Fred Stensrud and has been appointed department teamster by the city council.

Shop and Railroad News

Caboose Burned—The local freight crew on the Great Northern were last week given additional reason for cussing the kaiser. Their pet caboose caught fire at Strathcona and burned to the gunwale, which was bad for the railroad administration, of course, but not the worst part of the calamity. All the boys had their best clothes and other private belongings stowed away in the car and so rapidly did the flames get in their work that practically nothing was saved. No one seems able to tell just why or how the fire started, all being agreed, however, that for its size it was some blaze.

L. E. Gilhausen, traveling auditor, was in the city Monday night.

W. E. Miller, machinist, visited with his family at Henning over Sunday.

W. E. Nash, agent at Filmore, N. D., died Monday evening of Spanish influenza.

L. M. Schultz has resigned as agent at Fordville and F. S. Dalton has been put on in his place.

Master Mechanic Woodluff of the Enderlin division, was a business visitor in the city the first of the week.

Miss Bertha Leimers, clerk in the office of Master Mechanic J. W. Hendry, visited in Minneapolis over Sunday.

Oscar Eggerud, carman, is relieving the car foreman at Fordville, the latter being laid up because of illness.

Miss Anna Quale of the superintendent's office, returned Friday from her vacation, spent at Minneapolis, Chicago and points in Canada.

E. J. Langevin resumed work as operator at Plummer, relieving C. E. Palmer, transferred to Fordville to take the place of R. L. Yates, resigned, as agent.

The Soo lost considerable equipment in the forest fires which burned along its line in the neighborhood of Moose Lake. In some places the station buildings were also destroyed.

Dave Backus, formerly one of the boys at headquarters, now an aviation lieutenant in France, writes back that he landed his first Hun airplane on Sept. 18, in the neighborhood of Verdun.

The passenger train from Duluth was just about one day late in getting in last Saturday. It did not put in an appearance until Sunday evening. Forest fires were the cause of the delay.

P. E. Strock has been put on as agent at Ardock, succeeding A. L. Chapman, who has been tranferred to Thief River Falls as operator in the dispatcher's office. He takes the place of L. W. Houston, resigned.

T. F. Michaelson resumed work as agent at Viking this week after a spell of illness. Traveling Auditor J. P. Tonolli, who relieved him because of the shortage of agents on the division, has again resumed his regular post.

J. H. Durkee, formerly operator at division headquarters in this city, is again back at the old job after having put in the past summer as traveling agent for an oil concern at Grand Forks. He takes the place of O. L. Storholm, who resigned.

New orders received at the station here are to the effect that until further notice grain shippers must secure a permit for the shipment of each individual car before it will be permitted to leave. The embargo is still on in all the large grain centers.

Roundhouse Foreman Farley says that Spanish influenza is cutting down his force to a point where it is beginning to bother. He has eight men on the sick list this week, and while all of these are not down with the popular malady, the effect is the same so far as their being on the job is concerned.

Conductor Fred Bougie of the Great Northern freight run was taken home to Crookston before finishing his trip yesterday. His train was standing at the depot when he was taken so sick that he had to give up working. He had been feeling badly all day but considered the ailment only a cold. He returned home on the passenger in the afternoon and his train was delayed here until another conductor could be sent up to take his place. Mr. Bougie was himself working in the place of the regular man on the run, who is also down with the flu at his home in Crookston.

Unclaimed Letters.

The following is a list of the unclaimed letters at the post office at Thief River Falls, Minn., for the week ending Oct. 19, 1918. If not called for in two weeks from the above date they will be sent to the Dead Letter branch at Chicago, Ill.: Maird, Mrs. Nora M.; Berg, Miss Laura; Gamble Robinson Co.; Grialson, Mr.; Johnson, Mr. Carl; LaPlant, Mr. T. J.; Mack, Miss Lillian; Mike, Mr. Adolph; Williams, Mr. J. A. When calling for the above letters, please state that they were advertised. JOHN MORGAN, P. M.

WHEN THE WAR IS OVER

There will be a great demand for livestock of all kinds, and especially dairy cows. Carl Vrooman, assistant secretary of agriculture, has the following to say about the future of dairying:

"When the war is finished we will find the world with a demand for dairy products twofold, fourfold, tenfold greater than the supply. Europe will come to us with outstretched hands and say to us: 'we must have milk; give us canned milk; give us dry milk; give us butter; give us cheese; give us dairy cattle; give us animals to build up our dairy herds again.'

Unless America has stimulated the production of dairy products and increased our supply of dairy animals far beyond anything in the past, we shall be utterly unable to supply the demand."

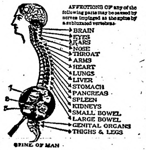
Chiropractic

The New Way to Health



Is the Science and Philosophy of things Natural and an art of Adjusting the articulations of the Spine to remove pressure from nerves thereby removing the CAUSE of disease.

Chiropractic is based upon the knowledge of the structure and functions of the human body, especially that of the brain, vertebral column, spinal cord and the nerves emanating therefrom. The brain is the power plant of the body, the nerves are the wires which conduct the power. Pressure on the nerve at the opening where it leaves the vertebral column, will permit disease in that organ or tissue at which the nerve ends, for without power it cannot either live or function. Chiropractors are successful removing the cause of disease both acute and chronic, in all parts of the body as indicated by the accompanying cut.

Vote For Geo. M. Gunderson

Candidate For
Supt. of Schools, Pennington County
General Election, Nov. 5, 1918

Educated at a North Dakota high school, agricultural college and normal. Employed as a rural school teacher from the age of 18 years until the present time, with the exception of two years spent as penmanship instructor at the Button's business college of Crookston, Minn., and three years at farming on his own farm located in Pennington county, Minn. He is now 37 years of age. His last three years of teaching were spent in the rural schools of Pennington county. He taught his last term of school in District No. 31, associated with the city schools. His opponent for above named office has stated in his political announcements: "No question as to qualification is raised, and none can be raised," which goes to prove he considers Mr. Gunderson's qualifications for the office, equal to his own. Mr. Gunderson feels indebted to the present incumbent in office for his kindness in making this statement. He filed as a candidate for above named office upon a petition signed by nearly 100 voters, urging him to file. He holds recommendations for school work from every board of education by whom employed. He is a member of the National Association of Pen Artists and is a penman of the first order. Upon the strength of above enumerated qualifications he seeks your support at the general election. Mr. Gunderson has made Pennington county his home most of the time for 14 years, is a married man and has a family of six to support. He agrees to support the following measures brought to his attention by rural school boards of education: (1st)—Strict enforcement of all rural school laws. (2nd)—Introduction of more agriculture, manual training and domestic economy in our rural schools as an incentive to better attendance and work. (3rd)—Organization of pupils' agricultural clubs, to improve educational facilities as well as social relations. (4th)—To convene the rural boards of education and teachers of the county to learn their attitude towards the above measures and if found satisfactory, to put them into practice.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

Inserted by Martin O. Sortedahl, Red Lake Falls, candidate for Representative, Sixty-fifth District. Amount to be paid, 30 cents per inch.

In announcing my candidacy for State Representative from the 65th District will say that I was born and grew to manhood on a Minnesota farm, and with the exception of seven years spent at college and eight years as Deputy Clerk of District Court of Polk county, when the present Red Lake and Pennington counties were a part thereof, I have all my life been associated with farming, and am therefore well acquainted with the needs of the District.

I believe the farmer the mainstay of the nation, and that anything that will contribute to the prosperity and well-being of the farmer will in a like degree contribute to the prosperity of all the people of the district, and if elected I shall give my hearty support to all measures tending to improve the conditions of the farmer and to make farming more profitable and desirable.

I favor such laws as will aid the farmer in the marketing of the commodities he has to sell to best advantage—laws that will prevent the middleman and the transportation companies from absorbing the profits justly due the farmer.

I favor laws that will equalize the taxburden and make the mine owners and the lumbering interests pay their just share of the taxes with the people of the agricultural sections.

I believe education is the foundation upon which our Government rests and favor such appropriations for school aid as will enable the school-work to be carried on most efficiently.

I favor State hail insurance on farm lands and also aid to hail sufferers in the way of county loans, when found necessary.

I favor the enlargement of the State machinery and twine plants at Stillwater so as to be able to supply the farmers of the State with the necessary machinery and twine at the lowest possible cost.

I believe in a square deal to all, and if elected it shall be my sole aim to live up to my oath of office by performing my duties impartially, conscientiously and faithfully.

With this end in view I respectfully solicit your vote and support on November 5th next.

that does it! It softens the water and loosens the dirt so that the pure soap can dissolve it away. Next wash-day use 20 Mule Team Borax Soap Chips this way:

Make a Soap Jelly by adding three tablespoonfuls of Chips to a quart of boiling water. Put enough of this solution into the wash-water to make a good suds and soak or boil clothes as usual. Will not shrink woolens or injure fine fabrics. An 8 oz. package of 20 Mule Borax Soap Chips equals 25c worth of ordinary laundry soap.

It's the Borax with the soap that does the work.

PROGRAM FOR THE RURAL SCHOOLS

For years the Course of Study for the rural schools has been out of print. Only the last two years have the schools had the access to the excellent new Course of Study edited by Miss Theda Gildemeister, Teacher of Methods, State Normal School, Winona, Minn.

This Course of Study has been the subject of consideration at conferences between the State Department of Education and the county superintendents, as well as at the Summer Training Schools and Institutes, with a view of amplifying it to the Rural conditions. The amplification of this course must necessarily lie at the basis of all progress in school work for the future. More so, because the teachers must be trained in order to advance the schools along the lines laid down therein.

Our schools have done well. Last year we had our first county graduation, graduating twenty-eight pupils from the eighth grade. Diplomas were issued to these pupils upon passing the High School Board Examinations obtaining a standing of 65. Pass to 75. Pass Plus, or better.

School clubs and community work has been encouraged. As much of it, as is practical, will be given room in the rural school curriculum, but to take up all the phases of the work as stated by the National Bureau of Education and the Extention Department of the University is an impossibility. It would keep our teachers on the swim and our schools in deep waters, educationally.

Your support and vote for re-election Nov. 5th, will be greatly appreciated.

Respectfully,
E. A. MOSTUE.

(POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT, prepared and ordered published for D. P. O'Neill, Thief River Falls, Minn., by Peter Englestad, secretary campaign committee. Amount to be paid, 30 cents per inch.)

D. P. O'Neill's Record Should Insure Re-election to the Minnesota Senate

STANDS WITH A PROGRAM OF ACCOMPLISHMENT TO HIS CREDIT SECOND TO THAT OF NO MAN IN THE STATE.

D. P. O'Neill, having filed for a second term as senator from the 65th district, it is fitting and proper that the voters should examine his record and qualifications to further represent them. Among these are:

First—Senator O'Neill has been loyal from the very start. He has given of his time and means liberally; is vice-president of the America First association for Pennington county; is one of the Four-Minute men, and in act and speech has always been a fearless upholder of the principles for which this country went into the war. He has at the same time been charitable toward those who may have had relatives fighting in the armies opposed to our own, PROVIDED, they themselves were loyal to America and supporters of American institutions and ideals. He can be depended on to do everything in his power for the boys upon their return. In fact he was the author of the constitutional amendment permitting the State Board of Investments to loan the permanent school funds of the state, which now amount to approximately $35,000,000, on farm lands. This can be loaned to the boys upon their return at 4 or 4½ per cent for 40 years with the privilege of paying up in full at any time. Something of this kind will be made a law by the next legislature. It may be found that the better plan will be to purchase the land outright and sell it to the soldiers on long time payments at four per cent, they paying the interest for the first five or ten years. After that amortization of the principal could be provided for through annual payments whereby a part of the interest money would regularly be applied on the principal.

Second—Next to winning the war we deem the welfare of our public school system as most important. Over one-third of all appropriations made by the legislature are for education. In fact about 75 per cent of the farmers' taxes go for schools and roads.

In looking up Senator O'Neill's record we find that in 1911—during his first term—the district received from the state treasury for special school aid $16,280; school libraries, nothing; aid for unsold state lands, $285.40. This was for the July settlement following the session. The bill introduced by Senator O'Neill for the aid of road and bridge funds added $2,068.81 to this, making a total of $18,634.21, while the district paid in tax to the state $18,736.82, or $102.61 more than was received. In 1918 the district received in special school aid the sum of $38,433; for special school libraries, $501.90; for roads and bridges, $55,146.59, and for unsold state lands, $87.63—a total of $94,159.12. For this same period the people of the district paid into the state treasury the sum of $49,268.14, leaving a balance of $44,890.98 returned by the state as special aid over and above what was paid in as taxes. This does not include the $39,898.20 received as apportionment from the interest on the permanent school fund, which made the total receipts from the state $133,567.32, or $84,299.18 more than was paid in. permanent school fund, which made the total receipts from the state $133,567.32, or $84,299.18 more than was paid in.

Besides this there is in the neighborhood of $40,000 in back school aid due the district which the last legislature appropriated the sum of $1,000,000 to meet for the entire state. The governor wished to pay the back aid out of the $4,000,000 appropriated for the bi-ennial period in order to keep down the tax levy, but was enjoined by a taxpayer of Hennepin county. The matter went to the Supreme court and the governor lost out. He has stated that he will recommend the payment of this sum by the next legislature, if elected.

This change in conditions has not come about by accident, but by hard work on the part of Senator O'Neill. We are surrounded by districts that pay almost twice our amount of taxes and yet receive only about two-thirds our amount of state aid. There will be no crepe on the doors in these other districts if Senator O'Neill is defeated and a new and untried man put in his place while they retain their old and experienced members.

Representative O. T. Stenvick also deserves a great deal of credit for the part he took in the fight to secure these appropriations for the district.

Third—Next to our schools and roads in importance probably comes the straightening out of the Red Lake river. Some of the best lands in the 65th district lie along this stream and are subject to overflow in seasons of high water. This condition can only be remedied by deepening the river and controlling the water at the outlet of Red Lake. The carrying out of this project would guarantee to the settler that his lands would not be overflowed and would encourage him in developing his property and thus adding to the taxable value of the counties affected. Senator O'Neill secured the passage of a bill in the Senate appropriating $30,000 to start the work. This was stricken out in the House committee on the last night of the session. However, the Indians have now sold their pine, and Mr. Dickens, the agent, assures Senator O'Neill that he is ready to co-operate with the state and government in the work contemplated. The government has already made a survey and estimate of the expense.

Mr. O'Neill is acquainted with Mr. Dugan, the government engineer; Mr. Willard, the state engineer; Mr. Dickens, the Indian agent, and Senator Rockne, the chairman of the senate finance committee. He is therefore in a considerably better position to secure favorable action on this project than any new man would be, no matter how willing or capable.

Fourth—Senator O'Neill secured the passage of a bill appropriating $12,000 for peat experimentation and secured one of the farms for eastern Pennington county, besides several small tracts. From results obtained this season it looks favorable for the reclamation of all peat lands in the district, which would add at least ten per cent to their total or approximately $1,000,000 for the district. Another appropriation must be secured if this work is to be continued, and from past experience we are justified in believing that Senator O'Neill can better secure this than any other man we can send to the senate. He has followed this peat experiment work closely from the beginning and is in a position to give first-hand information concerning the feasibility of making high-grade farm lands out of what is now practically worthless bog.

Senator O'Neill opposed the Gardner bill in the last session. This was a measure that would have meant that the railroad tax would have gone to the big cities for the most part instead of into the state treasury for the benefit of the entire state. It meant an annual item of $6,000,000.

His record on every matter affecting the farmer is clear. His attitude toward the laboring men is just as fully open to inspection. At the close of the last session he received a personal letter signed by the secretaries of all the railroad brotherhoods, commending him for the stand he had taken on matters pertaining to labor and pledging the support of the organizations should he again become a candidate for office. The letter was signed by W. W. Royster, B. of L. E.; C. E. Fitzgerald, O. of R. C.; F. E. Tilquist, B. of L. E. & F.; and P. J. Collins, B. of R. T.

The above is only a part of Senator O'Neill's record. Space will not permit of going into it in detail. It might be here mentioned, however, that he was in the fight for the taxation of iron ore at a time when he stood practically alone among the senators from Northern Minnesota.

Senator O'Neill has had but one term in the state senate. He is asking for an endorsement on the record made at that term. He has the acquaintance and experience, stands well with his colleagues and has the advantage over his opponent in that he is free to accept any committee appointment tendered him favorable to the work to be accomplished for his district. He will not be bound by any caucus as would be the case with any man sent to the senate with Non-Partisan League endorsement.

Senator O'Neill knows his district and knows its people. He has worked with them on their farms and understands their problems. He has studied their needs and, so far as the time and means at his disposal have permitted, has already begun securing relief for some of the troubles with which they have to contend. That he would be more successful in this than any new man we could send is certain. No new man could begin where Senator O'Neill would leave off. It would take a long time and hard work to bring a beginner to the same point of efficiency and usefulness.

Senator O'Neill stands ready to see that justice is done by soldier, sailor or settler, so far as it lies within his power. No man the district could send to the senate could do more and very few could do as much.

Let us re-elect him.

STOCK BUILDING ON FAIR GROUND

SALE BROUGHT NEED FOR SUCH STRUCTURE TO ATTENTION OF ALL.

MADE AN ANNUAL EVENT

BUYERS AND SELLERS WELL SATISFIED WITH TREATMENT RECEIVED.

The question now is, shall we plan so as to have a suitable building in which to show our high grade stock next year at the county fair?

The Pennington County Live Stock Breeders' association has reason to be proud of the results obtained at their first Combination Live Stock sale. Rain during the first day prevented the sale during the forenoon but by one o'clock everything was in full swing in spite of the weather. The influenza outbreak kept a good many visitors away, thus reducing the actual attendance, however, nearly every one present was a bidder and a buyer. Several of the outside buyers stated that they were pleased and very much surprised at the splendid quality of the offerings. They also spoke very highly of the courtesy and attention shown them by the local bidders and assured County Agent Ross P. White that next year they would return and bring their neighbors with them.

Secured Seven Head.

Thor Ellingson of Valley City, N. D., purchased three head of fresh cows at the sale and the following day purchased four more head from the high grade herd of Fred Beerbower. Two buyers made the rounds of the Guernsey owners in an attempt to purchase a purebred Guernsey sire of serviceable age. W. H. Everly and son of Leonard, Minn., one of the heaviest purchasers of purebred and grade Holsteins, also purchased several sheep, a few goats and a large number of chickens to complete his car.

The Top-Notchers.

Of the fifty head of Holsteins which passed over the block during the first afternoon, the best seller proved to be the purebred bull Ormsby Beat Clothilde No. 160825, listed by C. L. Rude of Viking, purchased by Hans Anton of St. Hilaire for $280.00.

The highest price cow sold during the first day was a 255-256 Holstein from the Hans Rued herd, which was purchased by Ben Rosendahl of this city for $125.

Helps Red Cross.

On Thursday the sale was opened by selling twelve or fourteen head of calves which had been donated by the farmers to the Red Cross. These were sold at from $9.00 to $10.00 per head, netting the Red Cross the neat sum of $300.00. This was followed by the Shorthorn offerings, most of which were purebred animals. This part of the sale was marked by sharp and brisk bidding. Two of the sires received bids of over $300 each. Again the highest price cow reached the $125.00 mark. This was a purebred Maude 2nd No. 570696 from the herd of Jens Letness, Thief River Falls.

The Guernseys proved to be in demand and brought a splendid price. Cows with calves at side or near springers were the most hotly contended for, although the bidding did not slacken even when the yearlings were brought into the ring.

The Sheep Auction.

Judging from the number of bidders at the ring side when the fleecy tribe came up for sale one would naturally think that every farmer on the grounds wanted to take a flock home with him. The Ole Howard flock was sold at $15.75 per head and the Harold Sundberg flock was a close second. The sheep were blocky and well-fleeced and will make splendid foundation stock to grace the farms of this county. The purebred hogs sold quickly to the pork fanciers of the Northwest.

Live Stock Pavillion.

During the first day of the sale there was considerable discussion relative to the advisability of building a live stock exhibit and sale pavillion on the fair grounds in order to accommodate not only occasions of this kind but to provide a suitable show and exhibit room for the county fair.

This subject is worthy of consideration on the part of the business men and live stock breeders who are interested in the upbuilding of Pennington county and the northwest. Farmers in Roseau and eastern Marshall counties are interested in such a pavillion and they expect to make Thief River Falls the marketing center for their surplus breeding stock. Two of these men, W. G. Rose and Oscar Oie of Roseau, had stock entered this year and were well pleased with the treatment accorded them.

2,750 Men Wanted.

Minnesota has been called upon to supply 2,750 workers for three vital projects, two of which will keep labor within the state, it was announced Monday by State Director Hugo V. Koch of the United States Employment Service.

Of these men, 1,000 skilled and unskilled workers are needed for railways in the Northwest and adjacent territory; 750 skilled and unskilled workers are wanted for construction work for the expansion of the St. Paul Aviation Mechanics Training school, and 1,000 are wanted for reconstruction work in the forest fire zone.

Helped the Fire Victims.

Ernie Vandervort, formerly a resident of this city and now an engineer on the Moose Lake-Federal Dam freight run, is among those who will have cause to remember the great forest fire. Mr. Vandervort's train was standing at Moose Lake when the fire swept over the village and the cars burned to the trucks. When it became apparent that nothing could save the equipment the engineer and the remainder of the crew went to work helping in the salvaging of other property. Mr. Vandervort, whose family resides in Moose Lake, secured his automobile and took the members of his family to a place of safety at a nearby lake after which he returned and took others out of the danger zone in the same manner. His hands and face were burned, but he stuck to his job as long as he could possibly do so and was instrumental in saving many.

Mrs. Vandervort and the children were taken to Superior and were not injured. They lost all their belongings in the fire. The train crew managed to save the depot and coal sheds.

Voters, Attention!

(Prepared and ordered published by John Hegrenes in nobody's behalf, but as an information regarding the qualification cries circulated by unknown, uninformed and unreliable parties, regarding at least one of our county offices.)

State of Minnesota, Legal Department, St. Paul, July 16, 1918.

John Hegrenes, Esq.,

Thief River Falls, Minn.

Dear Sir: Yours of July 13th addressed to Clifford L. Hilton, Attorney General is before me for attention.

The qualifications necessary to enable one to hold the position of County Superintendent of Schools are: A male or female of the age of twenty-one years or upwards who has resided in this state six months next preceding any election, and who has been a citizen of the United States for three months preceding any election, and who has not been convicted of treason or felony and is not under guardianship or insane. See Sections 1, 2, 7 and 8, Article VII, Constitution of Minnesota.

Yours truly,
MONTERVILLE J. BROWN,
Asst. Attorney General.

As a fellow voter I would advise all voters to look up the matter of qualification of all county officers, as the qualification cry has also been raised in regards to the auditor, county treasurer, register of deeds and nearly all other county officials. This is a sample of one of the qualification requirements for one of the most important county offices and is not published to hurt nor benefit either of the candidates for county superintendent of schools, but simply to put a stop to these qualification stories which are so numerous at this time.

Yours truly,
JOHN HEGRENES.

SCHOOLS IN CITY RESUME NOV. 11

IMPROVEMENT IN INFLUENZA SITUATION WARRANTS THIS MOVE

NO CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY

THEATRES ALSO FORBIDDEN TO RESUME FOR A FEW DAYS

> NOTICE.
>
> At a meeting of the Board of Education held Oct. 31st, it was considered wise to postpone the opening of school until Nov. 11. If other action is necessary in the meantime, due notice will be made in the public press.
>
> J. H. HAY,
> Supt.

Services will not be permitted in any of the churches on Sunday and further notice. This will work no the theatre will be kept closed until particular hardship as it is certain that but few persons would attend either church or theatre until such time as it is considered more safe.

Every child attending school will be under the watchful care of the public nurse, who at the first indication of danger will take steps to not only extend help to the patient but will also employ every means at her command to prevent any spread of the infection.

Two Deaths in County.

Only two deaths from influenza were reported in the county during the past week—one in Thief River Falls and one at Hazel, bringing the total up to four, equally divided between the city and country. This is perhaps the best record of any county in the state and the people are to be congratulated on their escape as well as commended for the manner in which they have protected themselves against the disease. Preventive steps were taken early and there never has been a time when the disease was allowed to assume the proportions of an epidemic. The work of the local doctors has been of the very highest order, not only in saving those stricken, but in urging upon people measures for their protection.

The Country Schools.

Dr. H. W. Froehlich, county physician, will not yet permit a general opening of the schools in the country. In districts where there are no cases of influenza they may resume, provided every possible means is employed for guarding the pupils. The disease is on the wane, according to the doctors, and every precaution will be taken to see that another outbreak shall not occur.

Stationary in City.

There are about 30 cases reported in Thief River Falls at the present time, showing that the number remains about stationary. The recoveries are just about keeping even with the new cases and the general feeling is that the worst is over. Business is being carried on very much as usual, the merchants in but few instances noticing any falling off in trade. Most of the storekeepers have fumigated their places and it is probable that a person is safer in the city right now than in any other locality.

> IMPORTANT NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC
>
> The calls of late made upon the medical fraternity of Thief River Falls have been very exacting. An unusual condition has made it necessary for the doctors to be on the go practically all the time. This has brought them close to the breaking point and a halt must be called. This is for the protection of the public as well as their own.
>
> For this reason the undersigned must insist that all calls for their services be made before eight o'clock in the evening except in cases of great urgency. Unless this ruling is adhered to the community is very liable to find itself face to face with a most serious situation. The doctors are straining every nerve now to meet the demands made upon them and a falling off in their number would prove very much worse for the public than for the doctors themselves.

DOCTORS HAVE NO REST THESE DAYS

FIND IT NECESSARY TO ISSUE ORDERS AGAINST BEING NEEDLESSLY CALLED

While the Spanish influenza situation in the city of Thief River Falls proper is vastly better than at any point in the neighborhood, yet the calls made upon the doctors here have come in such numbers as to make it hard for them to keep up with their work. The scarcity of medical men in communities nearby has added greatly to their labors. Not only have they had their own territory to cover much more often than usual but they have also been called upon to make numerous trips to Brooks, Plummer, Oklee and a half dozen other villages in the neighborhood where there are no doctors. This has kept them on the jump ever since the influenza epidemic set in and has about brought them to the end of their endurance.

At a meeting of the Pennington County Medical association on Tuesday it was decided to ask the public to confine their calls to the day time, so far as this may be possible. Except in cases of a grave nature the doctors should not be summoned after eight o'clock in the evening. By this time they are all tired out after a hard day's work and at a point where they are themselves easily subject to an attack of influenza or pneumonia. Any material reduction in their ranks at this time would prove most serious for the people living at a distance, as in such event they could not possibly be properly looked after. The people in the city therefore owe it to their neighbors in outlying districts to be as saving of their medical men as possible.

Dr. O. F. Mellby has been attacked by the disease and may be out of the running for a short time. This throws an additional burden on those remaining, already taxed to the utmost to keep up with the demand for their services.

Make up your mind not to wait until evening to call the doctor. If you suspect that his services will be necessary notify him before eight at night or it may prove impossible to get any reply to your summons.

CASH AND CLOTHES FOR FIRE SUFFERERS

OVER $1400 IN MONEY AND EIGHT BOXES OF CLOTHING SENT

A bank draft for $1404.45 was this week sent by Mayor Penney to the St. Paul headquarters for the collection of funds for the fire destitute people in the section of Minnesota devastated by fire two weeks ago. Besides this eight boxes of clothing, containing 481 pieces, are ready for shipment. The collection of wearing apparel was made under the direction of Mrs. J. J. Richter, who is also local chairman of the committee collecting clothing for the Belgians. The money was solicited by a committee named by the mayor and composed of Robert McGinn, Carl Christofferson, A. M. Langseth and a number of ladies, the efforts of the latter netting in the neighborhood of $600 alone.

The clothing sent had been carefully sorted and itemized and the boxes numbered. A list of the goods in each box was sent to the state chairman so that whatever is wanted can be secured with the least possible delay. The entire campaign was conducted in a thorough and businesslike manner with the result that the material sent is such as will prove of great value to those in need.

Three Reported Injured.

Three young men, all well known in Thief River Falls, have figured in the casualty lists of the past week. David Winton, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Winton, now of Minneapolis, who spent his boyhood in this city, was wounded, as was also Dana Easton of Warren, well known to many of our people. Harry Harvey of Middle River, a young man who has many acquaintances here among those who attended the university of Minnesota while he was a student there, is among those reported killed in action.

Election Judges Warned.

Tuesday is election day and judges are warned against allowing crowds to collect in the neighborhood of the voting booths. This warning is issued because of the greater danger of spreading influenza presented when there are crowds gathered.

MUST HAND VOTERS THE PINK BALLOT

ATTORNEY GENERAL SAYS IT IS TO BE GIVEN OUT WITH THE OTHERS

Judges of election must hand pink amendment ballots to the voters at the election Nov. 5, according to an opinion just given to Former Governor S. R. Van Sant, chairman of the Minnesota Dry Federation, by Attorney General Clifford L. Hilton.

"This will aid us materially," said Mr. Van Sant. "There had been some question in certain quarters as to the duty of judges of election in this respect, but the opinion of the attorney general clears it up.

"However, we must not slacken our efforts to see that everybody votes on the prohibition amendment. We have a hard fight in Minnesota, but we are doing all we can to induce every dry voter to go to the polls on Nov. 5 and surely vote the pink ballot."

WELFARE WORK HELPERS CHOSEN

CHAIRMAN GUSTAFSON PICKS PRECINCT HEADS FOR BIG CAMPAIGN

TEACHERS HELP IN CITY

WILL ASSUME RESPONSIBILITY FOR MAKING THORO CANVASS OF HOMES

During the week of Nov. 11 to 18, inclusive, the people of Pennington county will be asked to subscribe $17,500 toward a total fund of $170,500,000 to be raised in the country for the purpose of continuing war welfare work. This sum goes toward the maintenance of all organizations now in the field as auxiliaries of the fighting men, with the exception of the Red Cross.

No Lines Drawn.

There are seven organizations in the list recognized by the war department and the money subscribed will be divided among them as nearly as possible according to their numerical representation in the fighting forces of the country, their opportunities for service and the equipment they may already have for the successful carrying out of the work in hand. No religious or racial lines will be drawn. All soldiers of the country will be treated alike and by whichever organization happens to be in a position to offer aid when it is needed.

The United War Work Council is made up as follows: The Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., National Catholic Council, Jewish Welfare Board, Salvation Army, American Library Association, War Camp Community Service.

Committee is Appointed.

C. David Gustafson is the chairman for Pennington county for the men's end of the campaign, while Mrs. J. M. Bishop will have charge of the ladies. Precinct chairmen have been appointed as follows:

Numedal, Olof Larson; Norden, John Funnesdahl; North, Waldie Christenson; Silverton, Hans Rude; Cloverleaf, Stewart McLeod; Goodridge, Mrs. J. Payne; Reiner, Elev Aakre; Bray, John O. Swanson; Sanders, Sig. Lind; Rocksbury, Paul Engelstad; Smiley, Fred Beerbower; Kratka, Stephen Singer; Highlanding, Mrs. Wm. Korstad; Star, C. O. Elg; Polk Center, Gust Naplin; Black River, Sam Lorentzson; River Falls, August Svenson; Wyandotte, John R. Larson; Mayfield, Tom Gabrielson; Deer Park, Mrs. J. L. Radnicki; Hickory, Mrs. Martin Hegstad; St. Hilaire village, Mrs. Arthur Gunstad.

Teachers in the City.

A large part of the soliciting in the city has been turned over to Mrs. Bishop, who has enlisted the aid of the school teachers as solicitors. These volunteers will make a house to house canvass and will do a thorough job of it. The business districts will be looked after by a committee of business men yet to be appointed.

ONE IS CANDIDATE AGAINST HIS WILL

G. P. JONES OF BAGLEY WANTED TO WITHDRAW AND COULDN'T

Sometimes a man becomes a candidate for an office in spite of himself. George P. Jones of Bagley early in the campaign announced himself as a candidate for the legislature from the 65th district but later changed his mind and withdrew. His name is on the ticket, however, the notice of withdrawal never having reached the proper officials. In his own paper, the Bagley Herald, Mr. Jones thus explains his position:

"There will be the names of four legislature candidates upon the ballot although it was generally understood that there would be only three names to appear. I have taken every step possible to have my name taken off. But it appears from information obtained from the printers that my name will appear with the rest of the candidates, so I shall have to abide by the results."

Teachers Entitled to Pay.

Attorney General Clifford L. Hilton yesterday handed down an opinion that school teachers are entitled to compensation during the period that the schools are closed because of influenza or other epidemics. The decision was awaited with interest throughout the state.

> ONE MINUTE OF SILENT PRAYER
>
> Pursuant to a proclamation issued last week by Mayor Penney, our people are asked to cease all labor at 11:59 o'clock tomorrow and devote one minute to silent prayer for the success and welfare of our boys in the army and navy. The whistles in the city will blow one minute to twelve o'clock every day for one week and this one minute will be observed as prayer period all over the United States.
>
> Wherever he happens to be at that time, a person is supposed to stop whatever work he may be engaged upon and devote the one minute to the purpose indicated.

BIG INCREASE IN BANK DEPOSITS

QUARTER MILLION IN CITY

MORE MONEY IN SPITE OF THE DRAIN CAUSED BY LIBERTY LOAN

Financial conditions in Pennington county will be better during the coming year than for some time past, is the prediction of local bankers. The statements of condition published in The Times this week shows a gratifying increase in deposits for almost every bank in the county, those in the city of Thief River Falls alone being greater by practically a quarter of a million dollars. This includes the deposits of the national bank, although there is no call for a statement from this institution at this time. The statements of the banks at Goodridge will be noted with particular interest as the deposits there reflect to a certainty the condition of the people in the eastern end of the county where for two years last past the situation has not been the best because of crops rather below the average.

Farmers Are Liquidating.

No more certain indication of the added prosperity brought about by higher prices and a good harvest could be found than that the farmers are beginning to liquidate their indebtedness. The grain movement has not gotten fully under way as yet but the banks report that mortgages have already been taken up in some instances and that many farmers will this year find themselves in a position to clear up, or at least largely cut down, their outstanding obligations.

Means Land Movement.

Conditions are just right for a heavy movement toward Pennington county land during the coming winter and spring. The crops raised here the past year, together with a guarantee of good prices for the products of the farms in 1919, are certain to turn the eyes of many town dwellers toward the farming sections of the country. Inquiries are already coming in from all sections and indications are that there will be a brisk demand.

Seed Potatoes Exempted.

Congressman Halvor Steenerson at the suggestion of members of the Ninth District Potato Growers association presented to the department of agriculture a proposition to exclude seed potatoes from the requirements as to grade.

As a result of the suggestion Congressman Steenerson received a telegram from the department reading as follows:

"It is realized that the Minnesota Red River Ohios are used largely for seed purposes. When these standards were considered by the department it was not its purpose to make them applicable to seed potatoes and we are advised that the Food Administration is not requiring and does not intend to require the application of these standards to seed potatoes."

Former Resident Dead.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Soards this week received word of the death of their nephew, Dan Sheedy, at his home in Idaho. Deceased was for many years a resident of Thief River Falls and had many friends here who will be pained to learn of his death. He leaves a wife and three small children.

PEAT WORK ON EXTENDED SCALE

SEVEN DEMONSTRATION PLOTS WILL BE CONDUCTED IN THE COUNTY

TO GROW 3 SETS OF CROPS

BANKS IN CITY HAVE GUARANTEED PRICE OF CARLOAD OF PHOSPHATE

There will be seven peat demonstration plots located in Pennington county next year. The result obtained at the Golden Valley station the past season has interested every man who has peat on his farm in the possibilities of this class of soil under scientific management.

Prof. George H. Neson of the soils department of the university farm, in cooperation with County Agent Ross P. White, spent the greater part of last week interviewing farmers in the eastern part of the county with the view of securing their cooperation in conducting a series of demonstrations in farming peat. They found the farmers enthusiastically interested in the possibilities and in most cases greatly surprised at the result obtained at the Golden Valley peat demonstration farm this year.

Campaign Will be General.

Besides the plots in this county and in order to test the results out thoroughly it is the plan of the soils department to conduct similar experiments on a large number of farms in the Red River valley. The work will be under the direct supervision of the department of agriculture, university of Minnesota.

The plan is to have three half-acre plots on each farm. On the first manure will be spread; the second will be used as a check plot, and on the third they will put 200 pounds of acid phosphate. The ground will be plowed this fall, manure applied and plot disced as much as labor and horse power will permit. The application of the phosphate will be made by Mr. Neson in the spring.

Three Sets of Crops.

Three sets of crops will be grown on these plots. One-third of each will be seeded to a grass mixture consisting of red top, timothy and clover. On the second and third plot will be seeded any two of the following crops: oats, barley or spring rye. The grass mixture may also be sown in these plots, using the grain as a nurse crop. Across the rear of the plots it is planned to seed sun flowers the better to emphasize any results obtained. At the Goodridge site a large series of plots will be conducted under the direct supervision of Dr. F. J. Alway. This plot will be located on the northeast quarter of section 21 in the town of Goodridge, just outside the village limits.

Location of Farms.

The state department will have direct supervision and control of the demonstrations on the following farms: Anton Knutson, in Reiner township; Carl Klemmentson, Highlanding township, and Ole Tharaldson in Star township. This last plot is along the edge of the Brown ditch and the peat is from two and one-half to three feet deep. In the town of Hickory there will be three plots located on the following farms: H. T. Hanson, N. O. Reson and Olaf Sundrud. A good many of the farmers wish to make the trial and so arrangements have been made for the farm bureau to take charge and supervise such plots under the directions of the soils department. Already arrangements have been made to conduct such demonstrations on the Citizens State bank farm in Smiley township, on the W. H. Wilde farm in Mayfield township and on the James A. McEnally farm in Reiner township. Others will be added at a later date.

Banks Are Helping.

At a recent meeting held at the farm bureau office, officials of the four banks in this city agreed to finance the purchase of a carload of acid phosphate, which will be sold to the farmers at cost through the farm bureau. A very large percentage of this phosphate will be available for use in this county, although the plan is now to supply about one ton of phosphate for experimental purposes to each one of the counties of the Red River valley section. The phosphate has arrived and a goodly portion of it has been spoken for but there is still available a small amount.

The complete result of the Golden Valley demonstration will be available for publication in the near future.

The gentleman who had the prescription printed showed it to me and without stopping to consider quantities I said that there was apparently no objection to its use. EXPECTED TO EARN $5 TO HELP FUND

BOYS AND GIRLS WILL DO THEIR SHARE IN WELFARE DRIVE

"The Victory Boys and Girls of the United States" is the name of a new organization, the members of which will start out on the 11th to earn $5 each for the purpose of turning it over to the War Welfare fund. There are at least 10,000,000 young men and women in the country eligible to membership and if each one manages to raise the stipulated amount it will mean the tidy total of $50,000,000.

Supt. J. H. Hay of the Thief River Falls schools has been made chairman of this district, which comprises Pennington and nine neighboring counties. He has selected Mrs. L. G. Larson to have charge of the boys' campaign in the county and the work will be begun on the opening day of the drive—Nov. 11. Mrs. C. A. Pitkin of this city has been appointed chairman for the girls' division in the ten counties. She has not yet announced her local chairmen.

The idea is for each one of these boys and girls to hustle a job for themselves, earn $5 and donate it to the fund. The money will probably not be refused even though it is not directly earned by the contributor, but so strict are the rules of the organization on this point that anyone getting by on a fluke of this kind will be regarded as something of a shirk, if not a slacker.

GROWERS ASK $2.60 PRICE FOR WHEAT

CLAIM PRESENT FIGURE IS NOT BASED ON RATIO FOR OTHER CROPS

The National Wheat Growers' association in its appeal to President Wilson for $2.60 wheat, contends that even this price will not permit wheat growers to reap the profit now being made by the growers of corn and cotton.

In its brief to the President the association declares that "on the basis of the ration of the price fixtures between crops the price of wheat would be over $3, as the pre-war price of cotton was about 11 cents and is now 35 and 40 cents a pound. Corn also brings nearly three times the pre-war prices."

The growers also maintain that "the increase in the price asked for wheat is not as much proportionately as the increase in the wages that most labor is receiving over pre-war wages."

In fixing the price at $2.46, the association points out that the President would only be adopting "the recommendation of the agricultural advisory committee selected by Secretary of Agriculture Houston and Food Director Hoover."

SENATOR R. C. DUNN CALLED BY DEATH

Senator Robert C. Dunn died at his home in Princeton last Monday after a brief illness. He was 63 years old and a native of Ireland. He has published the Princeton Union since 1876 and for 30 years has been a prominent figure in the political life of the state. He was a candidate for reelection to the state senate with practical certainty of success. His death leaves Fay Cravens of Milaca, Nonpartisan league candidate, without opposition on the ballot.

Senator Dunn began his legislative career in 1889 as a member of the lower house of the legislature. He served again in 1893, and in 1894 was elected state auditor.

Mr. Dunn retired as state auditor in 1903 and the next year became a candidate for governor. In the famous convention contest with Judge L. W. Collins, Mr. Dunn won the republican nomination, but differences created in the preconvention contest led to his defeat by John A. Johnson.

QUIET CAMPAIGN IS NEARING END

ON TUESDAY THE AMERICAN ELECTORS WILL END THE SUSPENSE.

FLU CHECKS CAMPAIGNING

GREATEST INTERESTS CENTERS IN FIVE-CORNER FIGHT FOR GOVERNOR.

The quietest political campaign in the history of Minnesota will come to an end on Tuesday evening next. The American voter will then have expressed his preferences regarding the person or persons who are to serve him in the different official capacities during the next two or four years, as the case may be, and by the end of the week the excitement—what there has been of it—will be a thing of the past.

Very Little Stirring.

The campaign started out to be a regular rip-snorter, particularly in this state, but things have simmered down until there is hardly a ripple to be observed on the surface. The intensity is there in fully as great a degree as in any former election, but it does not express itself in the same manner as heretofore. The war, the "flu," and a number of other things may in a measure be responsible for this, but the outstanding fact is that it has been very hard to get the people worked up to anything resembling excitement.

Five For Governor.

The greatest interest naturally centers in the gubernatorial fight. There are five candidates and the result is by no means a foregone conclusion. Most anything is liable to happen when the people have such a lineup to select from.

J. A. A. Burnquist, the present chief executive, is a candidate to succeed himself. The two opponents who are considered possibilities are Fred E. Wheaton, the regular Democratic nominee, and David H. Evans, nominated by petition of the Farmer-Labor party. The Socialist candidate is L. P. Berot and the standard bearer of the Nationals is Olaf O. Stageberg.

Calderwood Again.

United States Senator Knute Nelson has an opponent. W. G. Calderwood, who made the race against Senator Frank B. Kellogg two years ago, will again try his luck.

Thomas Frankson is a candidate to succeed himself as lieutenant governor. He has no Farmer-Labor opponent and will try conclusions with Charles H. Helwig, Democrat, and George D. Haggard, National.

A Straight Fight.

There are only two candidates for secretary of state—Julius A. Schmahl and Edward Indrehus. They are the regular nominees of the two majority parties in the state and will not have to calculate on the vote to be received by some outsider.

For state auditor there are three candidates. J. A. O. Prues, the present efficient incumbent, wants another term, while L. W. Huntley, Democrat, and F. R. McManigal, National, will try to prevent his getting it.

For State Treasurer.

The Farmer-Labor organization also decided to keep out of the treasurership race but put up a candidate for attorney general. The candidates for a job as custodian of the state's cash are Henry Rines, Republican, at present serving his first term; D. D. Devinne, Democrat, and L. A. Simonson, National.

There are four in the race for the position held by the late Attorney General Lyndon A. Smith. Clifford L. Hilton, who was appointed to fill the unexpired term, is the choice of the Republicans, while D. D. Gislason is the candidate of the Democrats. Lars O. Haug is making the effort on the National ticket, and Tom Davis is the candidate of the Farmer-Labor organization.

Railroad Commissioner.

More interest seems to center in the outcome of the contest for state railroad and warehouse commissioner than ever before. There are four candidates and it would not be surprising if the race were close. Fred W. Putnam is out to succeed himself. J. S. Jacobson is the candidate of the Democrats, William Hokanson of the Nationals, and Fred E. Tillquist of the Farmer-Labor party.

There are but two candidates for clerk of the supreme court—Herman Mueller, Republican and Charles A. Lethert, Democrat.

Supreme Court Judges.

For chief justice of the supreme

New Draft Member.

Announcement has been received of the appointment of Joseph H. Ball of Crookston by the United States Department of Agriculture as a member of the new fifth district exemption board which was recently formed. Mr. Ball will act as agricultural adviser to the board, which now meets daily at the board headquarters over the Crookston State bank. Martin O'Brien is chairman of the board and Crookston now has three members on the personnel. Pennington county is still without a representative.

UNITED LUTHERAN CHURCH IS OBJECT

MEETING WILL BE HELD IN NEW YORK ON THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 14.

On Thursday, Nov. 14th, representatives of more thn three quarters of a million of confirmed Lutherans will meet in New York formally to organize the United Lutheran Church in America. The Lutheran Church is a very old one in this country, dating back to 1619 in Canada, 1639 in Pennsylvania, and 1643 in Manhattan, but its members are of such a liberty-loving and congregational type, and their original blood has come from so many European nationalities, that they have been slow to see the merits of centralized organization.

History of Synods.

Their first Synod was organized in 1748, and new Synods have been forming rapidly ever since. A Synod represents the congregation of a State or part of a State. In New York and New Jersey there are three Synods that will enter the United Lutheran Church. In Pennsylvania there are five or six, and so on. A general body covering the United States was organized in 1820, another in 1867 and a third in 1886. These are the three general bodies now coming together. For the last year and a half, they have been carefully preparing for the coming merger, and next month will see forty-three Synods of the United States and Canada joined together.

Every one of these Synods, and the three general bodies, The General Council of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in North America, The General Synod of the Lutheran Church in the United States, and The United Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in the South, have voted singly and severally in favor of this move. A Joint Ways and Means Committee has been at work for over a year in preparing the legal and other details for the consolidation.

The Committee has secured legislative enactment at Albany of amendments to the New York Religious Corporations Law, favorable to churches of all denominations, and will probably take out its charter in the State of New York on November 14th under that act.

court the candidates are Calvin L. Brown, present incumbent, and Benjamin Drake. Associate Justices Andrew Holt and Oscar Hallam have opposition in the persons of W. H. Vanderburgh and Thomas Frazer.

The County Ticket.

With one or two exceptions the interest in county politics is not much greater than that evinced in the state outcome. At the top of the ballot appears the name of Halvor Steenerson, who has no opposition in his race for congress. He has made the grade successfully on seven occasions heretofore, sometimes with the hardest kind of opposition, so the outcome would in all likelihood have been the same in any event.

The candidates for county office carry no political designation, but politics will enter more or less into the result just the same. This is particularly true of the legislative posts. D. P. O'Neill is out to succeed himself as state senator and is opposed by Oscar A. Naplin, who has the Non-Partisan league endorsement.

For representative in the legislature there are two men to be elected. The candidates with the endorsement of the league are Walter E. Day of Clearwater county, and Felix Grandbois of Red Lake. They are opposed by G. P. Jones and M. O. Sortedahl, of the same counties respectively.

The Court House Places.

From here on the candidates come by twos. T. P. Anderson, present incumbent, is opposed by M. N. Benson for county auditor. John Gullingsrud and Bernhard Knudsen are contesting for the position as county treasurer now held by Theo. H. Liden, who is trying conclusions with N. J. Anderson for the register of deeds office.

For superintendent of schools E. A. Mostue, present superintendent, is being opposed by George M. Gunderson. The lineup for judge of probate is the same as two years ago—Ira C. Richardson trying to unseat Wilhelm Michelet.

Sheriff W. J. LaBree has as his opponent Ove E. Berge, and E. M. Stanton and Theo. Quale are contending for the county attorneyship. For coroner Dr. H. W. Froehlich has no opposition.

Three Commissioners.

County commissioners are to be elected in three of the five districts, the candidates being as follows: First district—Peter C. Wold and W. G. Hunt. Third district—Hans Anton and Gust Naplin. Fifth district—Oscar J. Peterson and J. M. Thiege.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST FEAR ADVOCATED

CALM STATE OF MIND MOST BENEFICIAL TO COMBATING DISEASE

A course in common sense and the basic ideas of Christian Science, and an editorial policy for newspapers directed against fear, was urged at a meeting at Des Moines recently of a committee of business and professional men which have virtually been in charge of the city during the so-called Spanish influenza epidemic.

Scientists Seem Immune.

The city has been under rigid quarantine for a minimum period of two weeks, all schools colleges, churches, theatres and amusement places having been closed to prevent further spread of the alleged epidemic.

The fact that soldiers and officers at Camp Dodge who are Christian Scientists have not been affected by the epidemic, was called to the committee's attention at the meeting by Mr. Miller.

"There is no question," said Dr. Witte, "that by a right attitude of mind these people have kept themselves from illness. I have no doubt that many persons have contracted the disease through fear.

"People can deceive themselves into thinking they have any disease on the calendar, and doubtless many of them have thought themselves into their graves."

Urge Common Sense.

A recommendation that newspapers prepare editorials citing the immunity which Christian Scientists enjoy from influenza, and urging the use of common sense and a calm attitude of mind in conquering fear of infection, was made by H. W. Byers, corporation counsel for the city. The recommendation was endorsed by the committee as a whole, and newspapers were asked to quote the committee to that effect.

"Entirely too much publicity has been given to supposed symptoms of the so-called Spanish influenza," was Mr. Byers' further comment, "and I would recommend that if anything be printed in regard to the disease it be confined, to simple preventive measures—something constructive, rather than destructive."

Overcome Fear First.

"Fear is the first thing to be overcome, the first step in conquering this epidemic," said Dr. Witte. "I am not a Christian Scientist, but I believe an application of their principles will materially aid in preserving the health of this community. They did not originate with the Scientists, but are to be found by anyone who will take the trouble to read his Bible.

"In my work in infected communities, I have always found Scientists the first to respond to the slightest suggestion of unsanitary conditions, and the first to comply with fundamental health measures."

VALLEY SHOW TO BE THE BEST EVER

STOCK WILL BE DISPLAYED IN NEW PAVILION—PROMINENT SPEAKERS.

Prospects are bright that the 1919 Farm Crop and Live Stock show will be a combination of the finest exhibits of Red River Valley grains, potatoes and superior cattle, sheep and hogs that ever was gathered together at one time and in one place in the entire state. Superintendent Selvig is now busily engaged organizing the various divisions of this great undertaking, having the active cooperation of all of the Red River Valley counties as well as the officials of the Crookston Commercial club, Red River Valley Development association, the Live Stock breeders and Poultry association to make this annual event of outstanding importance.

Men of the caliber of Duncan Marshall of Alberta, Dr. George E. Vincent, H. J. Waters, formerly president of Kansas Agricultural College, and President M. L. Burton will address the Farmers' Week meetings which are held under the auspices of the Northwest School of Agriculture, according to Mr. Selvig's announcement.

At the present time all who have samples of grain and potatoes of merit should make a careful selection and hold them for this show. In many counties local shows will be held first from which the best exhibits will be sent to compete on a Valley basis at Crookston and later at the Minnesota Crops Improvement exhibit which will be held at St. Cloud.

The annual spell-down, in which several thousand rural school children take part annually, will take place on the first evening. Farm Club members are now practising up for the fourth annual stock judging contest which occupies the center of interest on one day. War work will be prominent as will the consideration of reconstruction programs.

Berve Rally Song.

(Tune: Marching Through Georgia.)

Here we have a farmer boy;
We'll boost him with our song;
Sing it with a spirit
That will carry votes along,
Sing it as we're soon to sing it
Thirty hundred strong
While we are voting for Berve.

Chorus:
Hurrah! Hurrah! Eliminate the gin,
Hurrah! Hurrah! Our candidate shall win.
So we'll sing the chorus
Full of confidence in him,
While we are voting for Berve.

Law enforcement is the word
And Berve is the man.
For protection of the home,
Our candidate does stand.
Women, children, everybody,
Sing to beat the band,
While we are voting for Berve.

He will treat us all alike,
Allow no favored crime;
The boodler's doomed to take a hike;
The law will rule sublime.
And boozedom sure will get a scare
As nearer draws its time,
While we are voting for Berve.

RHINOW STOPS ALL MILITARY FUNERALS

GUARDS FORBIDDEN TO ATTEND WHERE FLU IS CAUSE OF DEATH.

Every person in authority is doing his utmost to bring home to the people the danger of exposure to influenza contagion at this time. Health officers all over the country are issuing warnings against crowds and urging the people to wear masks for protection, particularly when in crowded places such as stores and restaurants. Here in Thief River Falls the masks have not yet become popular, but few people evidently considering them necessary.

So serious is the situation that Adjutant General W. F. Rhinow, at the command of Governor Burnquist, has issued an order forbidding all military organizations in the state attending the funeral of any soldier who may have died from influenza or pneumonia at the camps or cantonments of the country. The order was received by Capt. W. B. Fuller of Company C on Saturday.

It has been the custom for the company to escort the remains of soldiers who died in the service to the grave and fire a salute, but even this is considered to involve a needless risk.

Out of the Mouth of Hell

Rest they will have, but rest it not re-creation. Mind must relax as well as body. They must forget awhile, must turn their thoughts into their normal course before facing anew the horrors of the first-line trenches.

Courage they have always; but we can put fresh heart into them; we can restore the high spirits of youth and send them singing into the fray.

They Are Fighting for You---Show Your Appreciation

When you give them arms, you give them only the instruments of your own defense; when you give for the wounded, you give only in common humanity; but when you give to the Y. M. C. A., you are extending to the boys the warm hand of gratitude, the last token of your appreciation of what they are doing for you. You are doing this by showing your interest in their welfare.

The Y. M. C. A. furnishes to the boys, not only in its own "huts"—which are often close to the firing line—but in the trenches, the material and intangible comforts which mean much to morale. It furnishes free entertainment back of the lines. It supplies free writing paper and reading matter. It conducts all post exchanges, selling general merchandise without profit. It has charge of and encourages athletics, and conducts a "khaki college" for liberal education. Its religious work is non-sectarian and non-propagandist. It keeps alive in the boys "over there" the life and spirit of "over here."

GIVE NOW --- BEFORE THEIR SACRIFICE IS MADE

Seven allied activities, all endorsed by the Government, are combined in the United War Campaign, with the budgets distributed as follows: Y. M. C. A., $100,000,000; Y. W. C. A., $15,000,000; National Catholic War Council (including the work of the Knights of Columbus and special war activities for women), $30,000,000; Jewish Welfare Board, $3,500,000; American Library Association, $3,500,000; War Camp Community Service, $15,000,000; Salvation Army, $3,500,000.

IT'S FUN FOR HUN TO HIT HOSPITALS

ALSO SEEMS TO HAVE PARTICULAR SPITE AGAINST AMBULANCE TRAINS

Herbert M. Hanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Hanson, 604 Horace avenue, is connected with the 4th Sanitary Train in France. In a letter received by his parents this week he shows that the Hun is, or at least was on the 24th of September, following his usual practice of bombing hospitals and ambulance headquarters.

"Have a little time before I go on duty again," he writes, "so I will write a few lines. Haven't had any mail for some time and have not had a chance to write letters either. I am in charge of a ward now and it sure does keep a fellow busy.

"Have had some exciting times since I wrote you last. Before we started on out F. V. we were camped in a small town that was shelled for two days, and believe me, it was some exciting. The first night Fritz came over and was dropping bombs all around us but luckily did not get the location of the tent although he came very near us at times. It goes without saying that none of us got any sleep.

"The next night they started shelling the town and most of us beat it for the dugout. They kept that up nearly all night and the next day. One of the shells hit a building where our ambulance was billeted but none of the men were hurt.

"A few days ago we saw a regular air battle. A big German observation plane was brought down by four Allied planes. It was the first real air battle we have seen and it happened right over our heads and was certainly great. We saw the German plane after it was brought down and it was smashed all to pieces. Both the pilot and observer were killed.

"Am still feeling fine but the weather is getting quite a bit colder than it was. I lost my woolen sweater and the helmet that Mrs. Miller gave me, so I believe I will have you send me one and will try to get an order to have it sent out to me as the articles will come in handy over here this winter."

DAVE BACKUS GETS FOUR HUN PLANES

FORMER THIEF RIVER BOY WILL SOON BE IN THE "ACE" CLASS.

David Backus, who until a couple of years ago was a resident of Thief River Falls, but who was living in St. Paul at the time of his enlistment, is rapidly forging to the front as an aviator in France. The Times last week made mention of his having bagged his first Hun plane on Sept. 28 and now comes word that three more have been added to his credit—one fokker and two biplanes.

The story of how Lieut. Backus downed his first plane was told in the St. Paul Pioneer Press last Tuesday. In a letter to his mother of a later date he described a thrilling battle with three German aviators, in which he had downed one of the enemy fliers and narrowly escaped death himself. His bringing to earth three more enemy planes brings him within one victory of being an "ace."

The Public Forum

We Must Conserve.

The American people want to win the war at the earliest possible moment. With the co-operation of our home people we have a right to expect to win in one year. All expectations of peace earlier than that or without a fight to a finish are likely to be disappointed. The supreme effort is coming in the next twelve months.

The thing that will win the war is the WILL OF THE PEOPLE HERE AT HOME. More drastic food conservation is needed this year than last year. The needs of the Allies will be greater. We shall have an army of 3,500,000 men in France by next July. Our Allies and our army must be fed by America if the war is to be won next year with a minimum loss of American lives. It is imperative that every family in Pennington county at every meal should conserve wheat and meat and fats. Eat potatoes in place of bread. Use no entire wheat bread. As a rule milk and eggs can be substituted for meat with beneficial effect. The oils: butter, lard and tallow, are necessities, but no fraction of them ought to be wasted and to some extent vegetable oils can be substituted.

The very insignificant inconveniences of food conservation that we practice here are not comparable with the sacrifice of our boys who will pass the winter's cold in the mud and ice of the trenches and the discomfort of unwarmed and underground sleeping quarters.

The food administration is calling for over 5,000,000 tons of foodstuffs this year MORE than were required for export last year. The vital part in the war consists in producing and conserving our part in this immense total.—R. L. Barackman, Chairman Ministers Committee on Food Conservation, Pennington County.

The W. C. T. U. Petition.

One of the events that will be recorded in the history of the temperance reform as one of great significance was the presentation of the women's petition to the President of the United States on March 1, 1918. Many and various attempts have been made to secure national prohibition as a war measure, but for the first time the leading national women's organization through the instigation of our beloved national president, Miss Anna E. Gordon. This petition contained the official signature of the presidents of 29 national organizations representing nearly six million women, and in addition to this official group there are individual signatures of almost a thousand women of America, among them many from Minnesota. The Women's Christian Temperance Union of Thief River Falls has purchased a copy of the petition, which will be presented to the library and everyone will have the privilege of seeing it.

Vote the Pink Ballot.

Mr. Voter, do not be deceived by the brewer propaganda that liquor is needed to abate the influenza. The government never issued such an order, neither do the doctors prescribe it.

The Pink Ballot—It is very simple, but don't forget to secure the pink ballot, vote it first and then vote for county, state and national candidates. Our cause should be considered first for it is greater than any man, party or organization. If all dry voters will remember and do this they will do a great day's work for God, home and native land. If you do not vote for the amendment, your vote is counted against it. To make Minnesota dry, vote "yes."—S. R. Van Sant, Chairman Minnesota Dry Federation.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENT

(Inserted in his own behalf by N. J. Anderson, Thief River Falls, candidate for Register of Deeds. Amount to be paid, 30 cents per column inch.)

In asking for the support of the voters of Pennington county at the general election on Nov. 5, I do so in the belief that the business of the register of deed's office has during the past four years been conducted in a manner satisfactory to all. Should I again be entrusted with this important position I promise that my sole and only business concern shall be the maintaining of the standard for efficiency and service that it has been my constant aim to establish.

Hoping the voters will give my candidacy their favorable consideration, I am

Respectfully,

THREE MEN AND THE VISION THEY SAW

By Bruce Barton.

In a certain city dwell three men. And by accident of birth one of them is a Catholic and one is a Protestant and one is a Jew.

For thirty years they have engaged in business side by side, and the Catholic has not dealt with the Protestant; and the Catholic and the Protestant have had no dealings with the Jew.

"What is he to me?" each man has said. "He is not of my faith; I will avoid him."

So for thirty years they have dwelt together, strangers in a friendly world.

Then came the shadow of a fearful war. And out of those three homes three boys went forth alone. Three fathers waited heart-worn for the letters from over there.

"There are Soldiers of Friendliness over here," the boys wrote home. "They bring us chocolate, and motion pictures, and baseball, and good lectures; and the memory of mother and of God."

"Help those friendly agencies when you have the chance," each boy wrote home.

So it happened that the three fathers found themselves working shoulder to shoulder in a great campaign for funds.

Not as a Catholic and a Protestant and a Jew—but as good citizens united in a common cause.

And as they worked they came to know each other, and they were ashamed that for so many years they had been strangers side by side.

"Surely this is one of the compensations of war," they said, "that in our deeper love for our boys we have learned a new respect for one another."

So a new spirit was born into that city. As though in its heart it had discovered something of the greater religion, whose God is Father; and whose faith and creed are love.

SHOULD NOT BE PENALIZED.

It is just barely possible that in some quarters there will be a tendency to display a soreness against the registration officials of Pennington county for the part they have been forced to take in the general conduct of affairs during the past year and a half.

The members of the board are all candidates for re-election to the offices they hold at present. As such their records will be scrutinized by the voters and upon this record alone should their reelection depend. To vote against them because of any act of theirs as members of the registration board would be unfair and look very much like penalizing them for doing their duty too well.

The local board of Pennington county can point to one of the best records in the state. Chairman O'Brien of the district board, is authority for the statement that there has not been a single reversal of a decision by the Pennington county officials recorded in the office of the district organization, something that can be said of no other county. This alone testifies to the care with which exemptions were granted.

Good judgment has been displayed in the case of every registrant. For a long time the men were practically permitted to choose their own time for leaving. In cases where it could be shown that an actual hardship would result through applying the strict rotation of the draft list, the names were switched around so that those who could go without inconvenience were taken first. As soon as the others were able to leave they were ordered to report, not a single one being permitted to escape. So well have the men been looked after that there has not been a case in which the penalties provided for slackers have had to be invoked. This is a record of which only few counties can boast.

The members of the board have been impartial, considerate and just. They have performed the onerous duties devolving upon them with no other thought than that of doing exactly what the government requirements stipulated. For this they should receive credit—the fact should certainly not be permitted to work to their disadvantage.

IT IS THE BETTER WAY.

The Times has consistently refused to boost the fortunes of any candidate for office in the election to be decided by the people on Tuesday next. As a matter of fact only in isolated instances have the old-style methods of campaigning been employed, at least such is the case in Minnesota.

It is better so. A newspaper's support of any one candidate has very often meant that his opponent would have to be blackguarded, misrepresented and abused. He might be ever so good a fellow, equipped to make an excellent official if elected and entitled in every way to the confidence of his fellow-citizens, but editors and publishers with a mistaken notion of their duty to the public—or for other less unselfish reasons—considered it incumbent upon themselves to oppose him by every means at their command. This engendered soreness, hatred and strife which often had the effect of dividing communities into two camps and bringing about conditions decidedly bad for everybody.

One reason for this state of affairs was too many newspapers, and it is to be noted that where this condition still obtains the old method of conducting a political campaign is even now followed. Where the people have decided that they will support one independent and impartial newspaper—one that prints the news and permits them to vote and think as they see fit—these things do not happen and the communities are decidedly better off for it. This applies to the smaller cities and villages, of course, as it would be manifestly absurd to contend that the large centers of population could be adequately served by one publication.

The hatreds and contentions stirred up by a newspaper during a campaign often leaves its effects to rankle for years. Communities are divided into camps which invariably are to be found on opposite sides of any question coming up for discussion, the result being that no concerted action can be secured when it comes to a point where a united front is desirable. One set of men will oppose what another advocates, very often because of what has been said and done during the heat of a political campaign.

It does not much matter who is elected or who is defeated. People must continue to live together after the votes have been counted and make the best of things just as they did before. What, then, is the sense in saying and printing things that will sunder friendships and estrange neighbors? There is positively none and The Times will be a party to no such proceeding.

Should a man who is absolutely unworthy of trust or confidence become a candidate for office a newspaper would be remiss in its duty to the public if it did not publish the facts and oppose him to the utmost of its ability. There are none such among the candidates for office in Pennington county at the present time. So far as is known they are all good, clean men and the public will be well served no matter who is chosen.

At times it happens that some man's services to the community have been of such nature that he is particularly deserving of the confidence of his fellow-citizens. The Times will not consider itself as being bound to keep silent when such is the case for the reason that calling the attention of the voters to the facts might injure the chances of some other candidate. This would be carrying the matter to the other extreme and stamp the paper as failing in its mission.

Abusive and misleading campaigns are, however, things of the past so far as the present publishers of The Times are concerned.

POLITICS NOT QUITE ADJOURNED.

Strange as it may seem, Theodore Roosevelt has found fault with something President Wilson has done. The latter published an open letter to the people of the country asking them to elect a Democratic congress, whereat the ex-president became exceedingly wroth, accusing Mr. Wilson of being a partisan first and a president afterwards.

It is now recalled that in 1898, at the time the Spanish-American war was being fought, Mr. Roosevelt was governor of New York. At that time also politics was supposedly adjourned for the duration of the conflict. Democrats had dutifully supported President McKinley in his war measures, but Mr. Roosevelt nevertheless found himself called upon to issue the following statement just previous to election:

"Remember that whether you will or not, your vote this year will be viewed by the nations of Europe from one standpoint only. They will draw no fine distinctions. A refusal to sustain the President this year will, in their eyes, be read as a refusal to sustain the war and to sustain the efforts of our peace commission to secure the fruits of war."

As an independent paper The Times would like to ask if it would not have been better had President Wilson requested the return of ALL congressmen who have supported the war policy of the government, regardless of party? And in view of his own attitude on a similar question 20 years ago, would it not have been just as well had Theodore Roosevelt been just a little less vehement in his denunciation of the president?

The trouble is that politics absolutely refuse to stay adjourned.

KEEP THEM SMILING.

Two years at least before our boys can return home, say those who know. And, after the excitement of war and the need of drill has passed, what then?

Time that hangs heavily [illegible] that must be filled someway. It rests with those at home to say how they shall be filled. Whether carelessly, recklessly, merely to pass the time, or, steadied and held in the way of long-established good habit by the continued aid of the welfare organizations made possible through the United War Work Campaign for $170,500,000, our boys shall maintain the high standard of conduct that has made the morale of the American Expeditionary Forces overseas a marvel to all the world.

"KEEP THEM SMILING."

In case you are inclined to growl just a little over the frequent demands made upon your pocketbook these days, just stop and compare your own position with that of some others. You are permitted to continue along the usual lines, very much as you did before there was any war, while thousands of men, just as good as you are, have had to leave their homes and business entirely for the purpose of fighting battles in which you are as much interested as they. The least you can do is to help out with a little of the money you have been permitted to earn. The War Welfare drive starts on the 11th. Pennington county is expected to raise $17,500. Your share is, of course, whatever you think it should be. We will all be expected to dig down rather deep, perhaps, but it is all for the boys over there.

Whatever else you may overlook, do not fail to vote "YES" on the little pink ballot. By doing so you will help make Minnesota a better state in which to live and bring national prohibition just that much nearer. Remember that a failure to vote on this proposition is equivalent to voting "No." Let nothing interfere to make you forget this moral duty.

"IN HOC SIGNO VINCES"

(By This Sign Thou Shalt Conquer)

by A. P. Johnson (Editor Grand Rapids, Mich. News.)

We stand today on the threshold of a great reform. We are facing a new dawn, a new day.

That reform is the triumph of temperance. The new dawn is Prohibition. The new day, Sobriety.

You ask how I shall vote and why.

I shall vote for Prohibition because underlying its tenets are the happiness of my fellow men, the welfare of society, the betterment of the world.

I shall vote for Prohibition as a protection to everything I hold near and dear, as a safeguard to all that I love and as an appeal to its helping hand when mine shall have withered away.

I shall vote for Prohibition in Michigan as contributory to its adoption by my country. I shall hold fast to the thought that right must prevail, that drink is wrong. I shall set aside all contrary self-interests, friendships and associations and cling firmly to the inevitable truth that the world will be better when drink is doomed.

I shall vote for Prohibition in the exercise of my sacred duty as a self-governing individual, as a tribute to my enfranchisement and as a humble offering to the Master Builder who has permitted me to share in so divine a heritage.

I shall vote for Prohibition to avenge the toll that drink has exacted from its innocent victims. I shall vote for the widows, the orphans made destitute through the ravage of intoxication, and those for whom I would shed my own blood could it but ease the pain, the suffering and the anguish it has brought them.

I shall invoke, through my vote, a law that will help the weak win their battle. I shall exercise my franchise to accomplish that which prayers and supplications have failed to do. I shall vote to stem an evil that scorns respect, shirks duty and "takes off the rose from the fair forehead of an innocent love and sets a blister there."

I shall vote for the boys and girls, my children and their children. I shall vote for the young man who falls by the wayside—who cannot say no. I shall vote a better environment for the young woman who wants to live right and go straight, but whose path is made perilous by drink.

I shall vote for industry, for thrift and for self-respect. I shall vote for the worker, the toiler, that in time he may see the fruits of his labors and live as becomes his worth. I shall vote for better homes, better health and longer life. I shall vote for the restoration to its rightful owners of all that drink has contiscated—for the return of happine[illegible] and human faith.

That Prohibition will conquer i[illegible] fixed as are the stars in the f[illegible] ment. Temperance will prevai[illegible] the survival of truth, and with i[illegible] come the economic reward which has followed right thinking since man began.

America has always recognized the right as against the wrong. We are the logical people to lead all reform conducive to betterment. Our country, your country, my country, is destined always to go right, and we are the makers of its destiny.

Turn down your glass and cut the ties.

Let your vote be a toast to a vanishing evil—a welcome to its doom.

We bear the cup no ill will. Many a time has it been raised to a noble cause and drained by noble men.

But you must go, old comrade. You have made the world no better. You have cheered, but your cheer has chilled our hearts and blurred our vision. You have given hope, but your hope was false. You have given life, but your life was a lingering death.

For thousands of years we have tried you, but not once have you stood the test. Your philosophy is as empty as were the brazen images which men forsook to worship God. The sorrows we have drowned in your shallow pool have mocked us when you were not near to deceive our mind and beguile our path.

The hopes you enkindle today vanish with the sordid reality of the morrow. Your sunshine has been devoid of life, there are no stars in your night. Yours is a pale, lifeless glare enveloped in eternal gloom.

When the new day is at its zenith, you will be among the memories of a dark and ignorant past. You will be classed with the pagan altars upon which were sacrificed human blood and human lives. Your cheer will be as forgotten as are the fallen leaves in springtime, and the only epitaph that will mark your time will be the scars you left in our hearts. The world will forget you as you have so often forgotten those who fell beneath your blows.

Your passing will be the greatest blessing we have known since Christ. You have had your day and we bid you ne'er to return, for we have come to the parting of the ways. We bear you no hatred, for we tolerated you as a weak society truckles to a strong foe, and we welcome the day when temperance will be emblazoned before us as was the sacred cross before the ancient Constantine, and we can say one and in accord, "In Hoc Signo Vinces."

A vote for Prohibition is a vote for human progress.

Notice to Farmers

The War Industries Board at Washington, fully realizing that food production and conservation must not be curtailed by lack of proper buildings on the farm, has recently ruled that—

No permit will be required for new construction for farm purposes involving in the aggregate a cost not exceeding $1,000, nor for repairs or extensions to existing buildings involving in the aggregate a cost not exceeding $2,500.

New construction, costing more than $1,000 and essential to efficient farm management or increased farm production, may proceed by securing a building permit from the proper state authority.

The Government requests that skilled labor be used only where absolutely necessary—that, wherever possible the work be done by the farmer and his own help—and that no new work be done except where absolutely needed.

We have pledged our support to the Government in the observance of the above ruling. But we want to urge upon every farmer that the first consideration is increased food production and conservation.

If a new building is needed to store grain or house hogs or stock so that food and feed will not be wasted, that building is a legitimate part of the war program.

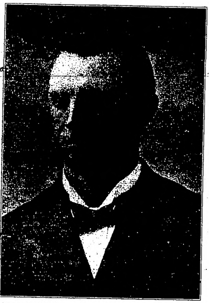
E. A. MOSTUE

Candidate For Re-election as

Superintendent of Schools

Pennington County

Election November 5' 1918



PROGRAM FOR THE RURAL SCHOOLS

For years the Course of Study for the rural schools has been out of print. Only the last two years have the schools had the access to the excellent new Course of Study edited by Miss Theda Gildemeister, Teacher of Methods, State Normal School, Winona, Minn.

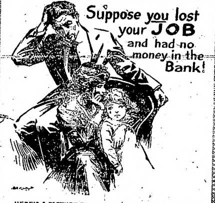
This Course of Study has been the subject of consideration at conferences between the State Department of Education and the county superintendents, as well as at the Summer Training Schools and Institutes, with a view of amplifying it to the Rural [illegible]ions. The amplification of this course must necessarily lie at the basis of all progress in school work for the future. More so, because the teachers must be trained in order to advance the schools along the lines laid down therein.

Our schools have done well. Last year we had our first county graduation, graduating twenty-eight pupils from the eighth grade. Diplomas were issued to these pupils upon passing the High School Board Examinations obtaining a standing of 65. Pass to 75. Pass Plus, or better.

School clubs and community work has been encouraged. As much of it, as is practical, will be given room in the rural school curriculum, but to take up all the phases of the work as stated by the National Bureau of Education and the Extention Department of the University is an impossibility. It would keep our teachers on the swim and our schools in deep waters, educationally.

Your support and vote for re-election Nov. 5th, will be greatly appreciated.

Respectfully,
E. A. MOSTUE.



Suppose you lost your JOB and had no money in the Bank!

HERE'S A PICTURE FOR YOU THAT TELLS THE WHOLE STORY. AND IT HAPPENS.

IF HE HAD MONEY IN THE BANK NOW HE WOULDN'T BE SO DISCOURAGED. IT WOULD CARRY HIM OVER UNTIL HE GOT ANOTHER JOB—OR IT MIGHT SET HIM UP IN SOME LITTLE BUSINESS. IT MIGHT DO A LOT OF THINGS; THAT'S WHAT IT IS FOR.

YOU SHOULD START AN ACCOUNT IN OUR BANK AND HAVE NO FEAR OF THE FUTURE.

WE ADD 5 PER CENT INTEREST.

COME TO OUR BANK.

Standers, Walkers, "Gets-It" for Corns

World Has Never Known Its Equal.

"What will get rid of my corn?" The answer has been made by millions—there's only one corn-remover that you can bank on, that's absolutely certain, that makes any corn on earth peel right off like a banana skin—and that's magic "Gets-It." Tight shoes and dancing even when you have a corn need not disturb you if you apply a few drops of "Gets-It" on the corn or callus. You want a corn-peeler, not a corn-fooler. You don't have to fool with corns—you peel them right off with your fingers by using "Gets-It." Cutting makes corns grow and bleed. Why use irritating salves or make a bundle of your toe with tape or bandages? Why putter and still have the corn? Use "Gets-It"—your corn-pain is over, the corn is a "goner" sure as the sun rises. "Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'f'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Thief River Falls and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by J. P. Curtis.

Offers to Help.

Several business men of the city have already offered to contribute advertising space for the purpose of getting the War Welfare Drive properly put before the people. In order that the need for this money may be clearly understood it is necessary that a campaign of education be carried on for a time previous to the opening of the campaign, and no one realizes this more than our business men. One of the first offers comes from the Thief River Grocery company, Secretary F. H. Herrick replying to a circular sent by Chairman Gustafson as follows:

"We have your circular regarding the campaign to raise $170,000,000 in the United States for the Allied War Welfare organizations during the week of November 11 to 18 and we will gladly donate a share of our newspaper advertising space directly to this cause as per your request."

Should Wear Masks.

Word was received by Secretary Scott Laird of the Red Cross yesterday from Northern Division headquarters that the epidemic of influenza has not decreased to any extent and that the calls for Red Cross supplies keep coming in in such numbers that work rooms are asked to remain open, and calling on all workers who go to these rooms everywhere to wear one of the special masks at all times while in the room working.

Obituary

Almond L. Shields.

Almond L. Shields died in this city Sunday morning, death resulting from asthma with which disease he had been afflicted for years.

"Dad" Shields, as he was known by practically every resident of the city, made his home here for the past fifteen years. He had no relatives in this part of the country and lived by himself, taking things as they came in a matter of fact way. His life here was in many respects a sorrowful one. He scorned anything that savored on charity and always insisted on doing what he could to earn a living. He was a prominent figure with the Salvation Army for years and took an active part in the work of that organization.

The only known relative is a daughter, Mrs. Alice Chard, whose home is in Chicago. She has been communicated with and word is expected from her today as to what disposition to make of the remains.

John H. Dunrud.

John H. Dunrud passed away at the hospital in this city Oct. 28 after an illness of nearly three weeks, typhoid fever being the cause of death. Deceased was born Feb. 28, 1890. The remains were taken to Gully, where the funeral was held and interment made.

Georgette Grace.

Georgette Grace died Oct. 28 at the home of H. K. Strand, pneumonia being the cause of death. The little girl was seven months and eleven days old, and was the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Grace of Ardock, N. D. The funeral will be held today and interment made in Greenwood cemetery.

John Bornquist.

John Bornquist, 89 years of age, died Monday morning at the Physicians hospital from complications due to his advanced age. Deceased was the father of Mrs. W. J. Myer of Sanders township and had been making his home with the family of his daughter for some time previous to his death. He will be buried at the Greenwood cemetery this afternoon.

Lydia Dahl.

Lydia Dahl died at the Ole Odegaard home at Hazel Friday morning after a week's illness from influenza. Deceased was born in Grant county Dec. 24, 1886, and was the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Dahl. Besides her parents she is survived by seven sisters and four brothers. The remains were interred in St. Paul's cemetery Saturday afternoon.

Calmer Salvains Rue.

Calmer Salvains Rue passed away Saturday morning at the hospital after an illness of two days. His death was caused by pneumonia.

Calmer Rue was born at Greenbush on Nov. 10, 1906, and he was thus 12 years, 11 months and 16 days of age at the time of his death. Mr. and Mrs. Sander Rue took the body to their home at Greenbush on Saturday evening and the funeral was held from that place.

Ellen Forsberg.

Ellen Forsberg passed away Friday afternoon at the home of Carl Sanderson after an illness of one week. Her death was caused by influenza.

Ellen Forsberg was born at Viking May 3, 1892. She was 26 years, 6 months and 22 days old at the time of her death. Besides her mother, Mr. and Mrs. Manthei Forsberg, she leaves two sisters and one brother. The funeral was held from her home on Saturday.

Mrs. Ole Snustad.

Mrs. Esther Snustad, 23 years of age, wife of Ole Snustad, died at 2:30 o'clock this morning from pneumonia, following an attack of Spanish influenza.

Deceased has been a resident of Thief River Falls since May, 1917, when she came here as a bride. Besides her husband she is survived by a baby boy one month old. Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed but it will probably be held Friday afternoon, interment being at Greenwood cemetery.

Joseph Piprow.

Joseph Piprow passed away at his home in Towner, N. D., last Friday, death resulting after an illness of four days from pneumonia.

Mr. Piprow was well known in this city, having resided here while in the employ of M. Anderson & Sons at their garage. While a resident of this city he was united in marriage to Miss Addie Cling, daughter of Erick Cling. He was born May 1, 1891 and was 27 years, 5 months and 24 days old at the time of his death. He leaves a wife and little four year old son to mourn his loss.

The remains were brought to this city for burial Monday, services being conducted from the Larson undertaking parlors under the auspices of the Masonic lodge of this city.

Shop and Railroad News

New Express Rates—New express rates involving average increases of about 10 per cent, applied mainly on short hauls, will be initiated shortly by the American Railway Express company, with the approval of Director General McAdoo, to raise $24,000,000 added revenue, half of which will go to the express company to meet contemplated wage advances and the other half to the railroads for transporting express matter.

The First Consolidation—G. R. Geeslin is the first joint agent of the Great Northern and Soo roads. He is stationed at Lansford, N. D., at which place the two roads will use the same depot hereafter or until the roads are turned back to the former owners. This is the first station at which the consolidation has been effected but a similar move is contemplated in several other localities.

Influenza Situation Improved—But three Soo agents are off duty this week because of influenza. This is the smallest number reported since the disease went on a rampage and indicates that it is being stamped out. In the mechanical department the loss of man power is also very small, Roundhouse Foreman Farley reporting but one man now absent on account of the disease.

Embargo on All Grain—No grain can be shipped to either Minneapolis or the head of the lakes without a permit from the grain control board. The order has been in effect against wheat for some time, but this week it was extended so as to include all kinds of grain, even flax seed. The movement is consequently somewhat light for this time of year although shipments are regular. It is impossible to tell how soon the terminals will be sufficiently cleared to permit of the grain being sent without any regulation. The closing of navigation on Dec. 1 is liable to complicate matters even still more.

Women Coach Cleaners—Foreman G. J. Conklin of the car department is about to try a new plan. He will soon have a crew of three or four women on the job as coach cleaners, they being the pioneers as far as this division is concerned. They will undertake only the inside work and receive the same pay as men—37½ cents per hour with time and a half for Sundays. Railroads all over the country have been putting women at this work because of the scarcity of men.

Division Notes.

B. Bergston has been put on as night operator at Alexandria, vice M. L. Halverson, transferred to Bisbee, where he will act as agent until the return of the regular man, R. A. Carter, who is down with the flu.

John Thamet, custodian at Bijou, has been called to his former home on account of the death of a sister.

Clifford M. Teigen, warehouseman at Detroit, has been drafted into the service and left to assume his duties on the 24th.

Henry Jensen resumed work as warehouseman at Fordville on Saturday after a siege of the flu.

E. H. Gulden has resumed his post as agent at Conway, relieving L. M. Roderick, who will go to Fillmore to relieve M. F. Howe. The latter will return to his regular job as night operator at Detroit.

Peter Stevens, who worked for the Soo here as brakeman for some years but who has lately been stationed at Hequim, Wash., was this week called to Forada, Minn., by the death of his mother, sister and brother from the Spanish influenza.

Superintendent W. A. Barnard left Monday for Minneapolis on business.

J. H. Durkee, operator at the general offices of the Soo, was at Gonvick on Tuesday acting as dispatcher for the crew in charge of wrecking operations.

Ole Sinstad, car repairer, has resigned his position and will go to farming.

Miss Lena Robertson, clerk in the yard office, is taking a lay-off because of the illness of her mother and brother.

John Kasa, car man, who has been laid up for three weeks with rheumatism, is slowly improving but as yet unable to get back on the job.

O. R. Stavenau, agent at Green, returned home Friday from Southam, where he went to relieve Agent W. E. Bens, who had a tussle with the flu for a couple of weeks.

John Rud, car man, is at the hospital at Warren undergoing an operation for a minor ailment. C. A. Jostyn of the same department also went to Warren for the purpose of consulting a doctor.

Percy Lamb, fireman, is back on the job after having been laid up with influenza for about a week.

Mrs. Harry McGuire and son arrived this week from Bemidji to join Mr. McGuire, who is a machinist at the Soo roundhouse. The family will remain here for about a month after which they will go south, Mr. McGuire being subject to rheumatism during the winter in this northern climate.

Alfred O. Anderson, car inspector, made a short visit to Federal Dam this week.

Ingvald H. Fossum, storekeeper at the roundhouse, put in a couple of days hunting near Bemidji this week.

Engineer John Sagvold returned this week from St. Paul, where he had been under medical treatment for a short time.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT TO G. N. FIREMAN

FRED BRENDICKE HAS ANKLE CRUSHED IN YARDS HERE.

Fred Brendicke, a fireman on the Great Northern freight train running between this city and Warroad, slipped and fell under the wheels of the tender of his train in the yards here on Thursday, the leg being so badly crushed as to make amputation necessary.

The train was just pulling out of the station and Brendicke descended from the cab to straighten out some slight difficulty in the brake apparatus. A light flurry of snow falling just previously had made everything slippery and as he went to board the engine he was thrown in such manner that one foot was caught under the wheels of the tender. The train was barely moving and was stopped when but one wheel had passed over him. He was taken to the Physician's hospital where is was found that amputation would be necessary.

Brendicke is 36 years of age and has been a fireman for 13 years. His home is at Crookston where his wife and mother reside.

To The Voters of Pennington County

PERTINENT FACTS IN REGARD TO RENEWAL OF CERTIFICATES AND REPLY TO MR. GEO. M. GUNDERSON'S LAST STATEMENT:

Applications for certificates or for renewals must be made to the Department of Education through the office of the County Superintendent and must be endorsed by him.

The following are quotations from "Bulletin No. 46" which contains Rules Relating to Common School Certificates:

Standing Required.

"17.—The Minimum Mark upon examination in each subject for a second class or for a limited certificate is 65. For a first-class, the minimum mark in each subject is 75. To receive any one of the three kinds of certificates, applicants are required to secure the minimum mark in every subject.

A mark in either a first or a second class subject must be 75 to be acceptable for future credit.

For the renewal of an old certificate, a new examination must be taken in any subject marked below 75.

Renewals.

"(b)—A second class common school certificate on which no subject is marked below 75 is, upon recommendation of the county superintendent, renewable for two years, if its holder has taught at least eight months of the time for which it was originally issued. The application for renewal must state that the applicant has shown progress by attending teachers' meetings, institutes, or training schools, and by educational reading. Two reading circle certificates are necessary for the renewal of the second class certificate, both of which must have been obtained for study of the books prescribed by the Reading Circle Board during the life of such second class certificate.

"A Limited Certificate can be exchanged for a Complete Second Grade on presentation of one Reading Circle Certificate after the applicant has taught five months.

From Other States.

"Marks of 75 from Kansas, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota, Colorado, Utah, Missouri, and marks of 80 from Iowa, Oregon and Washington on first class certificates obtained in uniform state teachers' examinations, will be accepted in lieu of examination toward a certificate, provided the applicant has had the prescribed course of professional training required by the law of this state or 18 months' teaching experience prior to Aug. 1, 1915.

"Certificates or marks from other states will not be endorsed for Minnesota use after Aug. 1, 1915, unless the applicant has had the required course in professional training. An official statement as to the experience or professional training must accompany the certificate."

These are the rules that govern the actions of your county superintendent in indorsing any certificate issued by the State Department of Education, or applications for renewals. There is no discretionary power vested in the county superintendent in virtue of which the action of the Department of Education can be influenced except by indorsement as governed by the rules of said Bulletin No. 46.

According to these rules the certificate of my worthy opponent was indorsed as his credits and credentials were presented from North Dakota, and according to them, the limited certificate he held, 1915, would have been exchanged or extended if it had been presented.

In answr to Mr. Gunderson's last appeal to the voter, I have this to say: If his certificate from North Dakota had been a first class one, it would have been accepted by the Department, as may be scanned by the rules given above, and Mr. Gunderson was so informed. So permission was granted to teach the school until exams could be taken in February, 1914. At that time Mr. Gunderson submitted to examinations with the result cited in his academic standing on his certificate. He received a LIMITED CERTIFICATE good for one year and which could be exchanged for a Complete Second if the conditions were met. My worthy opponent did not meet the requirements up to 1915; for the school year 1915-1916 the certificate was, upon application by Mr. Gunderson, and upon recommendation of the county superintendent, extended to cover that year. See back of certificate. Are these valid reasons, Mr. Gunderson?

My worthy opponent cites the correspondence in regard to the school work for this year. He seems to be still possessed with the idea that the North Dakota system, in vogue many years ago, is the controlling idea in the affairs of the county superintendent of schools here. I have nothing to say to his quotation in the matter excepting this, that he failed to relieve himself from a predicament by planning for the summer school work to which I called his attention. I am well informed in stating that he made no attempt to get a release from jury duty. He would have had one if he had applied.

As to the quoted remarks, let me remind you: You remember when you appeared one morning in this office with a collection of elegant samples of handwriting in which you took particular pleasure in displaying to me. You remember also that you asked me whether or not I would be a candidate for re-election. Upon receiving an affirmative answer, you stated that you had been asked to become a candidate; that inasmuch as three others had been mentioned, you did not know for sure whether or not you would become a candidate. The remarks quoted were the very introduction to that conversation. Do you remember?

In reply to your wailing in regard to being at my mercy while in office, let me assure you that as long as you hold a valid certificate, or any effort you make to get one or make renewals, you may rest assured that all the courtesy of this office is at your disposal. But in your efforts so far you have butted up against the fixed rules of the Department of Education which were strictly enforced. Such discretionary powers as I have, have all been wielded in your favor as it has been in a great number of other cases. Any certificate, good in any other county, is good here when recorded, and vice versa. No school can be taught without the teacher holding a legal certificate. Either your papers were not accepted by the Department of Education, or after having received them through proper exams, you did not renew them according to rules stated, or they were out of force. In any event you started this fray about educational qualification by misquoting official documents and have not established the point in controversy. Rather have taken an "immunity bath" by referring it to the legal department away from the Department of Education. I can't and won't follow. You have furnished the text and if the sermon is not to your liking, I can not help it very well.

I had forgotten the instance in Dist. No. 28, but am amused to know how near I was to a legal battle. If you were discreet in the matter you would not have mentioned the fact. Let me state my view of the affair. You, Mr. Gunderson, and Mr. Kjonme, County attorney, called at this office and asked me to institute proceedings for non-attendance on the part of the children of a school patron. The children had stayed out of school for three days prior to the closing day of the school and you wanted to institute proceedings for fining said party THREE DAYS AFTER THE SCHOOL HAD CLOSED. You were talking to the county attorney and I listened. When appealed to, I asked what good such proceedings would do after school was closed and no attendance could be enforced. I stated further that it was not a case of compulsory attendance of pupils, but one of school discipline and asked what you could do if the defendant cited you to show cause why your certificate should not be revoked. I also stated that there was but one member of the school board present when you affirmed that you represented the part of the board absent. It is well not to have too many irons in the fire. You may burn some of them.

You remember, do you not, that I offered to do this: To go with the county attorney and yourself and call the school board and the party complained of, and see what could be done to set things right. As the matter was laid before the county attorney it was up to him, but he saw the matter in a new light and so had no time. It would have been a nice legal merry-go-round in that excellent neighborhood to have such proceedings started, would it not? Have you found any district where the teacher has "balled up" matters as you have? I consider that the school was benefited by being protected from injudicious action.

As for my educational qualifications, they have been stated. However, as you do not know, let me say that I am a graduate of the St. Cloud Normal School and the Red Wing Seminary and I hold a State Professional Certificate.

The undersigned has no apology to offer for the self attestation criticized by my opponent. I have this confidence in my work, grown into it by almost continuous work in the schools for a long period of years, in a way similar to that of my worthy opponent in qualifying himself for agriculture and farming through his work and experiences. The child is a greater problem to me today than ever before and the problem of the school is more complicated than ever.

I have faith in the good judgment of the citizen voters and submit to their intelligence and fair play. The vote and support of the honorable school patrons and the citizen voter is respectfully solicited.

Respectfully,
E. A. MOSTUE.

GOLD

for manufacturing purposes has been limited by the government. This may effect still further both price and quality of spectacle frames and mountings. See Dr. Spofford Nov. 21 and get an extra pair of glasses and be prepared.

Meeting Postponed.

The regular monthly meeting of the Pennington County Red Cross scheduled for next Monday evening will not be held this month on account of the danger of influenza. However, the directors will hold a short meeting in the Commercial club rooms at the regular hour for the transaction of such business as may happen to come before the board.

Making Face Masks.

Face masks for protection against the influenza have been made by the local chapter of the Red Cross to the number of 300 during the past two weeks by the surgical dressings department of the chapter, under advices of the Northern Division and requests of the local board of health. These masks are now quite generally being worn in such places as danger might generally lurk.

Plenty of Coal in State.

Minnesota has twenty weeks' supply of bituminous on hand and is assured of its complete allotment for the winter, as shipments to Duluth are moving forward on schedule, Dr. Harry A. Garfield, fuel administrator, announces. The Gopher state's quota of hard coal has been distributed or is enroute, he said.

WHEN THE WAR IS OVER

There will be a great demand for livestock of all kinds, and especially dairy cows. Carl Vrooman, assistant secretary of agriculture, has the following to say about the future of dairying:

"When the war is finished we will find the world with a demand for dairy products twofold, fourfold, tenfold greater than the supply. Europe will come to us with outstretched hands and say to us: 'we must have milk; give us canned milk; give us dry milk; give us butter; give us cheese; give us dairy cattle; give us animals to build up our dairy herds again.'

Unless America has stimulated the production of dairy products and increased our supply of dairy animals far beyond anything in the past, we shall be utterly unable to supply the demand."

The remains of Mrs. Leonard Nelson, who prior to her marriage was Miss Emma Lindahl, of this village, were brought here from Dakota early last week and interred in the Swedish cemetery. Death was caused by an attack of influenza, which developed into pneumonia. Besides her husband and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nels Lindahl of this village, the deceased is survived by several brothers and sisters, who reside at various places. A large circle of friends extend sympathy to the sorrowing family.

Misses Mabel and Ann Patterson returned early last week from Ely, this state, at which place they teach in the public schools. The enforced vacation is due to the closing of the schools during the epidemic of influenza.

Dahl are in receipt of a letter from their son, Andy, who has recently completed a course in wireless telegraphy, stating that he has lately been appointed instructor in wireless telegraphy in the school at Missoula, Mont., which is one of the places designated by the government for the training of its enlisted men in that branch of the service.

Brink received the startling news Saturday that their son, George, who had entrained for a military camp the previous Wednesday, had become so ill with appendicitis while enroute that an operation was regarded as necessary. The message was sent from Jefferson Barracks, Mo. About the same time they were informed that another son, Elmer, who is at Camp Lewis, Wash., is having a siege of pneumonia. With three sons already on the battle fields of Europe and the added anxieties about their sons in the training camps in this country, it seems that their burden of worries is well nigh overwhelming.

While the death of Mrs. Chas. Hoppe, which occurred Saturday, was not wholly unexpected, her untimely departure cast a shadow of gloom over all who knew her. Blood poison was brought on by a complication of other troubles and caused her death. She suffered intensely but through it all displayed the utmost courage and cheerfulness. The deceased was a devoted and loving wife and mother and a friend whom all who knew her liked and admired. She was about 35 years of age and it seemed rather pitiful that so young a woman should be taken from her family. During the last three weeks of her illness she was tenderly cared for at the J. G. Wilson home. Though loving friends did much to ease and comfort her during her terrible struggle with death, it was beyond human power to save her life. Funeral services were conducted Monday by Rev. Seltz of Thief River Falls. Owing to the inadvisability of large assemblages during the influenza epidemic the funeral was private and most of the service read at the cemetery. The deceased is survived by her grief-stricken husband, nine children and other relatives, to all of whom the community extends heartfelt sympathy.

Vote For
GEO. M. GUNDERSON
For Co. Supt. of Schools
He is Legally Qualified, Otherwise He Could Not Have Filed

To the Voters of Pennington County:

Allow me to make the following statement in answer to my worthy opponents charges as to non-qualifications:

Upon commencing teaching in this county I applied to Mr. Mostue to endorse my North Dakota certificate which he flatly refused to do. Being asked time and time again to teach in my own home district, the only thing for me to do was to take the state examination which I had not done for 8 years as it was not a necessity. Regardless of this fact I passed for a second grade certificate which you can see by Mostue's literature.

In regards to the academic standings being omitted on my former literature I have this to say: My honorable opponent has tried to make the voters believe I have only taught on a permit since entering upon my duties as teacher in this county. I have never taught on a permit in all my teaching experience and to prove this I issued the campaign card referred to. As to the academic standings I have the following to submit from the state of North Dakota, Department of Public Instruction: READING, 85; GEOGRAPHY, 90; WRITING, 85; U. S. HISTORY, 93; ORTHOGRAPHY, 82; ARITHMETIC, 80; LANGUAGE AND GRAMMAR, 80; CIVIL GOVERNMENT, 95; THEORY AND PRACTICE, 87.

At the time of teaching my second term of school in this county, the school board of Dist. No. 28, Mr. Kjomme, county attorney, and myself called at Mr. Mostue's office to learn whether he would use his power to make a complaint in a very bad case of non-attendance. MR. MOSTUE REFUSED WITHOUT ANY VALID REASONS. Mr. Kjomme impressed upon him the necessity of his taking action in this particular case as it would set an example and cause other delinquents to take notice, but MR. MOSTUE FAILED TO TAKE ANY ACTION. IS THIS TO THE BEST INTERESTS OF THE SCHOOLS? I leave it to the voters.

Following this event I was asked by one of the directors to write the attorney general and get his opinion in the matter. Here it is:

St. Paul, Nov. 28, 1916.

Geo. M. Gunderson, Esq.,
Thief River Falls, Minn.

Dear Sir: Your favor of Nov. 21st, addressed to Attorney-General Lyndon A. Smith, is before me for attention. I call your attention to Sections 227 and 229 of the compiled school Laws of the State of Minnesota. These Sections are too long to quote in their entirety, but from an examination of them you will find what the duty of the county superintendent is under the compulsory education law and also observe that a county superintendent who refuses or willfullly neglects to perform his duty under that law is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Yours truly,
CLIFFORD L. HILTON, Assistant Att'y. Gen.

Upon the strength of this reply one of the school officers of Dist. No. 28 wanted me to write the heading to a petition for the removal of Mr. Mostue from office and offered to circulate it. I told him I had had trouble enough and would not teach under Mr. Mostue's supervision any more, and the matter was dropped.

The next year I was asked to teach the same school at an advance in salary but I informed the board I was not able to teach a school without pupils or a poor attendance.

The school board of Dist. No. 31 asked me to teach their school the same year. I made them aware of the fact that my certificate was not in force for Pennington county. It was re-recorded for Marshall and applied there. AFTER EXHAUSTING ALL POSSIBLE EXCUSES AND FINDING NO EXCUSE, MR. MOSTUE FINALLY RECORDED IT.

In regard to attending institutes, here is an example: On May 17, 1918, I received a summons by registered mail to attend as a juror on the June term of court in Pennington county. On June 8, 1918, I received a registered letter from Mr. Mostue to attend a teachers' institute. My worthy opponent thought he had me roped in. But here is the outcome of the affair. I could not obtain an excuse from jury service and sent both letters to the State Department of Education. It replied in part: "Accordingly you will be required to attend summer school unless it appears you cannot be excused from jury duty. Should you not attend summer school we cannot promise to renew or extend your certificate except on the recommendation of the county superintendent."

Now I have not applied to Mr. Mostue for a renewal and you voters see the reason.

As to the statement supposed to have been made by me in Mr. Mostue's office will say, I HAVE NOT ENTERED HIS OFFICE SINCE I FILED AND I CHALLENGE HIM TO PROVE THE CORRECTNESS OF HIS STATEMENT. NOW THE VOTERS MUST UNDERSTAND, AS LONG AS MR. MOSTUE IS IN OFFICE I AM AT HIS MERCY SO FAR AS CERTIFICATION FOR PENNINGTON COUNTY IS CONCERNED, BECAUSE I DID NOT PLEASE HIM IN THE PROCEEDURE REGARDING THE CASE OF COMPULSORY ATTENDANCE. He even refuses to let me teach in Pennington county.

NOW, MR. MOSTUE, WHAT ARE YOUR QUALIFICATIONS? Why do you not state them as an answer to your question: "Can the superintendent be less qualified than the teachers whose work he is to direct and supervise?" Mr. Mostue has been in office so long that the voters can nearly judge for themselves what his qualifications are. Results speak louder than words. Part of his record is shown up here and I believe if the voters go further into the matter they will find more of a similar character.

By a careful study of the phamplet Mr. Mostue has had published, you will note he refers to his own qualifications in the following manner: "THE UNDERSIGNED HAS QUALIFIED FOR THE SERVICE BY DEDICATING HIS TIME AND ENERGY TO THE RURAL SCHOOL WORK." IT APPEARS BY THIS STATEMENT THAT MY HONORABLE OPPONENT HAS FOR OVER TWO TERMS OF OFFICE BEEN BUSY AT QUALIFYING HIMSELF FOR THE OFFICE. Further: "I TRUST MY WORK IN THE COUNTY HAS DEMONSTRATED THIS FACT." I agree with you Mr. Mostue, but I do not believe the voters want a man like that in office. AT LEAST, NEARLY A HUNDRED OF THE VOTERS HAVE DEMONSTRATED THE FACT BY SENDING ME A WRITTEN PETITION TO FILE.

Hoping this will remove all doubts and settle the qualifiaction question, I ask for your vote and support in the coming election. Will say, I will devote my entire time and attention to the office, if elected.

Yours truly,
GEO. M. GUNDERSON.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

In announcing my candidacy for State Representative from the 65th District will say that I was born and grew to manhood on a Minnesota farm, and with the exception of seven years spent at college and eight years as Deputy Clerk of District Court of Polk county, when the present Red Lake and Pennington counties were a part thereof, I have all my life been associated with farming, and am therefore well acquainted with the needs of the District.

I believe the farmer the mainstay of the nation, and that anything that will contribute to the prosperity and well-being of the farmer will in a like degree contribute to the prosperity of all the people of the district, and if elected I shall give my hearty support to all measures tending to improve the conditions of the farmer and to make farming more profitable and desirable.

I favor such laws as will aid the farmer in the marketing of the commodities he has to sell to best advantage—laws that will prevent the middleman and the transportation companies from absorbing the profits justly due the farmer.

I favor laws that will equalize the taxburden and make the mine owners and the lumbering interests pay their just share of the taxes with the people of the agricultural sections.

I believe education is the foundation upon which our Government rests and favor such appropriations for school aid as will enable the school-work to be carried on most efficiently.

I favor State hail insurance on farm lands and also aid to hail sufferers in the way of county loans, when found necessary.

I favor the enlargement of the State machinery and twine plants at Stillwater so as to be able to supply the farmers of the State with the necessary machinery and twine at the lowest possible cost.

I believe in a square deal to all and if elected it shall be my sloe aim to live up to my oath of office by performing my duties impartially, conscientiously and faithfully.

With this end in view I respectfully solicit your vote and support on November 5th next.

MARTIN O. SORTEDAHL.

A Good Time To Repair Old Buildings or Put Up New Ones

This is the time of year when such things should be attended to. The work will not interfere with the ordinary run of farm labor and can thus be done at a lower cost than at any other time of the year.

MOYLAN

Here bloweth in a brand new correspondent. Please put on that thinking cap which has the attachment for overlooking errors.

Threshing is not quite finished in the town of Moylan. Mr. Cummins is half through with his job and Mr. Cast has not threshed any of his big job. On the other side are a few jobs left, among whom is Mr. Lund, who has several large settings of grain.

A farmer said the other day: "I can always repair the fences or cut a little wood."

Farmers are now trying to haul grain to town and woe to the one who doesn't toe the mark before Nov. 1.

Know where you are and keep up good and regular habits to keep the body in good phyhical condition, are the best preventives for the Spanish "Flu." So far as we know there is no case of the disease in Moylan.

Mr. and Mrs. Lamporter and daughter, Pearl, called at the Pete Wold place on Sunday afternoon.

Those who were splendidly entertained last Sunday by Mr. Skram were Mr. and Mrs. Kast and their little girl, Helen; Mr. and Mrs. Will Pittman and family; Frank Pittman, Mr. Tharaldson, and Mr. and Mrs. Cullen and family. A bounteous dinner, nice music and a good supper were had.

Mr. Girolot called on Mr. Cullen last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Cullen and family accompanied by Mr. Tharaldson, were out joyriding Sunday evening.

Tuesday, Nov. 5, is general election day. It is our duty and a great privilege. Jot down on a piece of paper, while you are at home, the names of the candidates you wish to vote for and thus avoid mistakes and waste of time at the polls.

Calderwood a Winner For U. S. Senate

Fight Between Well-Known Progressive and His "Old Guard" Reactionary Opponent

Wilson Administration and All Forward-Looking Groups in Minnesota Support Calderwood

OLD GUARD ATTEMPT TO AGAIN CONTROL THE SENATE

W. G. Calderwood

THE campaign for United States Senate in Minnesota presents an ideal situation. Two capable, honest, loyal men, both well known throughout the state, both of whom have given the best years of their lives to public service, are the only candidates. There is no third candidate representing a party-tag or a fanatical extreme or a questionable compromise policy. Nor is there any side issue to befog and becloud the judgment of the voters. Both men are intensely loyal and patriotic. The wet and dry question is eliminated because both men are dry. This leaves both wet and dry voters free to choose the man who will best represent them on the decisive issues. Nor does equal suffrage enter in the contest; for while Senator Nelson voted against suffrage in 1916, he joined the suffrage ranks in 1918.

But on questions involving conservation, labor, higher tariff, public ownership of railroads, initiative and referendum, and on similar issues, Senator Nelson has been consistently and emphatically reactionary.

Mr. Calderwood takes exactly the opposite stand. His years of public advocacy of measures demanded in his platform are the abundant guaranty of his honest devotion to them.

A comparison of Senator Nelson's record and Mr. Calderwood's platform will give a basis upon which every voter may intelligently cast his vote:

LABOR

NELSON'S RECORD	CALDERWOOD'S PLATFORM
Voted against the Adamson 8-hour bill, Sept. 2, 1918.	For maximum 8-hour day, with one day's rest each week.
Voted against Clayton bill, called "Labor's Magna Charta," Sept. 2, 1914.	For equal economic and industrial opportunity.
Voted for child-labor bill (a progressive and commendable vote).	For prohibition of child labor in mines, workshops and factories.
Voted against exempting labor and farm organizations from "combination-in-restraint-of-trade" prosecutions, May 7, 1913, and July 8, 1914.	For laws promoting just division of wealth, which labor and capital jointly produce.
Opposed employers' liability bill and tried to amend the bill unfavorably to labor.	For employers' liability, insurance against sickness, death and unemployment.
Voted against confirmation of the appointment of Brandeis, labor's friend, to Supreme Court.	Extension of labor bureau system.

TRUSTS AND BIG BUSINESS

NELSON'S RECORD	CALDERWOOD'S PLATFORM
Voted against anti-trust bill, September 2, and Oct. 5, 1914.	For anti-trust legislation.
Voted against extension of parcel post.	For postalization of telephones and telegraphs.
Voted against the government railroad in Alaska.
Voted against limiting railroad dividends.

CONSERVATION

NELSON'S RECORD	CALDERWOOD'S PLATFORM
Voted for the Shields waterpower grab, which would give the hydro-electric monopoly control of 50,000,000 water horse power.	Conservation of natural resources for all the people.
Voted to sell coal deposits to monopolies at $10 per acre.	For public ownership of mines. For conservation for all the people.
Helped whitewash Ballinger, in his attempt to give Morgan-Guggenheim group millions of coal and timber wealth.	For laying the burdens of taxation in proportion to the ability of each to pay; against the exemption of special classes of private wealth; stocks, bonds and corporate excess to pay same rate as other productive property.

ECONOMY

NELSON'S RECORD	CALDERWOOD'S PLATFORM
Has voted for pork barrel legislation and supported the spoils and patronage system.	For an executive budget, with pork, spoils and patronage eliminated.

AGRICULTURE

NELSON'S RECORD	CALDERWOOD'S PLATFORM
	Abolition of gambling in grain and farm produce.
	Agricultural development through loans to actual settlers; legislation making it unprofitable for speculators to hold "slacker land" out of cultivation.

Let it be understood that there is no intention of any criticism of Senator Nelson. He and his friends both believe that these votes were the right kind of votes. He is honestly proud of his record and if he is returned to congress will vote the same way every time the same questions come up and in every instance will be satisfied with and proud of his record on these issues.

While we believe in Senator Nelson's honesty and patriotism, we believe that he is much mistaken. His votes were votes that were not in the interest of the highest public good, and they represented a reactionary instead of a progressive attitude.

These policies of reconstruction are to come before congress during the next six years. This war will probably be ended in the next twelve months. Then comes the building of the new world from the wreckage of the old, and the man elected to the senate from the state of Minnesota this fall for a six-year term will have five years of that term to be devoted to reconstructive measures.

Don't vote for a political label or from habit or prejudice. Make your vote count for progressive reconstruction of the nation and the world.

For Supreme Court Justices

The Supreme Court of Minnesota as now constituted deservedly stands high in the estimation of the people of the State. The terms of a majority of the Justices expire this year. Chief Justice Calvin L. Brown and Associate Justices Andrew Holt and Oscar Hallam must be re-elected this fall, if the Court is to be continued as now constituted. It would be a great loss to the Court and to the State if all or any one of these men failed of re-election. Each is an able, experienced, impartial judge. Each has demonstrated, by many years of service, both on the District and Supreme bench, especial fitness and qualification for his present high position.

Both the Republican and Democratic parties, the latter through its State convention, the former by its State committee, have, without dissent, endorsed the present justices and pronounced in favor of their re-election.

We, lawyers, who collectively represent all classes of litigants and all sides of the questions coming before the Supreme Court, unhesitatingly pledge ourselves, and ask our clients and all the people of the State to vote to re-elect Chief Justice Calvin L. Brown and Associate Justices Andrew Holt and Oscar Hallam.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENT

(Prepared and circulated in his own behalf by Ove E. Berge, Thief River Falls, Minn., candidate for sheriff of Pennington county. A rate of 20c per column inch is to be paid for this advertisement.)

Having received the nomination for sheriff at the primary election, I take this means of soliciting the support of the voters at the general election, Nov. 5, 1918. If elected, I promise to devote my entire time and attention to the duties of the office.

16 BOYS FROM FOUR FAMILIES

RECORD OF PENNINGTON COUNTY BELIEVED UNIQUE IN NORTH MINNESOTA

REPRESENT ALL BRANCHES

AVIATORS, SOLDIERS, SAILORS AND ENGINEERS ARE IN THE LIST

There are between seven and eight hundred Pennington county men in one branch or another of Uncle Sam's fighting forces at the present time. This is a decidedly good showing for a county of not over 10,000 population. But there are other claims to distinction that are more interesting to record.

With the departure Wednesday of George Brink for Camp Cody the honor of heading the list of those who have the largest number of sons in the army went to Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Brink of St. Hilaire. This worthy couple now have five boys who are in the fighting ranks of their country and are wearing the active service uniform. It is doubtful if this record can be equalled by any family in northern Minnesota.

Two other families have four boys each in the service. Mr. and Mrs. W. I. McCrum of Smiley township, were the first to reach this number. Two of their sons are in the navy and two in the army, one being with the Canadians.

Julien Provencher, proprietor of the Evelyn hotel, also has four husky youngsters who have offered themselves as Hun hunters. Three of them are right up at the front in France and the fourth a short time ago joined the students class at the University of Minnesota where he has been assigned to the signal corps.

Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Bryant have three boys in the service, one with the aviation section, one a sailor and the other an engineer. These lads were among the first from the county to enlist and have been in active service for some time.

This makes 16 men furnished to the military establishment of Uncle Sam by four families in one of the smallest counties in the state.

Aged Farmer Fined.

F. L. Chauland, a farmer residing in Silverton township, was fined $25 and costs by Judge Grindeland at a special session of the district court last evening. Chauland failed to appear when subpoened by the Pennington County Safety commission to show cause why he should not subscribe for the amount of Liberty Bonds alloted to him.

Chauland is 71 years of age and has lived in the United States since he was 19. He pleaded inability to understand the meaning of the subpoena when it was served upon him but admitted that he could read it all right. In view of his age the court let him off with a fine instead of imposing a jail sentence.

Card of Thanks.

We wish hereby to extend to all those who assisted us during the burial of our son and brother, Casper G. Hanson, our most sincere thanks. Particularly are we grateful to Capt. Fuller and the home guard company of Thief River Falls for making the trip out to the graveyard and according to the remains of our relative a military escort, and for the beautiful floral offerings. o-31-p

Big Papers Kept Silent.

Editor Times: I am herewith enclosing a clipping from the St. Paul Daily News for which I would request space in your paper. The subject will, I believe, be of much interest to a large number of Times readers.

Thanking you for the space and trouble, I am, yours truly,

T. H. BJERKE.

("The following mail report from its Fargo correspondent reached the Daily News Saturday afternoon. No other St. Paul or Minneapolis paper has printed any part of this important conviction under the federal espionage act. The Daily News believes in printing the news, whether it happens to reflect creditably or discreditably on the Nonpartisan league.)

"Fargo, N. D., Oct. 17—A. W. McMaster, candidate for the state legislature in the June primary, today pleaded guilty to four counts under the federal espionage act, and was sentenced to three years in the federal penitentiary at Ft. Leavenworth.

"McMaster confessed in court that he wrote a letter to Lieut. William O'Leary, a North Dakota soldier with the American army in France, and to it signed the name of his opponent in the primary, the Nonpartisan league candidate, Girdell Patterson of Minot.

"The letter was so full of sedition the indictment to which he pleaded guilty covered four counts: (1) Obstructing recruiting; (2) using profane, scurrilous and abusive language about the United States army; (3) inciting resistance to the United States and promoting the enemy's cause, and (4) inciting insubordination and mutiny in the army.

"In open court McMaster said he knew his opponent to be a man of character and integrity. He said he wrote the letter to Lieut. O'Leary because he knew that O'Leary was opposed to the Nonpartisan league, through having seen a letter from O'Leary in the Fargo Forum attacking the league.

"He said he signed the league candidate's name to the letter so that it would get back to North Dakota and be made public, reflecting so discreditably on Patterson that he would be defeated.

"He said that it was his idea also to thus injure Gov. Frazier and other Nonpartisan league candidates. He said he thought he had a right to resort to forgery and falsehood because of the good he could accomplish in damaging the league."

He Favors Michelet.

Editor Times: Quite a lot has been written by your subscribers in favor of one candidate and another, but so far they have all left out the man who in my opinion is most entitled to their support. I refer to Wilhelm Michelet, candidate for judge of probate. Judge Michelet has been one of the best and most accommodating officers Pennington county ever had and is surely justified in asking the further support of the voters on his record.

Judge Michelet is known to practically every man and woman in the county, and while I do not wish to say anything against his opponent, I feel as if a big mistake would be made in putting this important office into the latter's hands at this time. The duties of a judge of probate are very important. He has the final say when it comes to administering wills and testaments and I for one would wish to leave my affairs in his hands rather than those of his opponent.

Judge Michelet has always been our friend. We have all called on him for advice and counsel many a time and he has never been too busy to give us the best to be had. To retire him now would be ungrateful to begin with and a big mistake from every point of view. Yours truly,

A SUBSCRIBER.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT

Prepared and ordered published by Martin O. Sortedahl, Red Lake Falls, candidate for representative. Amount to be paid, 30c per inch.

To the Voters of the 65th Legislative District:

Owing to the influenza epidemic, it will be impossible for me to make a canvass of the district as planned, so will try to reach you through the papers and give a few reasons why I hope to get your support and vote at the coming election. I am 52 years of age and have nearly all my life been associated with farming, so am well acquainted with the needs of the district.

My past record shows that I am in hearty accord with any movement tending to promote the welfare of the district.

I had stock in and helped along the Emardville creamery when in its infancy, I drove my team over thirty miles out into Equality township to help the then struggling farmers of that community to organize the Clearwater creamery, realizing as I did that with poor roads, little or no drainage and no nearer market than McIntosh, their only salvation was to go into stock raising and dairying. I donated $25.00 to help along the enterprise and did not even take stock for it, which goes to show that I was not actuated by any selfish motive and the only remuneration I got, and wanted, was the satisfaction of knowing that I had done a good act for the community and perhaps been the means of helping some poor farmer on to the right road to success. A prominent Equality farmer whom I recently met expressed himself in regard to same as follows: "I shall never forget what you did for us in helping get our creamery started. We had poor roads, far to market and hardly any ditches, and it actually saved many from leaving their farms. For us to go back on you now, knowing that you not only have the ability but also the right disposition to give us a just representation, and to vote for some young and inexperienced man, whom we know little or nothing about, and who has done absolutely nothing for us, would in my opinion be showing you the height of ingratitude, and be a great folly. So for my part I shall certainly vote for you, and no doubt most of the others around here will feel the same way."

I also helped organize the Wylie Farmers Elevator company, and the following resolution endorsing my candidacy, signed by many leading members, shows that they appreciate the help I rendered them. After citing the splendid success the association has enjoyed, it having been the means of savings its patrons hundreds of thousands of dollars, it continues as follows: "And whereas we recognize that our association to a great extent owes its existence to the untiring efforts of Mr. M. O. Sortedahl, who is at present a candidate for representative from this district, he having spent his time freely and invested his money to effect the organization of this company, and whereas we have learned to know him through his efforts in behalf of this association as a friend of the farmers, and being a farmer himself, and a man who has the interest of our district at heart; and being also a man of broad judgment and possessed of the necessary qualifications to creditably represent our district; Be it hereby resolved that we endorse Mr. Sortedahl's candidacy as representative from our district, recommend him to the voters and offer him our support. Ole G. Lilleboe (6 years director); C. E. Lindquist, secretary; Emil Larson (director for 10 years); T. P. Smidesang (manager for 6 years); Peter Hansel, Charles Kruese; H. Bergstrom (present manager), and others.

With very few exceptions, I believe every member would have signed said resolution had they been approached about it, which goes to show that I will have strong support from my home people and that should be a safe guide to go by for the people of the other counties of the district, who may not be personally acquainted with the candidates. I believe it true, as a prominent Pennington county farmer living near Higlanding aptly expressed it: "I have known Sortedahl for a good many years, and I know he is all right so shall of course vote for him, but even though I had not known him personally I should have voted for him anyway as long as he is wanted by his home people. I consider it only fair that as long as we elect the senator from our county the other two counties of the district are entitled to a representative each, and when Red Lake county has a candidate with the ability of Sortedahl and backed as he is by a record of active work in behalf of the farmer and for the benefit of the district, and want him, then I say it is the duty of the other counties of the district to support him."

I was also along organizing the Red River Valley Potato Growers association and am its present director from Red Lake county.

My record therefore shows that I have the welfare of the district at heart, and if elected will give the district a fair representation.

As to my qualifications, I believe my seven years at college, coupled with my eight years experience as deputy Clerk of Court of Polk county (when Pennington and Red Lake counties belonged to it) where court was in session nearly half the time, and where I constantly was in touch with the statute and legal matters of all kinds, have to some extent helped equip me for the performance of the duties of the office which I seek.

Respectfully submitted,
MARTIN O. SORTEDAHL.

DANIEL P. O'NEILL

Candidate for Re-election to the State Senate

SOME OF THE THINGS HE HAS ACCOMPLISHED WHILE A MEMBER OF THE LEGISLATURE, AND A PART OF HIS PRESENT PLATFORM

When O'Neill first went to the legislature Pennington county paid into the State Treasury $4,000 more than it was receiving. Now the people are drawing $17,734.73 more than they are paying in.

Pennington county has over $10,000 of back aid coming to its schools, which sum will undoubtedly be provided for at the next session.

Pennington county needs an appropriation for deepening the Red Lake river. Senator O'Neill has already begun on this work and stands a much better chance of getting it through than any new man could.

Pennington county must have added appropriations to continue the peat land experiments. Senator O'Neill is the father of the legislation making these experiments possible and has a better knowledge of the further requirements than any other man in the district.

There is no question as to his loyalty.

He wants a square deal for the soldier boys when they return.

Believes the state should help those who lost their homes by fire or their crops by hail. Is a strong advocate of state hail insurance.

He is entitled to re-election on his record. No man in Minnesota has been more conscientious or efficient in serving his district.

In the County.

The Republicans were generally successful in the elections of Tuesday throughout the country. In Minnesota the entire state ticket was elected, including all but two congressmen. Herman Mueller, candidate for clerk of the supreme court, concerning whose election there was some doubt, is now admitted to have pulled through with the rest.

One of the surprises of the election was the early strength shown by Fred Wheaton, Democratic candidate for governor. It was generally figured that the contest lay between Gov. J. A. A. Burnquist, Republican and David Evans, candidate of the Farmer-Labor party and placed on the ticket by petition. The Wheaton vote was found to lay mainly in the larger cities, however, and he fell behind when the country precincts began coming in.

Was Never in Doubt.

With the exception of the head of the ticket the result was not in doubt after the cities were heard from. A snow storm in some sections of the [illegible] made the returns late in arriving and at times it looked as if Evans might have carried the day. It was Wednesday evening before the question was definitely settled.

Calderwood and Evans.

Pennington county voters did not give their endorsement to the heads of the ticket. Calderwood ran ahead of Nelson for senator by about 250 votes, while Evans led Burnquist by nearly two to one. Wheaton received about 300 votes. Congressman Steenerson, who had no opponent, received approximately 1,500 votes, or about 100 less than the total cast for the senatorial candidates.

Amendment Probably Carried.

While the people have declared themselves as overwhelmingly in favor of a dry state there is still some doubt as to whether or not the amendment has carried. In Pennington county the vote was more than two to one in its favor but in some sections a neglect to vote on the proposition has placed it in jeopardy.

Congress Republican.

Indications are that the Republicans will have a working majority in the next congress, although the margin will be small. Minnesota will have two Democratic congressmen—Carl C. VanDyke in the Fourth and W. L. Carss in the Eighth. The election of the latter was one of the surprises of the contest, it being the general opinion that Clarence B. Miller would be returned without much opposition.

Naplin For Senator.

Oscar A. Naplin of Thief River Falls, was elected state senator from the Sixty-fifth district, composed of Pennington, Red Lake and Clearwater counties, defeating Daniel P. O'Neill, who was a candidate for re-election. Walter E. Day of Clearwater county, and Martin O. Sortedahl of Red Lake county, were elected to the lower house, the former having the endorsement of the Nonpartisan league, as did also Mr. Naplin.

Result in the County.

The voters expressed their preferences in the matter of county offices in a very decided manner. In most cases the majorities received by the successful candidates were sufficient to surprise even the most sanguine. There were exceptions to this rule, but as a general thing it held good.

T. P. Anderson, for auditor; W. J. LaBree, for sheriff and N. J. Anderson for register of deeds, were candidates for re-election and easy winners. John Gullingsrud, candidate against Bernhard Knutson for county treasurer, received the largest vote of any man on the ticket. This was the only office for which two new men were running. Theodore Quale, present city attorney, is winner for county attorney over E. M. Stanton, who is holding the office at present by appointment. Considerable interest centered in the outcome for superintendent of schools and judge of probate. For both these positions new men were chosen, Judge Wilhelm Michelet being defeated by Ira C. Richardson and Supt. E. A. Mostue by George M. Gunderson.

Two New Commissioners.

W. G. Hunt of Sunbeam, was elected county commissioner from the First district, defeating Peter C. Wold, present incumbent by about ten votes. In the Third district Gust Naplin of Polk Center township was elected over Hans Anton by a large majority. Oscar J. Peterson will continue to serve the Fifth district, having been chosen over his opponent J. M. Thiege by a substantial majority.

HELP KEEP YOUR SOLDIER SMILING

FOR WAR WELFARE WORK

COMMITTEE WILL TRY TO REACH QUOTA ON FIRST DAY OF DRIVE.

While every person in the United States may hope that the coming War Welfare campaign will be the last to which he will have to respond, no one should get the notion that this one is not so very important. The war situation during the past few days has turned so greatly in our favor that there is danger of some getting the idea that all is over and nothing now remains but to bring the boys back home. This is a mistake against which everyone in authority, including President Wilson, has issued a warning.

Need Greater Than Ever.

It is likely that actual fighting will soon be at an end. When that time arrives the need for the Welfare organizations will be greater than ever. The boys will have more time to themselves and will not be subject to the strict discipline employed under actual fighting conditions. The tension will be released and the tendency to make up for the lack of excitement will lead many to seek diversion through means of which the folks at home would most seriously disapprove. It is here that the Welfare organizations step in to save the boys. Amusement and employment will be provided. Competent men and women will see to it that safe and sane means of passing the time are at hand until the soldiers are on their way back to the United States —and this will not be for a long time yet for some of them. The need for the services of the Welfare organizations will be greater immediately after the war than at any time during its actual progress.

All Under One Head.

Instead of having seven different drives in order to raise funds for each of the accredited Welfare organizations in the field it has been decided to have but one campaign for all. The funds secured will be divided according to their representation among the men in the army and all will be treated alike by whichever one happens to be so situated as to furnish what is needed. This is right and proper. The soldiers are not fighting as Protestants or Catholics, Jews or Gentiles—they are all Americans and entitled in equal degree to consideration by the American people. The organizations are:

Young Men's Christian Association
Young Women's Christian Association.
National Catholic War Council
Jewish Welfare Board
American Library Association
War Camp Community Service
Salvation Army

Solicitors Appointed.

The campaign in Pennington county will be carried on under the leadership of C. David Gustafson for the men's division, and Mrs. J. M. Bishop for the women's. They have appointed committees for every ward and township in the county and the solicitors are ready to begin work on Monday morning. The teachers in our public schools will form a corps of solicitors to visit the places where women are mostly employed while the men will look after the business section.

The City Chairmen.

Those in charge of the work for the different organizations in the city are:

City of Thief River Falls—Mrs. L. G. Larson, A. L. A.; Mrs. Mike Connelly, N. C. W. C.; Mrs. Maurice Giller, J. W. B.; Miss Effie Hamry, W. C. C. S.; Adj. Tillie Hansen, S. A.

Council of National Defense—Mrs. J. H. Hardesty, Mrs. Emil Zeh, Mrs. H. W. Froehlich, Mrs. T.L. Melgaard, Mrs. C. A. Pitkin and Mrs. J. M. Bishop.

For the Townships.

In the country precincts the following will have charge of the collections:

Numedal—Mrs. Charles Stevens.
Norden—Miss Emma Swanson.
North—Mrs. Karl Haug.
Silverton—Mrs. Frank Fisher.
Cloverleaf—Miss Margaret Kotlan.
Goodridge—Mrs. Jay Payne.
Reiner—Mrs. Anton Knudson.
Bray—Miss Edith Scholin.
Sanders—Mrs. A. K. Lockren.
Rocksbury—Mrs. Albert Johnson.
Smiley—Mrs. Nels Burtnes.
Kratka—Mrs. Sam Knutson.
Highlanding—Mrs. Wm. Korstad.
Star—Mrs. S. Prestegaard.
Polk Center—Mrs. Charles Lindquist.
Black River—Mrs. C. W. Johnson.
River Falls—Mrs. Herman Jepson.
Wyandotte—Mrs. James Evenson.
Mayfield—Mrs. Gunder Austad.
Deer Park—Mrs. J. L. Radnicke.
Hickory—Mrs. Charles Thompson.
St. Hilaire—Mrs. Biglow.

Helped Red Cross.

When the accounting is made it will be found that the fire sufferers' fund in the state was quite materially helped by the action of the rural population of Pennington county on Tuesday. Some sensible and charitably inclined person had suggested that donation boxes be placed at the various voting precincts in order that those who wished to do so might assist in supplying the things needful in order to get the people in the eastern section of the state back on their feet.

The plan proved very popular and was followed out in eight or ten precincts. The largest amount donated at any one point was $85 and the smallest $23. The boxes were turned over to County Auditor T. P. Anderson as custodian, who sealed them up and will hand them over to the canvassing board today to be opened.

Germany Has Accepted Armistice Terms, Which Will Mean the End of the War.

INFLUENZA BAN WILL BE LIFTED

CHURCHES MAY OPEN ON SUNDAY AND SCHOOLS MONDAY MORNING

TO EXERCISE PRECAUTIONS

SITUATION WELL IN HAND BUT DANGER IS BY NO MEANS YET PAST

Danger from the threatened influenza epidemic is considered to have so far abated that it is deemed safe to permit the churches to resume services on Sunday morning. The city schools will be reopened on Monday as will also those in the country districts where pupils do not come from households actually stricken with the disease. The ban has also been lifted from the theatres and the usual Sunday evening performance will be allowed to take place.

All Danger is Not Past.

Dr. O. F. Mellby, city health officer, regards the situation as on the mend and believes there will be no increased danger from permitting the usual order of things to go on if people will exercise all possible care. He wishes everyone to understand that the danger is by no means regarded as past but that the irksome provisions for the protection of the public may be somewhat abated if the people themselves will use the commonest safeguards. Dr. Mellby realizes that the closing order is working a hardship to a large number of our citizens and is anxious to remove it as quickly as possible.

Situation is Canvassed.

Miss Laura Haggart, school nurse, has carefully canvassed the entire city and is of the opinion that the school may be safely opened. In places where the influenza has been much worse than here the schools have been permitted to run and while the order for their closing was generally approved it is now considered that the danger has been met and that this protection is no longer necessary. Miss Haggart finds places where groups are down with the disease but in each instance the strictest isolation is practiced and the danger of spreading has been reduced to a minimum. She will have personal supervision over the health of all children attending school and will at the first sign of danger supply such measures as are deemed necessary. The probabilities are that the children will be much more safe in the school room under her strict supervision than they would be at home or on the street.

No Increases Noted.

Dr. H. W. Froehlich, county physician and special observer for the state board of health in this district during the influenza outbreak, states that reports received by him indicate a slight reduction in the number of cases. People are constantly taken sick but there are as many more who are getting well and the number of patients remains about stationary. He also urges that everyone observe common sense rules of cleanliness and sanitation and agrees with the view that there is no longer any warrant for keeping things closed up.

PASTOR CALLED TO WESTERN CHURCH

REV. [illegible] RECEIVES CALL FROM SAN FRANCISCO CONGREGATION

The oldest pastor in Thief River Falls in point of service may soon leave to follow his work in a larger field. Rev. I. T. Aastad, of the Norwegian Lutheran church, this week received a call from the congregation of Grace English Lutheran church of San Francisco and the matter will be laid before the trustees next Sunday. Until this has been done Rev. Aastad will return no definite answer to the proposition.

Should he decide upon making the change after having explained the matter it will mean the moving away of a man who has been a prominent figure in the civic and religious life of the city for many years. In Rev. Aastad's case the removal from Thief River Falls means more than such instances usually do. This was his first charge after graduating from the seminary; here he was married and here his children were born. He has become so thoroughly a part of the community that the place he occupies would be hard to fill. The new offer opens a wider field for his activities, however, and it is certain that he would be blamed by no one should he decide to accept.

Died at Grygla.

A report reaching this city this morning states that Mrs. George Johnson, wife of the cashier of the Citizens' State bank at Grygla, died at an early hour. The cause of death was not announced.

FINISH TESTING COWS IN COUNTY

NATIVE STOCK IS SOUND

TROUBLE IS ALL IN HERDS IMPORTED FROM OTHER STATES.

The Federal veterinarians who have for the past few weeks been testing cattle for tuberculosis in this county have completed their work for the present and the results are very gratifying to the local breeders, only about two per cent of the cattle tested showing indications of having the disease. It is interesting to note that in almost every instance where cows were found to be tubercular, they were animals shipped into this territory from Wisconsin, Illinois or Iowa. In one herd, however, where there were several reactors it is not known that the native cattle had even been in contact with animals from the above named states, except on one occasion and for a very short time.

Our live stock breeders have proven that their cattle are practically free from one of the most dreaded diseases known to the dairy industry. This is sure to create on the part of the outside breeders a demand for the stock of this county.

Ninety-eight herds have been tested, representing 1419 head of cattle, out of which number 32 reactors were found. In the city of Thief River Falls 98 head of cows have been tested for 74 different owners, and only three reactors were found, thus making a total of 1517 head tested with only 35 reactors.

The handling of this campaign has been a tremendous task and the Pennington county Farm Bureau association deserves a great deal of credit for the work accomplished. This is only a start and it is hoped that the time will come when testing will be a regular and universal event throughout the entire county.

All the breeders who have had their cattle tested signed an agreement not to add any cattle to their herds until the animals had passed a satisfactory tuberculin test. Living up to this agreement will insure a clean herd on one hundred of Pennington county's leading stock farms.

Following is a list of the farmers who have had their herds tested, with the number of head in each herd and the number found to be tuberculin. They are reported by townships, the first column showing the number of head listed and the second column the number of reactors:

To the list of town cows published in The Times of October 3rd may be added the following which have been tested on near-by farms since that date:

Owner—G. Granum, P. Hagen, Geo. Newland, B. P. Thune, Gust Johnson, Sam Scramstad, (one reacted), Morris LaSalle, Geo. Templer, Mr. Brude, John Stensrud, Nels Lawson.

Several who failed for various reasons to have the federal veterinarians test their cows have had the work done by Dr. Newell in order to comply with the order of the board of health which requires that all cows in the city be tested. Out of three tested one owned by C. C. Gulrud proved to be a reactor. N. J. Anderson's and Mrs. Iver Hoyum's cows were found to be free. A few others have arranged for Dr. Newell to test their cows the first of next week.

Mrs. L. H. Lawrence, who has been visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Way, for some time, left for Augusta, Ga., on Tuesday evening, where she will visit her husband who is in the Officers' Training school at Camp Hancock.

For The Boys Over There

Seven organizations with just one aim—to serve that fighting boy of yours—to be with him from the time he leaves home till he gets back—to back him up and to buck him up—to do for him the very things that you would do if you were there.

It's a big job, that. It takes all that all of us can do, working together shoulder to shoulder, each organization looking after the part of the job that it knows best.

MISSES DUCK HUNT OF FORMER YEARS

GEORGE LOKEN SEES HUNTING OF BIGGER GAME, HOWEVER

Among the recent arrivals in France is George Loken, who as a member of the 352nd infantry band at Camp Dodge has been kept in this country longer than most of those who volunteered from Thief River Falls. In a letter to Dr. G. W. Booren he says:

"We all landed safely and in the pink of condition. The trip so far has been very interesting and the scenes are all new to us.

"We are very much interested in the buildings, which are built of stone with rock roofs. The people give us the best welcome they can. They are very agreeable and as we are learning some French we can make them understand pretty well—by making motions with our arms and hands and screwing our faces around at the same time. You ought to be here; you would certainly laugh at some of these attempts at conversation.

"Our soldiers are a husky bunch and can give the Boche all he is looking for. I witnessed an air battle yesterday. We were having band rehearsal at the time the shooting began. The planes were at a high altitude, dodging behind clouds, and the aircraft guns were blazing away from below. The shells burst when they are at the height of the plane and a big cloud of smoke puffs out so one can see how close every shot is to the target. They got one Boche and he came down with some speed. We see planes flying all over in the air and don't pay much attention to them any more.

"I wish I was home today hunting chickens and ducks, but this big game has to be bagged first. All the Thief River boys here are writing today as it is Sunday and raining besides. We are not having an over-supply of rain here so far and we go out for hikes every day with light packs for the purpose of exercise.

"When in England we saw a lot of the country and it is very pretty. Saw some of the finest roads in the world but not many cars. Once in a while a 'Henry' and that is about all.

"I will be glad when I get back home to business again and have a good duck hunt down at Erskine."

SIXTY-TWO HOURS OF STEADY RIDING

THIEF RIVER BOY GETS TO WHERE HE HELPS BUILD NEW CITY

In spite of our having some three million soldiers in France there are still a few left in this country, and Louis Meyer of this city is one of them. To judge by his present occupation it would seem as if it were the intention to make provision for still a larger number. He writes from Penniman, Va., as follows:

"We are out at a new camp and expect to be here about two weeks. We were on the train which brought us here just 62 hours—almost steady riding. The Red Cross certainly treated us nice on the way out here.

"Penniman is just a new camp, built up during the last year or so. It is a good-sized place and a pretty one, too. We are here to build camps and there are about 3,500 carpenters working at present. I think we will be ready to leave again within two weeks.

"The grub we got at St. Paul was some better than that given us now. We haven't had pie nor cake at a single meal and we get better only on Sundays. However, we have plenty of meat, potatoes, beans, peas and stuff of that kind and I am getting along without butter very well.

"The first couple of days the cooks ran short of everything but they now know how much we Minnesota fellows can eat. We Gophers are all in one company and all eat at the same mess hall. The weather is about the same as in June at home. The days are real hot and the nights cool and damp. We keep our tents rolled up on all four sides at night and all I cover up with is one thin blanket.

"We receive our full wages every month, except the $6 for insurance and $5 deducted for Liberty Bonds from those who bought them.

"You ask me if we have a special uniform for Sundays. Our uniforms are all alike when we get them and if we want a better one it is up to us to keep it better. While working we slip on a jacket and a pair of overalls and these keep the uniform from getting dirty. We don't give a darn ho wdirty the overalls get.

"We have some influenza in this camp too. Mostly everything is closed up on account of it.

"I am always glad to hear from home and particularly tickled when you send me a copy of The Times."

The 106th Wedding.

Freman Ranum of Kittson county and Miss Clara Johnson of Pennington county were married on Saturday afternoon at the municipal court room by Judge Tarrant. They were attended by Miss Emma Johnson and Otto Ranum.

Judge Tarrant stated at the conclusion of the ceremony that this made 106 couples who had been joined for better or worse by him since he assumed the office of judge six years ago. He also asserts that he has tied the knots so tight that in the very large majority of cases they are holding to this day.

Victor Pohlman, formerly of this city, arrived Friday morning from Camp Green, N. C. Mr. Pohlman is in the Motor Mechanics corps and likes the work. He visited at the T. A. Fossum home for two days.

Welcomed Austria's Fall.

When the announcement that Austria had surrendered was received through The Times bulletin service on Monday morning there was considerable jubilation. Every bell, including those in the churches, pealed forth while the whistles did their level best to drown out every other sound. The din was kept up for some time and the citizens generally hailed the news as definitely marking the beginning of the end. Americans have had cause to hail the news from overseas with enthusiasm for some time past, but this last development was considered worthy of something of a special nature.

SAW SQUADRON OF AMERICAN PLANES

BELIEVES END IS NEAR AS GERMANS ARE COMING IN EVERY DAY.

It is certain that the folks at home are better posted on what is going on at the front than the soldiers themselves. The latter seem to have an idea that everything is going all right, but are possessed of no definite knowledge to that effect.

B. J. Hoium, who is a member of Co. K, 138th Infantry, is among those who believes that the war cannot continue much longer. In a letter to his mother he says that he hopes to be back to celebrate her birthday next year, and continues:

"Well, the big drive is on and we are all up on our toes, ready any minute to move up to the lines in case they need us. The boches are not shooting back much around here but we are getting a lot of them, to judge by the number being sent back every day.

"I have seen any number of airplanes flying in this neighborhood during the past three days. I saw about 20 American planes in one bunch the other day. At one of the camps where we were I saw the American aircraft bring down a German plane. The machine was not hurt much but both the passengers were killed. It sure sounds as if something broke loose when all the anti-craft guns fire at once.

"Some of the boys say there were a few shells flew over us last night. I did not hear them—slept too sound. I do not worry about them anyway as we are in the woods.

"Well, it looks as if everything was coming our way just now. Keep the chickens growing and hope with me that I will soon be home to enjoy the feast. I am with the same 138th infantry and feel as well as I ever did."

Der Lament of Kronprinz Friederich Wilhelm.

Dear Papa: I am writing on der run, os der brave and glorious soldiers under my command have not seen der Rhine for so long dat dey have started back dat vay, and of course I am going mit dem. Oh, pap, dere has been some offel dings happened here in France. First, I started in my big offensive which vas to crush de fool Americans, but dey know so little about military tactics dat dey vill not be crushed just like I vant dem. I sent my men in der fight in big vaves, and ven dey got to de Americans dey all said "Boo" as loud as dey could holler. Vell, according to vot you haf always told me, the Americans have turned and run like blazes. But vat do you tink? Dem fool Americans don't know anything about war, and instead of running de odder vay, dey came right toward us. Some of dem was singing something about "Ve von't come back till it's over, over dere," or some odder foolish song, and some of dem were laffing like fools. Dey are so ignorant. But dey are offel reckless mit dere guns, and ven dey come tovards us it vas dat my men took a notion dat dey vanted to go back to de dear old Rhine. Ve don't like de little old dirty Marne river anyhow. And, oh, pap, dem Americans use such offel language. Dey know nothing of kultur and say such offel things right before us. And dey talk blasphemy, too. Vat you tink dey said right in front of my face? One big husky from a place dey call Arizona, he said—oh, papa, I hate to tell you vat an offel ting he said—but I can't help it: he said: "To hell mit der kaiser!" Did you ever hear anything so offel? I didn't think anybody would say such an offel ting. It made me so mad, I vouldn't stand and hear such an offel ting so I turned round and run mit de odder boys. Vas I right? Vat? And, oh, papa, you know dem breastplates vat you sent us—can you send some more to put on our backs? You know ve are going de odder vay now, and breast plates are no good, for de cowardly Americans are shooting us right in der back. Some of our boys took off der breast plates and put 'em behind but de fool Americans are playing "De Star Spangled Banner" mit machine guns on dem plates. Can't you help us? You remember in your speech you said nothing could stand before the brave German soldiers. Oh, papa, I don't believe dose ignorant Americans ever read your speech for dey run after us just like ve von a lot of rabbits. Vot you tink of dat? Can't you send dem some of your speeches right avay? Dey don't know how terrible ve are. Can't you move my army back to Belgium vere ve von all our glory? My men can vip all de vimmen and children vat dem Belgians can bring us. But dese Americans are so rough and ignorant. Ve can't make 'em understand dat ve are de greatest soldiers on earth, and ven ve try to sing "Deutschland Uber Alles," dey laugh like a lot of monkeys. But ve are getting de best of de Americans. Ve can outrun dem. Papa, if ve are not de best fighters on earth ve are sure de best runners. Nobody can keep up mit us ven ve tink of der dear old Rhine, and my army never did tink so much of der dear old river. Let me know right avay vat to do by return post office.

Why Putter With Corns? Use "Gets-It"

Common-Sense, Simple, Never Fails.

You can tear out your corns and suffer, or you can peel off your corns and smile. The joy-peeling way is the "Gets-It" way. It is the only happy, painless way in the world. Two drops of "Gets-It" on any corn or callus dries at once. The corn finally loosens off from the toe, so that you can peel it off with your fingers in one piece, painlessly, like peeling a banana. "Great stuff, wish I'd done that before." There's only one corn-peeler—"Gets-It." Toes wrapped up big with tape and bandages, toes squirming from irritating salves, it's all a barbarity. Toes wounded by razors and knives, that's butchery, ridiculous, unnecessary, dangerous. Use "Gets-It," the liberty way—simple, painless, always sure. Take no chances. Get "Gets-It." Don't be insulted by imitations. See that you get "Gets-It." "Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'f'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Thief River Falls and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by J. P. Curtis.

LATE REGISTRANTS WANTED FOR NAVY

YOUNG MEN ARE NOW OFFERED OPPORTUNITIES IN SEA SERVICE.

Minnesota men who registered in the draft of September 12th and those in deferred classification of previous draft are offered an opportunity of enlisting for service on the high seas, according to a bulletin just received from Lieut. George A. Treadwell, officer in charge of navy mobilization for Minnesota, North and South Dakota.

The monthly quota assigned the division under Lieutenant Treadwell's command calls for 130 men monthly to be selected from Class 1 registrants of September 12th draft. In addition to the quota, the navy may accept an unlimited number of men in deferred classes, who are willing to waive their deferred claims and submit to induction.

The branches open include: Pay officer school, requiring proficiency in commercial arithmetic and exchange, composition, English grammar, spelling and American history. Applicants must be between the ages of 21 and 40.

The school for naval auxiliary reserve deck officers calls for men of ability and officer-like qualities, with a high school education and a knowledge of trigonometry and logarithms. Age limit 21 and 40.

Sugar Allowance Increased.

As a result of close observance of restrictions, the available supply of sugar has increased to such an extent that householders' allowances may be materially increased, according to an announcement by A. D. Wilson, federal food administrator for Minnesota.

The allotment is raised from two to three pounds a person a month. Public eating houses also will have their allowances increased one pound for every ninety meals served.

In a message to Mr. Wilson, Herbert Hoover, national food administrator, stated that the increase was "due in part to patriotic conservation and co-operation with the government on the part of the American people."

Wounded in Action.

Leon Stanton, youngest son of County Attorney E. M. Stanton, is among those wounded on the field of battle, according to reports received here last week. The young man is a member of the medical corps and was engaged in first aid work near the front lines when injured. The impression gained from the report is that he was not seriously hurt.

Coal is $80 a ton in your boy's village this Winter

PERHAPS he is billeted in a barn, or even a hencoop. There is snow on the ground, and the mud freezes hard to his boots. In all the village there is just one place where he can dry and warm—his hut.

You are thinking of your own coal problem here at home. But what would you do if there was only one place in town where you could find a fire? That's your boy's fuel problem for the coming months. Are you going to keep the hut fires burning?

HOME IS WHERE THE BOY IS IN THIS WAR

By Bruce Barton.

I visited a home where a service flag hangs; and while we ate we talked of the boy who is over there.

"I wonder if he is cold tonight," the mother said, "I wonder if he has a place to warm himself and dry his clothes; and something good to eat."

"What wouldn't I give to be with him," she said, and we were silent, knowing her heart.

But I thought of the Soldiers of Friendliness who that very night would crawl out across No Man's Land to take chocolate and hot coffee to that boy.

Of the huts with their warm fires burning; of the great lecturers and preachers and actors and motion pictures that are over there.

And I thought to myself: "There is a difference between this war and every other war. For when the boys have marched away before, the influence of their homes has stopped at the front gate and could go no farther.

But in this war it follows the flag, across the ocean, over the shell torn battle land, straight up to the front line trenches.

Home is where the boy is in this war. From every town and village the lines of helpfulness run out.

And no boy leaves his home behind him; step by step it travels with him, financed by the folks behind him—a token of their love.

DO YOUR BIT NEXT WEEK.

Next Monday morning solicitirs will start out in every precinct and ward in Pennington county for the purpose of raising the $17,500 allotment for the United War Work campaign which will be carried on for one week. Pennington county must not fail in this matter.

There would be no doubt of the ability of the solicitors to secure this sum were it not for one thing. People are liable to get the idea that the war is over and that there will be no further need for the welfare organizations.

No greater mistake could be made. The need for just the service furnished by the welfare boards will be even greater after the fighting ceases and the men are allowed more time to themselves and the strict discipline has been somewhat relaxed. It is then they will feel the want of some place to go as well as of something to do. The temptations around them will be multiplied and the danger of their deviating from the straight path they have been following will be very much greater. It is this danger that the War Welfare boards are aiming to counteract by presenting amusements and diversions of a clean and wholesome nature.

The importance attached to this work is indicated by the following letter sent by President Wilson to the chairman of the Commission on War Training Camp Activities:

"May I convey through you as Chairman of the Commission on Training Camp Activities, a very warm expression of the Government's appreciation of the splendid services rendered by the seven officially recognized volunteer organizations which are ministering to the troops at home and overseas? The agencies to which I refer are

"Young Men's Christian Association.
"Young Women's Christian Association.
"National Catholic War Council.
"Jewish Welfare Board.
"American Library Association.
"War Camp Community Service.
"Salvation Army.

"Our soldiers overseas are fighting the battle for democracy with a spirit and a morale unexcelled in any other army. That spirit and that morale will win the war. Through the work which [illegible] jointly conducting America is expressing her wholehearted support of our troops in camp and in the lines, and her anxious desire that the fine edge of their training as fighting men should be maintained. The activity of these organizations, therefore, in mobilizing the home, the club, and the church behind the army is of vital military value and will be of the most essential value in effecting the result.

"The united war work campaign of these societies is merely another indication of that unity of spirit as a nation that is making it possible for us to win the war. That spirit and the place which the work of these agencies has made for itself in the hearts of all of us gives me confidence to believe that the united campaign will be crowned with abundant success."

THE CHRISTMAS ROLL CALL.

The American Red Cross is going to attempt to enroll every man, woman and child in the country beneath its banner during the week of Dec. 16 to 23. The slogan of the campaign will be: "All you need is a heart and a dollar." Just at this time there is no question but that Americans generally have hearts and there are very few of them without the dollar. In case any of the latter are found there will be disclosed a sufficient number with two dollars to make up the deficit.

This campaign will take on the nature of a general Christmas roll call. All persons—no matter who they are or what their status or opinions—are expected to answer "present" when their names are called and to fork over the dollar necessary in order to make them members in good standing of the noblest organization the world has ever known.

The work carried on by the Red Cross in Europe has been only slightly less wonderful and important than that of our armies. Funds for its maintenance have been liberally forthcoming, but these have also been spent on a scale never before equalled. The bottom of even such a war chest as is possessed by the organization must in time be reached. It is already in sight and the supply must be replenished.

The probabilities are that the actual fighting will soon be over. That does not mean that the American soldier may be dropped and allowed to shift for himself. In fact it may be even more necessary for him to be looked after properly from now on. Diversions will have to be provided until such time as he can again be returned to his own shores and in no way can this be better accomplished than through the Red Cross.

The country has responded nobly every time an application has gone forth for anything that would help the boys over there. This is no time to stop. There is still too much to be done.

The dollar you pay for a Red Cross membership will be your Christmas present to the boys in the army and to the needy ones whom the organization is helping out.

PIN YOUR FAITH TO BOSSY.

The report just issued by the State Dairy and Food Commission shows that the dairy products of Minnesota for 1917 represented a value of $110,800,000. In each of seven counties more than $1,000,000 was paid to creamery patrons, one of these—Stearns—reporting over $2,000,000 paid to dairymen supplying the creameries.

Pennington county has not yet reached this class, but the showing is very good, as will be noted by a more extended article in another column of this issue. Compared with the $2,847 average paid patrons in Pipestone county the $391 averaged by each man who brought his supplies to Pennington creameries looks rather small, but the record is nevertheless one of the best in the northwestern section of the state. The average for each cow was almost exactly $63 for the year, as compared with $40 for Red Lake county and $31.35 for Marshall. This proves that the quality of the dairy stock in this county is superior to that found in the neighboring communities and that all we lack is numbers. There are also nearly 1,000 more milch cows in Pennington county than in Red Lake, our nearest neighbor and the one bearing the closest resemblance to us both in population and products.

Dairying here has received a tremendous impetus during the past three or four years. We are a long way from being up among the leaders, but are making strides that will soon land us there. The receipts from the products of our herds is as only about ten per cent of those in Stearns county, less than nine per cent of those in Pipestone county, but we are not going to strike a comparison with the oldest and best dairying sections in the state. For the present it will be enough to make Pennington county the leader among its own neighbors, and in many respects this has already been accomplished.

DIVIDENDS ARE CERTAIN.

There are few enterprises so sound in their underlying values, so certain to yield profits of the most satisfying kind, backed and indorsed by such an array of men whose names stand for all that is safest and most conservative, that a newspaper is justified in recommending an investment to its readers. There is one such enterprise, however, now asking for subscriptions, which meets all of these requirements. It is the United War Work campaign.

The enterprise in which the organizations participating in the United War Work campaign are engaged is the maintenance of the morale of our soldiers and sailors. It may be objected that morale is intangible, and that investments in intangibles are not sound investments. But if there is one fact, to establish which we are engaged in this war, it is the incontrovertible fact that only the intangible things of life are real. We are fighting for the preservation of the intangible realities against a foe that denies their reality, that based its plan and program of world conquest upon its belief in the sufficiency of material things.

Where on earth can one put his money in anything that promises such dividends as a subscription to United War Work campaign guarantee.

The dividends are guaranteed and underwritten by the only institution strong enough to write such a guarantee and make it binding—the spirit of American democracy. They are dividends of happiness, of the only solid, secure kind, the soul-satisfying happiness that comes from the consciousness of having made a personal sacrifice for the sake of others.

KEEP THEM SMILING.

HOLD YOUR LIBERTY BONDS.

Some get-rich-quick concerns are endeavoring to persuade patriotic Liberty bond holders, whom they know will not sell outright their Liberty bonds, to turn over their Liberty bonds to these companies [illegible] with the money thus borrow purchase stock in their companies.

A Liberty loan bond is the safest investment in the world, and a prudent man will very carefully investigate any effort to induce him to exchange it for a less safe investment. This lending one money on Liberty bonds as security to purchase stock in the lender's company is in many cases only a thinly disguised method of exchanging stock of doubtful value for Liberty bonds of unquestioned value.

It is a good business and it is patriotism to hold your Liberty bonds.

NOW LET'S FORGET IT.

In another day or so things will have settled back into their normal stride and the American people will be allowed to devote their attention to more weighty things than speculating on the outcome of the election. The result does not suit everybody, of course, but just as many would have been disappointed if things had been different.

The outcome in certain respects is something of a surprise. It is evident that straight party lines were permitted to cut less figure than in any previous election within the memory of persons now living. By many the fact that they had to stop and pick out candidates to vote for was regarded as something of a nuisance. We have so many things of vastly more importance to occupy our attention as a people that the matter of selecting those who will be our servants for the next two or four years seemed trivial.

At that it is probable that we fared as well as if we had nothing else to think of. The men chosen will serve the people well and faithfully, particularly those elected in Pennington county. There is not a stranger in the lot. Every man possesses the confidence of his fellow citizen and was chosen because of his apparent fitness for the place he sought. At least such is the presumption. Anything beyond this is up to the successful one himself.

TEN AND 20 YEARS AGO

Twenty Years Ago.

The air was full of threats of libel suits, brought by candidates for office against opponents and newspapers for writing or printing defamatory articles. The hottest campaign of the lot was that between C. E. Boughton and Van E. Brown for county attorney.

Attorney E. M. Stanton of Argyle visited with friends in the city during the week.

Item in the Press: "This issue ends the political war and we will try to devote more of our space to local matters hereafter."

George Bolton of Spring Valley brought in a wagon load of fine onions. Mr. Bolton was making a success of raising crops of this kind.

Ten Years Ago.

The high school football eleven lost two games during the week—one at Crookston and the other at Fosston.

The election returns showed that Taft had been chosen president, Johnson governor, Steenerson congressman, O'Brien auditor, Tandberg treasurer, Nelson sheriff, McAnulty school superintendent, and Jeffers register of deeds, Michelet county attorney. The results in the other contests were very close and there were not sufficient returns to make a decision possible.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Nason gave a very enjoyable hallowe'en party to thirteen young married couples.

Adam Zeh, at one time county auditor of Red Lake county, was in the city to visit his brothers, Phil and Emil. His home was in Montana.

The firm of Oen & Granum closed up its affairs and a new concern formed under the title of Oen Mercantile company.

C. L. Heinze of Holt was in the city to dispose of a load of home-grown cabbage. He sold the entire lot and said that his crop netted him about $200 an acre.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Melgaard entertained three brothers of the former over Sunday, the visitors coming from their homes at Warren, Argyle and Kennedy.

Linde-Tessum.

Miss Clara O. Linde, daughter of John Linde, and Gynther C. Tessum were united in marriage last Friday afternoon. Rev. I. T. Aastad performed the ceremony and Mrs. Aastad played the wedding march. Miss Evelyn Tessum acted as bridesmaid and Henry Aastad as best man. The bride was dressed in beautiful Alice blue Georgette, over white satin trimmed with bands of silver and lace. She carried a big boquet of white roses. The bridesmaid wore an old rose Georgette trimmed in silver. The table was decorated with pink and white roses and the house in the national colors. After the ceremony an elaborate dinner was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Tessum left the same evening for Minneapolis, where they will visit for about a week, after which they will make their home in this city.

Market Report Service.

The Times has made arrangements whereby the latest market quotations available just before the paper goes to press on Thursday morning will hereafter appear as a regular feature. This is a condensed report of quotations on grain, live stock, hay and potatoes, etc., late Wednesday night and will prove of interest particularly to farmers. The report will be found following the local market quotations every week.

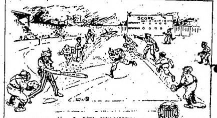
The Pinch Hitter



It was tightening of the American belt that made this hit possible. The game is won if we keep it up.

"WHAT chance will I have when the war is over?" Thousands of boys are asking that question. They want to keep up with their studies; they want these warfare years to count. For them the war work agencies are conducting the greatest university in the world. Every hut in France is a classroom, and the leading college and high school teachers of the country, under the leadership of men like Professor Stokes of Yale and Professor Erskine of Columbia, are keeping your boy in touch. Get behind the campaign that will keep the boys from falling behind.

FOR THE BOYS OVER THERE
BONNET BROWN

Your boy comes stumbling out of the battle line---

He wants a place to rest, a place to get warm, a place to smoke and get a hot drink and hear somebody talk United States.

He sees a light ahead. It's a hut!

Do you think he cares whether that hut is run by the Knights of Columbus or the Y. M. C. A., Jewish Welfare Board or the Salvation Army? Not much! He knows what he wants and he knows that he'll get it---whatever uniform the folks inside happen to be wearing.

Your boy knows what real democracy means.

He's fighting to make it something bigger and better and finer than it ever was before. He's the world's greatest authority on democracy today. Take his word for it.

Keep the hut fires burning!

Obituary

Mrs. Caroline Fodstad.

Died, at the Mayo hospital in Rochester, on Thursday, Oct. 31, Mrs. Caroline Fodstad, wife of Halvor Fodstad of the town of Silverton. The cause of her demise was pronounced secondary hemorrhages.

Deceased, whose maiden name was Caroline Fosholm, was born in Norway on Jan. 8, 1879, and married in 1897. For some time previous to her death she had been in poor health but courageously kept up her interest in her home and church work almost to the last. She was a woman of a helpful and considerate nature and friends and neighbors regarded her with a high respect and deep affection. The esteem in which she was held was testified to by the unusually large concourse of people who came to pay their last respects at the funeral, which was held from the Silverton church on Monday, Rev. I. T. Aastad officiating. Because of the orders against large gatherings of people the services were conducted on the church lawn. Interment was in the Silverton cemetery. There are no children.

Our Entire Stock o Winter Goods Must Be Disposed of an Turned Into Cash

Two Reason or This Sale

FIRST—We are forced to dispose of our winter stock on account of high prices—plainly speaking, it takes more than we have to carry over a big stock like ours, so we find it absolutely necessary to sacrifice profits and to turn our stock into cash.

SECOND—Merchandise for spring is harder to get and much higher priced. Should the war end now prices w e still higher for a year at least. The demand for civilian's clothing will be so tremendous that it will force prices up. To protect ourselves against the extremely high prices which the manufacturers are now asking for goods, we must turn our winter stock into cash. This turn over is a positive assurance that the best spring goods in eastern markets will be offered our custmomers at such retail prices as ready cash only can command wholesale markets.

We are affering our entire stock of high grade merchandise at prices that are seeming possible in these days of high costs. Every article on sale is perfect in workmanship, style and quality.

"WHAT do you want more than anything else for your men?" they asked an American General. "Moving pictures," he answered, "and more moving pictures; and still more moving pictures." MORE CONCERNING CARE OF INFLUENZA

I received on last Friday the following letter. Dr. de Clairmont is a French physician and scientist. He is a skilled chemist. He is the writer of the pamphlet recently distributed to the public and referred to in Dr. Melby's note in The Times of Oct. 31. This letter is not given to the public in the spirit of criticism or controversy, but only with the purpose and desire that the apparently valuable information contained in the letter and pamphlet may reach the medical profession and the public quickly and be subjected to unprejudiced investigation and practical test. If oil of cinnamon is in use in the treatment of influenza with the results claimed it would at this time alleviate human suffering and prevent the loss of human life. I feel that any one who has such information ought to make it public even at the expense of some personal annoyance. Dr. de Clairmont is a personal acquaintance.—R. L. Barackman.

"No. 10 Gardner Building,
"Toledo, Ohio, Oct. 30, 1918.

"Rev. R. L. Barackman,
"514 Main avenue,
"Thief River Falls, Minn.

"My dear Barackman:

"Your letter to hand and contents noted. Unfortunately some of these remedies that we use abroad are not very well understood in this country and the American and U. S. Dispensatory may give the maximum dose of oil of cinnamon at one or two drops. We use it abroad when prescribed by a physician under a physician's care at 15 drops per dose and more, three or four doses per day.

"The prescription as given in the circular does not contain anything near this amount. It does the work of cutting off the fever and preventing it developing into pneumonia. Even during the pneumonia stage the oil of cinnamon gives a wonderful body tonic. To go into the Materia Medica or Bacteriology of why this is so, would take a small volume.

"If your druggists are cutting the size of the dose and using it for the actual attack of influenza, it won't produce the work any more than trying to cure or abort a case of malarial fever with two grains of quinine.

"Now, in regard to carbolic acid, this is so far superior to Lysol or any other preparation of that sort. It is a wonderful remedy even taken internally and I have in my practice injected it into the system pure. It is the greatest antiseptic known. We use it constantly abroad in preference to anything else. In this country carbolic acid has always had many enemies.

"Pure carbolic acid is very volatile. Impure carbolic acid forms in itself by exposure to the rain, impurities, giving the acid a red or reddish tint. In this case it is unfit for use.

"There is no danger whatever in anybody dosing themselves with the gargle even if they use it every hour, and if they were to swallow a tablespoonful of the gargle, it would not be any more than a full medicinal dose which we prescribe abroad for certain diseases of the intestinal canal. It is not used in this country internally.

"The oil of cinnamon applies only to the cure of the Spanish influenza, not to the ordinary cold in the head.

"My gargle is not of my own devising; it is one used abroad for the purpose. The oil of cinnamon has been thoroughly recommended to the physicians by the British medical press, the French medical press, as well as our enemies, the Germans, over 25 years ago. It is in constant use abroad for the purpose.

"Thank you very much for the inclosure and your comments on the circular.

"Yours fraternally,
"A. de Clairmont."

Later.

On Nov. 2 my daughter developed a cough and a touch of fever, but these might have had other causes than influenza. Some of the usual symptoms of the disease were absent.

On Nov. 3 it was a well-defined case of influenza. We administered aspirin twice to relieve pain in her head. The record of the case has been as follows:

Nov. 3—8:30 a. m., temperature 102.5; 8:45, administered dose cinnamon oil; 9:45, second dose cinnamon oil; 12 m., temperature 103.5, pulse 120. Third dose of cinnamon oil vomited with other contents of stomach. 2 p. m., patient easier; 4 p. m., temperature 102, pulse 110; 8:30 p. m., temperature 101.5; pulse 100.

Nov. 4—4 a. m., temperature 99.5; 8:30 a. m., temperature 99; 10:30 a. m., temperature normal; 12 m., slight recurrence of fever; a dose of cinnamon oil; 4 p. m., temperature 100; a dose of the oil; 8:30 p. m., temperature 100.5; distress; a dose of the oil.

Nov. 5—8 a. m., temperature normal; 9 a. m., administered a dose of the oil; 3 p. m., dose of the oil; 6 p. m., slight recurrent fever; 9 p. m., administered oil.

Nov. 6—8 a. m., temperature normal; remains normal to time of going to press; two doses morning and evening of the oil; sleep quiet and sound; appetite good for condition; bowels kept free by cathartic. We kept in consultation with local physician. There has not been time to note after effects. Strength of patient not seriously impaired. There remains on Nov. 6 a bronchial cough but no indication of pneumonia. We have carefully observed and recorded this case both for our own sake and with the thought of others. R. L. BARACKMAN.

FOR HEALTH AND ECONOMY DRINK MILK
Drink milk! Drink lots of it. Give it to the kiddies morning, noon and night, and in between. Give them all they want. It's good for them. It's the cheapest and best food they can have.
Milk is indispensable to their physical growth and mental development. It builds bone. It builds tissues. It builds healthy minds.
It's the only food that contains enough of the protective elements that will keep them from degenerating into puny, rickety little shavers.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR SOLDIER PRESENTS

NONE WILL BE DELIVERED EXCEPT ON ORDER SIGNED BY SOLDIER

The Christmas boxes in which people may send their holiday gifts to the boys across the ocean have arrived and those who have already received the signed slips from the men abroad may now pack and ship their presents.

The boxes can only be had by those who get these slips from the men in service in Europe. The boxes are small as two million of them must be sent by ship and there is none too much room for this purpose. They are 3x4x7 inches in size and the weight cannot be more than 2 pounds and 15 ounces.

Postage must be paid from here to Hoboken, N. J., and is to be paid to the committee in charge.

The local committee which will inspect, wrap and tie the boxes consists of Fred Gobler, Mrs. C. R. Crandall, Mrs. Roy Lambert and Mrs. John Bratrud. Their headquarters will be in Thos. A. Way's office and all should go there with their slips to get their boxes and, after filling, return them to the committee for inspection.

No letters or writing may be placed within the boxes, nor can any dangerous article as prescribed by the postoffice department be placed within the box.

These boxes are given out by the Red Cross, which will insure the proper and prompt delivery of the parcel to the right man. People residing out of the city will also find boxes in charge of similar committees at Goodridge, St. Hilaire and Hazel. Thus if they do not wish to come to Thief River Falls and happen to live nearer any of these other three towns they can go there to get their boxes. The local postmaster is on each committee.

OUR SCHOOLS LEAD IN GARDEN WORK

ONE OF BEST ORGANIZED CITIES IN DISTRICT, SAYS DIRECTOR

Chauncey E. Cavett, assistant regional director of the United States School Garden Army, was in the city last week for the purpose of conferring with Supt. J. H. Hay and others on the plans for the work during the coming season. Mr. Cavett stated that he was much pleased with the interest shown in the movement in this neighborhood and complimented the school authorities highly on the excellent work already accomplished. He said conditions here were better than in any locality he had as yet visited and that he believed there were few if any communities able to show a better record.

The school garden army last year had a membership of 1,500,000 and the intention is to bring this up to 5,000,000 during the coming season. The bureau of education has published a number of pamphlets for the purpose of aiding those who engage in the work and these may be had free of charge by applying to the local director or from the bureau of education at Washington. One of these publications is School Life, published twice a month and containing reports and much helpful material. The Fall Manual of the United States School Garden Army and An Outline of Study in Gardening are two pamplets issued by the department which every boy and girl who intends putting in a garden should have.

All members of the school garden army will be given a bronze lapel pin containing the letters U. S. S. G., and a service flag with a similar device has also been issued.

Shop and Railroad News

Mrs. Otto Estel, custodian at Almora, returned to her post on Monday after a siege of the flu.

J. H. Durkee, operator at division headquarters, returned this week from Amherst, Wis., where he was called by the death of his daughter, who was an influenza victim.

One death directly traceable to influenza was reported on the division last week. G. A. Boyer, section foreman at Elmo, contracted the disease and succumbed to its dreaded follower, pneumonia.

G. A. Kruger, agent at Plummer, was a Thief River Falls visitor last Monday evening, attending a division safety first meeting.

H. G. Kraus, agent at Plummer, is laid up with an attack of influenza.

Walter N. Mayer has been put on as warehouseman at Overly, vice T. H. Bennett, resigned.

Not more than half a dozen cars of grain are being sent through the terminal per day now. The grain control board has practically stopped all shipments, giving as its reasons the crowded conditions of the elevators at the head of the lakes and Minneapolis.

Miss Ellda Olson and Miss Marie Stensrud are the first women coach cleaners on this division of the Soo. They began work the first of the week. So far as known these are the pioneers among workers of this kind in the northern part of the state, although their employment has been found necessary in other places because of the scarcity of men.

Orvil Hearn is a new man placed on the pay roll of the car department this week.

George Parenteau and A. H. Carlson, car men, are business visitors in Minneapolis this week.

Oscar Eggerud and J. H. Peterson, car men, went to Minneapolis last Thursday, intending to stay there for a few days. They found the influenza situation such in the Twin Cities, however, that they concluded to get away again as soon as possible and came back on Saturday.

Only one rip track worker has been claimed as a flu victim during the past week. Earl Ellefson was forced to quit work on Monday but is not seriously sick and feels certain that a week's lay-up will set him right.

Peter Kolman and Ed. Kelly of the car department were Sunday visitors at Mahnomen.

Fireman Ben Gage is down with the influenza. He has the malady in a mild form and is not expected to be on the dry dock long.

Emil Nordquist, boilermaker foreman, put in a couple of days hunting ducks at Glenwood last week. He says he was not afraid of meeting a game warden on the way back as he did not have more birds than the law allowed. At that he had pretty good luck.

Why you should give twice as much as you ever gave before!
The need is for a sum 70 per cent greater than any gift ever asked for since the world began. The Government has fixed this sum at $170,500,000.
By giving to these seven organizations all at once, the cost and effort of six additional campaigns is saved.
Unless Americans do give twice as much as ever before our soldiers and sailors may not enjoy during 1919 their

[illegible]THERN DIVISION AGAIN IN LEAD

[illegible]PUT GREATER AND COST LOWER THAN FOR ANY OTHER DIVISION

[illegible] Northern division again leads the other thirteen Red Cross di[illegible]ns in the output of finished ar[illegible]es.

[illegible]tatistics for the month of August, [illegible]ed by the national headquarters, [illegible]ws that the division has a per [illegible]ta production greater than that [illegible] any other in the United States.

Not only does the Northern division [illegible]d all others in per capita in the [illegible]oduction of Red Cross supplies, but [illegible] expense connected with the man[illegible]cturing of these articles is much [illegible]w that of the other divisions.

[illegible]e division's estimated value of [illegible]hed articles per 100 population [illegible] $16.32 during August. The next [illegible]sion in rank was the Mountain, [illegible]ing an output on the same basis [illegible]ounting to $11.92. The third high[illegible] was the Pacific division, having an [illegible]put of $8.18. The expense of turn[illegible]out these supplies for the month [illegible]unted to only .86 per cent for the [illegible]hern division, 2.06 per cent for [illegible] Mountain and 2.86 per cent for [illegible]acific.

[illegible]EIR ONE STANDBY [illegible] THE LOCAL NEWSPAPER

[illegible] at the local newspaper is indeed [illegible]end is true in word and in deed. [illegible] point is brought out very clearly [illegible]e following from the Western [illegible]l Lumberman. The article is [illegible]ssed to lumber merchants, but its sage advice is equally and forcibly applicable to merchants of other lines.

"How would you like to go into the home of every wage earner in your community, Mr. Lumber Merchant, and talk directly with him in his most private moments about your business, your stocks, your services, your prices, your special proposition to him.

"Fine. Well, go and do it—through your friend, the local newspaper.

"You are prone to think altogether too lightly of the opportunity which the columns of your local paper—always open to you at a reasonable rate per inch—extends to you.

"The average lumber merchant looks upon the advertising space in his paper as a costly commodity which he has to worry in his head about filling with attractive looking type. Not so. A case of bad perspective.

"The average dealer who entertains this opinion, can sit down man to man with one of his prospective building customers, and make a splendid presentation of his case to this man.

"Make the same presentation in the columns of your paper. Don't worry about type. Tell your story as though you were giving it to Mr. Consumer's private ear. You know what your equipment and your service is. You have a building proposition that would be interesting to many men and women in your community. Put it into type and give your unconscious, passive prospects something to think about in the building line.

"Your local newspaper man is one of your very best friends, one of your strongest assets. Treat him as such.

"Use him!"

WHO CAN REFUSE TO GIVE THEM TEN CENTS A DAY

Ten cents a day, used through the United War Work Campaign agencies, means the comfort of a soldier or sailor for a day. The organizations participating in the United War Work Campaign are recognized by the United States Government as part of the military machinery that is to render the Hun helpless. The Government, raising its own necessary funds by bonds and taxes, cannot in this manner finance the work done by the United War Work Campaign agencies.

Out with your ten cents a day!

GIRLS CAN DO MUCH GOOD

To Earn and Give $5 is the Pledge of Victory Girls.

"Every girl pulling for Victory." This is the slogan of the Victory girls.

"Everybody is doing something to win the war but me," a fourteen-year-old girl said. "I'm left out. I can't buy Liberty Bonds or go to France as a nurse."

It is for the "left-out" girl who wants to make a real sacrifice for the men at the front, that Victory Girls "Earn and Give" division of the United War Work Campaign has been established.

Victory Girls is as much an army at home as the men in the service are an army wherever they are called. Like Victory Boys, they are an "Earn and Give" division of the United War Work Campaign. When a girl enrolls she pledges herself to earn a stated sum for war work. This means that no girl, or boy either, can give any money that she or he has not earned. The Department of Campaign Divisions in the National Organization, of which A. H. Whitford is director, has appointed Miss Gertrude Gogin, Girls' Work Secretary of the National Y. W. C. A., secretary of the girls' division of the Victory Girls. Both are working in the campaign in which seven national organizations are co-operating —the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., National Catholic War Council (Knights of Columbus), Jewish Welfare Board, War Camp Community Service, American Library Association and Salvation Army.

To insure the greatest understanding and co-operation in the work done with Victory Girls and Victory Boys, a director has been appointed to act for the National Catholic War Council and representatives of Catholic Women have been appointed in various local committees.

UNITED LEADERSHIP WILL BRING VICTORY

Lansing and Lane Endorse Campaign for Funds for Welfare of America's Fighting Forces.

Washington, Nov. 6. — Hearty endorsement is given today by Robert Lansing, Secretary of State, to the United War Work Campaign, in a statement urging support of the drive for $170,500,000 for the continuation of soldier and sailor service work by the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., National Catholic War Council (K. of C.), War Camp Community Service, American Library Association and Salvation Army.

"The wise policy for a united campaign, which has been adopted by the patriotic men who are directing the various organizations charged with the welfare of our fighting forces, has my hearty approval," said Mr. Lansing.

"While they, acting separately, have done and would continue to do splendid work, combination will greatly add to their efficiency and usefulness. I am sure that the American people will give to the united effort the same support which they gave in the past to the separate organizations. It is enough to say that it is for our boys across the sea."

Franklin K. Lane, Secretary of the Interior, summed up as follows: "Under a united leadership in France our men are making a drive for us, and under a united leadership in America we are making a drive for them. May we be as successful as they have been!"

—Keep Them Smiling—

YOU'D GIVE YOUR LAST CENT!

If you came across a man dying for the want of a cup of hot chocolate or coffee, what would you do? You'd spend your last dollar to see that he got it!

Supposing your boy or one of his pals lay on a foreign field, wounded, needing help that money could buy.

You'd beg every last one of those within a dozen miles to do all that they could for the poor lad—and hang the expense!

That's exactly what it means when you donate to the United War Work Campaign fund which goes to the various war welfare agencies with which your son is in constant contact. You are ministering to some neighbor lad if not your own—or perhaps to many of them—in the only way that can really help them in those trying times when every bit of comfort is the saving grace that makes the horror and hardship endurable and keeps them steady and sane.

Send home and the human touch to the lads "over there" in the only way that is left for you—

Through the Army Welfare Agencies!

Wash them with 20 Mule Team Borax Soap Chips. The Borax in the Chips takes out every particle of dirt without rubbing; and leaves them like new. Will not shrink or injure woolens in any way. And the antiseptic properties of the Borax cleanse hygienically.

20 MULE TEAM BORAX SOAP CHIPS

should be used in this way for best results: Make a Soap Jelly by dissolving three tablespoonfuls of 20 Mule Team Borax Chips in a quart of boiling water. Add this to luke-warm wash water and work the blankets in this solution without rubbing. Rinse in warm water, pull out and shake well. At the Princess.

The Princess will re-open on Sunday evening with a big special attraction. Manager A. J. Lawrence, who has been in Minneapolis during the week, telephoned this morning that he had secured Griffith's new wonder production, "The Great Love" as the opening number. This picture has created as much interest and comment as any of the great Griffith productions and is built on a different theme. In the larger cities the production has been run for weeks at a stretch to crowded houses and many consider it better than "The Birth of a Nation," "Civilization," "Intolerance" or any of the other masterpieces that have appeared under the direction of the master of picture craft.

VICTORY GIRLS PLAN CAMPAIGN

WILL BE ACTIVE FACTORS IN RAISING WAR WELFARE FUND.

MRS. PITKIN IS CHAIRMAN

HAVE UNTIL JULY 1 TO MAKE GOOD ON $5.00 ALLOTMENT.

"What are Victory Girls?"

This is the question thrust constantly on the members of the United War Fund committee, following the sudden rise of Victory Girls in this community as members of the organization working for the success of the United War Fund.

When the campaign for Nov. 11-18 was being organized, provision was made for girls between the ages of 12 and 20 who would wish to help in the great drive. They were to be called Victory Girls. When a girl enrolls in the Victory Girls, she pledges herself to earn and give a stated sum to help bring comfort to our soldiers and sailors. She should make good her pledge out of money earned. She has until July 1st to do this. She will receive a Victory Girls' button, also a banner to hang in the window of her home, saying a girl there is enlisted for victory.

The girls of Minnesota are under the direction of Mrs. Robert R. Cahn of Minneapolis. Mrs. Cahn appointed Mrs. Charles Pitkin of this city as executive of the Seventh district, which comprises ten of the north counties of Minnesota. Mrs. Pitkin has spent this week at the county seats of these counties and altho she received her appointment late, already has a county chairman with a working organization thru townships and school districts in each county.

In Red Lake county the girls are banding themselves into clubs and in this way will raise their allotment. In Crookston they have started a very interesting innovation for helping the girls to earn their $5.00. They have organized what they call an "Industrial Bureau for Victory Girls" in charge of some one well acquainted with the industries of their city. It is conducted similar to any free employment bureau, only made strictly a part of the Victory Girls organization. Mrs. Pitkin has plans for this to be done in Thief River Falls also.

Miss Olive Booren is county chairman of the girls' division in Pennington county. She has appointed township chairmen and already has her outline of work and publicity matter in their hands. Miss Ruth Matthews is acting as secretary to Miss Booren for the town work. Miss Booren has appointed as assistants ten young women who are leaders among girls in the community. Each one of these young women has a group of from ten to fifteen younger girls working with her, making in all a working organization which should make Pennington county go well above its allotment for Victory Girls' pledges.

ONE PINK BALLOT IS LOST TO CAUSE

ELEMENTS CONSPIRE TO PREVENT CASTING OF IMPORTANT VOTE

One of the citizens who served as a judge of election on Tuesday has a right to feel aggrieved. He is a strong temperance advocate and would not have missed casting his little pink ballot for anything, but it will never be counted in spite of having been properly marked.

The election official made up his mind to vote early and in order not to overlook voting for a dry state he marked the pink ballot first. Putting it down on the window sill beside him he proceeded to pick out the candidates he favored on the long blue slip. While thus employed a gust of wind came and carried his pink preference indicator out of reach and far away. Not wishing to lose that ballot and knowing it to be impossible to secure another one the voter stuffed the rest of the tickets into his pocket and started out after the truant. Sheriff W. J. LaBree happened to note this last performance and informed the citizen that the ballots could not be carried out of the room. These had already been marked and it would never do to leave them where all could see where the crosses had been put. There was nothing for it but to let the pink offender go—and one perfectly good dry vote was lost.

NEARLY 300,000 IN NEXT DRAFT

MANY FROM 1918 CLASS

NUMBER OF DRAFTED MEN NOW IN SERVICE HAS REACHED 3,000,000.

In addition to the draft requisitions already announced for November, there has been a call issued for 290,773 men for general service at the different camps of the country. This call was published on Monday and gives Minnesota's quota as 1,590, which would leave the share of Pennington county about nine men. Between Nov. 11 and 15, it was announced, 253,335 white men physically qualified for military service will entrain making the largest single call issued under the selective service act.

The remainder of the November total, so far as announced, will be made up of negroes for entrainment Nov. 19 to 21.

With the assembling of the men provided in these calls at camp, the total number of men inducted into military service under the draft will have passed the 3,000,000 mark, and the number of men in the United States army, in the field or in training, will total more than 4,000,000.

Takes Late Registrants.

Men who registered Sept. 12 under the act extending draft age limits will make up the largest proportion of the November mobilization as the eligible list remaining from previous registrations largely was exhausted by the October calls. Though the October calls were suspended because of the influenza epidemic, nearly all have been reissued during the last three weeks. In states where the calls have not been reissued, men called for camp in October will leave with the men called for this month. Calls for additional men to entrain later this month are in preparation, it was said later.

SCHOOLS TO OPEN MONDAY

CHURCH SERVICES AS USUAL SUNDAY—THEATRES WILL ALSO OPEN.

Indications are that the Spanish influenza epidemic has run its course in Thief River Falls and the authorities believe they now have the situation so well in hand that schools, churches, theatres and other activities may be permitted to resume. Accordingly everything will assume its usual status on Sunday.

Furnish Vacine Free.

It was the intention to open the schools last Monday morning but the attendance was so light as to make it not worth the while to continue. The pupils were consequently dismissed for one week. In the meantime all teachers as well as the students at Lincoln high and Junior high schools are being vaccinated at the expense of the district, providing they wish to take advantage of the offer. The school board assures parents that every safeguard will be employed to prevent any spread of the disease among the teachers or children and that the danger of this is very slight.

Bulletin is Issued.

On Monday afternoon a joint meeting of the board of education, board of health and city council was held at the office of Supt. J. H. Hay and the situation was carefully gone over. At the close of the session the following resolution was adopted and signed by the two boards and council:

"Be it resolved that the health authorities of the city be requested to close public places of amusement, either entirely or in part, that gatherings of people in groups of more than five be discouraged even in business places, that public gatherings be prohibited, and that the citizens be requested to give loyal co-operation to these measures in order that schools, churches and business may assume their accustomed activities."

The above order was printed on placards and posted in conspicuous places about the city.

State Board Approves.

The officials of the state board of education are inclined to ridicule the idea that there is any danger in opening the schools. It is pointed out that the influenza is not a disease to which children are particularly subject and that in many communities where the situation is much worse than in Thief River Falls it has not been found necessary to take such drastic measures. The opinion prevails here, however, that every step thus far taken to prevent the epidemic getting a foothold has been justified and that the result proves this to be the case.

Three Deaths Reported.

Three deaths from pneumonia following attacks of influenza were reported during the week, this being the heaviest toll exacted by the disease in the city for a similar period since the outbreak. The general situation is better, however, according to the doctors, who claim that the number of new cases reported is smaller than for some time past.

Teachers Find 65.

In order that a reasonably authentic count might be had of the number of cases in the city it was decided to make a house-to-house canvass. For this work the teachers of the public schools volunteered and they made a thorough job of it. Dividing the city into districts they called at practically every house and the result proved that there were many more cases than had been reported to the health authorities. The teachers found about 65 persons the appearance of whose symptoms they deemed sufficiently suspicious to report. In many instances only a cold was suspected and no doctor had been called. As a general rule the health emissaries were well received, but in one or two cases they were made far from welcome and all information refused. These latter will be looked after by someone in authority.

Keep Out of Crowds.

The doctors claim that the situation is not in the least alarming but advise the people to exercise some slight degree of caution. They ask that crowds be avoided, especially indoors; that suspicious cases be at once isolated and reported, and that citizens generally assist in preventing the spread of the disease.

Will Meet at Bemidji.

The Fifteenth annual convention of the Red River Valley Dairymen's association will be held at Bemidji, December 11 and 12.

Experts will discuss the leading phases of dairying, creamery management, the cost involved in producing dairy products during war time and other subjects of intimate interest to dairymen, creamerymen, farmers and the general public.

The Red River Valley Dairymen's association is promoting a number of contests among its members which have for their purpose stimulating the keeping of records, increasing the number of pure bred dairy sires, building silos and other progressive improvements of value to the dairymen.

The dairy cattle judging contest is an annual event looked forward to by the members of this association as well as by farm club members. The prizes will be awarded the evening of December 11.

BUILDING BAN RAISED

Word was received yesterday at local lumber offices announcing that the ban against the construction of buildings had been raised and that construction costing not to exceed $10,000 is permitted in both city and country.

The original order limited the cost of farm improvements to $2,500 and prohibited certain kinds of construction entirely.

GRAVELING COSTS RATHER TOO MUCH

COUNCIL DECIDES TO MAKE PREPARATIONS FOR REGULAR PAVING.

Street Commissioner O. L. Bakken has submitted his estimate of the cost of gravelling Third street from Main avenue to the Soo depot and finds that it will be in the neighborhood of $1,200 per block. This would bring the expense of a six-inch coating for the four blocks up to nearly $5,500 and city council members are of the opinion that this is too great an outlay for an improvement that must be regarded as only temporary.

Second street was treated in this manner for a short distance last year and while the job was in a measure satisfactory it comes far from answering the purpose of paving. On the last-named thoroughfare only a four-inch dressing was applied and the cost was correspondingly cheaper.

The council is in favor of holding off on all makeshifts and get ready to pave in earnest. It has been decided to begin the work of making the lead sewer connection and such other necessary preparations as fast as the proper material can be secured at a reasonable cost.

COUNTY AND CITY MAY IMPROVE ROAD

STRETCH SOUTH OF CITY ON "J-H" WILL PROBABLY BE REMEDIED.

There is a stretch of highway, only about half a mile in length, situated at the southern limits of the city, which has perhaps been cussed more often and more roundly than any other similar piece in Pennington county. The road is a very important link in the Jefferson Highway between Thief River Falls and St. Hilaire and its shortcomings have been all the more glaring because of the excellent highways on either side of it. The road runs east and west, following a ditch grade and it has been in its present condition ever since the ditch was put in.

The city now proposes to take the initiative in getting the stretch improved. A proposition will be submitted to the county commissioners at the next meeting stipulating that the expense be shared equally and that the work be begun at once. Gravel can be hauled during the winter at a much lower cost than in summer and this much could be taken care of before spring. The work of leveling and grading could also be largely accomplished before cold weather stops enterprises of this kind. But the plan employed makes no difference, just so the work is done.

Important Chairmanships.

The Republicans will have a majority of at least 50 in the next house of representatives and have also a lead of one or two in the senate. The defeat of Henry Ford in Michigan and the return of Senator Fall of New Mexico makes this certain.

The probabilities are that James A. Mann of Illinois will be the next speaker, succeeding Champ Clark of Missouri. In the organization of the house a number of the Minnesota members are slated for particularly important committee chairmanships. Congressman Steenerson is the ranking Republican member on the committee on postoffice and postroads and will undoubtedly succeed Congressman Moon of Tennessee. Congressman Volstead occupies the same position with regard to the highly important judiciary committee and will be its next chairman.

Letters From France.

Two bundles of letters from France arrived at the Thief River Falls post office on Tuesday and anxious relatives were again assured that the boys are all right. A postal reached The Times office from Ben Bothum, former reporter, saying: "Just a line to let you know we are giving them Hail Columbia. Am well and happy."

NEWS OF PEACE SETS CITY WILD

PEOPLE DECLARE HALF HOLIDAY AND CONTINUE CELEBRATION TILL MORNING.

BURN KAISER IN EFFIGY

SINGING CROWDS PARADE THE STREETS; EVERY BELL RINGS AND WHISTLES TOOT.

The people of Thief River Falls made a good start on Thursday afternoon when the false report was given out that the armistice had been signed, but it was only a practice performance compared to the outbursts of Monday when it at last became certain that the war was practically at an end and Germany had admitted to a most humilating defeat.

The news of the signing of the armistice was received early in the morning and preparations were at once made for something out of the ordinary in the way of a jubilation. Business men with one accord offered to close their places at noon in order that everyone could get out and give full vent to their feelings in the open.

Impromptu Parades.

There was no formality or set program. Everyone merely started out to make all the noise possible, providing other means of continuing the demonstration when they became too hoarse to shout. The soprano selection was particularly in evidence. Girls from the stores, offices and railroad departments bought or otherwise secured all the flags to be had and proceeded up and down the streets in squads, giving ample evidence of their presence. The kid band lead in everything and played everywhere and on any pretext. It sure was a boisterous afternoon.

A Monster Bonfire.

When the false alarm was sounded on Thursday preparations were made for a monster bonfire on the river bank near the Soo depot. All the boxes and barrels in the neighborhood were collected by a committee appointed for the purpose and an effigy of the kaiser was stuck up on a pole in the center of the pile. The disappointment over the denial of the first report was keen but the impression prevailed that it would only be a matter of a short time until the armistice was signed and the pyre would then come in handy. Accordingly all was in readiness for Monday night.

Big Crowd Present.

All warnings against crowds would have been futile and it would have taken a particularly brave flu germ to attack that crowd anyway. It is doubtful if a bigger gathering was ever seen in the county. Led by the band and the home guard company the mob marched to the place where the representative of Bill Hohenzollern hung suspended by the neck and the pile was touched off. The home guard company fired a few volleys of blank cartridges into the remains while the crowd yelled its collective head off. The band kept right on playing and could be quite plainly heard—when the crowd stopped long enough to get another start.

Kept Going All Night.

After the obsequies the mob for the most part dispersed. The members of the guard betook themselves to the Hotel Brumund where a fine lunch had been prepared for their relectation. But the band never stopped. In the wee small hours of the morning citizens were awakened by the boys serenading on some corner. They kept it up until compelled to quit from sheer weariness.

That crowd surely gave the impression of being quite happy over something.

THREE DAYS LEFT OF WELFARE DRIVE

PENNINGTON COUNTY WILL HAVE TO HUSTLE TO MAKE QUOTA

Unless a strong effort is made to reach the quota of $17,500 alloted as Pennington county's share in the United War Work campaign the community is going to fall considerably short of making the grade. Chairman C. D. Gustafson stated last evening that about $6,000 was pledged on the first day but that there has been a marked falling off since that time. The city did not do as well as expected and in one or two townships the work of solicitation is not yet well under way. Rocksbury is the first to report that the full quota would be forthcoming with something over for good measure.

Compared with neighboring counties Pennington is not showing up to the best advantage so far. Red Lake has reported in $10,500 while Polk county has already secured pledges amounting to $20,000. The standing of the other counties in the district at the end of the first day was as follows: Beltrami, $5,000; Mahnomen, $1,500; Marshall $6,000; Norman, $3,000; Roseau, $3,000.

It is absolutely necessary that the different counties secure the sums alloted. The work to be carried on is most important, as is proven by the urgent letters sent out by President Wilson, Secretaries Baker and Daniels and other noted men. It all goes for our soldiers and sailors, providing them with the many needful things that cannot be supplied by the government. The money will be distributed among the several welfare boards without discrimination or favoritism and every dollar will be spent in promoting the welfare of the fighters.

In case anyone has been overlooked in this solicitation they should send their contributions either to Mr. Gustafson or to Willis Akre, treasurer, First National bank.

SUSPEND DRAFT; TURN MEN BACK

OTHERS TO BE RETURNED

ORDERS ARE TO RUSH CLASSIFICATION OF FIRST DIVISION.

Under orders from President Wilson, Provost Marshal General E. H. Crowder on Monday directed the cancellation of all outstanding draft calls, stopping the movement during the ensuing five days of 252,000 men and setting aside all November calls for over 300,000.

The order was received in Thief River Falls just in the nick of time. The entrainment of seven men had been ordered for Fort Riley, Kas., and they were already at the depot with the train awaiting orders, to move when County Auditor T. P. Anderson received the telegram holding up all draft entrainments. The contingent from Roseau county was already on board and continued on to Crookston, at which point they were turned back.

Classification Stopped.

An order had been issued for the immediate classification of men between the ages of 36 and 45, and this was also cancelled. The work of getting the first division of the last registrants ready for service was ordered speeded up, however, and all those between the ages of 18 to 19 and 32 to 36 are required to hold themselves in readiness for the call which may arrive at any time.

May be Returned.

Secretary Baker has announced that so far as practical all men who have been called and who have not yet completed their training will be immediately turned back to covilian life. This is here taken to mean that the 34 who were sent to Camp Forest and Camp Cody last week will be returned to civilian life upon their arrival at the army encampments.

Secretary Josephus Daniels announced that no immediate steps would be taken toward demobilizing any part of the naval forces of the United States.

Marines Not Included.

Men not yet entrained, whether specially inducted or assembled by general call, for whom the day and hour of service has been set by draft boards, will be considered as honorably discharged and so paid.

Calls for the Navy and Marine Corps are not affected by the cancellation and entrainment of men for these services will continue as ordered.

Ask Pastor to Stay.

At a meeting of the congregation of the Norwegian Lutheran church held last Sunday, Rev. I. T. Aastad announced that he had received a call from Grace English Lutheran church at San Francisco and wished to sound the sentiment of the members on the subject of his acceptance. This was speedily forthcoming and was in the form of a unanimous request that he remain in his present call. Rev. Aastad promised to consider the matter and give his final reply at the next meeting of the congregation.

GIRLS WILL EARN $5 FOR SOLDIERS

VICTORY CLUB MEMBERS ARE ENTHUSIASTIC OVER PROSPECT OF HELPING

Miss Olive Booren, chairman of the Victory Girls of Pennington county, reports that the girls of the city and county are enthusiastic over the movement. They are in many instances not waiting to be solicited but are calling up Miss Booren's headquarters asking for pledge cards. Almost all of the girls are pledging themselves to give five dollars, but in some instances have pledged as high as eight. All of the girls understand that this money is to be earned.

No girl is urged to sign a pledge unless she wishes to help our soldiers and sailors with her own earnings. In this way the spirit of sacrificial giving is cultivated and this means more to the young girls of America than any amount of money merely given with no effort on their part.

Reports from the country districts to Miss Booren show the same eager spirit to be helpful and she feels sure the Victory Girls are going over the allotment.

Washing dishes, 20 cents per hour; any hard housework, 30 cents per hour; sewing carpet rags, 20 cents per pound; mending, 25 cents per hour; taking care of children, 20 cents per hour; shoveling snow, 30 cents per hour; selling Christmas cards.

Miss Booren is being assisted in the city by Mrs. A. S. Sapero and Misses Gena Granum, Josie Weeks, Gertrude O'Neill, Nora Eckum, Una Nelson, Agnes Wilson, Hazel Sulrud, Carino Landahl, Avis Akre, Lydia Storli and Ione Thorson.

New State Superintendent.

Governor Burnquist has announced the appointment of J. M. McConnell, Mankato State Normal school faculty man, to the office of state superintendent of education, effective January 1. Superintendent C. G. D. Schulz, who has held the office ten years and previously was assistant superintendent, said last night that he had no intimation of any contemplated change and therefore could make no statement regarding his future plans.

Expressing surprise at the appointment of his successor, Superintendent Schulz indicated that the only difference that has arisen between Governor Burnquist and himself was over the payment of state school aid.

RATIFICATION BY STATES IS ASSURED

TWO MORE THAN NECESSARY DECLARE IN FAVOR OF NATIONAL PROHIBITION.

In spite of the fact that the dry amendment was defeated in Minnesota a statement issued at the headquarters of the Anti-Saloon League of America states the results of the recent elections insured ratification by the states of the national prohibition amendment to the Federal Constitution.

"Ohio, Florida, Nevada, Wyoming and Minnesota," says the statement, "have voted dry and elected ratification legislators. These states, added to the fourteen that have ratified the amendment and the nineteen states now dry that are sure to raitfy the amendment, make thirty-eight, or two more than the required thirty-six required for the ratification."

Nearly all week it has looked as if the dry amendment had carried but this morning's papers claim that it has been lost by 884 votes. A mistake of 1,000 votes was found in the Lac qui Parle county election report and this definitely settled the matter.

COUNTY GOES DRY; 3 PRECINCTS WET

TOTAL VOTE IS 1322 TO 850—RED LAKE COUNTY STILL DAMP.

The dry amendment was endorsed by the voters of the state last Tuesday, the majority in its favor being in the neighborhood of 9,000. There were 2,172 votes cast on the proposition in Pennington county, showing that the citizens generally took interest enough in the matter to express a preference. There were 1,322 ballots in favor of the amendment and 850 against it. Two townships—Deer Park and Star—voted "no," the first-named by a majority of three and the last by ten votes. The other wet precinct is the Third ward in the city where the wets had a majority of eight. Thief River Falls as a whole voted 406 dry and 344 wet.

Red Lake county remains true to its traditions to the last, returning a "wet" majority of 127. In view of this fact it seems rather inconsistent for the voters there to give Calderwood a majority of 65 over Senator Nelson, but such was the case. Burnquist carried the neighboring county by 44 votes.

Service Was Appreciated.

Whenever there has been anything of special interest going on over in Europe—which has been quite often during the past couple of years—crowds could be seen around the Second street window of The Times office at all hours of the day and night. The management maintained a very good bulletin service whenever events were such as to warrant it and the people gave every indication of appreciating the fact.

The bulletins were secured by telephone and telegraph, and The Times paid the tolls. The cost of this was not great for each call or message but aggregated rather a surprising sum for the month. However, the publishers believe that the investment was a good one. The people were given the news as soon as it was received in the larger cities and as a general thing it was absolutely correct. The bulletins would invariably be corroborated by the newspapers later.

SURRENDER WAR MATERIAL; EVACUATE INVADED LANDS; INDEMNITY FOR DAMAGES

Such Are Principal Points of Armistice Agreement Forced on Germany by Victorious Allied Governments.

MUST TURN OVER ALL WARSHIPS AND SUBS

The terms of the armistice with Germany were read to Congress by President Wilson at 1 P. M. Monday.

Assembled in the hall of the House, where nineteen months ago Senators and Representatives heard the President ask for the declaration of war, they today heard him speak the words which heralded the coming of peace.

The strictly military terms of the armistice are embraced in eleven specifications which include the evacuation of all invaded teritories, the withdrawal of the German troops from the left bank of the Rhine and the surrender of all supplies of war.

HUNS MUST ABANDON TREATIES.

The terms also provide for the abandonment by Germany of the treaties of Bucharest and Brest-Litovsk.

The naval terms provide for the surrender of 160 submarines, fifty destroyers, six battle cruisers, ten battleships, eight light cruisers and other miscellaneous ships.

All Allied vessels in German hands are to be surrendered and Germany is to notify neutrals that they are free to trade at once on the seas with the Allied countries.

RESTITUTION FOR DAMAGE.

Among the financial terms included are restitution for damage done by the German armies; restitution of the cash taken from the National Bank of Belgium, and return of gold taken from Russia and Rumania.

The military terms include the surrender of 5,000 guns, half field and half light artillery; 30,000 machine guns, 3,000 flame-throwers, and 2,000 airplanes.

The surrender of 5,000 locomotives, 50,000 wagons, 10,000 motor lorries, the railways of Alsace-Lorraine for use by the Allies, and stores of coal and iron also are included.

MUST REPATRIATE PRISONERS.

The immediate repatriation of all Allied and American prisoners without resiprocal action by the Allies also is included.

In connection with the evacuation of the left bank of the Rhine it is provided that the Allies shall hold the crossings of the river at Coblenz, Cologne and Mayence, together with bridge-heads and a thirty-kilometer (twenty-mile) radius.

The right bank of the Rhineland, that occupied by the Allies, is to become a neutral zone and the bank held by the Germans is to be evacuated in nineteen days. The armistice is for thirty days, but the President spoke of the war as "coming to an end."

ACCESS TO EVACUATED TERRITORY.

German troops are to retire at once from any territory held by Russia, Rumania and Turkey before the war.

The Allied forces are to have access to the evacuated territory either through Dantzig or by the river Vistula. The unconditional capitulation of all German forces in East Africa within one month is provided.

German troops which have not left the invaded territories which specifically includes Alsace-Lorraine within fourteen days become prisoners of war.

The repatriation within fourteen days of the thousands of unfortunate civilians deported from France and Belgium also is required.

Germany's acceptance of the terms, President Wilson said, signalized the end of the war, because it made her powerless to renew it.

The President made it plain that the nations which have overthrown the military masters of Germany will now attempt to guide the German people safely to the family of nations of democracy.

President Wilson drove to the Capitol at 12:45 P. M. through streets thronged with cheering people.

DUTY TO PRESENT IN PERSON.

The President spoke as follows:

"Gentlemen of the Congress:

"In these anxious times of rapid and stupendous change it will in some degree lighten my sense of responsibility to perform in person the duty of communicating to you some of the larger circumstances of the situation with which it is necessary to deal.

"The German authorities who have, at the invitation of the Supreme War council, been in communication with Marshal Foch, have accepted and signed the terms of armistice which he was authorized and instructed to communicate to them. These terms are as follows:

"Thirty-five.—This armistice to be accepted or refused by Germany within 72 hours of notification.

WAR AT AN END.

Wilson said: "The war thus comes to an end, for, having accepted these terms of armistice, it will be impossible for the German command to renew it.

"It is now possible to assess the consequences of this great consummation. We know only that this tragical war, whose consuming flames swept from one nation to another until all the world was on fire, is at an end and that it was the privilege of our own people to enter it at its most critical juncture in such fashion and in such force as to contribute in a way of which we are all deeply proud, to the great result. We know, too, that the object of the war is attained, the object upon which all free men had set hteir hearts; and attained with a sweeping completeness which even now we do not realize. Armed imperialism such as the men conceived who were but yesterday the masters of Germany is at an end, its illicit ambitions engulfed in black disaster. Who will now seek to revive it? The arbitrary power of the military caste of Germany which once could secretly and of its own single choice disturb the peace of the world is discredited and destroyed.

JUST, LASTING PEACE SOUGHT.

"And more than that—much more than that—has been accomplished. The great nations which associated themselves to destroy it had now definitely united in the common purpose to set up such a peace as will satisfy the longing of the whole world for disinterested justice, embodied in settlements which are based upon something much better and much more lasting than the selfish competitive interests of power states. There is no longer conjecture as to the objects the victors have in mind. They have a mind in the matter, not only, but a heart also. Their avowed and concerted purpose is to satisfy and protect the weak as well as to accord their just rights to the strong.

TAX COLLECTIONS FOR SECOND HALF

County Treasurer Theo. H. Liden's office was a busy place during the last few days of October. The second half of the taxes for the year were due and there was a rush to get them in before the ten per cent penalty was applied. The total collections for the period amounted to $94,509.73, as against $89,448.77 for the corresponding period a year ago. The amount was not as large as for the first half of the year, however, the sum gathered into the county treasury at that time being $111,713.21. The number of delinquents is about the same as in recent years and it is expected that quite a sum will be collected during the next two months, although the money then paid will carry the penalty attached. Last year there was $13,000 paid in during November and December.

Chiropractic Adjustments Achieved Wonderful Results in Case of Thief River Falls Woman

I used to promise every doctor I consulted about my case, that if they could cure, I would gladly advertise them to others that are suffering.

I have been suffering for the last 27 years. And have consulted many doctors and got no relief whatever. In 1911 I left for Norway to consult physicians there, and after spending a year there, I returned with no improvement in health. So I was just about to give up searching for health, when I heard about Chiropractic. I started to take adjustments, and after taking a reasonsonable number I began to feel better, and now can say I am in perfect health, and advise others that are suffering from some ailments to take Chiropractic adjustments. And I can not thank Dr. Eastman too highly for the work she did for me. MRS. O. EGGERUD.

THE END OF THE CONFLICT.

With the acceptance of the terms of armistice by representatives of the German government the greatest war in all history practically came to a close. The Central Powers have been decisively defeated after more than four years of the most awful warfare the world has ever known. Practically all of Europe, America and Australasia have been directly involved, while the countries of Africa and Asia were more or less seriously affected.

It has been a war of principles, ideas and ideals even more than of armies and nations. The German doctrine that "might makes right" was opposed to the fundamental idea of the consent of the governed held by the world's democracies. The Teutons were obsessed with the opinion that they had been selected to rule over others, enforcing on unwilling subjects their particular brand of culture and philosophy, the first tenet of which is a recognition of the postulate that the German himself and all things German are superior to anything else in the world. To wage war for the maintenance of such a principle was to invite disaster from the outset. It meant that in case the Germans won there would have been no place in the world for anything not Teutonic.

Germany has come to an inglorious end. The kaiser is practically a fugitive and the system which he risked so much to maintain has crumbled about his ears. The Hohenzollern dynasty is defunct and the same is true of the Hapsburgs. Both represented an outworn idea in government and must make place for a new order in which the people shall be the rulers.

America's part in the war has been glorious. Whether we should have entered the struggle before we did is now a matter of little importance. The outstanding fact is we arrived in time to stem the tide of reverses that was rapidly engulfing the nation whose armies were the first to grapple with the Hun. The valiant soldiers of England, France, Italy, Belgium and Serbia had for three years withstood the attacks of the greatest military machine ever turned out in the world's history. Their situation was serious when we arrived, but after that the end was only a question of time.

There is no inclination in the United States to claim a greater amount of credit than is due for the success crowning the efforts of the democracies. There is glory enough for all and our people refer far oftener to the great work done by our allies than to the achievements of our own men. This is as it should be.

The war is won but there is still much work left to be done. Americans will still be required to feed the world and to supply it with necessities of many kinds. While our industrial activities have to a large extent been turning out material necessary in the winning of the war, yet our territory is intact and we can in a very short time be in shape to follow the pursuits of peace. It is different in Europe. England is perhaps the most fortunately situated in this respect, but even there it will take years to get back into the pre-war stride. Both France and Germany will for a long time be unable to support themselves without outside aid, and it is the intention to see that even the latter country is not permitted to drift into a condition of anarchy and chaos by supplying its people with the things most needful. Russia is a problem all by itself and it will be up to America to undertake it rehabilitation. Our work is by no means completed when the peace treaty is signed.

Let all Americans therefore look squarely at the future. It is very well to feel a great satisfaction in our achievements as warmakers, but it is after all as a peaceful nation that we must work out our destiny. We should feel a just pride in the part we have played in the world's greatest war but we should feel an even greater pride in the part we shall be expected to take in the movement for permanent peace.

Americans have helped to make the world a better and safer and happier place in which to live. They have even helped the Germans themselves, although it may take some time before the latter are able to admit this.

The struggle is at an end and it has ended in a victory for humanity.

"Praise God from whom all blessings flow."

OUR NEXT UNDERTAKING.

Now that the war is over some of the enterprises interrupted because of it will naturally be taken up again. Thief River Falls had one or two propositions in hand when the world went crazy four years ago and has never been able to forget the big circus long enough to get back to first principles. It is to be hoped that the people will now be permitted to devote a slight amount of attention to this postponed program.

If one is to judge by the expressions heard on every side it is certain one of the first matters that should be taken up by the city government of Thief River Falls is street paving. Our streets are a positive disgrace. Visitors say that no other city in the state of the size and pretensions of Thief River Falls has such thoroughfares. The principal streets are the worst because they are used the most. The alleys as a general thing are quite passable, but the main avenues of travel would not be permitted to remain in their present condition by a third rate village in the gumbo belt.

We want farmers to trade in Thief River Falls and we build roads to facilitate their travel. That is, we build them from the city limits outward. Within the corporation we seem to consider anything in the shape of a street good enough. The result is that automobiles are stalled; horse-drawn vehicles flounder along with half loads; valuable time is consumed; equipment and patience and temper are put to a severe strain, and often ruined entirely.

It is a sort of standing joke among our own people as well as visitors that if a person can get out of the city limits of Thief River Falls without breaking his car he can go a hundred miles in any direction without the slightest trouble. This certainly does not speak very well for our enterprise.

A pretty good start was made on the paving proposition about a year ago. The matter was quite seriously considered but it was found material had advanced to such an extent that it would be unwise to begin at that time, or until after the war. It is not suggested that conditions have now so changed as to make it advisable to begin this work at once, but there are many things to be done before the actual laying of pavement can commence, and it might be well to get this started now. Mayor Penney strongly recommended such action in his annual message to the council and it is known that a majority of the members of that body are in favor of going ahead. There is some objection, of course, but there always will be objection to anything that means an immediate outlay of money, no matter how much the project in hand may save eventually.

The winter months will be a good time for the council to discuss this subject with a view to beginning work in the spring if conditions make this at all possible. That something should be done is admitted by practically everyone.

CULTIVATE CHEERFULNESS.

The following from the Free Press Evening Bulletin was written for the people of Winnipeg but applies to every locality with equal force at this particular time. Read it over and then make up your mind that this is not such a gloomy world after all. Smile, doggone it, and thus do more to discourage the flu germ than all the doctors' prescriptions you can take:

"Winnipeg is suffering, though not nearly to the same extent as many other cities, from an epidemic of influenza. At this time all sensible persons will take such precautions as are suggested by competent medical authority, but beyond that will go about their daily business without allowing their minds to dwell upon unpleasant possibilities.

"The mind is master of the body. There is no surer way to invite disease than to live in continual dread; fear affects the general health, and so, in the long run, predisposes to just such an attack as the victim shrinks from.

"Two of the best possible disinfectants are at the disposal of everyone—fresh air and sunshine—and there can be no such thing as excess in their use; the old saw which says you can have too much of a good thing does not apply here.

"But, above all things, let us keep cheerful; what is to be will be, and after taking all reasonable precautions we should not lose time and confidence by cogitating on the flu, which, after all, is probably just the same old grippe we have suffered from for nearly 30 years, only in a more virulent form. When human beings herd together, as our fighting men must herd but as there is no need for us to do, contagious diseases tend to assume a more aggressive nature, to become itensified, but such epidemics soon run their course, and by living sanely and serenely, we shall most of us live securely. A certain number of casualties there must be, but as a percentage of the population they will not be impressive."

THE PEOPLE UNDERSTAND.

The response to the appeal of the United War Welfare Organization for funds with which to carry on the work has been general and liberal. It was feared that with the coming of peace people might get the idea that nothing further along this line would be expected of them, but it is now evident that the campaign is going to be a great success.

Only about two days remain of the week set for the campaign. The work in the city has been pretty well completed and the sum raised is better than was expected. All over the country the influenza situation has proved a drawback to the work and the effect of the epidemic has been felt even in Thief River Falls and Pennington county. This has made the house to house canvassing something of a risk but the teachers and other ladies who were assigned to this duty have protected themselves as best they could and gone bravely at their task. Their success has been most marked.

The peace celebration broke in on the campaign somewhat and much postponed work will have to be done in the short time remaining. Those who have not yet been seen should send their contribution to Chairman David Gustafson, city, who will acknowledge receipt of same at once. It is probable that this will be the last request of the kind to which our people will have to respond and it should be a matter of pride for everyone to be represented on the list of contributors.

GREAT ROAD-BUILDING PROGRAM.

At the general election last week the voters of Illinois approved by a majority of nearly 500,000 the proposition to issue bonds in the sum of $60,000,000 for the purpose of financing a 4,000 mile system of paved roads in the state.

The Illinois plan consists briefly of an increased license fee or wheelage tax on motor propelled vheicles and the making of this money available for immediate construction by the issuing of bonds. An average tax of $12 per car, the tax being based on the horsepower of the vehicle, is collected in Illinois. A similar tax in Minnesota, based on the number of motor cars and trucks now in the state, would enable us to issue $40,000,000 in bonds, pay all interest and retire them at the end of twenty years with nearly $17,000,000 in the sinking fund. Forty million dollars would build approximately 2,000 miles of 18-foot road of the most approved type of construction.

The proposition has already received considerable attention in this state and the Illinois experiment will be watched with much interest. Road work, which has suffered a general setback during the war, is certain to go ahead with a bound when things again become normal and it is none too soon to begin a study of the best methods by which substantial highways can be built and maintained. The Illinois plan contains many admirable features and has received the unqualified endorsemetn of the Minnesota Highway commission.

Red Lake county voters must have had things figured out to suit themselves. They gave Calderwood a substantial majority against Nelson for senator and then voted "wet" by a still larger majority.

TEN AND 20 YEARS AGO

Twenty Years Ago.

The election resulted in a victory for the People's party so far as Red Lake county was concerned. The following were elected: Auditor, Adam Zeh; treasurer, O. T. Tanberg; register of deeds, S. Gibeau; sheriff, Henry Nordlund; county attorney, Van R. Brown; judge of probate, J. T. Knight; coroner, Joseph Belaire, clerk of court, Jos. Perrault; superintendent of schools, Frank Jeffers; senator, Harry Ives; district judge, William Watts.

River navigation was closed for the winter. The steamboats were all tied up at their docks in this city.

Hon. Archibald Williamson and wife of Liverpool, England, arrived in the city for the purpose of outfitting for a hunting expedition in the game fields to the north. Ed. Wilcox was engaged to act as guide.

The soldier boys who had returned from the Spanish-American war left for St. Paul to which city they had been called for the purpose of being formally mustered out of the service.

August Ferdinand Wendt, who had been a resident of Thief River Falls since the days when it was a wilderness, died at the age of 44 years. He was head miller at the local flour mill at the time of his death.

Joseph Votava, dealer in groceries and provisions, was advertising his prices in the Press. It is interesting to compare these with the cost of similar articles at the present time: Laundry soap, 12 bars for 25 cents; raisins 4 cents per pound; sirup, 25 cents per gallon; molasses, 20 cents; vinegar, 15 cents; salt pork, 8 cents per pound; oatmeal, 3 cents; granulated sugar, 17 pounds for $1.00; coffee, 9 pounds for $1.00; silver gloss starch, 5 cents; tea, 45 cents per pound; navy beans, 3 cents per pound; rice, 5 cents; barley, 3 cents; lard, 8 cents.

Ten Years Ago.

A nine pound baby girl was born on the 11th to Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Olson. The little Miss was named Mabel Vivian.

L. G. Browning, U. S. Commissioner, died at a hospital in Crookston. The remains were taken to Anoka for burial.

A statement received from the United States land department showed that there were still 34,700 acres of land open to government entry in Red Lake county.

Dr. August Grunard of Bronson, was placed in jail on a charge of having performed a criminal operation on a young woman living in this city.

Following were the results of the election held in Red Lake county, according to the report from the county seat by the Press: President—Taft, 1436; Bryan, 858. Governor—Johnson, 1476; Jacobson, 1122. Congressman—Steenerson, 1455; Brauten, 400; Sageng, 935. Auditor—O'Brien, 1644; Sweaas, 1155. Treasurer—Tandberg, 1860; Ohm, 894. Register of Deeds—Quist, 1154; Joffers, 1656. Sheriff—Nelson, 1650; McGinty, 1128. Probate Judge, Swanson, 1390; Tarrant, 1346. County Attorney—Michelet, 1554; Stanton, 1177. Superintendent of Schools—Naplin, 891; Anderson, 1757; McAnulty, 909.

One vote elected a county surveyor for Red Lake county. Glenn Martz decided that he would not spend the ten dollars necessary in order to get onto the ticket and a Silverton township farmer wrote in the name of Oscar Ostrum for the position.

2168 BOND BUYERS; 1418 ARE FARMERS

REPORT IS THAT FOURTH LOAN WAS OVERSUBSCRIBED A QUARTER BILLION

If the ordinary population estimate of four and one-half persons to a family holds good in Pennington county it seems that practically every household owns a Liberty Bond of the fourth issue. According to the complete tabulation it is shown that there were 2168 buyers in the county, 1418 of whom reside on farms. This would account for a population of 9,706 persons, and this is probably as close to the correct figure as it is possible to get.

By far the largest number of bonds sold was for the smaller denominations, the fifties and hundreds being most popular. The number of purchasers of the $500 size was not large but there must have been an increase even in this class or the quota could not have been made, the requirement being considerably larger than in the previous campaign.

It is unofficially stated that the total amount of bonds sold in the country will go to six and a half billion dollars.

Thief River Falls LOKEN BROTHERS Minnesota

$18,000,000 YET DUE IN STAMP PLEDGES

CHECK BEING MADE IN EVERY COUNTY TO AID IN COLLECTIONS

Patriotic people of Minnesota are out to make a record in the redeeming of pledges for War Savings stamps. They have already proven themselves loyal by pledging approximately $40,000,000. Of this amount there is still $18,000,000 outstanding in unredeemed pledges. All of these pledges must be redeemed in order to put Minnesota in its proper place among the patriotic states of the Union.

The state committee has just launched a campaign in which a check is being made upon every unredeemed pledge in the state. Special representatives have been assigned to each county, and every place where pledges have been lodged for collection will be visited and the data in connection with unredeemed pledges will be taken by these representatives and same will be investigated through the state committee with a determination by the committee that there will be no unredeemed pledges outstanding by December 31st, at which time the 1918 campaign for the state closes.

"Minnesota has enjoyed in most districts a very prosperous year," said State Director Donald S. Culver. "While we have suffered a terrible catastrophe in some of our northern counties, it should be the determination of other counties to absorb the War Savings stamps which normally would have been taken by these counties. The cash sales in Minnesota amount to approximately $22,500,000 to date, and if each individual at this time redeems any pledge outstanding in his name we can very materially increase these figures.

"We are now approaching the season of the year when the thought of giving occurs to all of us, and I earnestly hope that a large portion of the money which under normal conditions would be spent for non-essentials and gifts of a nature unbecoming the present conditions will this year find its way into Uncle Sam's pockets by the liberal purchase of War Savings stamps. In this way our dollars can be made to do double duty and we can rest in the thought of having done something which is in strict accordance with the wishes of the government."

Killed in Action.

Mrs. Harry Roberts and Mrs. Joe Trodeau of this city have just received word of the death of their brother, Sniper Oscar Thompson, who was killed in action in France. He left for the front on the 10th of April with the First Depot Battalion of Winnipeg and was transferred to the Carmans Highlanders in England. His parents reside at Menisino, Manitoba. The young man was a resident of Thief River Falls about two years previous to his enlistment, having been employed by Mr. Roberts.

Secures Live Stock Expert.

Ward V. Gousseff, newly elected head of the dairy and animal husbandry department of the northwest school of agriculture and experiment station at Crookston, assumed charge there last week. Professor Gousseff, who is a graduate of Iowa State college, was formerly located at Owatonna, Minn., where he had charge of the agricultural work in the high school there. He is well konwn as a livestock expert.

IT WILL GIVE LIGHT AND HEAT FOREVER

Rev. R. L. Barackman this week received from a medical friend a tube of radium, that strangest of all substances. The quantity is infinitesimal, being only 1-3000th part of a grain, but its effectiveness is said to be something wonderful. It will continue to give out light and heat for 10,000,000 years, by which time most of us will have ceased to care whether it goes out or not. Rev. Barackman may arrange to place the substance on display under a powerful magnifying glass.

Radium is an element of the most remarkable properties and is distributed about the globe in such minute quantities that the foremost producing areas have been unable to turn out more than 100 milligrams a week. In the Joachimstahl of North Bohemia, where there are beds of the pitchblende in which the radium is contained it is found in quantities of about one part in three billion. In order to present some idea of what it costs to secure the stuff it might be stated that it takes about two and a half months to produce one or two kilograms. During the process five tons of chemicals and fifty tons of rinsing water are used. This would seem to be even a more tedious job than trying to get election returns the day after a snow storm.

BOY SCOUTS HAVE MUCH WORK AHEAD

ARE IN POSITION TO HELP GREATLY IN WELFARE DRIVE

Scoutmaster C. D. Gustafson, who is also Pennington county chairman for the Welfare Campaign to be carried on next week, has mapped out a program of service for the scouts which will make their work of much value during the drive. They are expected to incorporate themselves temporarily with the Victory Boys and Girls club in the county and the following are some of the things that have been mentioned as coming within their sphere of activities: Help the publicity agent spread the news regarding the earn-and-give campaign among the boys and girls; serve as aides at camp headquarters and as messengers in reporting campaign results; encourage their girl acquaintances to become "Victory Girls;" pledge themselves to earn money and give it to the Victory Division of the United War Work campaign.

These are only a few of the many things they can do. Should they desire a more extended program it may be discovered by application to Mrs. C. A. Pitkin, district chairman of the Victory Girls, or Supt. J. H. Hay, district chairman of Victory Boys.

Hard Water Hurts the Kidneys.

Kidney troubles, as a rule, are common in sections where the drinking water in hard or alkaline. The filtering of this mineral-laden water, throws an added burden on the kidneys and kidney weakness results. Backache, lameness, or some slight bladder weakness may be the first warning, but it shouldn't be neglected. If not treated promptly, it may lead, to torturing gravel, dropsy or fatal Bright's disease. When hard water has a tendency to weaken the kidneys, a good kidney remedy should be used occasionally. Thief River Falls people rely on Doan's Kidney Pills. Read what E. L. Krogstad, 523 State Ave., N., Thief River Falls, says: "Four years ago I was living up in the Rainy River district and the water there was so hard it put my kidneys out of order. Every morning I woke up with terrible pains in my kidneys and my back was weak and lame. It hurt me to stoop in any direction. My kidneys didn't act regularly, either. Sometimes the secretions were too free and then again scant. I was often dizzy, too. Reading about Doan's Kidney Pills, I tried them and three boxes fixed me up in good shape. I have never had any kidney trouble since."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Krogstad had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Warning!

In spite of the fact that the Fuel Administration has promised enough coal for Minnesota to prevent hardship during the coming winter, conditions that cannot be controlled may make impossible the carrying out of the promise.

Labor shortage, strikes, freight congestion, etc., threaten to set at naught the best intentions.

The impression that a large amount of suitable wood is easily obtainable is also a mistake.

Our Advice is to Get Your Coal Order in at Once

The same holds good as to wood. Do not wait until too late.

OMING TO TOWN TO SPEND WINTER

[illegible] H. Ley, directory publisher, [illegible] figured that the work of gathering data for the next reference book for Thief River Falls was about completed, finds that he will have to go over the territory again in order to [illegible] his data.

When he first started out Mr. Ley found quite a few vacant houses in the city. In most instances the unoccupied premises were of the kind that are usually empty under any circumstances, but their number even at that was greater than two years ago. In order to make his book as nearly up to date as possible he made a second trip over the route and found that in one week 15 of the houses marked vacant had been occupied, which cut his list down very materially.

Mr. Ley is of the opinion that persons moving back from the farms for the winter are in part responsible for the change, but found also that the railroads are getting quite a number of men who are moving in with their families.

It is the opinion of Mr. Ley that the directory will show but a slight change from two years ago so far as the population is concerned. The book will be delivered shortly before the first of the year.

$63.00 PER HEAD EARNED BY COWS

THAT IS RECORD FOR MILK PRODUCERS OF PENNINGTON COUNTY

578 CREAMERY PATRONS

THESE WERE PAID OVER $226,000 AND TOTAL FOR STATE IS $110,800,000

There were 578 patrons of the five creameries in Pennington county last year. The product from 4,233 cows was delivered, this amounting to 201,399 pounds of milk and 1,781,646 pounds of cream. Each dairyman milked a little more than seven cows. The average earning power of each cow milked was approximately $63 and the total paid to patrons was $226,015.63.

Not Cows Enough.

The figures are highly satisfactory so far as they go. The only drawback is that there are not cows enough. County Agent R. P. White, from whose office these figures were secured, says that the showing is in many respects one of the best in the state, and proves that Pennington county is far ahead of most of its neighbors in dairying.

Record of Others.

A chart recently sent out by the State Dairy and Food Commission contains a record of the dairy industry in all the counties of Minnesota and makes possible a comparison of the results in Pennington county with those of neighboring communities. Red Lake county creameries received the product from 3,426 cows and paid therefore $136,784.36, or an average of about $40 per head. Marshall county, with its nine creameries, 1,131 patrons and 7,089 cows, reported a total payment to the producers of $22,277.16, or an average of $31.35 for each patron during the year. This is less than half of what was received by those who sent their supplies to the Pennington county creameries.

A Long Way to Go.

While the dairymen and creameries here have every reason to feel satisfied with the progress made, there is still a long road ahead before the tob is in sight. The total value of all dairy products in the state last year was $110,000,000. The banner county, so far as per capita receipts were concerned was Pipestone, where the average paid creamery patrons was $2,847. Five other counties paid out more than a million dollars to the milk and cream producers and one, Stearns, paid more than two million. The other counties in the six-figure class are Freeborn, Ottertail, Wright and Carver. In spite of the vastly larger sum received by the dairymen of Stearns county their cows only averaged $6 per head better in production than those of Pennington county for the year.

Shop and Railroad News

J. H. Durkee, operator at division headquarters here, is this week relieving Agent J. A. D. Shaffer at Ottertail. The latter is a flu victim.

Road Improvement Urged by Chairman of Shipping Board

That highway construction is to receive a great impetus during the coming summer is certain. The war has been of value in showing the importance of good highways and in several states the matter of paved roads is being discussed. Illinois has passed a law providing for the bonding of the state for this purpose, the bonds to be repaid through a tax on automobiles. The Minnesota Highway Commission has under consideration a similar plan and will no doubt submit it to the people before long.

The national value of good roads has lately been called attention to by Chairman Edward N. Hurley of the United States Shipping Board, as the following letter shows:

"United States Shipping Board, Washington, Nov. 7, 1918. Highways Transport Committee, Council of National Defense, Washington, D. C. Gentlemen: Our merchant marine of today and tomorrow will carry a message of good will to the nations of the world.

"Millions of cruelly starved folk face westward from every shore with mouths open to the promise of America. These must be fed, and then clothed, and also supplied with the other necessities of life. Our grand privilege is now here to restore life, strength and hope to these martyred brothers of a hundred tongues.

"Highway transport facilities at the farmer's gate, and at every farmer's gate, must immediately suggest the initial phase of overseas distribution; must make a picture in the farmer's mind of the movement of the product of his soil and labor from his own gate through to the distant points of the world—to Europe, to Algiers, to Athens, and the Orient.

"The highways transport service is the first step in the great system of transportation to the sea and then on the merchant marine to the far points of the world.

"Food must begin to move soon from every hill, through every valley of the great country behind our shores, down to the shipping points before we can start our ships from the ports and fulfill our duty; and, with the promise of the war's end before us, the Highways Transport Committee throughout this land could and should render a peacetime service by stimulating highways transport of nourishment and supplies so badly needed. Routes and channels from shipping points must be opened up and efficiently maintained, and our merchant marine must be built up to meet the demands for distribution overseas.

"Resistance in any form to the free movement of farm products must be reduced and eliminated, and the most efficient utilization of man power must be introduced wherever possible.

"The United States Shipping Board urges that this message be carried through you and your regional chairmen to the state organizations and on down through your great body of patriotic men whose vision can well embrace the crying need of their brothers in other lands for help."

Hooray for Banana Peel "Gets-It"

Only Real Way to Get Rid of Corns.

Which do you prefer—a corn that pulls or a corn that peels? Butchery or blessedness? Only "Gets-It" can get rid of your corn the peel-off way, the blessed way. You don't need a pull.

"Corns Never Trouble Me, I Use 'Gets-It'!"

Why hump yourself up on the floor and with your jaws set and eyes popping from pain, jerk and gouge and cut your corns? Why irritate your toes with some salve or wrap your toe into a big painful bundle with some sticky tape or plaster? Life is too short. Use "Gets-It"—it takes a few seconds to apply and there's no fussing. Corn-pains go. Wear new shoes if you want. Peel off the corn with your fingers—the whole thing, root and all, clear and clean, and it's gone! Only "Gets-It" can do this. Take no chances.

"Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'f'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Thief River Falls and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by J. P. Curtis.

Swift & Company Chicago Plant 1918
One of Our 22 Packing Plants in U.S.A.
Original Swift Plant

Unlike Topsy—
Swift & Company
Has Not "Jest Growed"

Swift & Company, in fifty years of well ordered growth, has become one of the great national services because it has learned to do something for the American people which they needed to have done for them, in the way in which they preferred to have it done.

It has met each successive demand, in the changing conditions of national life, by getting good meat to increasing millions effectively, efficiently, economically, and expeditiously.

The Swift & Company packing plants, refrigerator cars, car routes, branch houses, organization, and personnel of today are the practical solutions, born of practical experience, to the food problems of half a century.

Because of all these elements working in correlation and unison, Swift & Company is able to supply more and better meat to more people than would have been possible otherwise, at a net profit per pound of meat so low (a fraction of a cent) that the consumer price is practically unaffected.

Strip away any portion of this vast, smooth-running human machine, and you make a large part of the meat supply uncertain, lose the benefit of half a century of fruitful experience, and scatter the intelligent energies of men who have devoted a life work toward meeting the needs of a nation in one vital field.

The booklet of preceding chapters in this story of the packing industry will be mailed on request to

UNUSUAL BARGAIN EVENT ANNOUNCED

In a big two-page advertisement this week Loken Brothers announce one of the most sensational price reduction sales in the history of the big store. Merchandising conditions this fall have been somewhat off color for a number of reasons. The war has perhaps been mostly responsible for this, but bad roads and wet weather have been contributing factors. The Lokens now find that they are overstocked and must unload. This is a most unusual time for a store to announce a price-cutting campaign, but some are finding it necessary. It is not considered safe to carry over any considerable stock until another season, even by merchants with whom this is a practice, and the Lokens are more than ever anxious that the present season's goods shall be moved. For this reason some very attractive prices are quoted. In certain lines the goods offered are very much below the present wholesale price, having been bought before the recent advances.

The bargains extend to every department in the big store. A careful reading of the advertisement will convince anyone that there is an opportunity here offered to save money such as will not be offered again for many seasons to come.—Adv.

Adds Personal Appeal.

Mayor G. A. Penney is in receipt of a communication from C. G. Selvig, chairman for Northwestern Minnesota in the United War Work Campaign, requesting that a special attempt be made by our citizens to make the drive a success. Mr. Selvig calls attention to the fact that bad roads, influenza and the busy season will make a special effort necessary if the quota of the district is to be reached. Mayor Penney considered issuing a proclamation but figured that better results can be obtained by making a personal appeal to the people of the city and section. The purpose and importance of the campaign is so well understood that a proclamation would seem superfluous at this time.

River Frozen Over.

It is time for the annual warning against getting onto the ice of the river too soon. A beautiful film now covers the stream from bank to bank at this point but it will be some time before it is safe for skaters. There will be great sport by and by—providing the small boy can be prevailed upon not to cover the ice with stones, cans and other unnecessary trash. A number of the rascals make it a point to see how much of this kind of truck they can deposit where it will do the most damage and by the time the ice is safe it will be imbedded with all kinds of neck-breaking obstructions. The boys should know better.

REPORTED MISSING HE TURNS UP SAFE

GEORGE S. POSTEN PUTS IN THREE DAYS IN SHELL HOLE.

Being a battalion dispatch runner on the western front must be a job containing a fair amount of thrills. The man selected for this position must be fleet of foot, have the endurance of an Indian and a good sized stock of physicial courage. His duty consists of carrying dispatches from the commander to fighting units in different parts of the field and he must often get right into the thick of it in order to do what is expected of him.

George S. Posten of this city is such a runner. Last week the dispatches carried an announcement to the effect that he was missing in action since the 27th of September. This, in the case of a dispatch runner, is almost certain to mean that he has been killed or captured—most likely the latter.

FLU SITUATION IMPROVES FAST

EPIDEMIC BELIEVED TO HAVE RUN ITS COURSE—CASES DECREASING.

BEST RECORD IN STATE

FEWER DEATHS NOW THAN DURING SAME PERIOD A YEAR AGO.

Everything indicates that the Spanish influenza epidemic has run its course in the city and that it is being rapidly stamped out all over the county. Reports from other sections of the state indicate that the greatest danger is regarded as past and business is rapidly assuming its wonted course. Churches, schools and theatres have reopened practically everywhere and the ban against everything but very large mixed gatherings has been removed.

Fewer Cases Reported.

Doctors state that fewer new cases have been reported this week than for any other like period since the disease secured a foothold here. There has been but one death in the entire county and while there have been two or three instances of serious illness the patients are now regarded as well on the road to recovery.

Attendance Improving.

The city schools were opened on Monday and have continued in session although the attendance has been far from average. More children are showing up at every session, however, and it is believed that by the first of next week things will have assumed their usual trend. Miss Laura Haggerty, school nurse, is in constant attendance in case any case of influenza or other trouble should develop, but thus far there has been no call for her services so far as the children attending school are concerned. She has been devoting much time to aiding in the homes where the disease exists and in spreading the knowledge of how best to combat the trouble.

Our Record Good.

Dr. O. F. Mellby, city health officer, has been informed by the state board that the record of Pennington county is thus far the best in the state. There have been fewer deaths from pneumonia here than anywhere else and fewer cases of influenza. The state board is also inclined to the belief that the restrictions against gatherings may safely be lifted and that it is doubtful if these were of any value in the first place. Masks are recommended as the surest means of preventing a spread of the disease but the wearing of these safeguards has never been popular here.

Very Few Deaths.

A glance over the records for the past few years reveals the fact that in spite of the influenza the death rate is lower in Pennington county this fall than for some time past. During the period that the epidemic has raged—about seven weeks—the death rate has been lower than last year, this holding good for the entire county as well as the city. Quite a number of persons are sick, it is true, but such is often the case at this time of year.

People Less Frightened.

The more favorable trend of affairs will be a good thing for everybody. People from the outlying districts who have been holding off coming to the city in the belief that the disease was raging here are now making their usual visits and entering the business establishments without any fear of the consequences. One of the peculiar features connected with the situation is that not a single store clerk has been on the sick list.

SHOULD CONTINUE RED CROSS WORK

FORMER NEED STILL EXISTS FOR EVERYTHING BUT SURGICAL DRESSINGS.

A large number of members of Pennington County Chapter, American Red Cross, seem to be under the impression that no further work in behalf of the organization will be required now that the war is over. This is a mistake and efforts are being made to correct it by every means before a great deal of damage has been done through the disbanding of chapters and auxiliaries.

The work of the Red Cross is by no means ended and the need for the articles heretofore furnished is as great as ever. The one exception to this is surgical bandages. The production of these may be discontinued as there are enough on hand for the use of the army while on a peace footing. With knitted articles, however, it is different. These will be needed as much during the coming winter as in the past and there is no other way in which they can be procured.

It will be a long time before our soldiers are brought back to this country and they will have to live under general camp conditions until such time as they can be demobilized and sent across. A large number will remain on duty in Europe even after the backward movement begins and it will be up to the Red Cross to look after the welfare of these the same as heretofore.

A Good Suggestion.

A reader of The Times sends in the following in the hope that it will aid in securing Pennington county's full quota in the War Welfare drive:

"All organizations in the county are being asked for a contribution to the United War Work drive. This includes Farmers' clubs, Ladies' Aid societies, fraternal and beneficiary organizations. For what better purpose could a little surplus in the treasury be used, or for what better purpose could money be raised than for our soldier boys? Send in your check to Mrs. Geo. L. Sterns, chairman of the committee."

FINAL DRAFT WORK BEING CLEANED UP

BIG JOB OF ABSTRACTING YET REMAINS FOR LOCAL BOARD.

Orders gradually curtailing the activities of local division and district draft boards are believed to presage the early abandonment of virtually all draft board activity.

District boards already have been advised by Washington to discontinue all work of classification and the consideration of all appeals, except that they are privileged to proceed with the completion of their records as affecting men already classified and those in respect to whom they have already heard and determined appeals.

With this work completed they are advised to await further orders regarding the custody, checking and accounting of their own records, and all files belonging to the various local division boards are to be returned at once.

There is still a considerable job ahead of the different boards. The government now requires that an abstract be furnished of the disposition of every man classified. The entire list has to be gone over from the time of the first registration and County Auditor T. P. Anderson, his assistant, Clifford Logen and Clerk of Court Adolf Eklund, are at work on the report. The latter is not a member of the registration board but has volunteered his assistance and it has been most enthusiastically accepted.

EAGER TO ENROLL AS VICTORY GIRLS

MEMBERS HAVE ALREADY BEGUN MAKING MONEY FOR WELFARE WORK.

Enthusiasm in the Victory Girls division of the United War Work campaign for funds continues unabated. The carefully planned organization to reach all the girls of the city and county has resulted in a larger number of pledges than the most optimistic of the workers had anticipated. Every girl seems to be eager to be enrolled as a Victory Girl, and most of them have already begun to earn the money pledged. Nine dollars is the highest amount so far for a single pledge.

An employment bureau for Victory Girls has been established. Anybody in the city who wishes the services of a Victory Girl may call the headquarters, telephone 47 and ask for the secretary, Miss Ruth Matthew, who will secure a worker.

The list of the different kinds of work the girls are pledged to do includes typewriting, any kind of house-work, mending, darning, taking care of children, making gifts and candies. Houseworkers are already taking advantage of the Victory Girl's willingness to help. Let the Victory Girls clean your silver, do your ironing, wash your dishes. Victory Girls are prepared to do Christmas crocheting, make pretty Christmas aprons, and lunch sets.

He Returned the Money.

It has time and time again been demonstrated that advertising in The Times want columns bring results. Generally these can almost be guaranteed, but the publishers can hardly warrant results where money has been lost. Money is something everyone can use and consequently it is a comparatively easy matter to overlook a little thing like notifying the owner, even where the latter is known.

A couple of weeks ago O. A. Holmes lost a ten and a five dollar bill and the cash is awaiting him at The Times office now. Mrs. T. J. Skaar of Mavie, found it on the street and awaited some notice of loss from the owner. This was furnished by the want columns of The Times and Mr. Skaar brought it in on his first trip to town. It is evidently quite safe to leave things lying around where the Skaar family may pick them up and Mr. Holmes is decidedly fortunate to have his property fall into the hands of such upright people.

PREPARING FOR A WINTER SHOW

FARM BUREAU, POULTRY FANCIERS AND LIVE STOCK BREEDERS WILL JOIN.

DECEMBER IS SUGGESTED

BELIEVED THAT EARLY PART OF NEXT MONTH WILL BE BEST TIME.

The farm bureau, in co-operation with the potato growers and live stock associations, are laying plans for a monster poultry, potato and grain show to be held at Thief River Falls as early as the arrangements can possibly be completed.

There is a decided sentiment in favor of having this winter show before the holidays. During the past two years the exhibition has been held about the middle of January and the date is for many reasons inconvenient. In the first place it occurs right in the coldest part of winter when the transferring of live stock is fraught with more or less danger and it is a hard matter to get the public out. Another drawback is that coming right after the holidays the people are not as anxious for any kind of a vacation as they are before that time. The committee is considering Dec. 11, 12 and 13 as convenient dates, and while the time is short, it is believed that the change will be generally approved.

The Pennington County Bankers' association has hung up $150 for premiums in the potato and grain divisions, while state funds are available to cover the premiums in the poultry department. The latter association is determined to call out the largest display of poultry ever seen in northwestern Minnesota and to this end the managers are offering more than $600 in premiums.

This year no restrictions will be made on the number of birds exhibited by any one person. Heretofore this has been necessary because of the lack of room and also the limited amount of cash on hand for premiums. Awards will be made on all classes of chickens, ducks, geese and turkeys as in former shows, but to this list will be added guinea fowls and pigs, peacocks, doves, squirrels, rabbits and such other pets as will cause the children to take an interest in the exhibit. Ribbons will be awarded the prize winners in this latter class.

$15 For Champion.

It has been decided to award a grand championship prize of $15 to the person who exhibits the largest number of high-scoring birds at the show. The awards will be made upon the basis of the original placings and the big prize will be given to the individual who receives the highest score on the following basis: Five points for a first prize; three points for every second prize, and one point for every third prize.

The Potato Department.

In the potato department it is planned to disburse in the neighborhood of $110.00. Prizes will be offered on all the different varieties grown throughout the county with special recognition given the following varieties: Early Ohios and Irish cobblers, representing the earlier varieties, and the Burbanks and Rural New Yorkers of the later types. The silver loving cup which the bankers of the city put up last year for a sweepstake will be once more competed for. This cup must be won three years in succession by the same individual before it becomes his personal property. This cup, which is valued at $50.00, was won last year by Rev. R. L. Barackman, and it has been known by his closest friends for some time that he will endeavor to again place his name on the cup.

The Grain Section.

Premiums amounting to approximately $100.00 will be offered on the various grains, including wheat, oats, barley, rye, flax, emmer, buckwheat, clover and grass seeds. In view of the fact that the county has harvested a bumper crop of fine quality this year it is thought that a large exhibit of especially high scoring samples will be on display.

General Program.

Although the program has not been worked out in full, speakers of state and national reputation have promised to aid, providing that the date does not interfere with previous engagements. This being a winter show it is bound to call forth a large group of interested farmers, not only to see the exhibits, but to gain that most desirable and almost necessary inspiration which one gets from contact with those who have been trained in agriculture both scientifically and practically.

Drys Make Contest.

Contest proceedings by the drys on the prohibition amendment vote will not be taken up until the official canvass of the vote has been made, it was announced recently, but on account of the closeness of the vote it is practically certain that a recount will be demanded. Returns available failed to wipe out the wet lead, but it remains small.

Returns show that the wets carried 28 counties and the drys 58, but in the nine of the 59 dry counties the dry vote was not large enough to give a majority of all the votes cast.

The dry forces at the time the last count was made had a clear majority of 15,836, the vote standing 188,957 for and 173,121 against. There was a total of 379,428 votes cast, however, and in order to carry the amendment it was necessary to have half that amount, or 189,714.

counties where the wet vote exceeds the dry are: Benton, Brown, Carver, Crow Wing, Dakota, Houston, Jackson, Le Sueur, Lincoln, McLeod, Mahnomen, Morrison, Murray, Nicollet, Nobles, Ramsey, Red Lake, Redwood, Rock, Scott, Sibley, Stearns, Steele, Stevens, Wabasha, Wilkin, Winona and Wright. Of these, nine have voted dry under the county option law. They are: Houston, Lincoln, Murray, Nobles, Redwood, Rock, Stevens, Wilkin and Wright.

POSTPONE MEETING OF AMERICA FIRST

ASSOCIATION WILL CONVENE SOON AS INFLUENZA SITUATION IMPROVES.

D. P. O'Neill, vice president of the America First association for Pennington county, announced yesterday that the annual county conventions of the association, as provided by the constitution, have been temporarily postponed on account of the influenza epidemic.

The constitution of the America First association, adopted at the Northwest loyalty meetings held in St. Paul and Minneapolis, November 16th and 17th, 1917, provides that "in November of each year there shall be held in each county of the state, under the direction of the county committee, county conventions, at which matters pertaining toward Americanism shall be discussed and acted upon."

Robert W. Hargadine, secretary of the America First association, states that the executive committee is in favor of holding these conventions at as early a date as possible, as matters of unusual interest are pending, and an Americanization, as well as a re-construction program, is to be decided upon.

BOND INTEREST ON SECOND ISSUE DUE

THRIFT STAMPS SALES EXPECTED TO BE HELPED THROUGH REINVESTMENT.

Thief River Falls bond holders of the second liberty bond are clipping their coupons this week and are finding that holding a liberty bond is a pretty fine thing, especially when interest day comes around.

The second interest installment is being paid on the second liberty loan and all persons holding a $50 bond can get it out and clip the coupon, take it to the bank and get $1 for it. Holders of the $100 bonds can do the same thing, only they will receive $2.

The amount recorded in Pennington county for the second liberty loan was $106,000 and if the coupons on this amount of bonds are presented it will mean the banks will pay out about $2,000.

A large number of the bondholders are turning their interest money into war savings stamps. The county quota of these securities must be raised by the last of December and there is still remaining a large amount of money to collect.

COUNCIL INSISTS ON HAVING BILL PAID

COMMERCIAL CLUB OWES CITY $50 AND THE CASH IS DEMANDED.

The city council has decided that the Commercial club must pay its electric light bill the same as anyone else. The club is now about $50 behind and the illumination will be shut off unless the cash is forthcoming.

Until about six months ago the council was in the habit of rebating bills for the lighting of the club rooms but at that time the directors were notified that this practice could no longer be followed. Bills were sent regularly every month but no provision has been made for their payment. Now the council proposes to get right after the delinquent and collect up.

The club directors are not greatly to blame in this matter. War work has so occupied the minds of people during the past two years that there has been little time for anything else. Now that peace is in sight there will be more need of the commercial club than ever before and an aggressive program will no doubt be mapped out in the near future.

The failure to pay this bill was simply an oversight and it will not be necessary for the city to employ any drastic measures for its collection.

WELFARE DRIVE TIME EXTENDED

DECEMBER 2 SET AS CLOSING DAY OF NATION-WIDE CAMPAIGN.

TO MAKE SPECIAL EFFORT

CHAIRMEN ISSUE STATEMENT OF FACTS IN CONNECTION WITH WORK.

Pennington county has not yet reached its quota in the War Welfare campaign and will have to hustle in order to do so. Bad weather and worse roads have been contributing factors in making this one of the slowest movements connected in any manner with the war and our soldiers in which the people have yet engaged. This is not alone true of Pennington county—the condition is general.

Because of the bad start to which the drive got away it has been decided to continue it until Dec. 2, by which time every precinct must be in. The figures available at this time show that something in the way of a special effort must be made and those in charge have issued a general appeal for contributions.

The General Appeal.

Following is the text of the appeal sent out from Pennington county headquarters. It should be read by every patriotic citizen and considered carefully:

"The United War Work drive in Pennington county, which begun Nov. 11, is to be continued until Dec. 2. The allotment asked for this county has not yet been reached so the efforts must not relax. These welfare organizations which have furnished the camp homes for our boys both here and over there must have assurance their work is appreciated and that we wish a continuation of their splendid moral influence during the reconstruction period.

No Time to Quit.

"Now is not the time to forget; now is not the time to say the war is over and we can let our boys take care of themselves. We at home owe a debt to them we can never pay, so the least we can do is to see that everything in our power is done for them until they come home—and even afterward.

"In many cities plans are already under way for large community houses where the boys can gather and enjoy wholesome recreation when they do return. It is not too early to think of such a place for Thief River Falls and Pennington county. Nothing is too good for the boys.

Needed More Than Ever.

"After the strain of warfare is just when the boys can enjoy these welfare houses which have followed them right to the firing line, and just when they need the moral influence of these homes. We know by the letters received at homes that the boys do spend their leisure time at these camp homes—the stationery itself tells us that.

"It would be presumptious for us to place our judgment against that of Pres. Wilson, Gen. Pershing or Gen. Foch who have expressly requested that this work for the boys be continued during the reconstruction period.

Are We Slackers?

"There are enough patriotic citizens in America to make up Pennington county's deficit if we do fall short, but do we wish to be slackers at this stage? The boys have not failed us and let us not fail them now. Let us be grateful debtors to them and help in this great work.

"Turn in your contribution to W. H. Akre, treasurer, at the First National bank and let us go over the top with the boys in our hearts."

PLAY FIRST GAME ON BEMIDJI FIELD

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM TO OPPOSE STRONG COMBINATION SATURDAY.

The first football game for the 1918 season of the Thief River Falls high school eleven will be played away from home, the tussle being staged at Bemidji next Saturday afternoon. It is understood that this is also the Bemidji's team's first game.

Frank E. McKnight has been selected as coach for the local eleven this season and he believes that a strong team has been chosen. He has been practising his warriors steadily and those who have noted the snap with which the boys go at their work are of the opinion that a good team has been placed in the field. An attempt is being made to get a game with some nearby team for Thanksgiving day on the home grounds. Following is the probable line-up for the Bemidji game:

Geo. Mostue, Capt., left tackle; Bernard Barzen, full back; Elvin Johnson, left half; Leland Schuster, left end; Roy Flattum, right half; Reuben Hadrath, quarterback; Carl Lindquist, left guard; William Moravec, right guard; Conrad Lund, right tackle; James Parenteau, right end; Gordon LaBree, center. Subs: Henry Aastad, Joseph Weirus, Fred Holden.

HOW TO OBTAIN LABELS FOR CHRISTMAS PARCELS

"The nearest relative of any member of the American Expeditionary Forces in Europe not receiving a Christmas parcel label by November 21, or in case such label is lost, may obtain a Christmas parcel label for sending such parcel by applying to the local Red Cross receiving station. Parcels to which such labels are affixed will be accepted by postmasters up to and including November 30, 1918."

The above notification has been received by Postmaster John Morgan and applies to the offices at St. Hilaire, Goodridge and Hazel as well as Thief River Falls.

MEETING TO DISCUSS THE FUEL SITUATION

CITIZENS WILL LAY MATTER BEFORE COUNCIL ON TUESDAY EVENING.

The Times has been requested to announce the intention of a number of citizens to appear before the city council at the meeting next Tuesday evening for the purpose of calling attention to an alleged shortage in the fuel supply, particularly hard coal. The claim is made that it has been impossible to secure hard coal even by those who had their orders in early. It seems that there is plenty of soft coal in the city but the complaint comes from those who need the hard coal for base burners.

Those who have grievances, however, are invited to join with those whose intention it is to appeal to the council members on Tuesday evening.

PIG RAISERS ARE COMPARING NOTES

JUDGE TARRANT CLAIMS CHAMPIONSHIP BUT OTHERS HAVE FILED CONTEST.

Last spring when the government was urging everybody to go into the business of gardening or raising a pig there were quite a number of Thief River Falls citizens who considered the latter pursuit the easiest and consequently procured one or more baby porkers to which they have devoted much time and attention since—also some cash. This is hog-killing season in this lititude and the amateur stockmen are learning the results of the experiment.

Municipal Judge N. W. Tarrant claims to be an expert on pigs of different kinds and secured two little fellows early in the season. This was six and a half months ago and when he butchered them this week one weighed 250 and the other 264 pounds. He claims that none of the others will be able to show the weigher's report for a better record.

Mayor G. A. Penney is also a member of the pig club. He says that Judge Tarrant is all right on the bench but that he is absolutely unreliable in the matter of pigs. The mayor is certain that his porkers will not only weigh more than the court's, but that they will outclass them in every other way.

Charley Shirley and Emil Zeh simply snort when the mayor's and judge's hogs are mentioned, and promise to give some real figures when their's are butchered. Emil Griebstein, H. Holzknecht, Ray Mundt and Jay Ralston—all members in good standing of the club—are positively certain that all other hogs will look like shoats when their figures are presented.

Now in Montana.

Charles Bengsten, for many years engaged in the general blacksmithing business in this city, recently moved with his family to Montana. In a letter to The Times he says of his new location:

"Was very glad to have my whole family gathered around me on the 25th of October at our new home in Whitefish, and to see how satisfied they were with the looks of the country around here. We were unfortunate in being taken down with Spanish influenza—all except Mrs. Bengsten. We lost our dear little nine-months old boy. Our oldest son, Quentin, was sick the longest, being in bed 15 days. We are all well again with the exception of having a bad cough."

Returns From Camp.

Thure Carlson, night ticket agent at the Soo depot before his call into the army, returned this week from Camp Forest, Ga., having been found too light to be acceptable for the army. As all the men in the employ of the Soo at the time of their enlistment or call have been assured that their places will be held open for them until their return it is expected that Mr. Carlson will be offered his old job or one similar at some other station.

FIVE SOLDIERS IS TOLL FOR WEEK

THREE LOST IN ACTION; ONE FROM DISEASE; ONE IN CAMP.

IS HEAVIEST LIST SO FAR

AXEL BORGIE, CASPER CROWN AND HERMAN BLOMBERG BATTLEFIELD VICTIMS.

The heaviest toll levied on Pennington county soldiers for any one week, so far as known, is reported from the front and camps for the period ending yesterday. The total is five—three killed in action, one dead of disease at the front and another in camp.

Casper Crown a Victim.

A telegram received from Washington yesterday announced the death of Casper Crown at a hospital in France from wounds received in battle on October 25. He is a brother of G. W. and Albert Crown of this city, the latter being also a member of the American Expeditionary forces. He left with a large contingent for Camp Dodge on Feb. 22 and had been on the fighting line for more than two months when he met his death.

Blomberg a Veteran.

Herman Blomberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Blomberg of Norden township, was killed in the fighting of Sept. 24, according to a notification received last evening by County Auditor T. P. Anderson. This young man was a volunteer and had been in France since early in the war. Mr. and Mrs. Blomberg have another son in the army in France and the report is that he has also been wounded but is getting along alright.

Doubt in Borgie's Case.

The overseas casualty lists of the past week contained the name of one Pennington county boy—Axel Borgie, reported killed in action. This soldier is a brother of Paul and George Borgie of Hazel and has been in the army since early this spring.

There is still hope that a mistake has been made in reporting this casualty. A letter has been received from Axel carrying a later date than that on the notification of his death, but the family is of the opinion that the lad himself made a mistake in the month of his communication, inasmuch as everything else connected with the notice of death was very plain. The bureau of information at Washington, however, states that no man bearing that name has been reported to them as having been killed.

One Dead at Camp.

Ole Mossestad, a brother of Julius Mossestad of Norden township, where the two resided with their mother before the first-named went to war, died at Camp Forest, Ga., on Saturday of penumonia. He was a member of the very last contingent to be sent from the county and had been at camp less than two weeks. The body arrived on Wednesday and will be buried in the Norden cemetery this afternoon.

Died in France.

Word was received in this city yesterday from France announcing the death from penumonia of Henry Svare of Star township. This information was received from the captain of Svare's company and the death has not yet been noted in the casualty list. This young man was sent to camp last spring and the probabilities are that he has been in France since sometime in July or August.

EXTEND TIME FOR SENDING PACKAGES

PRESENTS FOR SOLDIERS WILL BE RECEIVED UP TO NOV. 30.

An extension of time in the sending of Christmas packages to the soldiers in the expeditionary forces in Europe has been received by the local Red Cross chapter, according to Secretary Scott Laird. Such parcels may now be received up to and including Saturday, Nov. 30.

The plan also includes a provision for furnishing Christmas labels to individuals who have not yet received labels from soldiers overseas upon the receipt of a signed application stating that the applicant is the nearest of kin in the United States; that no label has been received from abroad, and that should one subsequently be received it will not be used. The applicant must also state that to the best of his knowledge and belief only one Christmas parcel will be sent to the proposed recipient.

This arrangement has been made at the request of the War Department to prevent disappointment to those who have not received labels from abroad and is intended to insure the delivery of one parcel to each man.

The necessary labels and blanks have been ordered from Minneapolis and will be here the latter part of the week. These can be secured at the office of President Thos. A. Way, Thief River Falls, or of the postmaster at Goodridge, St. Hilaire and Hazel.

Letters from the BOYS

GASSED BUT STILL COMING ON STRONG

CRAVEN CALLOWAY WILL BE GLAD TO GET BACK HOME, HOWEVER.

Two big packets of letters arrived at the local postoffice from France this week, and among them was one for Ben Rosendahl from C. S. Calloway, who is now a corporal with the 35th regiment of infantry. This soldier has evidently been laid up for repairs and just managed to get back in time for the big show. He says:

"Got back to my company at last after going through several hospitals, classifications camps, etc., and it sure seems good to be back with one's pals again. Am over the effects of the gas alright and feel O. K. now. Very thankful that I am still in one piece.

"There were 28 letters waiting for me when I got back and it took me nearly three hours to read them all. Just like reading a book. I received your dandy letter and the photos. You sure have a beautiful baby and it looks very much like Daddy Ben.

"Well, Ben, I took part in the drive of Sept. 26 and will say that the old 35th sure made the Huns yell 'kammerad.' I've seen some sights I'll never forget.

"I'm anxious for the finish, old pal, and I long to be back in the good old U. S. A. and plant my feet under my mother's dining room table. One of my first duties will be to pay you a visit and help increase your grocery bill.

"Was very glad to know you are having a bumper crop as that will help a great deal. From the pictures of your farm crops I'll say you must be real busy if you are taking care of them alone.

"Met a St. Hilaire lad day before yesterday and also one from Thief River Falls on the Red Cross train. I had my first ride on stretchers and in an ambulance and assure you I don't care for any more. The nurses and Red Cross people were very kind to us and it was a great pleasure to be able to talk to real American women once more. Of course I can hold a sort of limited conversation with some of the French people by using a combination of French-American and emphasizing my remarks by making gestures with hands and feet. It's rather a comical sight but then I get by, and that's the main thing.

"I received a letter from Jack and he is in France on the line also. Sam Pope wrote a letter to me some time ago and I finally received it. He is also near me and I passed his division while on my way to the hospital [illegible] him. My brother is in action up on the front somewhere.

"You wish you were with me, but Ben, I am glad you are not. This is no place for a married man at all. Too often one can hear a shell screaming through the air singing some slow march and it makes a fellow sit up and take notice. If you read the papers from Sept. 26 on you may have gotten some idea of what we went through. I got so I could duck into a shell hole in just nothing flat. When it is all over and the boys come marching home there will be some glad soldiers, believe me."

GLAD HE IS BACK IN PEACEFUL LAND

DORIS PROVENCHER SAYS ARMY LIFE HAS MADE HIM A CHANGED MAN.

Whatever of glamour or romance attaches to modern warfare—and it certainly is not much—is connected with the active fighting sections of the big machine. Other posts may contain as much of work and danger, but people generally do not believe that the boys in the hospital service, for instance, have as hard a time as those on the firing line.

Doris Provencher is one of three sons of Julien Provencher of the Evelyn hotel, who are in some branch of the service. This young man was consistently rejected for the army in half the states of the Union before he was finally accepted at San Francisco. He has been with a hospital division and is now at one of the big hospitals near Washington. He does not state how he happens to be there, but the supposition is that he was sent back to assist in caring for wounded soldiers on the trip over. At any rate he is glad to be back. He writes:

"Well, here I am, back again in the good old U. S. A., and mighty glad of it, I can tell you. It is certainly fine to be back in a free and peaceful country after spending six months in hell. I am feeling pretty good and hope you all are the same.

"I am going to try and get home soon on a furlough, but it may be a month or more before I can do so. I hope that they send me to the hospital at Fort Snelling for service so that if I do not come home you will be able to drop down and see me once in a while.

"I certainly am some changed boy to what I was a year ago when I left home. The army has made a man out of me, and there is a great difference. I know what work and obedience means now and when I get out of the army, be it now or after the war, I will work for others the way they expect me to and not as I did in the past.

"Don't worry about me as I am alright and hope to see you all soon."

SENDS HUN HELMET HOME AS A TROPHY

SELMER AGA GETS PERMISSION FOR TRANPORTATION OF KEEPSAKE.

If the boys in France were permitted to send back all the trophies of the war they might wish to keep most of them would have enough articles of this kind to stock a junk shop. Nearly everyone speaks in his letters of the many interesting things he has picked up and would like to keep, but the shipping restrictions will in all likelihood prevent very much of it ever reaching here.

Selmer J. Aga, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aga, has managed to get across the first German helmet seen in this city. The headpiece has been on display in the show window of the Lambert drug store for a week. It is of light steel construction and looks like a decidedly uncomfortable rig. Permission was given for the sending of this keepsake by Major Charles F. Lewis of the engineers, whose signature is attached to the petmit reading as follows:

"This authorizes Cook Selmer J. Aga, Company D, 307th Engineer regiment, A. E. F., to send via U. S. army postal service parcel post one German helmet captured in battle."

WRITES OF SCENES NEAR FRONT LINES

JOB OF MILITARY POLICE DOES NOT LACK EXCITING FEATURES.

Private Olaf F. Nelson is a member of Company A, 110th Military Police in France. It would seem that the duties of this branch are such as to bring the members in touch with real happenings in spite of the rather tame-sounding title. In a letter to a lady friend in this city Private Nelson writes:

"Was near the front a few days ago and saw some of the places where the infantry had gone through. Also saw a few Yanks and some Germans that had been killed during the drive. Was near the front for four days and only about 300 yards from the first lines on one occasion. Could hear the bullets fly around me on that occasion and have also been on post where shells have burst all around the men. It is no use getting nervous and the only way is to stand by what duty a man has assigned to him. The Lord will protect a man utinl it is time for him to be taken off.

"There were some sights up near the front where I was. The holes where some of the large shells had struck were of sufficient size to bury three or four horses. In some places they were ten feet deep. Can see dirt and rocks flying for long distances when one of the big ones explode.

"Have not seen my brother Carl yet, but I know where he is, providing he has not left the hospital, which I hope he has.

"It is no snap to be near the front lines but would rather be there than in some hospital. We are now back some distance, but I do not know how long it will be before we will be ordered up to the front aagin. I expect it will be before winter.

"I am glad to note that they made the county (Red Lake) dry. Hope the states are all that way before the soldiers get back. We have enough trouble without a lot of booze to fight.

"It is not very easy to write a letter with no table at all and the boys talking all around you. I am sitting up in my bunk and have a candle to see by. Not exactly comfortable but I am not worrying. Worry does not win anything and the only way to do is to take everything as it comes. We will see better times some day, but it may take a few months.

"There are all kinds of things to do and it keeps a man busy most of the time—washing clothes, cleaning rifle and pistol, etc.

"Would tell you all about the things I do but this is forbidden."

In another letter, dated ten days later, this same soldier says the weather is turning colder in France and that it is more disagreeable generally. "Some days are kind of hard," he says, "but it's not so bad when one gets used to it.

"We have been fed well most of the time," he continues, "but, of late our grub has been nothing very extra—mostly canned stuff which makes a man kind of hate to eat. Do not think this will continue long, however. The roads are bad, making it hard for trucks to get around with rations for the different outfits.

"We had hot cakes for breakfast this morning but it is always hard to get enough to fill up on. I could eat a dozen at a meal alone. The only way I see is to wait until I get home and have mother bake me enough to fill up on. We fared better in the States, of course. There everything was handy and one was only a short distance away from ration dumps.

"I have not heard anything from Carl in the last few days but expect that he is getting along allright. I heard from the folks that he had been wounded but do not know how bad.

"Expect all the women folks have been busy this summer knitting and helping the men with the work in the fields. I have seen a good many women in the fields over here doing men's work. There are not many men left at home over here. They are all away fighting.

"I have no fire in my billet here and it is getting a little cold at night. Besides my news is all gone."

President Wilson Issues Thanksgiving Proclamation

"It has long been our custom to turn each autumn of the year in praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God for his many blessings and mercies to us as a nation. This year we have special and moving cause to be grateful and to rejoice.

"God has, in His pleasure, given us peace. It has not come as a mere cessation of arms, a mere relief from the strain and tragedy of war. It has come as a great triumph of right.

"Complete victory has brought us, not peace alone, but the confident promise of a new day as well in which justice shall replace force and jealous intrigue among the nations.

"Our gallant armies have participated in a triumph which is not marred or stained by any purpose of selfish aggression. In a righteous cause they have won immortal glory and have nobly served their nation in serving mankind.

"God has, indeed, been gracious. We have cause for such rejoicing as revives and strengthens in us all the best traditions of our national history. A new day shines about us, in which our hearts take new courage and look forward with new hope to new and greater duties.

"While we render thanks for these things, let us not forget to seek the divine guidance in the performance of those duties and divine mercy and forgiveness for all errors of act or purpose, and pray that in all we do we shall strengthen the ties of friendship and mutual respect upon which we must assist to build the new structure of peace and good will among the nations."

"Wherefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States of America, do hereby designate Thursday, the twenty-eighth day of November next, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer, and invite the people through the land to cease upon that day their ordinary occupations and in their several homes and places of worship to render thanks to God, the ruler of nations.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done in the District of Columbia, this sixteenth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eighteen, and of the independence of the United States of America the one hundred and forty-third.

"WOODROW WILSON."

COUNTRY FAILS TO MEET EXPECTATIONS

FRED GUNSTAD NOT ENAMORED OF CONDITIONS IN SOUTHERN STATES.

There are undoubtedly places in the South so situated as to make very desirable winter resorts, but Fred Gunstad, formerly of The Times force, evidently has not seen them. Fred is at Camp Joseph E. Johnson, Florida, and writes from there as follows:

"I have been transferred to another company since you last heard from me. The Eighth Co., of the First Road Regiment is just a sort of receiving organization, where the men are kept for a couple weeks before being assigned to permanent companies. I am now in the Fifth Company Automatic Replacement Draft. But what is the most important of all is that it is an overseas company. We have already been measured up for our O. D. clothing and have had our physicial examinations. Every little while we are called out and lined up while they issue us some articles of our equipment. Don't know how long it will be before we start but I guess it will be as soon as the company is fully organized and equipped.

"I had an 'oversea' haircut today and believe me there is no chance for any cooties to make their happy home up on my dome now, for there is very little hair left.

"As for my trip down here I must say it wasn't as interesting as one would expect. When we reached Tennessee we noticed that all the trees were still green and the look of summer still prevailed. Here and there we saw small patches of cotton that looked like fields of white flowers, as the cotton bolls were open. All the country was rough and hilly and when we got down into Alabama it was very much so. Judging from the looks of the farming country it is evident that most of the land is owned by men who have large tracts of it and that it is rented out in small portions. What makes me think so is because we saw lots of small, homely shacks throughout the country. It was about the only thing we saw in the line of houses. They were all the same unpainted and unkept and the fences around them were badly in need of repair. Most of them were occupied by colored folks, I guess, and that in itself is reason enough for the untidiness around their dwellings. The negroes here are an awfully sloppy and lazy bunch and the people down here don't have any sympathy for them at all. Generally when northerners come south they have sympathy for the negro but their sentiment soon changes when they find out what kind of a bunch they are.

"We went through the southern part of Alabama and Georgia at night and in the morning found ourselves in northern Florida. I guess this is the poorest section of the state as we found nothing but pines and sand. Wish I could take a trip into the other parts of Florida where the fruit groves are, but don't expect to be here much longer.

"I consider myself pretty lucky to have gotten into an oversea company at this time, for if things continue as they have over there they probably won't need many more men."

MUSTERING OUT OF RAINBOW DIVISION

WILL PROBABLY BE ONE OF FIRST UNITS RETURNED HOME.

The following program of demobilization has been announced at Washington:

Orders have been issued for general demobilization of all troops now in the United States, 200,000 of which will be freed at once.

With plan under full operation, 30,000 will be released daily.

Total of 1,790,000 now under arms in United States.

Rainbow division, which includes many Minnesota men, to be given special consideration in demobilization plans. Division may be reviewed in Washington on its return.

Congress will be asked to give each man discharged from army a bonus of month's salary, regardless of whether he enlists.

All men in army will be offered honorable discharge from emergency enlistment and immediate re-enlistment in new army.

Furlough of one month will be given as incentive to re-enlistment.

List of officers to be divided in three classes: Those who desire commissions in regular army, those who are willing to hold themselves available for future service as reserve officers, and those who desire honorable discharge from service.

There are four boys from Thief River Falls in the Rainbow Division and so far as known all of them have gone through the war without serious injury. Fred T. Scanlan was gassed but has so far recovered as to be able to take a position at headquarters offices in Paris. The others members of this famous division are: Martin Langseth, Hardy Bothun and Harold Provencher.

May Stay in France.

(Warroad Pioneer.)

One of the Warroad boys with the American Expeditionary forces in France writes that the boys are offered very good inducements to remain in France after they get out of the service, in order to help rebuild the country devastated by war. He says all those who can be used in that work have been asked to stay there eighteen months after they are discharged, and the French government will pay them the same salaries as they now get as American soldiers, and at the end of the eighteen months will pay them a cash bonus of one thousand dollars.

No doubt quite a number will remain there, and of those many may never come back to the United States.

USE WRONG METHOD FOR FLU CONTROL

PARTIAL RESTRICTIONS DO NOT HELP, SAYS STATE BOARD OF HEALTH.

The Minnesota Health Journal, official publication of the State Board of Health, devotes considerable space in the last issue to the influenza situation. According to this authority practically all safeguards taken for the prevention and control of the disease have been of little or no value. The Journal believes that the wearing of masks is the one sensible and sure way of preventing a spread of the epidemic, commenting on the situation as follows:

"We have learned that restriction of modern life does not accomplish the restriction of influenza.

"We have learned that the necessities of modern life demand that extravagant and costly partial restrictions of these activities, which do not really restrict influenza, be abandoned.

"We have learned that restriction of influenza may be attained by a simple mechanical expedient, the universal wearing of masks.

"A small fraction of the high cost, of the great loss, and of the disorganization inflicted by other measures of control of influenza (which, however, do not control influenza) would provide not only the masks, but also a staff sufficient to see that they are used persistently and constantly, everywhere by everyone, outside of private homes.

"Within private homes the instinct of self-protection should be sufficient to insure proper precautions. The practicability of control by the public to protect itself ceases at the door of the private home—going in. It begins at the door also—coming out. What is done within the home cannot be controlled unless infected persons are present. What is done outside the home, however, should be controlled absolutely, with grim completeness.

"We are disturbed by rumors of a second and more severe recurrence of influenza. We are warned—let us hope unnecessarily—to prepare for such a repetition.

"Let us then prepare—but, prepare adequately, with proper appreciation of relative values and let us avoid the feeble, reactionary and bound-to-be-found-out policy of doing something, never mind how silly, merely to satisfy a popular demand for action.

"Let us do the thing, and then sit tight.

"The thing is the restriction to each person of his or her own nose and mouth discharges; masks, and clean hands will do this; no practical amount of quarantine of the general population will.

"Let us, therefore, abandon such 'practicable amount of quarantine' entirely as futile, inadequate and farcical, and se; the whole population back into its normal course of life, by wearing masks; with injunctions also on washing hands.

"For those who become sick, the usual rules governing all communicable diseases should be enforced as a matter of course."

Are Still in Effect.

An order was issued by Presidential proclamation on August 1, forbidding the employment of laborers employed in war work, direct or indirect, in any other occupation. This order has now been extended so as to be effective from Nov. 15. It provides among other things that all inter-district and inter-state shipments of men will be controlled by the Federal Director of the state of Minnesota; that no advertising for help shall be done except such as is authorized by the federal employment service, and that no employer shall offer superior inducements which will cause employes in essential industries to leave their present positions.

There is a decided labor shortage in the country and the request is made that all employers co-operate with the department in order that there may be an equal distribution.

Basket Social.

A parcel social will be held in the Swenslie school house, Dist. No. 135, Saturday evening, Nov. 23. Everybody welcome.

Food Facts

The federal food administration has ordered the lifting of the substitute rule, whereby all breads and pastries were ordered made of 80 per cent white and 20 per cent substitute flours. White bread once again may take its place on the tables.

A. D. Wilson, as federal food administrator for Minnesota and director of agricultural extension in the state, has sent a letter to the state's farmers designating the period from December 2 to December 7, as "Farm Bureau Membership Week in Minnesota." It is the hope of Mr. Wilson that the 30,000 families now enrolled as Farm Bureau Members may be increased to not less than 100,000 for the next two years. This is in proportion for the carrying out of a great agricultural program that the state, which is one of the garden spots of the world, may do its full share in meeting the new food needs of the world.

Herbert Hoover, United States food administrator, has been chosen to direct the new food distribution for the sufferers of the countries overseas. Perhaps no other man knows the food needs of the world as does Mr. Hoover. He gave the first two and one-half years of the war to the feeding of the outraged Belgians and since that time has directed the food conservation program for our own country. That Europe shares America's confidence in his food leadership was shown during his visit of the past summer to Europe. England, France and Belgium all sought to show their appreciation of his efforts by bestowing upon him their highest decorations. Mr. Hoover is the most modest of men. To both the English and the French he made reply that the food administration had been able to help the starving people only through the voluntary serving of all Americans and that he was but one of these American citizens. It was most difficult to persuade Belgium to set aside its desire to decorate the food administrator. Mr. Hoover closed the matter, as he supposed, by saying to King Albert: "All I desire is to be known as the friend of the Belgians." A short time later Mr. Hoover went on to London on his return home. What was his surprise before he sailed to receive from King Albert, a document telling him that by special act the Belgians had created a new order to be known as "The Friend of the Belgians," the sole owner of the decoration to be Herbert Hoover of the United States.

Ice cream may be served for dessert in France providing it contains no sugar, no milk, no eggs, and no flour.

There will be no turkey raffles this year. How far this old practice is still in vogue in the state is not known but "the federal food administration is objecting to any shooting match, game of chance, or contest of skill that might put into the hands of persons any quantity of food stuffs for which they have no actual need" says A. D. Wilson, federal food administrator for Minnesota. "Also there is a shortage of turkeys this year and the war su need meat."

December 1 brings per capita monthly allowa for household purposes wit amount for each ninety m public eating places. home-butchered hogs farme allowed the necessary amou sugar on making application county food administrator.

STATE-WIDE HIGHWAYS SYSTEMS.

Since the state of Illinois approved a bond issue of sixty million dollars for the building of paved highways the subject has received added attention in every part of the country. In Minnesota and Iowa the matter is being discussed in all seriousness and it is certain that the latter state will follow the example of Illinois at the earliest opportunity.

No state in the Union is more in need of improved highways than Minnesota, and the Illinois plan offers the most feasible method of securing them. Newspapers in the larger cities are beginning to take notice of the general demand for an intelligent and comprehensive program of road construction and a campaign of education will be carried on until definite results are accomplished. The Minneapolis Journal, in an editorial discussion of the subject, has the following to say:

"The time came in the development of rail transportation in America when it became necessary to abandon the program of loosely linked up local roads and form interstate and transcontinetal systems. When we made that change, commerce took a leap forward. America has now reached that point in the highway system, for the use of the highway has become something more than the carrying of stuff from a million farms by a million little trails to the nearest railway stations. Highway freight lines must now parallel railway lines.

"Almost every economic problem today comes back sooner or later to the transportation factor so inevitably, that it is plain how a bad wagon road increases directly the cost of living. The highway has become an auxiliary freight way, and to function properly it must have its fixed trunk system. The wagon road which in our fathers' day was a purely township or county question, has now grown to be a state-wide and an inter-state problem.

"Illinois by a vote of three to one has recently approved of a bond issue of sixty million dollars to pave a trunk highway system of something more than four thousand miles. The counties will be empowered to issue bonds to build systems connecting with the main trunk lines. The trunk system will be paved with material suited to the heaviest motor freight traffic. Iowa is making a campaign for a similar system. The systems of both Illinois and Iowa contemplate connection with a state-wide system in Minnesota.

"It costs no more to build a system of roads than to build the same mileage without system. Continuous trunk highways make possible the longer haul of freight and so make for cheaper transportation. But no system of trunk highways can be built, if the planning and the distribution of cost is only county-wide. One county cannot furnish the costly trunk while the adjoining county contributes only the cheaper branches. The whole State benefits from a state-wide system, and to it the whole State should largely contribute.

"America must become accustomed to think of trunk highways in terms of paved streets. Concrete, brick, bitulithic concrete and creosoted blocks on concrete base are enduring material. Nothing less durable should be used on heavy traffic road. Gravel, dirt or macadam may be used on light traffic roads, but they become the most expensive of all road materials under heavy truck loads. Permanent roads are the only economical roads, and before permanent roads are laid down, the large plan, the state-wide, the inter-state plan is necessary."

CAST YOUR BREAD ON THE WATERS.

(Duluth News Tribune.)

Here is a hunch. If you put away a dollar today and keep it until 1923, it will buy a lot more than it wil now. That is a cinch. In other words, the dollar is certain to increase in value in the next four years just as it has decreased in value in the last four years.

You know it has decreased in value, that is, in purchasing power, since 1914. It buys less sugar, flour, coffee, meat, cotton, or woolen goods, lumber, nails or anything else we all use. If it increases in proportion in the next four years, it will buy in 1923 from a half more to twice as much as it will buy now.

Hitch this up to war savings stamps. They will mature in 1923. They cost now $4.22, next month they will cost $4.23. On January 1, 1923, Uncle Sam will pay $5 for each of them and that $5 will be worth as much as is $7.50 to $10 now, in the things it will buy. So if you buy war savings stamps now, you not only get 4 per cent compound interest, but all this increase in the value of your dollars.

TIME TO WAKE UP.

The general impression is that the next few years will see an era of unprecedented prosperity in the United States. A considerable section of a continent has to be rebuilt; nations will have to be fed until such time as conditions obtaining before the great war have again been at least to some extent re-established; ships for carrying to them the products they will demand must be provided, and these products themselves will in a large measure have to be furnished by the United States. Postponed construction of all kinds right here at home will have to be resumed and speeded up, particularly so far as this applies to railroads and public improvements, and a vast sum of money will be released for the resumption of industries whose production has been held in check in order to give the right-of-way to war activities.

Keen business men in the larger cities realize all this fully and through their commercial clubs have already taken steps to see that their communities shall be prepared to meet any demand when the call comes. Enterprises of all kinds will be seeking opportunities for expansion and a great movement will be made toward farms. Agricultural products must in the very nature of things continue to command good prices for some time to come and it is doubtful if these will ever again be so low in comparison with other commodities as they were before the war.

Here lies the opportunity of the smaller communities in the farming sections of the country. Their bid for a part of the general prosperity should be made through the medium of their commercial clubs. These have generally been allowed to fall into disuse during the war, but ought at once be made aggressive factors in the community's development. Never has the need for organizations of this kind been greater and never have they been in poorer shape to meet the expectations. This must be remedied at once.

The Thief River Falls Commercial club has been helping win the war for two years, permitting everything else to go by the board. This was perfectly proper while the need existed, but now there should be a new program. The members must determine to make their club a leading factor in the coming development and to this end begin building up the organization in membership and effectiveness. And right now is the time to do this. Everyone realizes that there is work ahead and that the spirit in which this work is approached will determine the share of the coming prosperity to which the community will be deemed entitled.

THE NECESSITY EMPHASIZED.

Had it been possible during the past week to take a referendum vote on the question of paving it is quite certain that the proposition would have carried almost unanimously. Our streets have perhaps never been in such poor shape as at the present time—which is saying a good deal. Weather conditions have been unusual, it is true, but even at that it is rather uncomplimentary to find the thoroughfares within the corporate limits vastly worse than in the country districts.

Since the council again began discussing the matter of paving there has been more comment favorable to the beginning of the work than at any previous time in the city's history. It is realized that the matter has already been postponed too long and that the community would have been better off in every way had the start been made years ago. This cannot now be helped and the only thing left is to go ahead as soon as conditions make this at all possible.

That the city is losing business because of its poor streets is certain. Among the merchants—who will have to stand a large share of the cost of paving—the demand is general that the city council go ahead and map out some sort of preliminary program. There is no inclination to blame the council for the delay, as it is realized that the general situation throughout the country during the past three or four years has not been such as to encourage the undertaking of enterprises of this kind. It is doubtful if it would be wise to begin the actual paving operations even now, but there is a vast amount of preliminary work to be done and this should be gotten out of the way.

Business men and citizens generally can help to secure this improvement at an early date by indicating to the city government their preferences in the matter. The council members are only too willing to go ahead, providing they have the backing of the people. As they are no more interested in the subject than is any other citizen they naturally do not care to assume the responsibility of such an important undertaking unless the demand for it is general. This does not mean that mass meetings need be held. These are more or less of a joke and seldom accomplish anything. Let the councilmen know your personal wishes in the matter. You will find every one of them glad to listen to any proposition you may have to offer.

MUST BE SET RIGHT.

There is not the slightest doubt but that forest fires, or reports of fires, have had the effect of retarding settlement and development in northern Minnesota more than any other one thing. These calamaties are never minimized and seldom adequately explained. The stricken section may be small in area and sparse in population; the loss of life may be very small and the actual value of the property destroyed practically nothing, but this is not taken into consideration by persons reading of the happening in another part of the country. All they are able to see is a forest fire.

Even northwestern Minnesota is injured by this general error. The fact that the Red River valley region is prairie land without forest enough to supply the population with the necessary firewood makes no difference. It is all included in one description and condemned wholesale. People who do not take the trouble to discover the difference look upon northern Minnesota as a section covered with primitive forests, liable at all times to holocausts of this kind.

There is in reality very little reason for any such opinion existing even when involving the eastern section of the state, and none whatever where the western part is concerned. The fire of this year was the worst in the history of the state and it is almost impossible that such another will ever again occur, even in the timbered regions. In this section no such thing could happen—the stuff is not here to burn.

Forest fires, during all the history of Minnesota, have not caused as great loss of life or property as have the floods of one spring break-up in the lower Mississippi or Ohio valleys. They have altogether been less distructive than one single Oklahoma or Kansas cyclone. These things, however, are not considered by the prospective settler.

The people of Northwestern Minnesota should make special efforts to set the rest of the country right on this subject. We are not in the forest belt and never have been. The nearest timber is fifty miles away on the Indian reservation and even there it is gradually thinning out.

SUGAR RATION IS INCREASED

FOOD ADMINISTRATION ADDS POUND TO MONTHLY SUPPLY PER CAPITA.

NEW HOTEL REGULATIONS

PUBLIC EATING PLACES ARE GIVEN NEW RULES FOR SERVICE TO PATRONS.

The food administration has made good on its promise to add to the sugar allowance for home consumption as soon as supplies warranted an increase. With the advent of November came an order from Herbert Hoover authorizing the increasing of the monthly per capita allowance from two to three pounds. At the same time the hotels, clubs, restaurants and other public eating places have had their supply increased from two to three pounds per every ninety meals, giving this class of consumers the relative increase accorded the householder.

The new regulation means the changing of the hotel rules concerning the serving of sugar. A. D. Wilson, federal food administrator for Minnesota, and Walter A. Pocock, chairman of hotels and restaurants for the food administration in Minnesota, have issued the following rules:

Sugar will not be served unless patron requests it.

To aid in interpreting a teaspoon of sugar, according to the three pound ration, we suggest that 60 teaspoons to the pound will be considered a reasonable amount.

Sixty teaspoons to one pound—three pounds per every ninety meals—equals one hundred eighty teaspoons per ninety meals or six teaspoons of sugar per day per person.

Six level teaspoons for three meals equals one and one-half ounces.

Two teaspoons per meal equals one-half ounce, the allowance.

One teaspoon of sugar for a cup of tea or coffee.

One teaspoon of sugar for cereals.

One teaspoon of sugar for grape fruit.

Discourage the use of sugar on sweet fruits.

Do not serve sugar with sliced bananas or oranges. (Most places discontinuing the service of these fruits sliced.)

Cut down sugar in pies, pastries, puddings, etc., to one-half the amount usually used, or less.

Do not serve sugar with cocoa or chocolate.

Do not serve sugar for sliced tomatoes or for baked apples, pies, pastries, puddings and other prepared sweet dishes, that already have had sugar added to them in their preparation.

Concerning this latest order Mr. Pocock says:

"The new regulations are made up of the better parts of two previous bulletins issued here, including the new regulations. The order is still in effect that the sugar bowls and large containers must be kept off the table and lunch counter, nor may they be brought to the table or lunch counter. Officials of the United States food administration say that Minnesota hotels, restaurants and clubs have made the best record in the country on handling the sugar bowl proposition. This reputation we must maintain. The food administration has allowed the public eating places a ration of three pounds of sugar per every ninety meals—this allowance, which is effective at once, to cover sugar used in cooking and otherwise. The above rules, which are being issued throughout the state to hotels, restaurants, clubs and boarding houses, may seem in kindergarten form, but experience has taught us that we cannot be too explicit in the explanations of and suggestions for the carrying out of these orders."

Peace and the Food Problem.

The coming of peace will bring no relaxation in the food saving campaign for Americans. Peace will mean added responsibilities. Bear this in mind. Instead of 120,000,000 of the Allies and the additional population of our own country to be fed, America, on that day, must send food to another group of 180,000,000 victims of German treachery—the people of Poland, Roumania, Serbia, Armenia, European Russia and elsewhere. They will come to our doors, this starving horde, and they must not be denied. Ours will not be the role of the Good Samaritan, stopping by the roadside to give succor to the robbed and injured—we will be asked to share with those who have fought our battles for us. The division should be share and share alike.

No Turkey Raffles.

The federal food administration says "no turkey raffles this year." Just how general this one-time general practice in Minnesota is today is not known, but two reasons enter into the decision of the food administration to oppose any "shooting match, game of chance or contest of skill that might put into the hands of persons any quantity of foodstuffs for which they have no actual need." One reason is the need of the saving of every ounce of food this year, and its division with those who are hungry, and the other is the scarcity of turkeys. There is a national shortage of the holiday bird this year.

Burseth-Gustafson.

A quiet wedding occurred Monday evening at the Methodist parsonage, when Anton N. Burseth of Stephen, Marshall county, and Mrs. Helena Gustafson, 518 Conely avenue south, in this city, were united in the bonds of holy wedlock, Rev. J. A. Orrock reading the simple service. Mr. Burseth is one of the prominent business men of Stephen. Owing to the scarcity of houses in that village they will make their home here until spring.

TEN AND 20 YEARS AGO

Twenty Years Ago.

J. A. Duffy and A. P. Toupin bought the First State Bank of Plummer from C. L. Simons of St. Paul, and C. M. Bourdon of this city.

W. W. Prichard sold a 240 acre tract of land just west of the city to Ole Habbestad of Lanesboro, N. D., for $35 per acre.

When Peace Comes

Don't jump at conclusions---

Don't think that "the boys in France" will be back on the next boat---

It took two years to get them all there. It will take some time to get them all back, and there will be a lot for them all to do before any one of them comes back.

Don't think that you won't need to save food any more---

Remember there are millions of people who will have to depend upon the United States of America for practically everything they get to eat for a year or more after the war is over. This means we must continue voluntary rationing until Europe and the rest of the world can plant new crops and grow them.

Don't think that man-power will no longer be needed---

Three million men are still out of industry. Government war work will continue at top speed for a long time, even after peace has been assured.

Don't think that transportation will be normal at once again---

The railroads all over the country will have more than they can do in transporting Government supplies, raw materials and essentials for a long time to come.

Don't think that the Government will stop work on great contracts for armament---

Plans for the Navy alone are not one-third completed, we understand, war or no war, and these are only part of the Government's defense plans.

Don't think that peace will at once stop the march of rising prices---

Many factories will never again produce goods for civilians, many others will not produce such goods for some time to come, none will be able to make their product at lower prices until they can buy the raw materials for less and their present other costs diminish. This won't happen until there's far more raw material than now to draw upon, and until there are enough men released from military service to run the mills with their former speed and output.

Don't think that there will be more goods from which to choose immediately---

There is likely to be less before there is more. First, for the reason above, and, second, because in this store now, for instance, are immense stocks of goods purchased at former costs. They are of better qualities in many instances than are being produced today. Much of this merchandise could not be duplicated today at any price, because the kinds and qualities are simply not being manufactured now. Much of this merchandise, if replaced, would now cost much more than it did. Consequently, at this store you need not pay prices based on the present higher costs but you may, while present stocks last, continue to pay prices figured on the former lower costs.

So you see even when peace is absolutely certain peace conditions for us all will impose many duties no less necessary than those of war.

May we never be guilty of the error of rash hopes or the abandonment of self-restraint. May we never jump at conclusions—but continue to be earnest and of sound, good judgment, that the great wonder of peace may spread its joys and its blessings throughout this land of ours gradually, naturally, wisely as it should, without interruption.

GET REDUCTION IN CORD WOOD RATES

RAILROAD COMMISSION SECURES CUT OF FROM 20 TO 40 PER CENT.

After two months of conference with the Federal railway authorities, the Minnesota Railroad and Warehouse Commission is in position to announce a decided reduction in freight rates on cordwood. The new rates will place wood in direct competition with coal and other fuels as soon as the fuel administration has fixed a price on the former commodity.

The new rates substantially are on a parity with those originally ordered by the Minnesota commission and are from 20 to 40 per cent below the prevailing scale. A distinct benefit to the public in the new tariff is a rule providing that the rate will apply equally over a single line or two or more lines of railroad, the only basis being continuous mileage.

Having been successful in obtaining from the Federal authorities a radical reduction in lignite rates from North Dakota to Minnesota points and now a substantial reduction in cordwood, thus enabling fuel dealers to obtain ample stores of both classes of fuel at a moderate expense, the Minnesota railroad commissioners believe that the fuel situation in the northwest will be generally satisfactory even though the coal supply should prove deficient.

Mrs. J. N. Eastman left for Dale, Minn., Thursday where she was called by the illness of her parents.

FARMERS ASSIST FIRE SUFFERERS

CASH GIFTS TOTAL $2,400

RED CROSS ALSO SENDS CLOTHING AND OTHER SUPPLIES TO VICTIMS.

A new plan for securing money for the fire sufferers was tried out in Pennington county. The Red Cross placed subscription lists in the voting booths of the different precincts on which the voters indicated the amounts they wished to give. This was the only attempt at solicitation made and so successful did this innovation prove that a total of $833.90 was secured in the country precincts alone. The city of Thief River Falls had previously sent about $1,500 in cash and a large quantity of clothing and other supplies to Red Cross headquarters in Minneapolis, making the cash total for the county about $2,400.

In the following list only those who have sent in their subscriptions to T. H. Bjerke, selected as secretary for the country districts, have been recorded, this being the amount actually received by County Auditor T. P. PROTECT PATRONS AT THE PRINCESS

SHOW HOUSE FUMIGATED AND IS AIRED AFTER EVERY PERFORMANCE.

People have sufficiently recovered from the influenza scare to permit of their again attending to their ordinary affairs without any thought of danger. The patronage at the Princess theatre is increasing rapidly, although when Manager Lawrence was first permitted to re-open the "standing room only" sign was not called into requisition.

The Princess has been thoroughly disinfected and is given a complete airing after every performance. Every precaution is taken and it is probable that theatre patrons are as safe from infection as anybody in the city.

There is a wonderful array of pictures promised for the coming week. Tonight Constance Talmadge appears in the most amusing play she has yet attempted—"Good Night, Paul." This is heralded as a "bonanza of laughter" and will make a person forget the flu and all other troubles.

Wallace Reid comes on Friday night. This great favorite appears in "The Source," portraying the downfall of a young man of good family and his subsequent reclamation. It is a picture of the lumber woods and full of action and human interest.

"Opportunity" is the name of the play in which Viola Dana appears on Saturday night. This is a really funny picture in which an amateur detective lives up to the reputation of his kind.

Mary Pickford holds the interest on Sunday and Monday nights in her latest success, "Johanna Enlists." This is a most timely patriotic photo-play and nothing need be said of the excellent manner in which it is handled by the incomparable Mary.

The greatest war picture yet shown will be presented at the Princess on Tuesday evening. It is "Italy's Flaming Front," and is almost a panorama of the great battle of the Piave river. In this amazing picture may be witnessed all the amazing episodes of a real battle on land, sea and in the air. This is the big special attraction of the week and it will be worth four times the price of admission.

Lila Lee is a new actress to most of our theatre goers but she is said to be a star of the highest order. The play in which she appears here on Wednesday night is "The Cruise of the Make-Believes." This is a charming play for one of the most charming of players.

Manager Lawrence announces the first installment of the great western serial, "A Fight For a Million," on Nov. 30. William Duncan and Edith Johnson are co-stars in this production, which for daring and dash is said to surpass any serial for years. The installments of this picture will be given in addition to the regular show on Saturday nights.

Heating Stove? Consider the Hardships of Something Cheaper

In the selection of a cheaper stove, it is necessary to reconcile oneself to a smaller value, higher fuel bills, and lack of control. Disappointment is ever present and in a few years the stove gives out.

Why invite this condition when you can safeguard yourself in the purchase of the original ROUND OAK (burns all fuels).

We invite the opportunity of demonstrating its proved economy, durability, and control.

TIMES ADS PLACED IN HONOR COLUMN

MAKERS OF PRINTZESS GARMENTS REPRODUCE TWO-PAGE ANNOUNCEMENT.

Advertisements appearing in The Thief River Falls Times have on numerous occasions received favorable mention from publicity authorities, both for the purpose of complimenting their general excellence and in order to call attention to effective campaigns carried on by the merchants of the city. The latest instance of this kind to come to light appears in "Fits," the house organ of the Printz-Biedermann company, manufacturers of Printzess garments for women.

The week of Oct. 7 to 12 was Printzess week all over the country and the manufacturers have gathered together the large advertisements of progressive merchants everywhere and reproduced them in a group. Among the papers represented are the Birmingham, Ala., News, and also the News of Birmingham, New York. Between these two in what may justly be termed the place of honor appears the ad of the Thief River Falls Times. Among other papers honored are found the St. Louis Star, Dallas News, Butte, Miner, Rochester Democrat and Chronicle and a dozen others. In every instance the other advertisements are taken from papers published in cities larger than Thief River Falls and the selection is a tribute both to Loken Brothers and to The Times.

Chiropractic Adjustments Achieved Wonderful Results in Case of Thief River Falls Woman

I used to promise every doctor I consulted about my case, that if they could cure, I would gladly advertise them to others that are suffering.

I have been suffering for the last 27 years. And have consulted many doctors and got no relief whatever. In 1911 I left for Norway to consult physicians there, and after spending a year there, I returned with no improvement in health. So I was just about to give up searching for health, when I heard about Chiropractic. I started to take adjustments, and after taking a reasonsonable number I began to feel better, and now can say I am in perfect health, and advise others that are suffering from some ailments to take Chiropractic adjustments. And I can not thank Dr. Eastman too highly for the work she did for me. MRS. O. EGGERUD.

Remodeled Garage.

J. J. Aga & Sons, purchasers of the former Haug garage, have made a number of changes in the interior of the building. The rear end has been fitted up as a repair shop and a specialty will be made of auto and tractor repairing. One of the younger men will shortly leave for the cities with the intention of taking a course in acetylene welding and battery construction. It is the intention to secure the best automobile repairers to be had and also to carry everything in the line of parts and equipment.

Mykelstad-Omlid.

Andrias N. Mykelstad and Emma O. Omlid of Thief River Falls, were united in marriage Friday evening at the Zion Lutheran parsonage, Rev. George Larson officiating. George Larson and Charlotte Larson were the witnesses. The newly married couple left for Santa Rosa, Cal., wher they will make their future home.

Steen-Holten.

Christian Steen and Miss Nora Holten were united in holy wedlock at the bride's home in this city on Saturday afternoon, Rev. I. T. Aastad performing the ceremony.

Card of Thanks.

We wish hereby to extend our sincere thanks to the many neighbors and friends who so materially assisted us during the illness of our late husband and brother, Louis J. Clauson, and for the many kindnesses shown the bereaved family immediately following the period of their bereavement. n21p

The Public Forum

Advocates Quarantine.

Nov. 20, 1918. Editor, Thief River Falls Times. Dear Sir:—Inclosed please find a clipping from the Grand Forks American which I wish you to print in your paper as I heartily agree with it and think it states the sentiment of the public in general. Thanking you for the space, I remain Respectfully your, T. H. Bjerke.

"The belief is gaining ground among the citizens of Grand Forks that every known case of influenza in the city should be placed under quarantine.

"It is urged that influenza spreads with the same rapidity as other contagious diseases usually quarantined, and is far more dangerous and claims a larger toll of victims than most of them. Advocates of these strict measures point to the fact that the physicians have failed to stamp out the disease to date. They believe the epidemic can be rapidly overcome under a quarantine regime.

"Five prominent ministers handed in the following petition today regarding the establishment of a strict quarantine:

"'Owing to the fact that there is no improvement in the local situation and that apparently the epidemic is not decreasing, we think the time has now come for the establishment of a rigid quarantine of all known cases in the city. This would have been done immediately in the case of smallpox, diphtheria, or other contagious diseases which, to our knowledge, have a lighter death rate than the present scourge.

"'We the undersigned, strongly urge the mayor and the city and health authorities, in the interest of our fellow citizens, to take immediate steps to enforce this rigid quarantine.

"'Until this is done we earnestly appeal to our fellow citizens to refrain from all promiscuous visiting, as it is a mistaken kindness to the sick, and a danger to the public health.

"'Signed: Rev. F. H. Ambrose, First Presbyterian church; Rev. Jonathan Watson, St. Paul's Episcopal church; Rev. W. E. Stephenson, Plymouth Congregational church; Rev. J. H. Richard, St. Mark's Lutheran church; T. H. Gallagher, First Methodist Episcopal church.'"

The Influenza Situation.

The health officer having been severely criticised for his actions in connection with the the present epidemic of influenza and as statements have been made to the effect that the opening of the schools was not ordered by the board of education, but by the health officer, I wish to make the following explanation for the benefit of those who have been misled by such statements:

The health officer has the power to close schools or any public place when he deems it necessary for the control of contagious diseases, but he has not the power to order schools opened.

At the regular meeting of the board of education held at the Lincoln school Nov. 11th, it was agreed that the school should remain closed until Nov. 18th, when all school work should be resumed.

This action of the board of education was sanctioned by the health officer.

It should be remembered that though the city is gradually allowed to resume its usual activities, the danger of spreading the disease is by no means past. It should be the duty of every citizen to assist in the quelling of the epidemic by living up to the regulations ordered by the health authorities.

The spreading of unfounded rumors and unjust criticism will bring no beneficial relief. The present situation is very good and the indications are that they should improve from now on. Very few new cases have been reported the last week.

O. F. MELLBY,
Health Officer.

Will Resume Meetings.

Northern Lodge No. 206, A. F. & A. M., will resume meetings on Monday evening, Nov. 25, when there is work in the second degree. No regular communications have been held since the influenza ban went into effect and there is considerable business on hand to look after.

FEW NEW CASES AND NO DEATHS

INFLUENZA EPIDEMIC ON THE WANE AND USUAL CONDITIONS PREVAIL.

DANGER CONSIDERED PAST

WITH ORDINARY CARE THERE SHOULD BE NO RECURRENCE OF TROUBLE.

The Spanish influenza epidemic seems to have spent itself so far as Thief River Falls and Pennington county are concerned. Not a single death from this cause has been reported during the past week and the number of new cases is very much smaller than for any similar period since the outbreak. Doctors say that in their opinion there is not much danger of a recurrence, providing such safeguards are followed as a sensible person would at all times employ against catching a cold.

All Are on the Mend.

There are still quite a number of people on the sick list but all of these are not suffering from influenza nor is their total as large as for some time past. In every instance the patient is reported as being out of danger and even those of whose recovery there has been grave doubt at certain stages, are now giving every hope of early recovery.

Everything Running.

The school attendance is not yet normal but this condition is due to hesitancy on the part of parents to send the children in spite of assurances by the doctors, school authorities and school nurse to the effect that there is no more danger now than under the most ordinary circumstances.

The usual services are being held at all churches and public gatherings are being held everywhere as before the interruption took place. The action taken in the larger cities has helped in dispelling the notion that things were serious, it being noted that business is everywhere being carried on as if nothing out of the ordinary was transpiring. All restrictions against retail stores have been removed and masks are no longer worn except where the danger is known to exist in an aggravated form.

Assuming Holiday Look.

For awhile it looked as if the state was due for a bleak holiday season and merchants were becoming discouraged. They had provided the usual Christmas stocks and were fearful lest the buying public would be scared away. There is evidently no danger of this now. During the past week there have been more people in the city from outside districts than for a month past and business has greatly improved in all lines.

COUNCIL WILL NOT RECONSIDER ACTION

LIGHTS AT COMMERCIAL CLUB ROOMS ARE ORDERED CUT OFF.

Ever since it became known that the city council had decided to no longer remit the electric light bill of the Commercial club, there has been considerable criticism of the action. At the meeting on Tuesday evening Councilman P. O. Myhrum attempted to have the matter reconsidered but failed to get any support from the other members. Mr. Myhrum said that the Commercial club might certainly be considered in the light of a public institution inasmuch as a large majority of business men in the city were members and that these men, to a great extent, were called upon to meet the city's electric light bill. The other members could not see it that way, however. Others were also present in opposition to the remitting of the bill and even threatened injunction proceedings in case it was decided to continue the service without pay.

There is no doubt but that the majority in the council is legally and technically correct in their position but the order is decidedly unpopular among business men.

FUEL QUESTION IS AIRED AT MEETING

COMMITTEE TRYING TO FIND OUT JUST WHERE DIFFICULTY LIES.

A number of citizens waited on the council at its meeting Tuesday night for the purpose of entering complaint over the manner in which the fuel situation is being handled in Thief River Falls. Before the matter was taken up President O. L. Ihle of the council, stated that the question was one with which the city government had nothing whatever to do, but he was willing to listen to anything of general interest.

H. L. Hadrath was the principal spokesman for the complainants. He stated that only 406 tons of hard coal had been received in the city out of an allotment of 1,200 tons, and wanted to know the reason.

Daniel Shaw, county fuel administrator, was present and explained the situation so far as he had any knowledge of it. He said that early in the spring permission was given householders to secure their hard coal for the winter, providing not more than six tons were delivered to any one customer. A subsequent order provided that no hard coal was to be supplied except to those having magazine stoves and were for this reason unable to use any other kind.

He also stated that all the trouble seemed to lie with those who were using the magazine stove, there being a shortage in the particular fuel required by this kind of heater. Mr. Shaw said that Thief River Falls had received more coal than most cities in the state and that more was coming. In this statement he was supported by the coal dealers present. It was pointed out that Montana does not get a pound of hard coal and that but small strips of Iowa and Illinois are on the favored list. Assurances have been given that Minnesota will get all that is required, but just how soon delivery can be made is uncertain.

The matter was finally left to the council committee on fuel and meetings will be held where citizens may appear and state their case.

REGULAR SESSIONS WILL BE RESUMED

INTERRUPTED PROGRAM TO BE TAKEN UP ON MONDAY AFTERNOON.

Because of the order of the health board prohibiting public meetings, the regular monthly sessions of the Woman's club have not been held for some time. With the improved conditions prevailing in the city it is now deemed safe to again take up the work and the regular December meeting will be held on Monday, the second.

There will be a short musical program, followed by a discussion on "Prominent Men in Washington," the leaders being Mrs. Thos. A. Way, Mrs. H. O. Loken, Mrs. A. S. Sapero and Mrs. E. O. Mogenson.

The club has been asked to get 1,200 signers in the city of Thief River Falls for the petition favoring the ratification of the suffrage amendment to the constitution. Mrs. Rene Stevens, state chairman of the committee in charge, was in the city during the past week and explained what was wanted. The petition will be presented to the legislature at the next session and there is every promise of the campaign being successful.

The women of Thief River Falls were asked to raise $25 as their share of a state fund to be used in the interest of the cause.

The club has also been requested to look after the registration of every woman in the county who has had any experience as a nurse and this work will be undertaken at once.

Urged to Wear Brassards.

Word has been received from division headquarters at Minneapolis that the local chapter of the Red Cross should furnish without charge, brassards prepared by the American Red Cross to the widows and parents of sailors and soldiers. To other members of the family they are to be furnished at cost.

The wearing of a brassard as a substitute for mourning by relatives of those soldiers and sailors who have lost their lives in the service has been heartily endorsed by President Wilson and the Woman's Committee of the Council of National Defense.

The local distribution is to be in the hands of the Home Service section of which Mrs. J. J. Richter is chairman.

With several deaths reported of Pennington county young men it is believed that these brassards will soon be quite commonly seen and revered.

ONE MORE LISTED AMONG THE KILLED

ALBERT SEELAND MEETS A SOLDIER'S DEATH—RAYMOND STAGEBERG WOUNDED.

The names of two Pennington county boys have appeared in the casualty lists since the last issue of The Times. Both are what may be termed veterans in the service, being among the first to be called for duty.

Albert Seeland was killed while fighting in France. He left for the army early last September, being one of the first registered men to go. He was near the top of the list and was also the first man in the county to waive all claims for exemption. He was a resident of Rocksbury township for many years. Both his father and mother are dead.

Raymond Stageberg's name is found in the list of those wounded in an undetermined degree. He is a volunteer, leaving with the first contingent to go from Thief River Falls. He was at that time working in Minneapolis and joined the other four pioneers upon their arrival there. The nature of his wound is not known.

WAR LID LIFTED ON ALL TRADING

RESTRICTIONS REMOVED AND PEOPLE URGED TO PURCHASE MORE LIBERALLY.

TO RESTORE CONFIDENCE

"BUY TO YOUR HEART'S CONTENT AND LIMIT OF YOUR PURSE."

All war restrictions were removed from the retail business on Monday of this week by orders of the Council of National Defense. In a telegram to the State Public Safety commission, G. B. Clarkson, acting director of the council, directed that normal conditions be at once restored in all retail establishments in all Minnesota municipalities.

The order specifies that the restoration is complete and final and that all advertising, deliveries, employment of extra help and Christmas buying itself may now be considered as freed from any and all restrictions.

"Take the Lid Off."

The telegram advises that the buying public "take the lid off quickly" and enter into its peace-time holiday with the old spirit of the giving of all manner of gifts.

In explanation, it is stated in the telegram that workers now are being released from training camps, munition factories and other government service and to more quickly absorb them into the ranks of every-day workers it is necessary that so far as possible all conditions existing prior to the war be restored.

The order changes the edict, which said "limit your Christmas buying," and writes a new slogan for Christmas buying and giving which is "buy to your heart's content and to the limit of your purse."

Are Well Prepared.

Thief River Falls merchants had been expecting some such order ever since it was definitely known that the war was at an end. They had all bought heavily for the holiday season, as is their custom, much of the goods having been ordered early in the season. When the order came from the Council of National Defense to limit Christmas buying it meant a heavy loss to them. They were prepared for a short selling season because of conditions, but now will begin at once to advertise their wares and bid for trade as in the past.

Is a Wise Move.

The sooner normal conditions are restored the better it will be for everybody. Restrictions of any kind directed against trading would be certain to breed distrust of the future, and this is to be avoided at all costs.

The war is over and everybody is happy. The country is prosperous and the Christmas season should be characterized by expressions of good will toward one another to a greater extent than ever before.

LOCAL BOHEMIANS AID COMPATRIOTS

CZECHO-SLOVENES JOIN WORLD WIDE MOVEMENT TO ASSIST NEW REPUBLIC.

A branch of the Bohemian National Alliance was organized for Pennington county at a meeting held at the Commercial club rooms in this city on Sunday afternoon. This organization is world-wide, embracing people of Slovanian origin in every country of the globe, the purpose being to gather funds and in other ways aid the Bohemians in getting their new government established on a firm foundation. The campaign is meeting with the most enthusiastic success in America and allied countries, promises of financial and other assistance being extended on every hand.

The Pennington county branch has elected the following officers: President, John Malafa; secretary, L. J. Cerny; treasurer, Mrs. L. J. Cerny.

The collection of funds has already started. Fred Hincik reported the following as contributors from the Mavie district, and asks that the thanks of the alliance be extended the contributors: Frank Kratochvil, Ferd Hincik, Chas. T. Thompson, D. G. Brownlee, Thos. H. Smith, Julius Hanson, Joseph Topinka, J. M. Solie, Joe Hruby, Carl Talley, Mary Filipi, Bernie Levos, James Horejsh, Joseph Ptacek, Anton F. Danda, Joe Oski, C. H. Struble, John Skaar, Joseph Vukor, Joseph Hruby, Sr., Charles Hovet, Joe Karranowski, Jerry E. Hruby, Ernest Ristau, Gus. Anderson, James P. Nabben, C. W. Nelson, Kazimer Panek, M. J. Grettinger, Anton Horejsh, Henry Bauer, Binger Antonson, I. M. Iverson and A. K. Harvey.

Entered a Protest.

City Attorney Theodore Quale has been instructed to send a protest against the telephone rate hearing being held before time his been given the municipalities interested to present a formal protest against the proposed increase.

DRAFT RECORDS ARE COMPLETED

SHOW 1,700 MEN WERE REGISTERED AND CALLED FOR EXAMINATION.

603 ASSIGNED TO CLASS 1

PERCENTAGE IS ONE OF BEST IN STATE—WILL SOON CLOSE OFFICE.

County Auditor T. P. Anderson, clerk of the Pennington county registration board, has just completed an abstract of the county's record in the late war, so far as this pertained to the selective draft. Orders are to have the work completed and the office closed by Dec. 10. One of the last official acts of the board was the examination of 60 registrants in the 18 and 19 year division of the last class. This was done for the purpose of completing the record.

Total Inductions 350.

Including the 19-to-36 division of the registration, which had been examined and was held in readiness for call, the total of Class 1 men available in the county would have been 603 out of a total registration of practically 1,700. Of this number 350 have been actually inducted into the service and are now acting as soldiers in some capacity.

Is High Percentage.

The total of class 1 men is 33 per cent of the whole number registered. When it is considered that the average for the state is about 24 per cent it will be seen that Pennington county men not only compare well with their neighbors from a physical standpoint, but that the board permitted very few eligible to this classification to escape.

Was Long, Hard Job.

While the work connected with the registration, classification and induction of these men has fallen most heavily upon Mr. Anderson as clerk, the service of the other members—Sheriff W. J. LaBree and Dr. H. W. Froehlich—have been of the highest order. With County Attorney E. M. Stanton these men have given freely of their time and attention to this important matter, and the excellent record made by the county is largely due to the care with which they have looked after every detail.

Gen. March's Report.

Gen. P. O. March, chief of staff, has announced that the total American casualties in the war was 236,117. Of this number 36,154 were killed or died of wounds; 14,811 died of disease; unclassified deaths, 2,204; wounded, 179,625; prisoners, 2,163; missing, 1,160.

Pershing Wants 30 Divisions

About 30 American divisions—around 1,400,000 men—may constitute the American portion of the Associated Army of Occupation in the west if the present plans carry.

General Pershing is understood to have cabled the recommendations that about 30 divisions remain abroad for the present. This would free about 700,000 men for return to the United States.

Whether Pershing's recommendations have been aproved has not been revealed by the war department.

Movement of troops from France will be expedited in every way, the chief of staff said, and he added that they will not "sneak into the country, either."

Died While Visiting.

The body of John H. Dhalat of Nellsville, Minn., was brought to this city on the train from Duluth on Tuesday evening and prepared for shipment to his home, at the Larson undertaking establishment. Deceased was on a visit to Gonvick when he contracted Spanish influenza which later resulted in pneumonia. Two brothers of the deceased came up yesterday for the purpose of taking the body to Nellsville for burial.

MAY OPEN SALOONS FOR A SHORT TIME

COUNTRY WILL BE DRY AFTER JUNE 30, BY NATIONAL ENACTMENT.

The probabilities are that the saloons closed during the war by order of the State Safety Commission will be permitted to re-open again now that the war is over. The commission will go out of business on the first of January and it is likely that its edict with regard to liquor shipments will become void at the same time. This would mean a short lease of life for the liquor dealers of Red Lake county and a few other places in Minnesota, although the period during which they would be permitted to operate would be so short as to make the effort hardly worth while.

Last Thursday President Wilson signed the emergency agricultural appropriation bill with its legislative rider providing for national prohibition from next July until the American army is demobilized.

Unless the presidential proclamation under the food control act is rescinded, the prohibition amendment will affect only the manufacture of wine, for the brewing of all beer must cease December 1 under the president's proclamation. The manufacture of whiskey was stopped soon after the nation entered the war. Under the amendment the manufacture of wine will cease next May 2, and, should brewing of beer be allowed to continue after December 1, it also would stop May 1 under the new law.

After next June 30, no intoxicating liquors of any kind may be sold in this country for beverage purposes except for export, until such time as the president by proclamation declares demobilization completed. The amendment also prohibits the importation of any intoxicating beverages into this country from the time the bill is approved by the president until the demobilization of the army is completed.

To the fact that this national legislation would so soon become effective is undoubtedly due the defeat of the constitutional amendment for a dry country by the voters at the late election. The people figured that the state would be dry by national enactment soon anyway and consequently did not take the trouble to vote for the amendment making such law for the state.

MAKING SECOND CALL FOR FUNDS

EVERY EFFORT BEING MADE TO MEET ALLOTMENT IN WELFARE DRIVE.

REDUCTION IS POSSIBILITY

CHURCHES ASKED TO TURN OVER THANKSGIVING DAY OFFERINGS.

A strong effort is being made to put Pennington county over the top in the United War Work drive which began Nov. 11 and which ends Dec. 2.

A recanvass is being made this week in both city and country and many contributions are being received from people who were missed the first time or who are increasing their original donation.

Full Report Next Week.

A complete report will be ready for next week's issue. Black River township was the first one to go over the top in this county and among the counties in this district Pennington is well toward the front. Three counties have already raised their allotment but these were asked to raise amounts comparatively small in proportion to that asked of Pennington county. Aside from these three no county of the ten in this district is ahead of Pennington.

Allotment May be Cut.

The District Chairman, C. G. Selvig, is making an effort to have the allotment for this district reduced one-fourth, and if that is done there will be no doubt of nearly every county going over the top.

Besides individual donations the organization of the county are cheerfully responding to this good work. They are asked to take action at their first meeting. A request coming from district headquarters asks that the contributions taken at all church services on Thanksgiving day be donated for this purpose.

Girls Doing Very Well.

The city teachers, most of whom are not residents of this county, have responded most loyally to this call, both in work and donations.

Each day brings more victory girl pledges. This division has already gone over its allotment. In order to lighten the work of the campaign treasurer, Miss Agnes Wilson will take care of the money from these pledges.

109,000 Sent to War.

Minnesota has sent 109,000 men to the colors since the declaration of a state of war, April 6, 1917, according to figures compiled for the biennial report of Adjutant General W. F. Rhinow. The report will show that casualties among Minnesota men in the service have amounted to less than 2 per cent, or approximately 2,000, less than one for every thousand inhabitants of the state.

The report will show that 78,000 have entered the service through the selective draft, 12,000 enlisted in the navy, approximately 16,000 in the regular army and 3,000 in the marines. Many of the men enlisted, the adjutant general points out, were released by draft boards after having enrolled for the draft, in order to enlist. The figures do not include limited service men.

RED LAKE PRIESTS INFLUENZA VICTIMS

THREE ARE CALLED BY DEATH WITHIN PERIOD OF AS MANY WEEKS.

Rev. M. J. Noczen of St. Bernard's Catholic church in this city, this week officiated at the funeral of Rev. James John Hawks, pastor of the church at Red Lake Falls, who died Saturday morning of pneumonia following an attack of influenza. He is the third priest to die in Red Lake county in less than a month.

The parish priest stationed at Terrebonne was the first to go, dying after a short illness. A successor was appointed to the field and had been there but a short time when he also was called, his demise being due to the same dread disease. The death of Father Hawks occurred but a short time later.

A most unusual feature in connection with the death of the second priest at Terrebonne is the fact that a young couple married by him a short time before he was taken sick also contracted the influenza, both succumbing to pneumonia within a short time.

ORDER PLANS FOR BRIDGE AT KRATKA

PROPOSED STRUCTURE WILL SPAN RIVER BETWEEN SECTIONS 20 AND 21.

Another bridge across the Red Lake river in the eastern part of the county is a probability of the near future. At the last meeting of the county commissioners, Chairman O. J. Peterson, was instructed to sign applications for specifications for a structure to be placed between Sections 20 and 21, in the township of Kratka.

This is only a preliminary step and one of a number necessary before the actual work can be begun. The Red Lake river is still down on the records of the war department as a navigable stream and all plans for bridges must have the approval of the Secretary of War before their construction will be permitted.

The completion of the Highlanding bridge last year proved a great convenience to the farmers in that section of the county and it has all the time been the intention to provide similarly for the people in the Kratka neighborhood.

HAS 13 RELATIVES IN WAR; 1 KILLED

NEPHEW OF R. K. CALLOWAY DEAD AFTER FOUR YEARS OF FIGHTING.

John Ellery, nephew of R. K. Calloway of this city, with whom he came to this country from England when the latter returned from a visit about seven years ago, was last week listed among those killed in battle. The young man resided in this city for a considerable time, leaving to join the Canadians at the outbreak of the conflict. He was a member of a Winnipeg regiment and had gone through the fiercest fighting of the war without any serious injury, only to fall when peace was but a few days off.

Ellery was one of eight brothers in the British army and the only one so far as known to be killed. Besides these nephews, Mr. Calloway has also three brothers-in-law in the same service besides his own two sons, one in the navy and the other in the army of this country. Out of the 13 John Ellery is the only one to meet his death.

No More Pits Needed.

Saving of fruit pits and nutshells is no longer necessary. The chemical warfare section of the United States Army has informed the food administration that the supply of fruit pits and nutshells now on hand is sufficient to meet the requirements for gas shells. Carload shipments of pits and shells, however, are still desired, it was said. Collections of less than carload quantity may be used as fuel.

Returned to Crookston.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Larson returned to their home at Crookston on Monday after a few days visit with K. Breche, east of the city.

POULTRY, POTATO, GRAIN EXHIBIT WILL BE HELD HERE DECEMBER 11-14

Three-Day Fair Under Auspices of the Farm Bureau Will be Full of Interest and Instruction.

CASH PRIZES TO AGGREGATE OVER $750

President Burton of State University May be Speaker; Other Noted Men to be Present.

The winter fair of the farm organizations of Pennington county will be held at the Auditorium, Thief River Falls, on December 11, 12 and 13. All the organized interests of the county have united to make this the greatest event of its kind in Northern Minnesota. Over $750 will be offered in cash prizes in the various departments.

Poultry and Potatoes.

The show was originally intended as a potato and poultry exhibit, but in order to make the event of greater general interest to all it has been decided to include a grain display. The largest cash prizes ever offered at a similar show in this county have been hung up and it is certain that the attendance will far exceed that of any other winter display held here.

Two Real Big Days.

Wednesday will be given over entirely to the entering of exhibits and no effort will be made to have a program on that day. Thursday and Friday will both be banner days and the best speakers obtainable have been secured. On Thursday afternoon the Pennington County Farm Bureau association will hold its annual meeting and it is expected that nearly every farmer in the county will attend. For this reason arrangements have been made whereby entries of exhibits may be made up to one o'clock on that day.

Mr. Balmer to Speak.

The Farm Bureau program will consist of short snappy reports from the chairman in charge of the various projects. Following this the annual business meeting will be held. Frank E. Balmer, state leader of county agents, will be present to give the address of the day. He will present the work done by farm bureaus in other counties in this state and tell of the accomplishments throughout the nation. He will also be prepared to outline what the government is expecting of the farmers during the re-construction period. The farm bureau members are planning on making this a banner day in the history of the movement in this county.

May Discuss Potato House.

On Friday afternoon the program will be given over to the discussion of poultry and potato questions. Professor T. J. McCall of the Northwest School of Agriculture will speak on "Co-operative Potato Warehouses," a subject that has been freely discussed for the past year among the potato growers of this section. The officers of the association feel sure that every potato grower in the county will be present at that meeting and it is possible that plans will be developed for the erection of a warehouse at Thief River Falls.

Burton to Speak.

Friday night's program will be one of the out-standing features of the winter fair. There will be a musical program followed by a lecture on "Peace and America's Duty During the Re-construction Period." This lecture will probably be given by Dr. F. M. Burton of the State University. He delivered an address in this city at the high school commencement exercises last summer and those who heard him at that time know that there is an unusual treat in store. His subject is one that should interest every man and woman in America at this time and there are few men in the West better able to handle it. Dr. Burton has been given the place of honor among the speakers and it is expected that not only those who are directly interested in the winter show will be present, but that many will come from long distances to hear this first peace talk to which they have been invited in more than four years.

The Poultry Section.

The poultry situation will be discussed by W. E. Standfield, one of the federal representatives working on the problem of increasing the poultry production. Mr. Standfield will put on a poultry exhibit and demonstration which has been a feature of many of the state fairs this season.

The premium list for poultry amounts to about $600.00. In the chicken department prizes will be awarded on cocks, cockerels, hens, pullets and trios for the following varieties: Barred Rock, White Rock, White Wyandotte, Silver Laced Wyandotte, Single Comb and Rose Comb Rhode Island Reds, White Leghorns, Single and Rose Comb Brown Leghorns, Buff Orpington and any other variety.

Premiums For All.

The Premiums will be $3.00 for a first prize, $2.00 for a second and $1.00 for a third. A special sweepstake of $3.00 will be awarded to the highest scoring bird in each variety. Ducks, geese, turkeys and guinea fowls will be exhibited singly and as pairs, the premiums being the same as in the chicken class. A first prize of $2.00, second $1.00 and third 50c will be awarded for the best dozen of white and best dozen of brown hens' eggs. A first prize of $5.00 and a second of $2.50 will be awarded for the best showing of pea fowls. In the pet department the first prize will be $1.00, second 50c and the third 25c. Premiums will be awarded on the following pets: Rabbits, squirrels, pigeons and guinea pigs. A grand sweepstakes prize of $15.00 will be awarded for the largest showing of high scoring birds made by any one exhibitor. This premium will be awarded on the basis of the ribbons won. Ribbons will be scored on the basis of five points for a first, three points for a second and one point for a third. The exhibitor receiving the largest total score on the above basis will receive the grand sweepstakes of the show.

Rules of Entry.

Rules governing the entries of exhibits are as follows: 1—All birds must be entered by one o'clock of December 12, in order to compete. 2—An entry fee of 75 cents will be charged for the first coop entered by any one exhibitor and this fee will entitle said exhibitor to a year's membership in the Poultry association. Each additional coop will be charged for at the rate of 25 cents. Each exhibitor may enter as many birds as he desires in any one class by paying the entry fee on such entries. 4—The owner's name and address may appear on each and every coop at all times throughout the show. 5—Should the sum total of all premiums awarded in this department exceed $400.00, the management reserves the right to proportionately decrease the awards so that the total will equal $400.00. 6—All exhibitors must arrange for the removal of their poultry by nine o'clock p. m., Dec. 14.

The Potato Awards.

A total of $107 will be awarded in the potato department. Because of the popularity of Early Ohio potatoes, ten premiums will be awarded on that variety, consisting of first, $5.00; second, $4.00; third, $3.00; fourth, $2.00; fifth, $1.50; sixth, $1.00 and 50c each for the next four. The Rural New Yorkers and Burbanks will each receive: First, $4.00; second, $3.00; third, $2.00; fourth, $1.00 and fifth 50c. The Irish Cobbler: First, $3.00; second, $2.00; third, $1.00 and fourth 50c. All other potatoes will compete together in the open class and the awards will be: First, $4.00; second, $3.00; third, $2.00; fourth, $1.00 and 50c each for the next two. The Silver Loving cup donated by the Bankers last year will be competed for again this year and will be awarded for one year to the person showing the best individual exhibit of potatoes. This cup is valued at $60.00. The winner each year is entitled to have his name placed on the cup but must win it three years in succession before it becomes his personal property. Rev. R. L. Barackman, of Thief River Falls, now holds this cup.

The Entry Rules.

Rules governing the entries of exhibits are as follows: 1—All entries must have been grown by the exhibitor. 2—No entry fee will be charged. 3—Only one entry in any one class, except in the open class, where as many entries may be made as the exhibitor has different varieties eligible to that class. 4—All entries must be in by one o'clock, December 12, in order to compete and all potatoes not called for by nine o'clock Dec. 14, shall become the property of the association to be disposed of for the benefit of the association.

Many Grains Included.

A first prize of $3.00; a second of $2.00 and a third prize of $1.00 will be awarded on each of the following grains: Marcone wheat, blue stem wheat; Marquis wheat, blue stem wheat; winter wheat, white oats, yellow oats, black oats, barley, speltz, rye, flax, red clover, alsike, alfalfa, timothy, millet, buckwheat, field peas, field beans. The rules governing the exhibits for potatoes will also govern the grain exhibits.

Release Farmers First.

Senator L. Y. Sherman of Illinois has written a letter to Secretary of Agriculture David F. Houston urging him to use his influence to bring about a modification of demobilization plans so that farm workers can be discharged first.

The senator said great quantities of corn are being left to rot in the field because of the acute shortage caused by the drafting of men from the farms.

The senator further declared that he was opposed to the shipment of any supplies to enemy countries until adequate food was assured for the United States, its allies and the neutral countries.

Marshall Not Envious.

Middle River Pioneer: The Thief River Falls Times declares that the dairy cows of Pennington county excelled those of any surrounding county in amount per head earned by the cows. The cows of Pennington county, according to The Times, earned $63.00 per head last year while those of Marshall county earned but $31.35. Well, we are not at all envious of Pennington county's dairymen, but hope their record will stimulate Marshall county farmers to greater efforts in increasing the production of their cows.

ONE SOLDIER IS A POOR GUESSER

ON OCT. 17 BEN BOTHUN FIGURED THE WAR WOULD END IN MAY, 1919.

GERMANS CAN NEVER WIN

ENGLISH, FRENCH, CANADIANS AND AMERICANS ARE ON FRIENDLIEST TERMS.

Benjamin E. Bothun, formerly reporter on The Times staff, has been a member of the 20th engineer division of the United States army for almost one year and has been in France about one-half of that time. The Times is this week in receipt of an interesting communication from him, dated Oct. 17. He made a bad guess as to when the war would end, but his letter is otherwise decidedly interesting. He says:

"From present developments I do not think the war will be of long duration and to make a guess at it I'll say the big game will finish in May, 1919. It is very unlikely that the Germans will ever break through or even attempt another offensive. It seems unbelievable that even the Hun under-dogs have supported past offensives which profited them nothing and cost rivers of blood without murmuring. But we can't trust the Germans and can't tell what they will do. One thing is certain and that is they must learn by experience. Another is—they will never win in 1,000,000 years.

"If you in America—that wonderful land—could see what I have seen, you would know the Prussian is defeated, and you would be prouder of the U. S. and her part in this struggle. Europe is just beginning to realize the American pace and finds that even the so-called German system can't begin to compare with Yank organization.

"If you could see conditions here you would realize that Senator Chamberlain's simile of France 'bled white' was a truism which is heart rending. You would know how badly we were needed and what a glorious promise we have brought. Things are changing for the better, however—victory is in sight.

Driving the Beast Back.

"The women of America in their safety, can thank God that row upon row of guns, regiment upon regiment of men, acres upon acres of wire and trench, and mile upon mile of brine separate them from the Huns who have attempted to blast civilization. The anxious mothers of America have only the awful nameless uncertainty of the welfare of their loved ones. Day by day we are driving the beasts back to their borders—never again to come forth with a program of pillage and murder.

"It is not hard to read the joythrill in the 'Victory Bells' which tell of French gains, nor the happy light which their ringing brings to the faces of their women. To them it means a few hundred loved ones less. But defeat is worse than death; for it is dishonor, distress, slavery—the curse of the Hun—besides which hell can have but small terror.

Are Very Well Used.

"Be sure we are welcome here and every courtesy is being shown us. A French soldier is always our friend and time is not considered when we are trying, by aid of our 'petite' dictionary, to make ourselves understood. So it is with our Canadian brothers and the English—we are all one.

A Finish Fight.

"I am glad to see that the American public is not making it a condition that the war should end suddenly or until our full aims have been realized. It's a fight to the finish. I don't see, in my mind's eye the U. S. wishing, hoping or praying for peace, or speculating as to when it all will end, but 'when we shall win.' When the war is won! And there isn't a man over here who doesn't know that with the resources of the U. S. available, it will be won, and then will not only this war, but all wars be over for a long time.

France Always Sure.

"For four long years France has been sure of victory; sure of it even when the whole world seemed falling about her and her fortitude has brought three-fourths of the world to her aid to combat the Hun hordes. Had she faltered or wavered, or her combatant population admitted the possibility of defeat, a great war would have been over, but I'm afraid a greater war would yet be to come.

"Our food is of the best and our clothes and our armaments are likewise. These things our benevolent government furnishes us. For that moral support so necessary we must depend upon you real Americans at home, that you will back us—not until peace can be made—but until the war can be won and the demon of Prussianism sent to join the fiends of Hades. Back us with this spirit and the gates of fire, which seem rather too close for comfort, cannot prevail against us.

Story of the Trip.

"Before closing I'll try and say a few more things to bother the censor, so I'll take you back to our port of debarkation and then up to the front. As you know I landed on May 23, after a 13 day trip across a perfectly calm ocean. After putting in a week at a rest camp, used by Napoleon in his time for barracks, we stepped onto a French train and rode for four days and nights, a distance of 450 miles. Some speed, but that's how fast trains run here. On this pilgrimage we passed through some beautiful country and some scenes looked like painted pictures. The towns are very close together and we were passing through one every 10 minutes. Towards the last night we rode in dark cars as we were in the danger zone. At twelve o'clock we were at our destination and in the morning after a truck ride I saw an aerial battle in which several machines participated. That night the guns boomed loud and the next day Heinie came over on an observation tour, but our anti-aircraft guns pumped the shots at him fast and furious. Schrapnel was flying thick here as death's iron-bound messengers exploded around the fleeing Huns. At first we began to notice every enemy machine that came over but now they have to come in dozens of 15 to get our attention.

Air Raids Frequent.

"He visits us every morning when it doesn't rain and the whir of his machine is heard at night many times. During the summer I have seen many shot down by our anti-aircraft guns. In one case Heinie came out of a cloud, after being hidden from view for a long time and just as he emerged a shot busted over him and he 'cork-screwed' down to earth. The aviator was killed and the observer was injured seriously. The machine was badly broken and it wasn't long before it was all carried away by souvenir seekers.

More German Propaganda.

"I am enclosing a piece of a Boche balloon that landed here recently with a bunch of newspapers attached to it. It came over the mountain and we shot it down. The papers were printed in French and addressed to the allied soldiers. Guess the Huns thought we were short of reading matter. The papers contained a lot of bunk about how we could have peace and that they (the Huns) did not intend to give back what they had won after so many lives had been sacrificed in getting it. They also had a piece in it addressed to our great President Wilson. The Huns pull this stunt off frequently when they think we need something to read.

"The big guns have been booming today and they are assisting the Huns in their process of evacuating France. I went into the trenches last Sunday and have been in several times already.

"There are a great many interesting things up here I would like to tell you about, but I'll have to wait until I get back. The country around here is very mountainous and by going over several of them I can see the sharp peaks of the Alps. The people in this department live in houses made of stone, the walls being about one and one-half feet thick.

Pretty Soft For Ben.

"When on a leave recently I had a chance to stay at a French hotel and sleep once more in a real bed. They say the beds have made France famous. They reach about half way to the ceiling and on top of the quilts is a large, red sack, filled with feathers. At first I didn't quite 'compre' the use of it and wondered if it served as a raft in case of a flood, or a bomb protector. Anyway I'll say the beds are famous and you have to come to France to see their equal.

Grafters There Also.

"As it was Saturday everyone felt like doing something, so three of us decided to take in a highly recommended cinema at Les Ambassadeurs. One usher, female, led us to three seats which were in the tenth row, off to one side. She stuck around as if she expected something. I was the party with the seat checks so she got nothing. I was ignorant of the rules of the game, but not for very long. Pretty soon in came three of the world's greatest fighters, alias the Canadians, and sat down beside us. Their usher was more persistent than ours. 'What do you want?' demanded the one who seemed to be the financial leader, "I already gave you a franc." "Un franc pour trois?" said the lady in horror. "Yes, and that's enough," said the Canuck. "Aller," he added in perfect Portugese. "I no comprehend pas," said the lady. "Go to the devil then," said the Canadian. The lady went somewhere, but whether to the suggested destination I do not know. "I wonder how much they charge to get out," the Canadian muttered.

"Late that evening I noticed a sign in a hotel, 'Don't forget the tip.' This town was as brilliantly illuminated as a cemetery and one would think it void of residents. As it was dark we became lost in returning and we must have hiked five kilometers in search of a hotel. At length we gave up and resolved to sleep on the huge cathedral's front porch. We were ascending when a door opened and a human being stood before us.

"Arrest," thought I.

"But he turned out to be a priest, not a copper.

"Vouley-vous show us how we can find the hotel?"

"He led us across the street to a place we had doped out to be a high school. He rapped on the door with his foot. The door opened. After a rapid exchange of French we were taken through a court-yard and upstairs, and a little voice raised within we that said, 'Old man, this is the life.' I went to sleep and had a nightmare. I dreamed of a porterhouse steak—and can't help telling you.

Sidewalk Restaurants.

"When I get back to Thief River Falls I shall insist that my favorite restaurants place their tables out on the walk. It is much more hygenic and more interesting.

"But Thief River Falls, I'm afraid, can't provide half as much entertainment as this town did. As I remember the metropolis of Pennington county, there is a sad lack there of demonstrative affection. In fact, I fear that a lady and gentleman who kissed each other repeatedly at the corner of Third and LaBree would be given a free ride to Judge Tarrant's office and a few days in which to cool off. Such osculatory duels go practically unnoticed here except by us Northern kicks and now even we are getting used to them, as we have been here six months the 10th of November. On that day we will be allowed to put on our first gold chevron.

"As my candle is getting low, I'll have to close and if I don't freeze inside of the next two months I'll try and write again from "Sunny" France. With best wishes to you all,

I am sincerely yours,

BEN."

SEND NEAR 1,400 NEEDED ARTICLES

PRINCIPALLY CLOTHING FOR FIRE SUFFERERS AND BELGIAN RELIEF.

Mrs. J. J. Richter, chairman in charge of the collection of clothing and other needed articles for the fire sufferers and also for the relief of the destitute in Belgium, has submitted her report of the donations. A total of 1384 articles have been sent to Red Cross headquarters at Minneapolis, 894 going to those made homeless by the recent forest fires in this state and the remaining 490 articles being of the kind best adapted to the requirements in Belgium.

Most of the clothing donated is for women and children but there is also a considerable supply for the men, particularly in the Belgian shipment. Bed clothes and kitchen utensils were also included and these will come in very handy where families lost everything when the fire destroyed their homes.

No attempt was made to secure articles of clothing from anyone residing outside the city, but quite a number of donations came in from the country. This was also true at the time of the cash solicitations.

Twenty-eight waists, 72 women's undergarments, 6 petticoats, 4 middies, 15 coats, 6 vests, 28 boys' caps, 16 men's shirts, 26 pairs pants, 5 scarfs, 10 pairs shoes, 15 pairs socks, 1 overcoat, 13 coats, 11 boys' coats and 8 boys' pants, 3 pairs mittens, 1 night shirt, 23 children's woolen caps, 5 baby rompers, 1 roll woolen patches, 1 child's blouse, 6 children's sweaters, 12 pairs children's stockings, 1 pair children's shoes, 2 pairs leggings and 1 woman's kimona.

Among the articles gathered for the fire sufferers are noted the following: Eighty-five shirt waists, 12 aprons, 5 corset covers, 48 petticoats, 101 dresses, 10 caps, 46 garments of women's underclothing, 5 suits, [illegible] coats, 1 Ferris waist, 14 blouses, skirts, 15 sweaters, 8 child's rompers, 33 pairs of shoes, 6 hoods, 15 women's shirts, 4 rompers, 16 jackets, 1 kimona.

The articles submitted were carefully gone over and sorted for boxing by the Red Cross committee in charge. Secretary Scott Laird looked after the billing and shipping and the material has undoubtedly ere this reached its destination.

SHOULD PRODUCE MORE THAN EVER

FOOD ADMINISTRATION SAYS NEED IS MOST URGENT AT THIS TIME.

FARM BUREAU CAMPAIGN

ATTEMPTS MADE TO ENROLL ENTIRE STATE IN GREAT ENTERPRISE.

The demand is for still greater production of farm products. The farmers responded nobly to the call made upon them last year but now that peace has been declared there is a fear expressed that they will no longer see the necessity for extending themselves beyond their usual output. A. D. Wilson, state food administrator, has during the past week issued an open letter to the farmers urging them to even greater effort during the coming season. He points out that more food will be needed for starving Europe in the immediate future than in the past. He asks that every man, woman and child enlist in the great producing army of the state and thus help the nation in the vast and absolutely necessary work now ahead.

Farm Bureau Week.

In order that the campaign of production may be carried on with the greatest promise of success he urges everyone to join the county farm bureaus. The week of Dec. 2 to 7 has been designated farm bureau week and during this period every person who can in any manner aid in agricultural production in the different counties will be asked to become a member. It is the greatest agricultural extension program ever announced.

Preparations are already under way to increase the membership of the Pennington County Farm Bureau association. Agent Ross P. White has just returned from Crookston where the agents of the northwestern section met for the purpose of making plans for the drive. His announcement will appear simultaneously with those of the other leaders and will usher in one of the most important campaigns in the history of the country.

High Prices Certain.

The farmer is assured of high prices for his products during the next year or two at least. There is absolutely no danger of overproduction as there are millions to be fed who will be in no shape to produce anything themselves for some time to come. None but the surest and most economical methods should be employed in handling the next crop, whether seeding, cultivating or harvesting, as waste of any kind will be next to criminal. All this can best be accomplished through membership in a live farm bureau.

A report of the work done by the Pennington county association during its first year will appear within a short time.

Want 100,000 Members.

The state food administrator in his letter to the public says:

"The membership in farm bureau organizations in Minnesota at present representing 30,000 families should be increased immediately to not less than 100,000 for the coming two year period. Such a body of united persons, publicly interested in agriculture, will insure constructive action on problems as they arise.

"Accordingly each county farm bureau organization is hereby urged to immediately organize and conduct a campaign with view to having a representative of the farm bureau visit every person who should be interested in agriculture and country living. The representative should explain the achievements of the Farm Bureau during 1918 and methods of work, and give every person visited an opportunity to become a member.

Returns From the West.

P. M. Peterson, formerly a resident of Pennington county, but for the past few years living near Seattle, arrived in the city this week with his family and will again make this his home. Mr. Peterson's people reside near Goodridge and he believes that this section holds greater opportunities than the West. Business has been good out there while the war was on but he looks for it to drop off now. One thing he objects to about the country around Seattle is the constant rain. Mr. Peterson formerly resided on the Eklund place.

W. C. T. U. Meeting.

The W. C. T. U. will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Emma Orme, 708 Horace Ave. N., Tuesday Dec. 3. The subject for the meeting will be "The Rights of Womanhood." Leaders, Mrs. Olaf Ramstad, Mrs. Anna Watson.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

The annual American Thanksgiving Day this year takes on the spirit of a world festival. After four years of the most awful warfare in the history of mankind the dawn of peace is again at hand. In this war the forces standing for right and equality among the peoples of Earth have been victorious. In this war also it has been permitted the United States to take a distinctive and glorious part. Every man, woman and child in the country has in some manner contributed toward the success of the principles contended for and have a share in the credit due the victorious armies. The great fight has been won, and this in itself is sufficient cause for thankfulness throughout the entire world.

But we have many other things to be thankful for on this day. As a nation we have been prosperous. Our fields have yielded such abundance that we are not only enabled to provide against our own needs but are permitted to assist those of other lands who, but for us, must perish of hunger in the dark days confronting them. We have been able to assist these in the past without any great inconvenience on our own part and we may be asked to continue the work under circumstances that will make us feel the burden. Should such prove the case, we should still be thankful that our lot is such as to make the sacrifice possible.

Our soldier boys will not be with us on this Thanksgiving Day, but the tasks involving the greatest danger to life and limb have been accomplished and we may hope for their safe return within a reasonable time. It is certain that the families from which these boys have gone forth have every reason to be thankful. Even in the households where one such must always remain missing there is cause for just pride and a thankfulness that he was selected to die in the noblest cause for which men have ever contended.

The entire world has reason to be thankful today, and surely Americans have greater reason than anyone else.

HAS PROVED ITS WORTH.

While it has been accepted in a sort of general way that the Pennington County Farm Bureau Association has been of more or less assistance to the farmers during the past season, it is doubtful if anyone is prepared for such a program of actual achievement as is indicated by the report of Secretary Ross P. White, published in The Times this week.

The Farm Bureau has been in existence in this county for less than a year. During that time it has so thoroughly established its worth that any proposal to get along without it would meet with a storm of opposition. It has proven itself a clearing house for the troubles of the farmer as well as a storehouse for the knowledge best calculated to aid him in his work.

When it was first proposed to establish a farm bureau there was not lacking those who ridiculed the idea. There were many, even among the farmers, who did not hesitate to inform those in favor of the movement that it would be of no particular benefit and that even though its intentions were of the best the persons whom it was intended to help would not take advantage of the services offered. The assertion was made that men tilling the soil in Pennington county had for the most part been here too long to permit any "book-learned" farmer telling them what to do. They had nothing against a farm bureau of course, but were far from enthusiastic over either its value or success.

Many of these same doubters are now the bureau's strongest supporters. They have come to realize the actual, every day, dollars-and-cents value of the institution. There is not a week passes but that some of them have occasion to appeal to Mr. White for aid of one kind or another—and it is always forthcoming. Farmers have come to recognize it as their one particular outlet for trouble and even those who are not farmers depend upon it when any movement is on foot calculated to benefit the community as a whole.

For it is not alone in agricultural activities that the bureau has been of value. There are so many things to its credit that to recount them here would simply be repeating what the report contains. Mr. White has performed services of inestimable value to the Red Cross; has helped interest farmers in the work of winning the war; succeeded in having the cow tuberculosis test made for the safety of the people of the city; waged successful warfare against the barberry bush and rag weed right within the corporate limits, and has acted as a welfare agent generally. All this has been done unobtrusively and without any flare of trumpets, but it has been done nevertheless.

The annual meeting of the Farm Bureau association will soon be held. The Times does not know that anything more than is already provided will be necessary in order to maintain it for the coming year, but whatever is required should be done. It is not likely that there will be any two opinions about this and it is a pleasure to advocate something with which everybody agrees—just for a change.

A Farm Bureau membership campaign will be conducted during the week of December 2 to 7. The intention is to enroll every person who is in any way connected with farm production, even though he or she may not be an actual farmer. The demand for agricultural products, during the next year or two at least, is going to be greater than ever before and every person should aim at the very highest efficiency in the matter of providing his share. One of the best ways of doing this is to become a member of the Farm Bureau association. Such membership is the first step toward more efficient handling and marketing conditions, and if nothing else were accomplished this alone would be worth a hundred times the slight cost.

Every man owes it to his country, his community and himself to become a member.

WILL PRICES GO DOWN?

Persons who expect to see the cost of living go down with a bang now that the war is over, are doomed to dissappointment. Ordinarily a statement of this kind would be qualified more or less, but the necessity for making anything but a positive assertion in this case is not apparent. The indications are rather the other way.

It is certain that had not prices on necessities of certain kinds been established by laws or rulings they would have reached prohibitive heights during the past two years. In many instances the fixed price still controls and will undoubtedly continue to do so for some time to come. Where open competition has again been permitted the product released has shown a tendency to increase in price rather than decrease.

It should be recognized that the price of commodities cannot very well be reduced while the cost of production remains where it is. Flour cannot go much below its present figure while the price guarantee remains on wheat. Transportation charges cannot be reduced and wages of railroad employes be raised at the same time. Clothing will cost as much as it does now while the materials going into its manufacture hold at their present level and while the workers in the shops receive their present rate of pay. Any marked reduction in the cost of living would have to be preceded by a corresponding reduction at the source of supply and during the process of manufacture.

We have been assured by the railroad administration that there is no intention of cutting wages in that department. The price of wheat has been set for the coming year at least, and it is a foregone conclusion that other products of the farm will keep proportionately up to the wheat price. Steel is another barometric staple in which no reduction can be expected. Orders for 11,000,000 tons are already booked for European governments and our industries at home will need more than ever before because of the enforced curtailment of construction due to the war. This last condition is not calculated to cause a lowering of prices to any extent or to force a reduction in the wages paid steel workers.

Under conditions such as these it seems idle to expect any lowering of prices. The law of supply and demand operates in spite of everything and the selling price of an article must bear its usual relation to the cost of its production. The farmer, railroader, wool grower and steel worker is going to object strenuously to having the price of his product cut. So is the laborer in any other calling. It is therefore to be expected that present conditions will continue for some time to come.

Consumers should remember this when making their purchases. Some may be inclined to the belief the merchants are charging unwarranted prices now that the war is over, but a little reasoning will show that there is as yet no excuse for supposing that a reduction should have occured. Business men would no doubt be as glad as anyone to find it possible to reduce prices to a pre-war status, but under the circumstances this is impossible.

ALL IN FAVOR OF PAVING.

The business men of the city of Thief River Falls want the streets paved. Anyone who doubts this statement may discover its truth by making inquiries. The merchants have come to realize that the city is loosing business every year by reason of its inexcusable thoroughfares and have concluded that if steadily hammering away will bring the desired result they will never let up.

The city council is willing to go ahead—or at least was willing before the war came along and upset everything. There is no prabability that any of the members have changed their minds on the subject. If there has been any change at all it has more likely been in the direction of making them more convinced than ever that the work cannot be undertaken too soon.

Paving operations were very nearly started a few years ago. Everything was in readiness when the license question came up. After the city voted dry there were those who feared for the future, just as has been the case in every city in the United States where the people have decided to rid themselves of the liquor incubus. Then came along one or two other incidents that were regarded as setbacks for the city and the matter was further postponed. Finally came the war.

During all this time, however, the fact that the first important work the city should undertake must be paving has never been lost sight of by those who had its present reputation and future welfare at heart. They have talked paving whenever they could get anyone to listen until they have converted even the most conservative to their way of thinking.

It would probably not have been wise to begin paving at any of the other periods when the matter was brought up. But whatever may have been the reasons for postponment at that time, these do not exist now. The saloons are not going to be voted back and the people would not have them back under any circumstances. The war is over and things will gradually get back to normal. And the need for paving is greater than ever.

Let every progressive citizen talk paving and think paving. Make the members of the city council understand that the demand is unanimous. It is more nearly that than any other proposition of a public nature ever discussed in Thief River Falls.

From the general tone of the press it is quite evident the impression prevails that there are other members of President Wilson's cabinet whom it would be a whole lot easier to get along without than William Gibbs McAdoo.

Now, all together: "Let's pave our streets."

Peace Demands Greater Than Those of War

(Editorial From The Christian Science Monitor, Boston.)

Those unfamiliar with the facts can have little conception of the demands which the war has made upon industry in the United States. The removal of the censorship is beginning to reveal the enormous export business of the country during the last nineteen months. Without an adequate apprehension of the volume of shipments of raw and manufactured merchandise from the United States in the course of these months, it will hardly be possible to apprehend the demands of peace. It may, however, help in some degree if, as a beginning, it shall be understood that nearly all shortage in normal industry during the war will have to be made up in the early months, or at any rate in the early years, of peace; that where there has been neglect in upkeep, and neglect has been general, there must be rehabilitation; and that where there has been destruction there must be reconstruction. As a single sample item in the orders the United States is called upon to fill, at once, is a call for 10,000,000 tons of steel for France.

It is safe to say that if all the munition plants in the country today were equipped for ordinary production, they would find orders awaiting them sufficient to absorb all the labor the government may release, and as fast as it is released. European demands upon America will be fully as great in peace as they were in war, but if it were possible for Europe to supply its own needs from this time on, the work that since 1914 has been waiting settled times in the United States would employ all the industrial energy of the nation.

It is estimated that in building construction alone contracts running into the billions of dollars have been awaiting the lifting of federal interdiction. It has often been said, and lately it has been emphasized, by persons who speak from actual knowledge of conditions, that the entire railway system of the country should be rebuilt and reequipped. Illinois awaits simply the official declaration of peace before entering upon the expenditure of $60,000,000 on good roads. This sum has actually been voted, and every one of the other forty-seven states in the American Union will in some degree follow the example of Illinois in providing for large expenditures on highways during the next five years.

Quite a good deal is popularly known about the federal shipbuilding undertakings in the United States, because war lent a new interest to the American merchant marine, but less is known about the vast amount of shipbuilding now going on in American yards on oversea account, or concerning the increasing oversea contracts, since the armistice took effect, for future delivery. For a time, at least, the other nations that have been belligerent, as well as those that have been neutral, will look to the United States for aid in repairing losses to their tonnage.

It is paradoxical but true that, at the very moment when the United States seems to be confronted with a great slackening of its industrial forces, by reason of the surrender of the autocracies and their allies, this nation is, in reality at the threshhold of one of the greatest industrial eras in its history. All that is required to prevent even the semblance of depression in the transition period is that the producers of the country shall turn, as rapidly as possible, to their normal activities. The slack can be taken up as fast as it shows itself, if every one will do his part in peace with the same patriotic enthusiasm that inspired him to do it in war.

TEN AND 20 YEARS AGO

Twenty Years Ago.

Officials of the township of North met with the city council and reported that it had been decided to accept the proposition of the city government with regard to the division of indebtedness between the two. The city was to assume 55 per cent of the indebtedness and the town 45 per cent.

Emil Griebstein, who had been working on the Keystone farm, came back to spend his Thanksgiving with relatives.

Fred Eikhoff, a leading merchant of St. Hilaire, dropped dead while engaged in cutting wood in his yard.

Fire originating in the Hibner drug store at Red Lake Falls, caused property damage running into the thousands of dollars.

Paul Midderigh returned from Pembina, N. D., where he had been at work during the summer.

The boys of the 14th regiment were formally discharged during the week and C. E. Traverse and Sam Torgerson returned home in time to enjoy their Thanksgiving dinner with relatives.

Rasmus Oen purchased the farm of Mikkel Anderson on the east side of the river about three miles south of town and intended going heavily into stock raising.

Ten Years Ago.

The mill and elevator of the Red Lake Falls milling company at Red Lake Falls burned to the ground.

Scott Lamont, proprietor of the Bijou theatre, was married to Miss Elizabeth Marquart at Cooperstown, N. D.

Charles Alexander brought an action in the district court against J. Bulman in which a charge of slander was made and $10,000 damages asked. The claim was made that Bulman had made remarks reflecting on Alexander's honesty as a scaler.

The Thief River Falls creamery report for the month showed an increase of 43 per cent in receipts of cream and milk over the corresponding period the previous year.

The township of Highlanding voted to issue bonds in the sum of $3,000 for the purchase of road making machinery. The bonds were purchased by the Merchants State Bank of Red Lake Falls.

NEARLY 11,000,000 WOMEN MAY VOTE

HAVE BEEN GRANTED FRANCHISE WHOLLY OR PARTIALLY IN 21 STATES.

Nationally woman suffrage was affected very favorably by the recent elections. State suffrage amendments were up before the people in four States: Michigan, South Dakota, Louisiana and Oklahoma. In Michigan and South Dakota suffrage won by comfortable majorities, the first 24,000, the second 20,000, although in Dakota the suffrage amendment was tied up with a clause disenfranchising South Dakota foreigners who had already been voting on a six months' residence in the state. However, even this handicap could not kill the amendment.

Oklahoma, like Minnesota, must have a majority of all votes cast on any issue or candidate, so little was hoped for there.

With the addition of these two big states to the already suffrage states, suffragists have now to their credit 21 voting states. Fourteen of these have full suffrage, four have presidential suffrage, two vote at the primaries and one has state wide municipal suffrage. In all it is estimated that 10,675,000 American women of twenty-one years or over have now the right to vote. These women hold, with the men of their states, 207 electoral votes.

Remove All Posters.

Publicity [illegible] for the Fourth Liberty Loan as well as for the united welfare drive which closed on Saturday have urged the tearing down of all posters advertising these drives. Many of the posters for the fourth loan are still to be seen about the city and they only serve to confuse people and divide the attention. Destroy them all while you think of it. It will be something of a relief to the eye even if it serves no other good purpose.

A New Farmer.

T. G. Pinney, formerly of Onida, S. D., arrived this week with two carloads of live stock and household effects and will move with his family to a farm in the eastern section of the country. Mr. Pinney is one of the first to arrive for the purpose of settling on Pennington county lands this fall but there are a large number of others in prospect.

What Determines Meat and Live-Stock Prices?

Some stock men still think that Swift & Company—and other big packers—can pay as little for live-stock as they wish.

Some consumers are still led to believe that the packers can charge as much for dressed meat as they wish.

This is not true. These prices are fixed by a law of human nature as old as human nature itself—the law of supply and demand.

When more people want meat than there is meat to be had, the scramble along the line to get it for them sends prices up. When there is more meat than there are people who want it, the scramble all along the line to get rid of it within a few days, while it is still fresh, sends prices down.

When prices of meat go up, Swift & Company not only can pay the producer more, but has to pay him more, or some other packer will.

Similarly, when prices recede all down the line Swift & Company cannot continue to pay the producer the same prices as before, and still remain in the packing business.

All the packer can do is to keep the expense of turning stock into meat at a minimum, so that the consumer can get as much as possible for his money, and the producer as much as possible for his live-stock.

Thanks to its splendid plants, modern methods, branch houses, car routes, fleet of refrigerator cars, experience and organization, Swift & Company is able to pay for live cattle 90 per cent of what it receives for beef and by-products, and to cover expense of production and distribution, as well as its profit (a small fraction of a cent per pound), out of the other 10 per cent.

A Real Thanksgiving Day---

THE coming of peace, after more than four years of deadly combat, furnishes an inspiring occasion for observing the true spirit of Thanksgiving Day. We are thankful that the big majority of our splendid boys in France soon will be back home with us---yes, doubly thankful, for we know they will be better in every way for the lessons they have learned from their taste of war.

WE are grateful too for conditions at home. Pennington County has had one of the best crops in its history. Our boys on the farm over here have accomplished wonders equal to those achieved by our boys on the battle line over there.

As we give thanks for what the past months have brought, let us make up our minds to keep on working hard and doing the best we are capable of, and so to earn the blessings that have come to us in the glorious year now drawing to a close.

Machinists Still Needed.

In spite of the fact that the war is over there is still need for machinists in the navy yards and arsenals of the United States. T. S. Brokke, clerk of the local civil service board, has received notice that 10,000 men for such positions are still wanted. The jobs are permanent, wages good and transportation free. For particulars apply to Mr. Brokke at the postoffice.

Agents' Wages Raised.

Railroad station agents on Monday were granted by Director General McAdoo a general wage increase of $25 per month above the rate prevailing last January 1, with a minimum of $95 per month. Eight hours is to be considered a day's work with pro-rata pay for two hours over-time and time and a half for service above ten hours.

The order affects about 2,500 station agents who are not telegraphers and who consequently were not covered by the recent wage increase for telegraphers.

The wage advance does not apply to men paid $30 or less a month for special service requiring only a portion of their time. Exceptions also are made for a few agents who received $50 or less a month for whom a straight advance of $25 is granted, without application of the $95 minimum.

The wage increase order was the first official document signed by Mr. McAdoo following the announcement of his resignation on the ground of inadequate pay of cabinet officers.

Predicts Continued Control—Winthrop M. Daniels, chairman of the interstate commerce commission, predicts that railroads after the war will be operated under either entire government management and control or private management with government supervision of financing and elimination of competitive waste. He spoke before the annual meeting of the National Association of Railway and Utility commissioners, a body of state representatives at Washington.

Chairman Daniels expressed doubt that the present government management without ownership could be continued satisfactorily in peace times. With restoration of private management, he said, competitive waste should be eliminated by perpetuating the railroad administration's plan for curtailing unnecessary passenger train schedules on parallel roads, and hauling freight over the shortest routes, regardless of its origin.

Terminal equipment facilities should be used in common, regional consolidation of parallel and competing lines should be worked out, and government and regional tribunals should be authorized to pass on proposed railroad security issues to determine the necessity of new lines.

Continue Unification—Regardless of the ending of hostilities, Director General McAdoo intends to continue to unify railroad operations and pool facilities throughout the period of government control, which, under the law will end 21 months after peace is formally declared. This policy, it is stated, has been adopted definitely, and the railroad administration will not limit its changes in the interest of economy to those contributing directly to winning the war.

Mr. McAdoo, together with other observers of the development of government policies, is represented as believing that on the showing made by the railroads under unified control during the next year or two depends settlement of the issue of permanent government control and ownership, or of restoration of private management.

Losses are Reduced—The prospective loss to the government through the operation of railroads and guaranteeing fixed returns to the companies, has been reduced to about 200 million dollars for the nine months period ending October 1, from approximately 500 million, the threatened loss several months ago. This was indicated by the interstate commerce committee's report that the net sum the government has received from the operations of the leading railroads for nine months is $518,650,000. Railroad administration officials predict that by the end of the year the government loss will be reduced to less than 100 million dollars and this will be recouped later as the increased earnings from higher rates continue to pour in.

Meeting of Car Foremen—A general meeting of all the car foremen on the Winnipeg division was held in the office of G. J. Conklin, in charge of that department in this city last Tuesday afternoon. The new rulings recently issued for the guidance of car men was the principal matter taken up. Those present were: G. P. Zachritz, general car foreman, Minneapolis; Phillip Lofquist, Noyes; O. M. Olson, Mahnomen; Carl Peterson, Fordville; Martin Gilbertson, Adams.

No Change in Wages—The Railroad Administration plans no reduction in railroad employes' wages under peace conditions and likewise no material lowering of freight and passenger rates, it has been authoritatively stated. Both are likely to remain at their present levels, although with many readjustments, during the period of changing the nation from war to peace.

Division Jottings.

The freight house at Detroit has been closed and C. J. Lawrence, cashier, has been released from duty. K. C. Bronjohn now officiates as warehouseman in his stead.

The grain embargo is lightening up the work at a number of stations. Miss Esther McGillan, clerk at Warren, has been taken off, as has also Miss Etta Val McFarlane, who has officiated as helper at Egeland.

A larger amount of grain is moving under permits now than for some time past and it is thought that the embargo will be entirely lifted within a short time.

Headquarters office reports six agents off duty because of the flu. A number of trainmen are also on the drydock but no actual shortage of help has yet been experienced. The enforced layup of the agents disarranges things at the main office, but according to Chief Clerk L. M. Rayson, things could be a whole lot worse. He admits, however, that they are operating rather shorthanded in some places.

Fireman B. E. Gage returned this week from a short visit to the Twin Cities.

James Farley, roundhouse foreman, is out after his season's allowance of deer near Bemidji. I. H. Fossum, storekeeper, also has the buck fever and is trying to get his share near Baudette.

Mrs. J. E. Carmien, wife of a Soo fireman, accompanied by her children, arrived this week and the family will hereafter make this city their home.

Value of the County Agent.

Editor Times: Does a county agent pay?

A few members of the Pennington County Farm Bureau association have been asked to express their opinion as to the value or necessity for such an organization or a county agent, as they are commonly called.

About a year ago the agitation for a county agent was up for the first time in Pennington county. At the opening meeting I will admit I was very much opposed to the proposition. The state organizer stated that it was quite possible to get a man and that he would have to be a graduate of some college. I was of the same opinion as lots of others—that it was only a fat job for some one and that no man could come in here and tell us farmers—who had been making a study of this land—how to farm.

But that is not the county agent's business. He has many practical ideas gained in school and these, with the information he can gain from some succesful farmer who has had actual experience in the work, would put him in a position to be of great assistance to many a man from the South. But his job is not to tell us what to do. It is to help us do what we want him to do, and that is co-operation. No co-operative business will be a success unless a live wire is at the head of it and always on the job.

So it is with farming. The county agent acts as a clearing house. He knows what every man in the county has for sale and what every man wants to keep. In this manner, by the assistance of a man who is in touch with every farmer in the county and every county in the state, he is in a position to save the farmers of Pennington county many thousands of dollars every year if they will just co-operate and get together.

Had it not been for the county agent we would not have had the 1,500 milch cows tubercular test free of charge, which means alone a saving of $6,000 or so for Pennington county and no one knows how many cows were not tested. If any were not tested—it is the owner's fault for the man at the far end of the county had just the same privilege as the man living in Thief River Falls.

So take off your hat to the county agent, for it was through him that you had such an oportunity.

Twelve thousand dollars was turned in to the Red Cross fund for the benefit of our boys in France and many other things. But that is his job, so let him hop to it.

Pennington county is on the map and there is no man who can do more toward keeping it there than a good live county agent. So let's all get together and make co-operation the password.

Secretary's Annual Report of the Pennington County Farm Bureau Association

Being a Partial Resume of the Work Undertaken by the Bureau During the Season Just Past.

INTRODUCTION.

In presenting this, the first annual report of the Pennington County Farm Bureau Association, it is well to state that we find it difficult to render a satisfactory and comprehensive report because of the magnitude and diversity of the work. In this report we have tried to emphasize the more important and most interesting phases of the work. An endeavor has been made to give only facts and figures from the office records, but a few estimates were found necessary but are clearly stated as such. The report is for the ten month's period, from February 1 to December 1, 1918.

The report itself will speak for the splendid co-operation on the part of the farmers and business men.

This report is given here because we feel that the public is entitled to know what is being done, as federal and county funds are appropriated to supplement those secured from the local supporters of the work through the annual membership.

Extension of Membership to All Parts of the County.

One of the conditions under which the County Board of Commissioners were induced to set aside $1,000.00 a year to aid in the establishment and maintenance of the Farm Bureau was that the membership be secured from all parts of the county so that the work of the Agent would serve the county as a whole. They stipulated that five members of the Farm Bureau had to be secured in every township with the exception of two which they specified. This condition was met and throughout the year additional members have been received whenever the individual made application for same. No special effort of any kind has been made up to the present time for an increased membership. However, the work has developed to such a point that the Board of Directors thought it advisable to extend further the Farm Bureau membership. Accordingly, they planned to cooperate with the state officials in conducting a campaign at the same time as the rest of the counties of the state, which will be the week of December 2nd to the 7th. The rate of development of the Farm Bureau will depend largely upon the number of members enrolled and the interest shown by them.

The Executive Board of the Farm Bureau has been so busily engaged in increased production, carrying on their part of the war campaigns that it was found necessary to place responsibilities for the different lines of work upon a small committee so that quick action could be had along all of the various lines of work. Accordingly, the executive committee was subdivided into seven groups. A committee of three was given authority and power to act on any matter coming up before them pertaining to their division of the work and this action was made binding upon the executive board as a whole. This has resulted in obtaining quick action on all matters coming up before the bureau during the past summer and it was found unnecessary to call a meeting of the board of directors as a whole during the rush season. The list of projects with the committees in charge was as follows:

The above program of work was made out and adopted in February, 1918 to give the County Agent a guide as to what the Farm Bureau thought at that time, would be the things on which he should work during the first year in this county. It is given in full, first, to show that an attempt has been made to follow the outlined program; second to show the wide scope and variety of the work; third, as a basis of comparison with the recommended program at the close of this report.

The above does not include all the lines of work taken up by the Bureau and its members for the program is elastic and made to cover any worthy line of work which will make farming more profitable and living on the farm more pleasant. The program is not a selfish one or designed entirely for the farmers, for we realize that the business man can not get along without the farmer or the farmer without the business man, and only by sympathic co-operation can both secure the highest efficiency in their chosen endeavors.

Full and Hearty Cooperation With the Government in the Prosecution of the War.

One of the big tasks confronting the Farm Bureaus all over the United States was the extension of the Government orders and cooperation with all of their commissions, departments and war organizations. Following is a statement of the more important activities in which the Farm Bureau had a leading part in this county:

RED CROSS.

Pony Race Track.

The pony race track conducted at the county fair for the amusement of the children and the benefit of the Red Cross was a decided success. The race track consisted of a miniature race track around which the children rode Shetland ponies which were donated by a number of public spirited farmers of this section. The children paid five cents for the privilege of riding a pony twice around the track. This proved to be one of the best amusement features on the grounds for the children and netted the Red Cross $72.14.

Shock Troops.

Shock troops were organized at harvest time and at Thief River Falls the troops decided to turn all money to the Red Cross. This has netted a sum of $44.00. The work of the shock troops is discussed in full in this report under the heading of Labor.

Red Cross Crop Pledges.

In support of the government and the War Work campaign, many different departments were assisted in the work in this county and will be mentioned elsewhere in the report, but the assistance given by the Farm Bureau in raising funds for the Red Cross deserves special mention. During the early part of March, the bureau suggested to the county committee of the Red Cross that in soliciting funds among the farmers that the "Leonard" or "Minnesota" plan be adopted. This plan consists of asking each farmer to grow an acre of some crop or some farm produce, the proceeds from the sale of which would be turned over to the organization at the time the sale was made in the fall. This plan was suggested because in the eastern half of the county the farmers had lost a greater portion of their crop for the past two seasons and did not have the ready cash to give, no matter how patriotic they were or how strong a desire they had of helping the Red Cross and in many cases they no longer had credit on which they could depend for raising funds necessary for cash pledges.

The campaign was instrusted to the care of a committee of three, consisting of the County Agent, Secretary of the Farm Bureau and a local clergyman. Township solicitors with pledge cards secured a large number of pledges at the polls at election time. This was followed up with a house to house canvass in practically every township in the county. The head committee assisted in this work wherever it was deemed necessary.

The opportunity to give to the Red Cross in this way was urged by the farmers and the following statement of results will speak in emphatic terms for the universal, unswerving loyalty of the farmers of this county. Five townships out of twenty-one reported that every farmer in the township gave something. Only two townships out of the twenty-one did not cooperate in this method of giving. As a result of this campaign the farmers pledged to donate to the Red Cross 126 acres of wheat, 144 acres of oats, 57 acres of barley, 45 acres of rye, 39 acres of flax, 3 acres of potatoes, 1½ acres of buckwheat, 15 lbs. of honey, 5 loads of sand, 28 calves, 4 lambs, 1 sheep, 7 pigs, 741 chickens, 2 pigeons, 9 turkeys, 10 ducks, 2 geese, 5 cords of wood, 2 bu. beans, 36 dozen eggs, 10 tons of hay, 2 lbs. of wool and $289.00 in cash. Due to delayed threshing operations in some localities, only about one half of the pledges have been paid. The results to date show that $5,748.96 has been paid and it is safe to estimate that the total donations when completed will amount to about $10,000.00. This work has resulted in bringing the farmers in closer touch with the Farm Bureau movement and its members. This work has given hundreds of farmers an opportunity to get in touch with the Farm Bureau office and thus added to the acquaintance of the County Agent and in many cases gave him a splendid opportunity of doing constructive work along other lines with these men. It has been one of the best projects conducted by the Farm Bureau this year for extending the acquaintance of the County Agent. To the farmers it has meant an easy and splendid way in which to do their very best for the boys over there.

General Work.

The county agent was called on frequently to address Red Cross and patriotic gatherings throughout the county, assisted in the organization of branch chapters and acted on soliciting committees for the securing of funds and in many other ways assisted in furthering the work of the Red Cross.

During the entire year the county agent acted on a permanent committee of the Red Cross and on several special committees. One of these made arrangements for the handling of the ten acre potato patch donated by Mr. H. G. Borden. The burden of this work was turned over to a subcommittee of which Mr. P. J. Keating was chairman. He deserves a great deal of credit for the splendid success attained on this project.

Conservation of Food.

At the request of State Food Administrator, A. D. Wilson, food survey questionnaires were distributed to representative families throughout the county. The domestic science department of the local high school assisted in the distribution of the questionnaires throughout the city of Thief River Falls. All others were handle directly through this office. Thecountry school teachers assisted materially in this work as they were called on to fill in the blanks in many cases. However, only one-third of the blanks were filled in and returned to this office. This was due to the fact that a very large majority of the women who were asked to cooperate in this work did not realize the importance and the necessity of their cooperation in this matter. We have represented the farmers as a member of the County Food Organization and have assisted the County Food Administrator in the carrying out of his duties and have further assisted the work of the administration through publicity in the newspapers and at public meetings. A large number of posters were put up on display thruout the county; bulletins and pamphlets of all kinds sent out by the administration were mailed out to interested parties and distributed at patriotic meetings.

Threshermen's Meeting and Reports.

In order to put before the threshing machine owners of this county the desires of the food administration along the lines of threshing without waste, a meeting of the machine men was called and State Food Administrator, A. D. Wilson, addressed the meeting. Nearly all of the threshermen of the county were present at that meeting and their hearty support and cooperation was secured. Later blanks were furnished on which a monthly report was made of the wheat threshed and the acres covered, both for this season and for last year. These reports were compiled and forwarded to the U. S. Bureau of Markets at the close of each month. Every thresherman also submitted a report of all grains threshed in the county by his machine. These were likewise compiled and sent to the Bureau of Markets. Following is a summary giving the total results of the wheat and other grains threshed to date:

Wheat.

1918—No. of machines operating in the county: 68; bushels, 452,489; acres, 21,664.

1917—No. of machines operating in county: 68; bushels, 136,919; acres, 12,417.

Other Grains.

Machines completing runs, 36; bushels threshed by the machines which have completed runs: Oats, 388,333; barley, 118,467; rye, 76,469; buckwheat, 17,887; flax, 36,595.

Liberty Loan.

The work on the Liberty Loan has consisted primarily of creating wherever possible the proper attitude toward the loan and in acting as a solicitor of bonds. This same relationship has existed in regard to the United War Work Activities, Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., etc.

Co-Operation with and Work Through Existing Organizations and Further Organization of Such as are Needed.

Following is a summary of the activities of the Farm Bureau in cooperation with the organizations of the county. A detailed statement of these activities is found in the various project reports. The Farm Bureau office has been a handy meeting place for the officers and members of these organizations.

Farmers' Clubs.

The work in connection with the Farmers' Clubs of the county has consisted in helping them plan their programs and in securing for them outside speakers. Have personally appeared on the program before all but one of our eight farmers' clubs. The Farm Bureau has endeavored to co-operate with the Commercial and Community clubs of the county at every opportunity. The securing of the Thief River Falls Commercial club display corn and distribution of the same at a reasonable figure to the farmers of the county has resulted in bringing the two organizations closer together.

Bankers' Association.

The Pennington County Bankers' association has supported the work of the Farm Bureau at every possible opportunity. Every banker of the county, we believe, is a member of the association, thus giving his personal support. The County Bankers' association has set aside a sum of $150.00 to be used as premium money for a Potato and Grain show to be held December 12th, to the 14th. As an organization and as individuals, their support and co-operation is greatly appreciated by the Farm Bureau. The bankers of Thief River Falls have generously advanced a thousand dollars with which to finance the purchase of a car of acid phosphate which will be sold at cost through county agents to farmers in the peat sections of the Red River valley for the purpose of conducting demonstrations as to its value in the permanent development of the agricultural resources of the Red River valley and especially the peat lands of Northwestern Minnesota. They have proven that they are broadminded and unselfish by being willing to assist in the development of the unused soil in the northwestern part of the state outside of their own county.

Live Stock Breeders' Association.

The Pennington County Live Stock Breeders' association has co-operated with the Farm Bureau in staging a two day combination live stock sale and in the testing of 1533 head of cattle for tuberculosis. Considerable work has also been accomplished through the association in the selling of pure bred sires and in securing more and better live stock in general.

Pennington County Agricultural Society.

County Fair.

The Farm Bureau co-operated with the Pennington County Agricultural society in staging the county fair, which was held on August 5th, 6th and 7th, 1918. Our greatest effort was made on the securing of an increased Live Stock exhibit. Through the efforts of the Farm Bureau, a carload of exhibit cattle, sheep and hogs was shipped in from Goodridge, thus making the first entries ever received at the fair from that part of the county, thus adding three new names to our already strong list of exhibitors. Five other new exhibitors were secured. Practically every live stock exhibitor had been assisted in some way through the Farm Bureau, resulting in this year's showing of dairy cattle, sheep and hogs being larger than ever before. Assistance was also rendered in picking out and securing the necessary judges. The Farmers' clubs received the attention of the Farm Bureau with the result that two clubs put up splendid exhibits. All departments of the fair were benefited in a general way by the personal assistance which the county agent rendered to individual exhibitors by assistance in selecting and arranging their exhibit. The poultry department was under the direct supervision of the county agent. Through his efforts the fair board was induced to build eighty new coops to go with those previously built by the Pennington County Poultry association. These added greatly to the department and to the effectiveness of the display. The Farm Bureau also had charge of the Pony Race Track which was conducted for the benefit of the Red Cross.

Live Stock Shipping Association.

The Farm Bureau office has been requested to give assistance in reviving the Live Stock Shipping association at Thief River Falls. One meeting has been held with the officers of that organization to consider what might be done. A committee is now working on this project and bids fair to bring their work to a successful conclusion in the near future.

Poultry and Potato Association.

The poultry raisers and fanciers have co-operated with the Farm Bureau in regards to their exchange lists and have just completed plans for a combined Poultry, Potato and Grain show to be held December 12, to 14, 1918. The Pennington County Bankers' association has furnished $150.00 to be used for prizes for the potato and grain exhibit.

The Potato Growers' association has co-operated in the conducting of twenty-three seed selecting and treating demonstrations throughout the county. The association has taken definite action relative to the standardization of varieties and this action has had a beneficial effect upon the local growers. They have recommended for this county for early use the Early Ohio and the Irish Cobbler, of the late varieties they chose the Burbanks and Rurual New Yorkers. The Green Mountain variety is gaining in popularity and is a strong competitor for a place in the recommended list. Ten members of the association accompanied by the county agent, made a three-day tour inspecting potato warehouses and large potato growers through Clay county. The erection of a potato warehouse during the coming summer is contemplated and plans for the same will soon be completed.

Live Stock Improvement and Increase.

This is beyond a doubt our most important and basic project and the one which all other projects tend to supplement. The bulk of the virgin soil of this county will respond in a very definite manner, even when first broken, to a liberal application of manure. Although we still maintain our reputation as a grain-growing section, the county has developed very rapidly along the dairy line and is acknowledged as the center of the industry for the northern part of the state. As the livestock increases we will be better able to maintain our reputation along grain lines. In sections which are a considerable distance from a small grain market or where there is yet plenty of cheap grazing and hay land, the farmers find it profitable to feed their roughage and grain to live stock, thus reducing to a minimum the cost of marketing such feeds.

In connection with live stock production, one of our greatest problems has been to produce a sufficient amount of the cheaper rough feeds. In this locality there has been a shortage of rough feeds, so serious, as to cause carload after carload of young growing stock to be turned onto the market. This shortage has been caused by two main factors; first, the farmers have been plowing up their pastures and meadows and putting them into wheat and other crops; second, unfavorable climatic conditions.

Encourage the Greater Use of Pure Bred Sires.

Six pure bred sires have been exchanged or purchased through the efforts of the Farm Bureau. In one case the farmer had recently purchased a grade bull but was induced to ship him to South St. Paul, and with a very little more money purchased a tried pure bred animal. Through the Live Stock Sale, eight pure bred sires were sold. The Farm Bureau has been instrumental in the purchase of three pure bred Shropshire rams. The farmers have been urged to use better sires through news articles, talks at farm clubs and in personal talks with individuals.

Pure Bred Bull Survey.

During the early part of March 1400 agricultural questionnaires were mailed out and over six hundred answers were received from farmers. A large number were returned due to an incorrect mailing list, but it is safe to estimate that seventy-five percent of the resident farmers returned the questionnaires. From these replies and supplementary work during the year it was found that there were 22 pure bred Holstein, 21 pure bred Shorthorn, 13 pure bred Guernseys, 2 pure bred Pole sires and 5 pure bred Shropshire rams in the county. The accompanying map will show their distribution. Four of the sires were owned co-operatively from two to four men being interested in each. A number of other farmers indicated that they used the pure bred sire belonging to a neighbor. Although a few individuals may have been missed in this survey, it will in a large measure indicate the extent to which pure bred sires are used.

Encourage the Buying of More and Better Stock.

The securing of better stock has been encouraged at every opportunity. Personal assistance has been given buyers at three of the larger sales held in the county this year. At least fifty cows and heifers have thus been purchased as a result of this co-operation. The Combination Live Stock sale held October 16th and 17th was a Farm Bureau development and gave everybody in the county a splendid opportunity to secure better stock. Four different farmers were supplied with six head of pure bred Shropshire breeding ewes at fifty dollars a head. These ewes were well bred individuals and will make splendid foundation stock.

Encourage the Testing of Cows for Butter Fat Production.

The co-operative creameries of the county have all agreed to make butter fat tests for their patrons free of charge. The Farm Bureau has been instrumental in bringing about this offer. A cow testing association could be organized if it was possible to secure the services of a tester. We are at the present time working on a plan whereby the Farm Bureau office will secure the data on tests from the creamery, weights of milk production from the farmer, do the figuring and keep a record of the production from a few of the pure bred herds in order to try out the plan. If it is successful, it is planned to enlarge the number of co-operators so as to take in all that the office can handle. So far only one herd has been tested in this manner.

Encourage the Testing For Tuberculosis.

In February the matter of tuberculin testing was taken up with the executive board of the Farm Bureau and an effort was made to secure a test on a few herds at that time. Funds for this work, we were informed, had been exsausted. A request was then made of the State Live Stock Sanitary board for a test early this fall with the hope that we could clean up a few of the herds at the time they were coming off the pasture for the winter. After making arrangements for the Combination Live Stock sale held October 16 and 17, this was again taken up with the state department and they were asked to furnish a man for the work. With this request fourteen applications were enclosed. These were turned over to the federal veterinarians under the leadership of Dr. J. N. Holzer, who with five assistants completed the work with the following results:

Ninety-eight herds have been tested throughout the county representing 1435 head of cattle, out of which 34 reactors were found. In the city of Thief River Falls, 98 head of town cows have been tested for 74 different owners, where 3 reactors were found, thus making a total of 1533 head tested out of which 37 reactors were found. It is interesting to note that in almost every instance where animals were found to be tubercular, they were animals which had been shipped into this territory from Wisconsin, Illinois or Iowa. In only a few instances did the native cattle react. The reactors were shipped to South St. Paul under state rules and regulations. Since the federal veterinarians have completed their work a large number of farmers have made applications to have their herds tested. There is the best of feeling towards the work and many who did not test are genuinely disappointed. The local veterinarian has tested 10 head of cows as a result of the campaign launched by the Farm Bureau.

Encourage the Control of Other Animal Diseases.

Hog Cholera—One outbreak of this disease occurred early in October in a herd of four hogs. Two had died and another one was sick when a local veterinarian was called. He made a post mortem examination and reported the case to the Farm Bureau office, and to the Live Stock Sanitary board. The farm was quarantined and the owner asked to stay away from his neighbors for a short time. The result was that the remaining sick hog died and he butchered the well hog for his winter's supply of meat, cleaned his pens and disinfected the place where the hogs were kept. The herds in the neighborhood were closely watched for a few weeks but no more outbreaks were reported.

Hemorrhagic Septicemia — Three outbreaks of this disease have occurred. In the first outbreak near Grygla, fourteen farmers reported the loss of stock. The state veterinarian was called and with the assistance of the local veterinarian vaccinated a number of herds in the locality. The second outbreak in the eastern end of this county was reported to the local veterinarian who stated that the state veterinarian would be in this section in a few days and they would look after the outbreak. The first outbreak this fall occurred in Sanders township. The farmer came to the Bureau office and from a discussion of symptoms, etc., an outbreak was suspected. He was advised to call the local veterinarian if any more of the stock died and have him make a post mortem examination and vaccinate if necessary. This

Exchange List—An effort has been made to keep an up-to-date list of all pure bred and high grade stock for sale in the county. This list has been supplied freely to all who inquire where stock may be purchased. The farmers appreciate this service, but one can only estimate the value of or the results obtained from a service of this kind. This list has appeared in two issues of the Northwest Monthly.

Live Stock Sale.

During July hail destroyed the crops on a large number of farms throughout this county, this causing a feed shortage which brought a number of our live stock breeders face to face with a forced reduction of their herds. Many of these men were so busy caring for what remained of their crops that they were about to ship their high grade cattle to South St. Paul. This fact was presented to the Live Stock committee of the Farm Bureau with the suggestion that a sale be held so that the good stock would be distributed out to the farmers needing a better grade of live stock. The committee, after consultation with a number of the breeders, met and laid plans for holding a combination sale of all classes of live stock. A committee of three, representing the Guernsey, Shorthorn and Holstein was appointed and instructed to inspect all the stock entered and to allow nothing but high grade and pure bred stock to be listed. The work of this committee was very effective. An assessment of $2.00 for pure bred and $1.00 for grade cattle and horses, $1.00 for pure bred and 50c for grade sheep and hogs, was made to cover advertising, clerk and other expenses connected with the sale. All cattle offered for sale had successfully passed the tuberculin test within 30 days. The following live stock was listed for sale: Ten pure bred and 45 grade Holsteins, 18 pure bred and 1 grade Shorthorns and 18 grade Guernseys, 15 pure bred hogs, 3 pure bred and 125 grade Shropshire sheep and 1 Shetland pony, this making a total of 241 head of stock listed.

Thirty-one different farmers had stock entered in this sale. The following extract from an editorial in The Times for October 17th, 1918, expressed the sentiment of the breeders in regard to the sale: "This sale is one of the many achievements already to be credited to the Farm Bureau. In order to carry any enterprise of this kind to a successful issue it is necessary that someone in whom all have full confidence take the lead. Such an agency is provided by the bureau." * * * "The sale was a genuine success. No higher tribute could have been paid to the live stock of the county than the interest evinced in the different entries by buyers residing at a distance. The prices brought were not record-breaking, but it was not the intention that they should be. Those who secured one of the splendid animals offered received more than their money's worth and will be strong advertisers for Pennington county stock at future sales."

Encourage the Use of Balanced Rations.

Balanced rations were figured and tried by four different farmers. They have as a result been better feeders since seeing the results of this ration.

Encourage the Building of More Silos.

Twelve farmers have interviewed the county agent relative to the building of silos on their farms. Only two of these succeeded in erecting silos this year, but if a sufficient crop of corn is secured next year many others will be built. A silo survey of the county was made and this shows a total of 25 in the county.

Corn Project.

Last spring Minnesota experienced one of the greatest seed corn shortages in the history of the state. A survey of this county showed practically no seed corn of any kind on the farms. Three bushels of home grown corn were secured from the Thief River Falls Commercial club, which was ear tested by the high school agricultural department and sold in small lots to eighteen farmers for seed plots, practically all of which was caught by the early frost.

There is a demand here for southern grown corn to be planted for silage and fodder purposes. After consultation with the local dealers the Farm Bureau members decided to pool their orders and place it with one of the local firms so as to secure the resulting saving which amounted to nearly $1.00 per bushel because of the large order. This was an advantage to the local house, for they had less handling expense, no loss on bad accounts and knew in advance that they would be sure of disposing of the entire order.

The work on securing and testing corn for germination is given in the following outline:

Encourage the Growing of More Legumes as Alfalfa and Clover

Eight men were assisted in getting started in alfalfa for the first time. Thirty-one of the growers who had had previous experience where assisted in purchasing seed of high quality. The men tried out small plots of soy beans and two sweet clover. In both cases gratifying results were obtained.

Crop Production and Improvement. Development of Facilities to Insure a Good Supply of all Farm Seeds for the County.

SmallGrains—One of the first problems confronting the Farm Bureau was the securing of a sufficient supply of first class seed to meet the increased planting needs of the farmers of this county. Questionnaires were mailed out to practically every farmer in the county in which he was asked to list all of the seed grains which he would have for sale which would be desirable for seeding purposes, and to list what it would be necessary for him to purchase in order to meet his seeding demands under the increased production program. Over six hundred farmers filled out these questionnaires in full. Lists were compiled of all those who had a surplus of wheat or any other small grain for sale. These lists were then sent to every individual who was in the market for wheat or other small grains. In this way a large majority of the farmers were able to purchase their seed grain at a reasonable price from their neighbors. These lists were also kept on file at the office and an endeavor was made to keep them as nearly up-to-date as possible. The farmers who had listed grain for sale were requested to notify the Farm Bureau office when they had been sold out. As a result of this campaign 71 farmers were assisted in securing 1857 bushels of wheat, 85 farmers were assisted in securing 6088 bushels of oats, 11 farmers were assisted in securing 247 bushels of rye, 65 farmers were assisted in securing 1546 bushels of barley, 102 farmers were assisted in securing 1302 bushels of potatoes, 65 farmers were assisted in securing 596 bushels of flax, 31 farmers were assisted in securing 1390 lbs. of alfalfa, 74 farmers were assisted in securing 5325 lbs., of clover, 69 farmers were assisted in securing 185 bushels of timothy. These figures do not include telephone inquiries and inquiries at the office or inquiries made by men incidentally met, but it is fair to estimate that two hundred farmers received one or more of these lists in this manner. This work served men of all parts of the county and is a service of great value to the farmer and one which the majority appreciate. Eighty-seven farmers were assited in securing corn.

Pure Seed Plot.

Four of the local farmers planted a one acre plot of certified seed grain which was obtained through the Northwest School and Station at Crookston. A comparison was made between the yield of the common grain in the locality with what was produced on the plots. Some of the co-operators have not threshed so the complete report is not available. In continuing this work, it is planned to furnish each farmer with enough seed so that he can plant from three to five acres.

Smut Survey.

A. Monosmith representing the federal department, was here July 26th and 27th for the purpose of examining fields throughout the county in an endeavor to find out the per cent of smut prevailing. One hundred and fifty miles were traveled and data tabulated on 31 different fields. A general inspection was made of practically every field passed, but no tabulation made. Wheat as a rule contained a very small amount of smut, only one going above two per cent. This particular field had 20 per cent smut, none of which will be used for seed this coming spring. The oats and barley were not so fortunate for several fields were found to have from 5 to 10 per cent of smut. It is the plan of the Farm Bureau to conduct treating demonstrations among those whose fields were the most infected.

Sugar Beet Demonstration.

Because of the demand for more cultivated crops being used in the rotations of the county it was thought advisable for the Farm Bureau to see what could be done in growing sugar beets. Accordingly, the Farm Bureau purchased a quantity of seed which was distributed free among 43 farm co-operators who planted the seed and cared for the plot during the growing season. This fall three beets were selected from each plot and representative samples sent away to be analyzed for sugar content. The beets were sown late and did not fully mature. The following table shows per cent of sugar and the purity of 6 representative lots:

Lot	Sugar in Beets	Purity
1	16.3	77
2	16.6	76.3
3	13.6	73.8
4	17.3	80.9
5	17.7	76.1
6	16.2	76.6
Average	16.2	76.6

Potatoes.

The potato industry in this section is rather new from the commercial standpoint and as the potatoes exhibited last year at the potato show showed considerable disease an effort was made to get every farmer growing potatoes to treat with corrosive sublimate or formaldehyde. This resulted in 36 farmers treating 1500 bushels of seed potatoes.

Spraying Operations.

Forty-five of the potato growers cooperated in the purchase of Paris Green. This order was placed locally at a saving of $180 and insured the grower of his arsenical poison before he had planted his potatoes. This did much towards increasing the acreage as many could not get poison a year ago and were planning on running no risk this year.

Standardization.

The Potato Growers' association has made the initial step along the line of standardization of varieties. They are recommending for this county the growing of not more than four varieties for commercial purposes. They favor the Early Ohio and Irish Cobbler as early; Burbanks and Rural New Yorkers for the late varieties.

Potato Tour.

During the latter part of June, 10 farmers accompanied by the county agent, made an auto tour through the potato growing section of Clay county. The main object of this tour was to look over potato warehouses with a view of building a co-operative warehouse at Thief River Falls. Warehouses were inspected at Fertile, Gary, Ulen, Hawley, Glyndon, Saben and Moorhead. While on the trip four Live Stock farms were also visited, including the famous Holstein herds of Schroeder and Serei. The potato growers were interviewed at all points along the route and the local men gained a great many practical suggestions as to cultural methods, etc. County Agent O'Banion of Clay county assisted us on one of our trips. All in the party were impressed with the splendid results obtained with the combination of live stock and potatoes. A marked difference was noted in the condition of the crop and in the cleanliness of the fields where this combination had been used for a few years. On the return trip a few hours were spent at the Northwest School and Station at Crookston where the experimental plots were visited. These impressed the farmers very much, for a new vision of their school was obtained.

Although the trip did not result in the building of a warehouse, yet it did inspire every member of the party and resulted in their putting into practice hints and suggestions secured from the practical growers visited. The question of the warehouse has not been dropped and will probably be one of the projects upon which the Farm Bureau will work during the coming year.

Plot Work.

Twenty-two farmers co-operated in conducting seed selecting and treating demonstrations. These plots were located in all sections of the county. Seven of these were badly hailed and no check was made of results on them. In all but three plots the treated portion of the field showed an increase in stand anywhere from a slight improvement to 10 per cent. A decided improvement was noticeable in the freedom of disease on the treated plots as will be seen by the following table.

FARM MANAGEMENT.

Weed Control.

One of the worst pests in this county is the sow thistle. A copy of the weed law of the state was sent to the mayor of each city and the chairmen of each town board throughout the county with a personal letter, calling their attention to the law and its provisions and asking for their co-operation in its enforcement. It would seem that very little enforcement of the law will take place until the county is able to secure the services of a weed expert. One of our biggest problems in weed control is the unoccupied, unused, weedy, vacant land of which there are thousands of acres in this county. In the sections where the land is all under cultivation the weed does not bother much and it is my opinion that one of the best means of combating the weed is to secure men who will come in and develop and permanently farm the unused land in this county; however, in order to protect the interest of those sturdy farmers who are now trying to control the pest in the neighborhood of weedy vacant lands and unkept land sides, I would recommend the securing of a weed expert, the rigid enforcement of the law, as a control measure, and would suggest the use of more cultivated crops in order to combat the pest.

Encourage the Use of More Cultivated Crops.

As a basis of permanent agriculture in this section the farmers have been encouraged and urged at all times to include in their regular system of rotation a larger acreage of cultivated crops. We have especially recommended corn and potatoes, the former to be used largely for silage and fodder purposes. It is believed that there is no crop grown in this section which will produce as much rough feed per acre as will corn. Potatoes have also been recommended at every opportunity. Cultivated crops can be grown with very little more labor than is needed for summer fallowing and besides producing a crop of small grain the following year will as a rule nearly double the yield of small grain following small grain.

Boys' and Girls' Club Work.

It was thought best during the first year of operation not to do much along the line of Boys' and Girls' Club Work. However, one Garden club with ninety-five members was organized at St. Hilaire. Local people took full charge of this splendid work.

Peat Demonstration.

The Farm Bureau in co-operation with the soil department of the state university has arranged for eight demonstrations for 1919. The land has been fall plowed and plots have been measured out. Each demonstration will have three units. Unit one will receive a treatment of phosphate at the rate of four hundred pounds to the acre; unit two will receive no treatment and will be used as a check plot; unit three will be given an application of manure at the rate of ten ton to the acre. Across these units will be seeded grass mixtures, barley, oats, rye, peas, sun-flowers and such other crops as the farmer may care to try. This work is based on the conclusions drawn from the results obtained at the Golden Valley Experimental station in 1918.

Barberry Eradication.

During April a survey of the hedges and lawns of St. Hilaire and Thief River Falls was made for the purpose of eradicating the barberry. No common barberry was found in St. Hilaire or in the surrounding territory. Two hedges containing common barberry were discovered in Thief River Falls and both parties voluntarily destroyed the bushes at the suggestion of the County Agent. The largest hedge contained about forty of the Japanese variety. In the other hedge three of the common variety were found and destroyed. During the latter part of May, one of the State specialists called and went over the survey of Thief River Falls. On this trip two bushes were found and subsequently destroyed. No further bushes were found on making a complete survey of the county.

Community Picnic.

For two years past, a community picnic had been held on Flag Day. This year the Farm Bureau was asked to back the movement and to assist in putting on the third annual Community picnic. Accordingly a committee was appointed and on Flag Day June 14th was held the largest community picnic ever held in this county. It was held in the S. L. Holm grove at Highlanding. During the morning they were entertained by music furnished by the Goodridge and Silverton bands. At noon 1500 people gathered around their lunch baskets on the shores of Red Lake river. The program of the afternoon was opened by community singing in which Miss M. Lucille Holiday of Crookston led 2000 voices in her usual excellent and marvelous fashion. This was followed by a stirring address by Judge F. T. Wilson of Stillwater, who spoke on War Interests and Food Conservation. A ball game, tug of war, and the usual racing program furnished further amusement throughout the afternoon. Refreshments were served throughout the day by the Highlanding Red Cross Chapter and the proceeds from the stands, booths, "swat the kaiser" etc., were turned over to the Red Cross netting them $400.00. 2500 people gathered from all parts of the county and enjoyed a day among their old acquaintances and those but newly made. Over 300 automobiles were on the grounds at one time. At the close of the afternoon program a committee consisting of a representative from each end of the county, the president of every farm, commercial and community club in the county was appointed, with the county agent as chairman to make arrangements for the fourth annual picnic to be held on Flag Day, 1919.

Farm Crop and Labor Report.

A copy of the Farm Crop and Labor Report secured by the township assessors was made for the files in this office. Although all of the assessors did not hand in this report and some, who did, had a report that was incomplete yet it has been of great value and assistance to the Farm Bureau work in this county. The information which these reports contained are invaluable to an agent and his work.

Labor.

Fifty-four men; forty boys and nine women were placed on farms in Pennington county as day laborers during the period from May to November. The greatest demand came during August and the early part of September and was mostly for harvesting and threshing help. During the last of September and the first of October there was a demand for potato pickers. At first these calls were turned over to the school where a supply was at all times available. Later the schools of the city were closed and all calls were then handled directly through the Farm Bureau office but most of the growers had no trouble in getting all the pickers needed after the schools were closed.

Men who were willing to work on the farm by the month have been hard to get and only five men were so placed. Two girls secured stenographic positions through the efforts of the Farm Bureau.

Shock Troops.

The business and professional men of the city and in all towns in the county were willing and ready at the call of the committee in charge to go and help the farmer in need. In every community these men demonstrated their ability as farm laborers and their determination to help in every way possible. At Thief River Falls the home guard was for ten days to two weeks under orders to meet each night at seven o'clock for the purpose of helping whenever there was a call. The demand for laborers was so nearly met by the Farm Bureau that the home guard was only sent out on two occasions. Most of the men in the home guard are business men, but not all business men are members of the guard so these donned the blue jean uniforms and reported along with the men in khaki. A total of 68 men thus shocked 205 acres. The farmers paid for the work on the acre basis and the money was donated to the Red Cross, netting a total of $44.00. At Hazel everybody must have turned out and stayed out for the shock troops of seven have been paid for 120 acres.

The situation at St. Hilaire was somewhat more critical and the business men were called out repeatedly. Here the men received forty cents an hour for their labor which was the same as the other help was being paid, and were paid $360.80 representing 902 hours work. The farmers of the vicinity had 1400 acres of shocked grain to show for the outlay.

Goodridge and Mavie did their share along this line for they cared for their local calls, although no definite report has been obtained to date.

This county has been fortunate in regards to the labor question for a large number of Indians from the reservation have been used by the farmers in the eastern end of the county. Thief River Falls being a transfer point for many laborers going to Dakota has helped out the farmers of the western part for during the early part of the rush season many of these men could be induced to stop here and thus save car fare, time, etc. A sign board on the office building which is located between the two depots attracted many to the office. One week thirteen of these men were sent to jobs in Dakota and as many more located in this county.

Organization Plan.

Several weeks before harvest a committee of six, one member from each market center with the county agent as chairman, was appointed to take charge of the situation. On investigation it was found that the Public Safety Commission and the postoffice were both working on the labor question. At a conference of representatives of these organizations, with the county agent it was decided to unite efforts and make the Farm Bureau office a clearing house for all labor calls.

Each member of the committee was made chairman of the work for his locality and as the towns were small they soon had the work well organized. In Thief River Falls the secretary of the Commercial club was local chairman. Here, because of the size of the city, a survey was made by wards of all available laborers and these were classified and listed according to their past experience on the farm and their probable adaptibility to farm work. In making this classification the party's present duties were also considered in locating a person in his respective class. Another list was made of all those who could and would be willing to take the place of some business or professional man thus opening the way for him to assist in the harvest fields.

The rural carriers kept in touch with the farmers along their respective routes and made daily reports of their needs, thus assisting greatly in the work.

The farmers, however, met in a large way their own problem by working as they had never worked before. More labor saving devices were used, longer hours were put in and when the time came the women and girls went into the fields to do in most cases a man's work.

GOVERNMENT BUYS NORTHWEST WHEAT

EXPECTED EMBARGO WILL SOON BE LIFTED AND MOVEMENT RESUMED.

Thus far this fall the United States Grain corporation, through the Ninth District Federal Reserve bank, has purchased $125,000,000 worth of wheat in Minnesota and other wheat producing states of the Northwest. This vast sum has found its way into the pockets of farmers and in return has been employed in the purchase of food, clothing, farm equipment and to pay off mortgages, with the exception of that which will be used for the construction of new buildings, for taxes, payment of Liberty Loan Bonds and deposited in banks.

Within a short time, a very few days at the most, it is believed the embargo on shipments of wheat to the terminal elevators at Duluth will be raised. That will enable farmers of this section to ship another 12,000,000 bushels of wheat, bringing close to $30,000,000 more into these states.

It is also hoped that the embargo on flour grinding will be raised soon, in which event more wealth will be added by the shipment of wheat to the great Minneapolis flour mills.

RED CROSS NEEDS RAG RUG MAKERS

Chairman Thos. A. Way of the Pennington County Chapter, Amerisions throughout the country to make several of these rugs as they are can Red Cross, is in receipt of an order from the Northern division for a rag rug nine feet square. Washington has asked the various divineeded in the French hospitals and convalescent homes where Red Cross workers are constantly on duty.

The work of making the rug, it is suggested, be divided between the junior and senior workers of the Red Cross chapters.

Generally speaking, the instructions call for the gathering of rags, cutting them into strips varying from one inch to two inches, depending on thickness of material, sewing cuttings into long strips and winding into ball the same as for rag carpet.

Then these strips are sewn together into nine inch wide strips or squares and these strips or squares into the large rug of required proportions.

VALLEY DAIRYMEN MEET AT BEMIDJI.

Extensive preparations are being made by the citizens of Bemidji for the annual meeting of the Red River Valley Dairymen's association on Dec. 11 and 12. Pennington county dairymen will at that time be very much interested in the big poultry, potato and grain show to be put on in this city and the attendance at the annual meeting from this section may therefore be somewhat smaller than under ordinary circumstances.

Bemidji is making plans to entertain the biggest and best convention this organization ever held. Speakers of ability and wide experience are on the program for the principal addresses. Wednesday forenoon will be devoted to reports of officers followed by an address by James Sorenson, state dairy and food commissioner, who is one of the most fearless and best commissioners the state has ever had. He will deliver a message worth while.

Other speakers are Prof. A. J. McGuire, Benjamin Faast of Eau Claire, H. J. Hughes, Minneapolis; George P. Grout of Duluth and Dr. C. P. Fitch of the veterinary department, University of Minnesota.

TEACHERS PAID FOR TIME LOST

LEGALLY ENTITLED TO SALARIES DURING PERIOD SCHOOL CLOSED.

MAY HELP MAKE UP LATER

IN SUCH CASE DISTRICTS SHOULD RE-IMBURSE FOR ADDED EXPENSE.

Ever since the schools were closed by reason of the influenza epidemic there has been a question as to whether or not teachers would be entitled to pay for the time they were forced to remain idle. Answering this question a letter has been sent out to the county superintendents of the state by C. G. Schultz, state superintendent of instruction, the text of which is as follows:

"When a school has been closed by the local health officer, or by the board, because of an epidemic, the teachers are legally entitled to their salaries for the time the school was closed, if they were at all times ready and willing to perform their services. They cannot be compelled to make up the time lost; but if the teachers voluntarily agree to make the lost time they cannot demand extra pay.

Make Up Part Time.

"It is recommended that at least a part of the time lost should be made up, if possible, in order to maintain the standard of school efficiency and school work. If not, the result will be rather a serious educational loss to the children. It would be fair and proper for the school board to reimburse teachers for any added expense in making up lost time. Teachers should willingly co-operate with school boards and superintendents in making up time lost in whole or in part.

May Curtail Vacations.

"The method of making up time would depend largely upon the amount of time lost. Perhaps the most common way would be to use vacation and holidays to the utmost, and if necessary continue school beyond the regular time of closing in the spring. Teaching Saturdays is of questionable value.

Aid Not Affected.

"State aid is not contingent on the making up of time lost during an epidemic, if all arrangements were made by the board for maintaining school for the full term required.

"Pupils cannot be counted present during the time school was closed, but days made up would naturally be credited to the time lost. To be counted for apportionment, a pupil must have been in actual attendance at least forty days."

URGES CITIZENS TO JOIN FARM BUREAU

SECRETARY HOUSTON CALLS UPON PRODUCERS TO ENLIST FOR GREATER EFFORT.

Secretary D. F. Houston of the department of agriculture, has issued a statement to the American farmer in which he calls attention to the need for even greater production in order to meet the demands of the world in the immediate future. He states that while it is impossible at this time to fortell what the exact needs will be, two things stand out clearly. One is that there will be decided demand for live stock, and especially of fats. Concerning the second obvious need he says:

"The other is the need of perfecting the organization of our agricultural agencies for the purpose of intelligently executing such program as may seem wise. We should not only have the best possible organization and co-operation of the department of agriculture, the agricultural colleges, the state departments of agriculture, and farmers' associations, but we should especially strengthen the local farm bureaus and other organizations which support so effectively the extension forces and assist them in their activities. The perfection of this organization is highly desirable not only during the continuance of the present abnormal conditions but also for the future. The ideal as well as the state and federal agencies are of supreme importance to the nation in all its activities designed to make rural life more profitable, healthful and attractive, and, therefore to secure adequate economic production, efficient distribution and necessary conservation.

"The main purpose of this appeal is to direct attention to the necessity of continuing our state of preparedness and of strengthening the foundations of our agriculture."

ARE NOTIFIED OF NEW WAGE SCALE

PRACTICALLY EVERY INDUSTRY IN STATE COMES UNDER RULING.

The Public Safety Commission has this week sent broadcast over the state the schedule of minimum wages to be paid women workers and minors. The rulings cover practically every kind of work in which persons under this classification are employed and gives the lowest wage at which they can be hired. In all incorporated cities outside St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth the smallest pay permitted for employes of mercantile establishments, offices and hair dressing parlors is $8.50 per week, the same minimum applying also to waitresses. In the following occupations $8.25 is placed as the minimum: Manufacturing, mechanical, telephone, telegraph, laundry, dyeing, dry cleaning, lunch room, restaurant and hotel. Not less than $8.00 per week may be paid for work at any other occupation within the state.

The apprentice or learner ruling applies to boys or girls under 18 years of age and to all occupations. The minimum for this kind of labor is $7.00 per week for the first four months and $8.00 for the following four months.

There is no provision made for deviating from this schedule and every employer in the state will have to meet the requirements. Many establishments in Thief River Falls are affected and in many instances the edict will require a considerable readjustment of the pay roll.

MAKES HIS FIRST VISIT IN 35 YEARS

LOOKED OVER PRESENT SITE OF CITY WHEN IT WAS A WILDERNESS.

Ole G. Loftnes of Gibbon, Minn., a brother of A. G. Loftnes of this city, this week paid his first visit to the place in 35 years. Mr. Loftnes was at the present site of Thief River Falls in 1883, at which time he found a postoffice and one small store here. The storekeeper was John LaBree, father of the present sheriff of Pennington county, and the visitor put up there over night.

Mr. Loftnes was astounded at the changes he found in the place. He was naturally aware that a city had grown up here but was not prepared to find evidence of such progress.

He left on Wednesday for Scobey, Mont., where his son recently died of pneumonia, he being called there for the purpose of settling the estate. Another son is with the American army in England.

FOOD-SAVING NEED TO BE IMPRESSED

WEEK OF DEC. 1-7 TO BE OBSERVED AS CONSERVATION PERIOD.

Clergymen and school officials and instructors in Thief River Falls have been notified that Dec. 1 to 7 is to be observed as Conservation Week for World Relief throughout the country. Conservation Week will open with Conservation Sunday on December 1, when a special message by Herbert Hoover will be read from the pulpits of the country. On Wednesday, December 4, the various women's organizations of the state will gather for a special program and a pledge for future conservation and on Friday, December 6, a conservation program will be given in the schools. Conservation Week for World Relief is the effort of the food administration to carry to all the people of the country the message that in this day when anarchy is rife in Europe conservation for world relief is as necessary to the safety of the world as conservation has been for our fighting forces. History points to the fact that hunger has played a big role in the revolutions of the past. America with its plenty must not fail to meet this danger, which threatens. Before the war our exports amounted to 6,000,000 tons of food stuffs. The newly liberated peoples must have 20,000,000 tons from us this year instead.

RAPID MUSTERING OUT

Discharge of U. S. Soldiers to Reach 30,000 Daily Very Soon.

Transport Problem May Hinder Demobilization of Forces Now Overseas.

Washington, Nov. 26.—The mustering out of soldiers in the United States is expected to reach a daily rate of 30,000 within a few days. Machinery for demobilization there has been speeded up now that the initial organization work is completed. The system of releasing men, while fairly intricate, is in charge of experienced personnel officers at each camp and cantonment, and no difficulty is being experienced anywhere.

With the flow at 30,000 or better a day, the new year should find more than 1,000,000 men freed both in this country and abroad. The situation in respect to demobilization overseas is complicated by the tonnage situation. England is understood to desire to withdraw some of her transports from American service quickly, hence this may slow up homecomings. The eight divisions already ordered back should be under way fairly soon, however.

Army men were of the opinion today that the 30 division limit on the army of occupation would be quickly reduced after the 13 divisions above that limit are sent back. The German army is unable to renew the war. It is held here that probably far fewer men than 30 divisions can adequately police the Rhinelands.

The 30 divisions will be stripped of certain auxiliary units unnecessary to occupation, therefore it is likely that the strength of the remainder will not run over 900,000 or 1,000,000.

BULGARIANS WERE BRUTAL

Greeks Burned Alive Under Pretext They Had Typhus.

Saloniki, Nov. 26.—The Bulgarians, during the occupation of Eastern Macedonia, deported 82,000 Greek residents, according to official Bulgarian documents in the possession of M. Djvaropoulos, subprefect of Demirhissar. The subprefect was deported by the Bulgarians and was compelled to work in the central bureau of deported persons at Choumla and he obtained the official documents there.

A large number of those deported, he says, succumbed to famine, torture and enforced labor. At Kitchevo a number of Greeks were burned alive under the pretext that they had typhus.

Paris Postwomen.

Paris, France, is putting its entire mail distribution system into the hands of women carriers. Experiments in two districts proved highly successful, so the plan is to be made general. Women made the rounds faster and delivered more mail in less time than men. Women carriers are to have a severely plain special uniform and are to be paid $1.19 a day more than men received before the war.

A Hopeless Quest.

There is no such thing as perpetual motion outside of the works of God. Pursuit of it has been one of the vain quests of mankind, an unsolved problem among human vagaries, ending always in failure and often in insanity.

John Quincy Adams' Toast.

I cannot ask of heaven success, even for my country, in a cause where she should be in the wrong. My toast would be, may our country be always successful, but, whether successful or otherwise, always right.—John Quincy Adams.

Phrase Drawn From Bible.

The expression, "He who runs may read," does not occur in the Bible in that form, but is drawn from the Bible, Habakkuk chapter II, verse 2, reads: "And the Lord answered me and said: Write the vision and make it plain upon tables, that he may run that readeth it."

Difference in Bread Making.

Little Oscar called on a neighbor's boy one morning and was invited in to wait for his friend, who was not quite ready. The neighbor was kneading bread and asked: "Does you mother make bread?" "Yes'm," replied Oscar, "only she don't play with it like you do."

SANDEN'S CASE IS SIMILAR

HARRY L. BAKKEN REPORTED SERIOUSLY WOUNDED ON LAST DAY OF WAR.

Frank Posten on Tuesday received word from the adjutant general's office at Washington announcing the death in action of his son, George. The message was in no manner specific, simply stating that "George S. Poston, reported missing in action on Sept. 27, now reported killed in action, date unconfirmed."

Ever since the announcement that this young man was missing reached here there have been continued attempts to secure a verification or denial of the report. Hope that a mistake might have been made was held out by the fact that a letter dated Oct. 2—five days after he had been reported a casualty—was received by his parents. They immediately attempted to get at the facts, enlisting the aid of Chairman Thos. A. Way of the Red Cross, in the investigation. At Red Cross headquarters in Washington it was stated that Poston was all right up to five days ago. This leaves the facts in the case as much in the dark as ever.

Turns Up O. K.

Albert R. Sanden, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Sanden, 933 LaBree avenue north, who was last week reported among those missing in action, has turned up all right. His parents on Saturday received a letter from him, of a later date than the first report, stating that he was still in the land of the living although he had been wounded.

The government's report gave Oct. 21 as the date upon which he failed to return after an engagement, but a letter from him under date of Nov. 9 says that he is getting along fine. At the time he was wounded he had been right on the fighting line for five days. During the battle he had taken refuge in a building, together with a number of companions and it was impossible for them to regain their command because of the heavy firing. Finally their shelter was demolished and it is supposed that it was at this time Sanden was wounded. Sanden left Thief River Falls on June 24.

Wounded on Last Day.

Harry L. Bakken, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Bakken, was yesterday reported as among those seriously wounded. The telegram stated that this soldier had received his injury on Nov. 10, which was the last day of the war. He had been in France [illegible] months and while his letters indicated that he had been where there was the hottest kind of fighting, he had escaped without a wound until almost the last minute.

Ordahl is Wounded.

Sidney Ells, who left here to join the army last spring, is also reported wounded in action. He was formerly employed on the farm of V. C. Noper and was a member of the home guard company.

David G. Welsh, a brother of Alex Welsh, died of disease in France last month, according to the reports. This young man enlisted from Roseau county but he gave the name of his brother as his nearest relative and was probably credited to Thief River Falls for this reason.

Osmund Ordahl, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Ordahl of Norden township, is in the slightly wounded list. No particulars concerning his condition have been received.

Among the other casualties of the week of particular interest in this neighborhood are noted the following: Edward Conners, Brooks, died [illegible] disease, and Carl O. Brennan, [illegible]mmer, killed in action.

FARMERS PLANNING POTATO WAREHOUSE

COMMITTEE WILL INVESTIGATE COST AND SITE—OFFICERS ELECTED.

The annual meeting of the Pennington County Potato Growers association was held at the farm bureau office on Saturday afternoon. The following were elected officers for the ensuing year: Waldie Christianson, president; A. E. Anderson, vice-president; Ben Rosendahl, secretary; Hans Anton, treasurer. As directors for one year were chosen: —L. E. Crown, Paul Engelstad and O. B. Gunderson.

After the close of the regular business meeting the question of a potato warehouse was discussed. A committee of three was appointed, composed of Lloyd E. Crown, A. E. Anderson and Ben Rosendahl, for the purpose of investigating possible locations and report thereon at the potato meeting to be held at the Auditorium on Friday, Dec. 13—the second day of the Pennington County Farm exhibit. At this time T. J. McCall of the Northwestern School of Agriculture, will be present to discuss the subject, "Marketing Conditions and Co-operative Warehouses." The association is urging every potato grower in the county to be present at this meeting.

The general feeling is that a warehouse is needed and it is very much desired that every farmer interested will get behind the movement.

The committee mentioned above will also make investigations as to the probable amount of capital required in order to launch the project.

War Stamp Pledges.

Postmaster John Morgan wishes attention called to the fact that War Stamp and Certificate sales have somewhat fallen off of late and that the time for closing the campaign for the year is near at hand. According to agreement, all pledges should be fulfilled by Dec. 31, that being the date set by the government as the time when all allotments shall have been taken up.

Other matters have somewhat intruded of late and the stamp sale has not been pushed. The matter is of the highest importance, however, and everybody should make a special attempt to live up to the agreement made, which was to take their allotment before the end of the present year.

PARENTS OF FOUR DIE WITHIN WEEK

MR. AND MRS. A. J. CLOUTIER CALLED ONLY 60 HOURS APART.

Arthur J. Cloutier, about 35 years of age, a fireman in the employ of the Soo railroad, died last Wednesday afternoon of pneumonia following an attack of Spanish influenza. Mrs. Cloutier, who had been in constant attendance on her husband during his illness, also contracted the disease and died about four o'clock Saturday morning.

The sudden calling of this young couple leaves four children, the eldest 11 and the youngest three years of age, to face the future as orphans, the occurrence being unusually sad for this reason.

Arthur Cloutier had been a resident of Thief River Falls for the past 12 years, the greater part of which time he was an employe of the Soo railroad. He was well thought of by his superiors and very popular with his fellow workmen. He made the mistake of attempting to fight the influenza after being attacked by the disease and insisted on making one run even after it became apparent that he was in no shape to do so.

Mrs. Cloutier was his constant nurse until she also was badly run down and fell an easy victim to the scourge.

BUTTERFAT BRINGS 70 CENTS A POUND

THIS IS THE HIGHEST PRICE IN THE HISTORY OF LOCAL CREAMERY.

Patrons of the Thief River Co-operative Creamery were this week notified that the price of butter had again gone up, 70 cents a pound being offered. This is the highest point ever reached here and is probably more than was ever paid in the country before.

Buttermaker Hazelrud says there is about 700 pounds of butterfat per day being received at this time. This is a very fair showing, the months of November and December being the poorest of the year. This means about 21,000 pounds per month, for which the farmers will be paid $14,700—as long as the present price holds good. The receipts of cream will pick up rapidly after the first of the year and the total amount of money paid out will be larger even if the price should go down—which is almost certain.

From present indications the creamery will do a business of about $200,000 for the current year, an increase of about $40,000.

Johnson Suffers Relapse.

George G. Johnson, vice president of the First and Peoples' State bank, is confined to his home with a severe attack of illness. A short time ago he was among those who contracted Spanish influenza but had apparently recovered and was attending to his usual duties. On Thanksgiving day he was again taken sick and has at times been in such serious condition as to greatly alarm his family and friends. Reports from the bedside today are to the effect that he seems slightly improved.

Campaign For Signers.

Tomorrow and Saturday members of the Woman's club will circulate a petition to be presented to the next legislature, asking that body to ratify the national equal suffrage law passed at the last session of congress. State headquarters has stated that Thief River Falls is expected to furnish 1,200 signers for this petition.

No general collection of funds is attempted at this time.

ALL READY FOR HOLIDAY TRADE

STORES OF CITY HAVE ASSUMED THE USUAL CHRISTMAS ASPECT.

SHOWING IS WONDERFUL

IN SPITE OF WAR NO SHORTAGE OF APPROPRIATE ARTICLES NOTED.

It has all along been predicted that because of the war there would be a decided slump in the holiday business of the country this year. However this prophesy may have turned out had the conflict continued, it is certain now that it is at an end there is no indication of any depression. In fact, people seem so glad to think that the awful struggle is over that they will go to greater trouble than before to prove their joy over the outcome.

Merchants in Thief River Falls say that never has the holiday buying begun so early as this year. Requests for Christmas goods came before they were ready for them, this being in a great measure explained by the fact that many presents would this year have a long way to go. The boys in France and at camp must be remembered and in order for the articles to arrive at the proper time, they must be sent early.

Plenty of Goods Here.

To state that the stores of the city have this year a greater variety of holiday goods than ever before would hardly be telling the truth. As compared with what was expected, however, the showing is an eyeopener. Even in the item of toys there seems to be an abundant supply and the trifles seem to be as cleverly planned and ingeniously constructed as any in former years. There are more American toys this year than before, the stoppage of German importations having forced the home manufacturers to extend themselves to supply the demand. No patriotic American child would demand any other kind of toy anyway when one just as good and made at home could be found.

No Dearth of Staples.

The dry goods stores, clothing emporiums, furniture salesrooms—in fact every kind of business house at which the more substantial Christmas things are secured—are well equipped to meet the demand. That such is the case is evidenced by the offerings in the advertising columns of The Times this week. It is safe to say that if Thief River Falls merchants cannot supply what is wanted it cannot be had anywhere in the United States.

Confidence is Restored.

The influenza scare had the effect of keeping trade away from the city to some extent during the month of November. Now that this danger is considered past people seem bent on making up for lost time and are fairly flocking to town. There seems to be no shortage of money, and in most cases buyers insist on spending it sensibly, there is no indication of any desire to proceed otherwise than in the usual manner, so far as making Christmas purchases goes.

We have more reason for rejoicing this Christmas than ever before and our people evidently are not going to permit anything in the way of gloom or depression to intrude on the holiday season.

LIEUT. NED CUTTER IS AMONG MISSING

FORMER THIEF RIVER NEWSPAPER MAN NOT HEARD OF SINCE OCT. 22.

A press dispatch says that Mrs. Mary Cutter has received word that her son, Lieutenant Edward Cutter, has been missing in action in France since Oct. 22. He was in an observation aviation unit.

Lieut. Cutter was city editor of the Thief River Falls News-Press for about three years during the time his brother, the late Marcus C. Cutter, was publisher of that paper. He left here to engage in the practice of law at Anoka, enlisting for service at the outbreak of the trouble in Mexico. He was active in the state militia and commissioned a lieutenant while serving on the border. Joining the aviation corps at the time the United States entered the war against Germany he has been in active service since. Friends in this city say they have not heard directly from him since his arrival in France.

STORES OPEN EVENINGS.

Beginning on Monday next the stores of Thief River Falls will be open until 9 o'clock in the evening. This rule will hold good until after the holidays.

The government is asking everybody to shop early in the season and early in the day. This will prevent a last-minute rush and make the season easier for the clerks.

FIRST SOLDIER RETURNS HOME

SIX MONTHS OF SERVICE

WENT THROUGH CHATTEAU THIERRY-SOISSONS CAMPAIGN.

The first of the Thief River Falls soldier boys to return home after having seen service in France is Doris Provencher, son of Julien Provencher of the Evelyn hotel. The young man arrived last week after having been at Fort Snelling for a short time. He returned to the fort last Thursday and will await the arrival of his discharge papers from Washington.

In Ambulance Service.

Provencher was in the ambulance service with the infantry. He enlisted at Sacramento, Cal., on Dec. 28, 1917, after trying for six months to get himself accepted for some branch of the service. He was rejected as failing to meet the physical requirements at his first attempt and although he tried for practically every branch of the service and in different states, the result was the same. Finally he found an opening with the ambulance division of the infantry. He has been feeling fine during all the time he was in the service and only toward the last did his nerves show sign of giving out. This was after he had gone through the trying campaign around Chatteau Thierry and Soissons and had been slightly gassed and wounded.

Sent Back to Hospital.

He was in the first big fight at Chatteau Thierry in July, being sent back to the hospital a short time after that engagement. He says no one has any idea of conditions during the battle—or during any battle for that matter. "It would be absolutely useless for me to say anything about the war," he said. "Nobody would believe me anyway, and I shall have very little to say until some of the other boys get back and give their own experiences. For the past six months, however, it has simply been hell."

Hit By Schrapnel Sliver.

It is quite evident that this soldier has been in some mighty interesting situations but he managed to escape with only a slight wound. A high explosive shell burst near him while he was driving his ambulance and a splinter cut a slight gash in his forehead. He was also gassed in one of the battles about Soissons, but not very severely. The one regret he has is that he was not permitted to stay until the end, particularly since the windup was so close. He arrived in America on Nov. 9 and the armistice was signed on the 11th.

Saw Thief River Boys.

Doris was at one time within two miles of the 151st artillery, of which his brother, Harold, is a member. Another brother, Will, is with an ammunition train, but they did not meet. He did, however, see some other Thief River Falls boys, having run across Ludwig Larson and Edwin Selstad. The latter was slightly wounded in action during the early summer.

Admits Being Scared.

"I was never so scared in my life as when the shells began dropping around me the first time," says Provencher. "I jumped off my ambulance and started to run back in the direction I had come. The farther I ran, however, the thicker they fell and after I had time to reason the matter out I started for my post again. I think any of the boys will admit being pretty well scared at some time or other, if not most of the time."

As soon as he has secured his discharge papers Mr. Provencher will return to Thief River Falls.

Mavie Red Cross Meeting.

The Mavie Auxiliary of the Pennington County Red Cross Chapter will hold an important meeting at the Mavie hall on Monday evening, Dec. 9. All members are urgently requested to be present.

ELKS PAY TRIBUTE TO THEIR DEPARTED

W. S. McCORMICK OF DULUTH, SPEAKER AT LODGE OF SORROW SUNDAY.

The annual memorial service of Lodge No. 1308, B. P. O. E., of Thief River Falls, was solemnized at the lodge room in Masonic hall on Sunday afternoon. The services were public and the hall was well filled with Elks and their friends.

The address of the afternoon was delivered by W. S. McCormick of Duluth, and was a touching and brilliant oration from every point of view. Recent occurrences in the world gave the speaker a special opportunity for emphasizing the need of a better understanding of the motto of the Elks order: "Charity, Justice, Brotherly Love, Fidelity" Mr. McCormick stated that the selfish tenet which maintains that what happens to anyone not directly connected with ourselves is none of our affair and that his sorrows and trials should have no appeal to us, is discredited and should have no place in the minds of charitable and humane men and women. Every human being is to some extent his brother's keeper, said the speaker, and in accordance with the divine plan is in duty bound to extend succor and sympathy wherever need for it is found.

Mr. McCormick quoted frequently from the most inspiring poems and prose works and maintained that true happiness could only be found in aiding others to be happy. He was listened to with the closest attention and his impressive discourse was by everyone voted the best and most appropriate heard here on any similar occasion.

The program for the memorial services proper was as follows: Introductory march, Miss Ruby Anderson; Elks Services; Song by a quartet composed of B. Dan Bjorkman, T. J. Hagen, F. C. Niclai and E. M. Bennes; "The Vacant Chair," by the lodge; a selection by Cordes' orchestra; solo, Miss Carine Lindahl; selection by the orchestra; "Auld Lang Syne," by the lodge.

Former members of Thief River Falls lodge who compose the roll of its honored dead are: W. W. Pierce, M. C. Cutter, K. O. Dock, H. L. Anderson, W. J. Gorman and J. H. McKinney.

FORGOT TO REPORT; $25 TO RED CROSS

THRESHER OPERATOR FAILS TO COMPLY WITH ORDER OF GOVERNMENT.

The first money paid into the treasury of the Pennington county chapter of the American Red Cross as a fine for a long time was received by Treasurer T. L. Melgaard this week. It was a check for $25, the sum being assessed against a well known threshing machine operator in the county.

About the beginning of harvest an order was issued by the grain threshing division of the food administration requiring all threshermen in the country to make monthly reports of the amount of grain they had threshed. The operators in Pennington county all complied strictly with this ruling—all except one. He was warned time and time again to get his report in, but simply neglected to do so. No one suspects him of attempting to evade the order—he simply kept forgetting or putting the matter off.

This week A. L. Larson, an agent of the department, arrived in the city and in going over the records found that this man had not reported. In company with County Agent R. P. White, the government man visited the delinquent thresher. The latter had no excuses to offer except that the matter had been neglected.

"Well," said Mr. Larson, "don't you think that a donation of about $25 to the Red Cross might help you to remember another time?" The thresher said he thought it might, and paid on the spot.

MET IN THE DARK; HAD GOOD SESSION

LACK OF ELECTRIC LIGHTS DOES NOT BOTHER WOMAN'S CLUB MEMBERS.

The Thief River Falls Woman's club met on Monday afternoon for the first time since the influenza scare put a damper on gatherings of every kind. The vacation seems to have quickened the appreciation of the members for their organization, the meeting being one of the best attended and most interesting of the year. A short musical program was given and the topic for discussion, "Prominent Men in Washington," most entertainingly handled by the ladies selected as leaders.

What might otherwise have been a drawback only helped to make the meeting more interesting. At this time of the year it gets dark rather early in this latitude and toward the end of the meeting the ladies found themselves in rather dim surroundings. The electric lights had been shut off in the club rooms by order of the city council and there was no way in which the order could be changed. Old fashioned kerosene lamps and candles were at hand, however, and the meeting continued in a "dim, religious glow."

In view of the fact that the Woman's club has been engaged almost exclusively in war work, Red Cross activities and similar enterprises during the past two years—having by no means finished their labors yet—the impression seems to be rather prevalent that it might not have been a bad idea for the city to furnish whatever light was necessary for this short session. It is hardly likely that there would have been any strong objection on the part of the taxpayers had this courtesy been extended.

Many War Souvenirs.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Hanson, 504 Horace avenue, this week received a fine collection of souvenirs of the great war from their son, Herbert, who is with the American forces in France. The collection is most interesting, among the larger items being a German one-pound shell and several good sized pieces of stained glass taken from one of the destroyed buildings in Verdun. The structure from which these samples came was built in the year 800.

MORE THAN 200 ENTRIES FOR POULTRY DIVISION OF GREAT WINTER SHOW

Management Has Ordered One Hundred New Coops Built in Order That All May be Accommodated.

POTATOES AND GRAIN ARE CLOSE SECONDS

Effort Will be Made to Capture First Award at State Show at Grand Rapids in January.

Those in charge of the arrangements for the big poultry, potato and grain show to be given by the different farm organizations of Pennington county in conjunction with the Farm Bureau association on Dec. 11, 12 and 13, have been compelled to change their program in many respects since the matter was first taken up for consideration. The interest is proving so great that additional room has had to be provided for the exhibits, particularly in the poultry division.

Building More Coops.

Poultry and potato development seems to have gone hand in hand with dairying in Pennington county during the past three years. At the winter show held in 1916 there were about 75 coops of rather mediocre quality poultry exhibited and this was considered a very good showing for a starter. Last year the number increased to 100 and the stock was of a decidedly higher grade. It was thot that about the same accommodations would be sufficient for this year's show and that it could be held in the same building with the grain and potatoes, but it was early discovered that this could not be done. County Agent Ross P. White has already been assured of more than 200 entries and has found it necessary to secure another building as well as provide a large number of coops. The Hoge building at the corner of Main avenue and Third street has been rented for the three days of the show and will be fitted up with the accomodations necessary in order to make the best showing.

Good Cash Awards.

The cash prizes to be awarded in the poultry division will total $600, and beautiful American Poultry association ribbons will be given to the winners besides. It is expected that practically every kind of chicken will be placed on exhibition. The general utility biddy of doubtful lineage and no particular breeding has given place to barnyard aristocrats with pedigrees and prize records. Fanciers have discovered that, as in the case of the dairy cow, it costs no more to maintain the best than the poorest and that the results are widely different.

Prof. Brown to Judge.

The awards will be made by Prof. C. E. Brown of the Northwest School of Agriculture, considered one of the most competent men in this department in the West. There will be prizes for practically every kind and variety of chicken as well as for turkeys, ducks, geese, peacocks and guinea fowl. From present indications there is going to be a spirited contest for the honor of bringing home the grand championship prize.

Potato Growers Enthusiastic.

While there have been more than 50 exhibits already entered in the potato division, it is certain that this number will be trebled. Added interest is given to this department of the show by reason of the declared intention of the county potato growers to establish a co-operative warehouse for the handling and marketing of their crop. A meeting for the purpose of making the preliminary arrangements in this enterprise will be held on Friday afternoon, at which time it is hoped that every grower in the county will be present.

Out For State Honors.

Should this exhibit pan out as well as now promised it is the intention to send the best samples to Grand Rapids to compete at the state potato show to be held in that city on January 15 and 16, and later to the Crookston Farm Crops show in February.

Bankers Offer Cup.

Competition in this department will be particularly keen for the reason that the silver cup donated by the Pennington County Bankers' association will be awarded to the sweepstakes winner. This cup is now in the custody of Rev. R. L. Barackman of Thief River Falls, who won it last year. The trophy must be won by one man three years in succession before he becomes its permanent possessor.

Must Have Peck Samples.

Prof. T. J. McCall of the Northwest school, will be the judge in this division. It has been decided that peck samples must be entered in order to be eligible to competition and

Welfare Payments.

The first payment, amounting to 50 per cent of the amount subscribed, for the United Welfare work, was due and payable on Dec. 2. It is very important that these payments be made at the proper time in order that the committee may forward the correct sum to headquarters. The request is made that all those who have not yet attended to this matter do so at once. The money may be paid at any of the banks in the city or direct to W. H. Akre, fund treasurer, First National bank.

CONSIDERED STATE RECORD INCOMPLETE

YOUNG WOMAN IN BOARD OF HEALTH OFFICE SUPPLIES DEFICIENCY.

Judge Andrew Grindeland heard the evidence in the case of Elizabeth A. Rinker against the Hanson-Barzen Milling company at a special session of the district court last Friday. Mrs. Rinker, who is the widow of the late Adolph H. Rinker, asks in the neighborhood of $3,600 damages from that company under the state compensation laws, claiming that her husband was injured while in the employ of the concern. Judge Grindeland took the case under advisement.

An unusual incident during the trial was the discovery that a copy of the certificate of Mr. Rinker's death, offered in testimony by the plaintiff's attorneys, was not a true wording of the original. After reciting that the cause of death was acute dilatation of the heart, the words "with violent exercise" had been added. E. M. Stanton, attorney for the defendant company, noticed that the three words did not line up with the rest of the typewritten copy and had the matter investigated. It was found that a young woman in the office of the state board had added the words at the request of some correspondent, not knowing any better.

1919 WHEAT PRICE TO STAY AT $2.26

FARMERS ARE ASSURED THAT PEACE WILL NOT AFFECT PREVIOUS GUARANTEE.

The guaranteed price for the 1919 wheat, fixed at $2.26 a bushel, Chicago basis, will stand even though the Lever act under which the price was fixed should become inoperative through conclusion of peace, in the opinion of the food administration.

The administration on Tuesday night issued a statement interpreting the Lever act and pointing out that the law provides that "all rights or liabilities under this act arising before its termination shall continue and may be enforced in the same manner as if the act had not terminated." Wheat growers in many parts of the country, it was said, have become apprehensive that the guaranteed price for the 1919 crop might be rescinded through conclusion of peace.

Red Cross Benefit.

The Hazel Auxiliary of the Pennington County Chapter, American Red Cross, will give a dance at Hazel hall on Saturday evening. A fine calf will be given to some person in attendance and there will be a good time, generally.

WHEN THE NEWS REACHED PARIS

CORP. F. T. SCANLAN SAYS POPULACE WENT WILD WITH JOY.

AMERICANS THE HEROES

GIRLS NEARLY SMOTHER SOLDIERS WHO HAPPEN TO BE IN THE CITY.

It will be remembered that American communities made quite a lot of fuss over the signing of the armistice. Right here in Thief River Falls it might have been noted that something out of the ordinary was in progress on the evening of Nov. 11. The effect upon the people of Paris can therefore be imagined. They had waited for four long, dreary years for that announcement and when it finally came they are to be excused if they proceeded to pry loose everything in the shape of a lid that tended to keep a check on their exuberance.

Fred Scanlan There.

One Thief River Falls boy at least was in the midst of it. Corp. Fred T. Scanlan, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Scanlan, had been doing clerical work with the headquarters guard company since recovering from the effects of poison gas which had put him out of service with the artillery, and he was an eye witness to the proceedings. Writing under date of Nov. 14, he says:

"At present I have about seven letters from you—just received—which I shall try to answer as best I may. Since I last wrote you there have been a few changes of international importance. No doubt you have heard that the war is over. Believe me, if you were here you would know it. You never heard, saw, read of, or even dreamed of such a crazy mass of people as there are in Paris today and has been ever since news of the signing of the armistice was received. And the first night! Ye Gods! Nobody went to bed. The boulevards were impassable. Mobs of people surged up and down the streets, going nowhere in particular, but just going.

Americans the Favorites.

"The buildings were a mass of color and it was almost a toss-up to decide which was most in evidence, French or American flags. Everywhere the cry seemed to be: 'Vive l' Amerique.' All had a smile for us and it was nearly suicidal for a Yank to appear in public. Personally I was surrounded at least a dozen times by a score of mademoiselles by whom I was nearly smothered.

"There were parades and parades —abri brigades'—with French and American colors floating side by side. Nowhere did I see a French flag displayed alone. Down the Boulevard des Italienes—next to the largest in Paris, and the busiest—came a troop of art students (always more or less in sympathy with America) with a placard at their head labeled 'Beaux Arts,' or beautiful art—and each and every one carried an American flag.

Poilus and Yanks Play.

"At another place on the same boulevard two German airplanes were being torn into bits and thrown out to the crowd as souvenirs. Down at the Place de la Concorde, where a lot of war trophies have been on display, the Poilus and Yanks were pulling each other around on the captured field pieces.

Turned Night to Day.

"All night Paris was a blaze of light, and here and there some slightly over-enthusiastic poilus would be sending up star shells, rockets, flares, etc., till the greatest thoroughfare in the world resembled No Man's Land. Heaven only knows where they got hold of the stuff. The cafes were open until 'wee sma' hours'—they formerly closed at 9:30—and it was utterly impossible to get a table any place. Champaign corks were popping freely, old men and women taking as much part in the proceedings as anyone. Nor did the gayety cease with the first night. In fact it does not seem to have abated at all. Last night saw just as many people out and they were just as gay as on memorable Nov. 11.

Expects to Meet Pals.

"I expect to see the outfit soon as I understand they are to parade here. Of course the question is gradually turning to just this: 'When do we go from here?' No one knows but all are agreed that it will likely be some time ere we start."

BROTHERS MEET AS ARMY "CASUALS"

SANDUM BOYS HAVE UNUSUAL EXPERIENCE WHILE SOLDIERING IN FRANCE.

Howard and Herman Sandum, sons of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Sandum, 609 Horace avenue north, are both serving with Uncle Sam's army in France. They are members of different branches and would hardly be expected to meet in the ordinary course of events. This is what actually happened, however. Herman did not know that Howard had even started for overseas until he caught sight of him in the same building, undergoing repairs for damages sustained in an accident.

"I have some unusual news to tell you this time," writes Herman, "and I am sure it will greatly surprise you. Yesterday morning as I was returning from mess, who in the world do you suppose I should run across but my own brother, Howard. Some luck, I should say, and something that does not happen every day over here. I did not even know that he had started for France.

"Howard is a 'casual' and I happened also to be stationed here because of a slight injury received while we were landing. We spend all the time now talking over things that happened a year ago. We are both safe and sound."

In order to prove that they are really together Herman here interjects a short note in which he says: "I suppose you will be surprised to hear that Howard and I are together. I didn't even know he was over here yet. We are both O. K., and feeling fine."

The boys say that they expect soon to be home again and that they will try and remain together until such time as they are ordered back.

MAX GOLDSMITH IS FIRST TO REPORT

LANDS IN NEW YORK WITH VAN GUARD OF RETURNING ARMY.

The first shipload of American soldiers has been landed in New York and Thief River Falls has at least one representative in its passenger list. Max Goldsmith, a member of the 315th areo squadron, so far as known, is the first soldier with actual service in France to his credit and who stayed until the end, to announce his safe arrival at a home port.

The news of his return was contained in a telegram to his brother-in-law, Lazarus Gill, who was also briefly informed that the young soldier was perfectly all right in every way.

Goldsmith enlisted in April for special service and with 13 others was sent to Pittsburgh University for training. After completing his course he was selected for actual service in France and has been on the other side for about six months.

Now that this first soldier has arrived there will be a general lookout for others. There is no telling the rotation in which the different units of the service will be discharged and Mr. Goldsmith does not say whether or not any of the boys who went from here with him have been returned.

In French Artillery.

George D. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew D. Smith, 413 Markley avenue south, is perhaps the only Thief River Falls boy in the French army. He started out as an American soldier attached to the light artillery, but in some manner has been transferred to the French heavy artillery. This information is given in a letter to his parents here.

A brother, James A. Smith, has recently been promoted to the position of mechanic with the 66th heavy artillery. Both boys are volunteers and went through the war without injury, so far as known. They are the only sons of Mr. and Mrs. Smith.

Many More Casualties.

Government officials said on Monday they expected casualty announcements would continue for about 100 days more.

The senate military affairs committee has begun an investigation of the delay in forwarding to this country the lists of American casualties.

The committee has been flooded with complaints and has some evidence tending to show there has been undue delay in spite of war department statements to the contrary.

Right to Rule Renounced by Kaiser Bill

Wilhelm Hohenzollern, formerly emperor of Germany and king of Prussia, on Friday formally abdicated the crown, the renunciation including also the rights of all members of his family to the crown. The text of the former German emperor's act of renunciation which was issued by the new government in order to reply to certain misunderstandings which have arisen with regards to the abdication, follow:

"By prescribing this document I renounce forever my rights to the crown of Prussia and the rights to the German imperial crown. I release at the same time all officials of the German empire and of the Prussian navy and army and commissioned officers and soldiers of the Prussian army and navy and contingents from the federated states from the oath of fidelity they have taken to me.

"As the emperor, king and supreme chief I expect from them until an organization of the new empire exists that they aid those, who effectively hold the power, to protect the German people against the menacing dangers of anarchy, famine and foreign domination.

"Made and executed and signed by our hand with the imperial seal at Amorongen, November 29, (Signed) WILHELM."

Northwest Aggie Reopened.

The Northwest School of Agriculture reopened its doors this week with a large attendance. Every precaution possible is being taken to guard against the influenza and it is not anticipated that there will be any trouble. A competent nurse is in charge and strict measures are employed to detect and isolate anyone who may be coming down with the disease. Over two hundred students have signified their intention to attend which means that the actual attendance will grow rapidly as soon as normal conditions return.

THIS CENSOR HAS A HEART OF GOLD

APPENDS APPRECIATIVE NOTE TO SOLDIER'S LETTER TO HIS SWEETHEART.

Outside of old Hindenberg himself, it is doubtful if any person connected in any manner with this war has come in for such generous rounds of cussing as the censor. Ever since the war started he has taken a seemingly demoniacal delight in cutting the most interesting passages out of letters written by soldier boys, making these communications look like an animal pattern made by a little girl with a pair of scissors. It is therefore refreshing to find one who has a touch of human feeling remaining as well as a sense of humor.

Among the letters received from France last week was one for a young lady in Thief River Falls. It was a somewhat lengthy letter, covering at least a quire of paper on both sides. To have mutilated it in any manner would have been next to criminal and the censor evidently realized the fact. Below the signature and immediately following all the funny little crosses usually placed on such missives, this paragon among censors had written the following note:

"This letter is too much for me. I am supposed to censor all mail but this would take up half a day alone. Oscar is a real soldier and knows enough not to disclose military secrets, so I seldom bother about censoring his letters—especially those to his sweetheart. Honorably, The Censor."

KEPT STEADILY AFTER ENEMY FOR 23 DAYS IN ARGONNE FOREST.

Private Andrew Senum, Co. L, 308th Infantry, was among those who were in the thick of the fighting in France up until nearly the last day. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Even Senum, farmers in the eastern part of the county. His letter was written on Nov. 9, at which time the American army was busy driving the Germans out of the Argonne forest.

"We have been fighting now for 23 days," he says, "and have driven the enemy back about 20 miles on this front. I think we will soon be getting a rest now.

"You will have to excuse me for not writing before, but I have not had the chance. You cannot imagine how things are up here at the front.

"I am O. K., but hope that the war will soon end."

Farm Bureau Meeting.

The annual farm bureau meeting will be held at the Auditorium on Thursday afternoon, at which time the officers and directors for the ensuing year will be chosen. Committees in charge of various projects will report and a review of the work of the past year. Frank E. Balmer, state leader of county agents, will address the members of the association on the progress of the work throughout the state and nation and will discuss the program recommended for next year. Mr. Balmer is a speaker of force and clearness and what he has to say concerning the program laid out by the government for producers during the coming season will be well worth hearing.

The Potato Meeting.

Prof. McCall will speak on Friday afternoon, his subject being "Co-operative Warehouses and Marketing Conditions in the Red River Valley." There is perhaps no man in the Valley better qualified to discuss these problems. Making his headquarters at Crookston, he has visited every county in the section and knows first hand just what is most needed in order to make a success of the work undertaken by farm bureaus and farm associations. Following Prof. McCall's address there will be a general discussion on potatoes in which all interested parties are invited to take part.

The Principal Speaker.

The big event of the show has been reserved for Friday evening when Dean R. W. Thatcher of the University of Minnesota, will deliver a post-war peace talk. This will be the first address of the kind to be delivered in Thief River Falls and the people are fortunate in securing a speaker of Dean Thatcher's well known eloquence to explain to them some of the after-war problems which all now must meet. He is an orator of great power and ability and as the subject is one which is engaging the best minds of the country his appearance should be greeted by the largest audience in the history of Thief River Falls.

Visitors from other sections of the Northwest are sure to be present to hear this address, which is the first Mr. Thatcher has made since the signing of the armistice.

All meetings and exhibits are open to the public.

Notice For Bids.

The Cemetery Commission of the City of Thief River Falls will receive bids for cutting poplar wood by the cord, also brushing at the cemetery grounds.

Bids will be opened at 7:30 p. m. on Monday, Dec. 16, at the council chamber at the city auditorium.

THE FIRST IMPRESSION.

When a Thief River Falls citizen has occasion to go to Bemidji or Crookston or Grand Forks, what do you imagine is the thing that impresses him most?

Ask one such upon his return and you will find that the clean, paved streets stand out in his memory more clearly than anything else. There may be a few larger buildings—a very few—but of this he takes no notice. The town may cover more space, but this he is apt to consider a disadvantage. A comparison of the stores and business places convinces him that none of these equal similar establishments in his home town. In fact there is nothing about these other cities he prefers to the facilities offered him at home—except the streets.

This impression is the same with everyone. A stranger coming to Thief River Falls naturally notes the thoroughfares first. He is disappointed. Having heard that we have here a city of some pretentions he is at once convinced that everything connected with it is in line with the streets. If he is a farmer looking for a location he very likely does not consider it worth while to carry his investigations any further because if the people residing in the metropolis of the county are satisfied to wallow around in mud it is highly probable that those in the country are even less particular.

This, of course, is a mistake but it is rather humiliating to have to explain that if he will somehow manage to get outside the city limits he will find the best highways in the state. In case he should locate in the neighborhood he might occasionally wish to visit the city and he may come from sections where it was not necessary for him to leave his automobile out in the country when he came on a business trip from the farm.

Paving is not such a serious undertaking as it once was and any community that permits itself to fall behind the procession because of a failure to provide this modern necessity is bound to be outstripped by its more energetic neighbors. The cost may be spread over a period of fifteen years, making the annual payments so small as hardly to be felt.

To be sure there is some opposition to the proposition, but nothing worth while was ever started without a certain amount of objection being registered. The opposition is voiced by the owners of property from which they are receiving rent. They figure that their taxes are sufficiently high now and that nothing should be done to increase them. They forget, evidently, that the man who is paying rent is also indirectly paying the taxes. He may carry a stock of goods worth more than the building housing it and may pay a larger tax on this than the real estate owner from whom he rents pays on the building. In such case it would seem as if he should be allowed a voice in the matter of paving. He knows that such improvement will help his business and the real estate owner should be as fully aware that it will increase the value of his property.

No good argument against paving has as yet been advanced and none will be. The thing to do is to make ready and start.

OUR SENSIBLE COURSE.

Pennington county comes out of the Spanish influenza epidemic with the best reputation of any community in the state. There have been fewer deaths, fewer cases of sickness and less upsetting of general conditions than in any other section. We are not bragging of this and regard it simply as a matter for congratulation.

But while we may be willing to admit that our comparative immunity has been due to nothing more than good fortune, there are certain circumstances connected with the handling of the epidemic here that we have a perfect right to claim credit for. No attempt was made to minimize the danger. On the contrary the people were told just exactly how serious the situation was and asked to do everything in their power in order that it might be stamped out. No sooner had the first case been reported than the authorities ordered the closing of all churches, schools and theatres. It was not suggested that matters be permitted to drift until such time as it was seen just how badly we would be hit. Since the first precautionary steps were taken it has been the aim to keep at least one jump ahead of the disease. Instead of waiting for it to come before doing anything, the people were ready when it did strike and as a consequence kept the upper hand at all times. We simply heeded the warnings sent out and protected ourselves as far as this was possible.

In some communities a policy of keeping quiet was followed for fear that a general alarm would do more harm than good. Here the opposite course was taken. People were informed fully concerning the progress of the disease, and while this had the effect of temporarily hurting business in the city, the result shows it to have been the wisest course to pursue. People stayed away because they were told there were a few cases here and now they are coming back because they are told that the danger is over. There has at no time been any attempt to deceive them and they appreciate the fact.

Pennington county has been very lucky, and to the good sense displayed by the authorities as well as the people themselves, the excellent showing is principally due.

A REAL WINTER FARM SHOW.

The first winter farm crop show of the different agricultural organization in Pennington county was held three years ago. At that time a sort of industrial exposition was also made part of the enterprise, but for various reasons this division has since been dropped and the show is now one of purely farm products.

The poultry department of the exposition has always been one of great interest. At the first show there were some 75 coops entered, and this was considered a very good record. At that time a county poultry raisers' organization was perfected and the industry has since gone forward at a remarkable pace. Applications have already been received for entry space for more than 200 coops and it is likely that this number will be increased before the opening day of the fair.

Potatoes will demand a larger share of attention than at any previous fair. Farmers are more and more getting to depend upon the lowly spud as a staple crop and a decided advance has been made during the past few years in the matter of selection and cultivation. It is likely that the first steps toward the erection of a co-operative potato warehouse will be taken while the growers are assembled here. The matter has been discussed for some time and has now reached a stage where the promoters are ready to go ahead with the work.

Because of the early date at which the county fair is held it is impossible to display any of the current season's crops at that time. The winter show affords an excellent opportunity to make up for this disadvantage and indications are that it will be fully taken advantage of.

The general program is one of the best that could be selected. Men recognized everywhere as the foremost authorities in their particular lines have been secured for addresses and demonstration talks during the exhibit and this feature will be of the greatest interest and importance to all those attending.

This winter show will not only be the best ever held by the farm organizations of Pennington county; but it will be better and more complete than any held in northwestern Minnesota this year. The dates chosen—Dec. 12, 13 and 14—are much to be preferred to those of the previous shows, which have been held during the latter part of January.

Farmers and merchants have joined together in this matter and it will be a big success.

A NATION-WIDE COMRADSHIP.

"I summon you to comradship," announces President Wilson in asking that all the people of America join the Red Cross during Christmas Roll Call Week, Dec. 16 to 23.

The aim of this campaign is to inscribe every person in America on the rolls of the organization. "All you need is a heart and a dollar," in order to become a member in good standing, but as the entire population is to be enrolled and there are some who have not the dollar it is very necessary that others make up for those who will be missed by subscribing a sum greater than the minimum. The peak of Red Cross achievement will probably be reached in 1919, according to the announcement from headquarters, and it would truly be a Christmas gift of the first magnitude to the nation and to our allies if the whole people enrolled in the organization during the coming Yuletide season.

The Red Cross must not be stinted. Every returning American soldier is a booster for this organization, no matter how he may feel toward some of the others. His opportunity for observing the work of other war welfare organizations may not have been of the best and he therefore has ideas of his own concerning their value, but of the Red Cross this is never true. For its wonderful work he has nothing but the highest praise.

Thousands of people in Belgium, northern France, Serbia and other devastated parts of Europe must perish this winter if the Red Cross does not step in and extend succor. In order to accomplish this the money must be furnished by Americans. One dollar for each and every one of us will do it.

LIFT THE BAN ON HAPPINESS.

(Duluth News Tribune.)

The Christmas ban is lifted. It is no longer "shop early" and buy sparingly. It is even more than "Christmas as usual." It is: Make this the most joyful Christmas in all American history. Shed everything but rejoicing. The giving for war time needs is practically over.

Give now for "happiness, for the blessings of peace." It is indeed once more "peace on earth." Santa Claus will come to a new world where young and old can receive him with open arms and hearts freed from dread and fear. There is no longer the necessity to save for the united war funds. Red Cross is easy, so far as membership is concerned.

So with clear consciences, we can now spend for Christmas—for our own families, and for the men overseas and in camps. The stores are full. The merchants have done their part. They have provided things "useful," so called and "useless," so called. But the useless things are essentially useful as they bring happiness.

So fill the stockings plumb full and by the same act fill hearts plumb full. Throw off care and worry and let this old world be so full of joy as to forget the sorrows. It is for this thousands have given their lives, that we who are here may be happy and the happier we are the better we repay their sacrifice, and to be happy is not to forget.

Here is a particularly nice Christmas idea and a dollar will carry it through. An association has been formed for the sending of Christmas packets to French soldiers who would otherwise get none. For thousands of these soldiers this Christmas will be a sad one in spite of the great victory their armies have helped gain, and Americans can cheer the brave fellows at a very small cost. A dollar sent to the Le Paquet du Soldat, 23 Wall Street, New York, will provide a Christmas greeting and packet for one of these gallant allies of America. A lot of us ought to express our appreciation of their work to this extent.

Posters distributed in Cologne offer $25 reward for the former kaiser, dead or alive. That puts him in the same class with a colored chicken thief in this country.

They Approve Illinois Idea For Highways

Chicago Herald and Examiner.

When the people of Illinois on Nov. 5 voted to spend $60,000,000 on highway improvement they wrought a greater benefit than the most enthusiastic promoter of the project realized.

It appears that the entire middle west has become interested in the plan adopted in this state and that the Illinois idea is spreading like wildfire in consequence of the advertising it was given by the avalanche of favorable voters.

Inquiries are pouring in upon the Illinois Highway Improvement association from Michigan, Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri and Nebraska. Public officials and good roads advocates want to know how the thing was done. They ask for the maps and plans and details of the campaign which culminated in the solution of the problem.

Outsiders could hardly believe that a $60,000,000 project could be financed without raising taxes. They were amazed by the simplicity of the Illinois method, under which automobile license fees will take care not only of the interest on the bonds, but the principal also. It was an eyeopener to them that there nestled in the state treasury several millions of dollars all ready to be turned loose on the road work, every cent representing money collected from willing automobile owners.

If the example of Illinois is followed in neighbor states, the benefits to the people of this state will be multiplied many times. Instead of voting themselves $60,000,000 worth of hard roads they may have created, indirectly, an interstate system costing hundreds of millions. Few motorists confine their touring to their own state, even under present conditions which make country travel more of an adventure than a pastime.

TEN AND 20 YEARS AGO

Twenty Years Ago.

The Thomas Vessey family moved to Red Lake Falls where they intended making their home in the future.

H. H. Cavanaugh and family moved to the Meehan farm near Crookston, Mr. Cavanaugh having been engaged to manage the place.

John Evans of Montana, a brother of Mrs. I. C. Richardson, was in the city for a Thanksgiving visit.

Math Barzen furnished the turkey for a pleasant party at the home of John Mikulecky.

H. L. Hanson returned from Hillsboro, N. D., where he had spent the summer working in a starch factory. He believed that a similar factory would prove a great thing for Thief River Falls.

Lieut. Bardelson arrived from St. Paul during the week, having been mustered out of the army after the close of the war with Spain. He resumed his old position at the postoffice.

Early logging conditions were the best in many years. Men and teams flocking to the woods, the cold weather and snow promising a fine season.

Ten Years Ago.

It was reported that a large colony of German-Bohemians were settling in the country about Moose Creek in Upper Red Lake region.

Snow falling during the week had the effect of bringing much wood into the city. Green poplar was selling for $3.00 per cord and elm for $4.50.

The Great Northern extension from Greenbush to Warroad was completed during the week and the first trains over the new route were sent through from Crookston.

The first Farmers' Market Day to be held in Thief River Falls, was announced for Dec. 9.

Rev. F. J. Seltz of the German Lutheran church, had a narrow escape from death by asphyxiation. Gas escaping from a coal stove in the room was the cause of the trouble. Mr. Seltz was discovered in an unconscious condition and revived with difficulty.

The city electric power plant was compelled to shut down during the afternoons because of the low stage of water in the river.

The completion of the inventory of stock on hand at the saw mill showed that there was 21,000,000 feet of sawed lumber in the yards. This was the largest amount in the history of saw-milling in this city.

John Morgan returned from a short sojourn at West Baden, Ind. He also visited at the home of his parents in Ontario.

BREWERIES CLOSE, PERHAPS FOREVER

The brewing of malt beverages came to an end in the United States at 12 o'clock last Saturday evening, and it may never be resumed. Malting stopped since July 1. The special presidential committee which recommended the presidential proclamation preventing brewing as a war conservation measure decided to make no recommendations to President Wilson that the proclamation be rescinded in view of the armistice.

The brewers of the country will make no effort at this time to have the ban against brewing lifted, according to a statement made tonight by the president of the United States Brewers' association.

"Not much can be accomplished so far as I can see," he said, "because Mr. Hoover is in Europe. I don't think it would be possible to make any test of the prohibition law while the war is in progress. It is a war measure, and I have no doubt of its constitutionality."

The Public Forum

Surprised at Deer Park.

Dennison, Minn., Nov. 30, 1918.

Editor Times: Was rather surprised to read in your issue of Nov. 14th, regarding the stand that was taken by the voters of Deer Park in voting down the "dry amendment" in their town at the recent election, while the entire county, with the exception of the town of Star, voted for the proposed amendment.

Deer Park has always been looked upon as a progressive town; a town that has done its part in the development of that part of the country, at all times, and no doubt that the majority of the citizens of the town have had reasons to feel proud over the fact. But how or why Deer Park became nearly an "outcast" in the county in refusing to uphold the dry amendment, which is a nation wide movement and also a war measure of great importance, is a puzzle to many. And not only that; their answer in this matter at this time will go on record as opposed to the present-day spirit for a real world democracy. President Wilson has already signed the bone dry bill recently, passed by Congress, which means that he will not tolerate anything that stands in the way of his ideals in the new make-up of a better world.

DUTY TO ATTEND PEACE MEETING

PRESIDENT WILSON IN ADDRESS TO CONGRESS STATES THIS AS HIS BELIEF.

THE RAILROADS' PROBLEM

EXECUTIVE ASKS HELP OF LAWMAKERS IN ARRIVING AT SOLUTION.

In his address to congress in joint session on Monday, President Wilson formally announced his intention to go to Paris for the peace conference, saying the allied governments had accepted the principles enunciated by him for peace and it was his paramount duty to be present. The president said he would be in close touch by cable and wireless and congress would know all that he does on the other side.

Referring to the announcement that the French and British governments had removed all cable restrictions on the transmission of news of the conference to America, the president said he had taken over the American cable system on expert advice so as to make a unified system available. He expressed the hope that he would have the co-operation of the public and congress saying that through the cables and wireless constant council and advice would be possible.

Much of the address was devoted to the railroad problem for which the president had no solution to offer. He recommended a careful study by congress saying it would be a disservice to the country and to the railroads to permit the return to old conditions under private management, without modification.

The president declared he stood ready to release the railroads from government control whenever a satisfactory plan for readjustment could be worked out. The president said he hoped to see a formal declaration of peace by treaty "by the time spring has come."

Declaring he had "no private thought or purpose in going to France but that he regarded it as his highest duty," the president added: "It is now my duty to play my full part in making good what they (American soldiers) suffered their life's blood to obtain."

A Wonderful Record.

Speaking of the war activities of the nation during the past year, the President said:

"A year ago we sent 145,918 men overseas. Since that time we have sent 1,950,513, an average of 162,542 each month, the number in fact, rising in May last to 245,951, in June to 278,760, in July to 307,182 and continuing to reach similar figures in August and September—in August 289,570 and in September 257,438.

"No such movement of troops ever took place before across 3,000 miles of sea, followed by adequate equipment and supplies and carried safely through extraordinary danger of attack, dangers which were alike, strange and indefinitely difficult to guard against. In all this movement only 785 men were lost by enemy attacks, 360 of whom were on a single English transport which was sunk off the Orkney Islands.

Lauds Army's Courage.

"But it is not the physical scale and executive efforts of preparation, supply, equipment and dispatch that I would dwell on, but the mental quality of the officers and men we sent over and of the sailors who kept the sea and the spirit of the nation that stood behind them. No soldiers nor sailors ever proved themselves more quickly ready for the test of battle nor acquitted themselves with more splendid courage and achievement, when put to the test. I am proud to be a fellow countryman of such stuff and valor. Those of us who stayed at home did our duty, the war could not have been won otherwise.

"What we all thank God for with deepest gratitude, is that our men went in force into line of battle just at the critical moment when the whole fate of the world seemed to hang in the balance and they threw fresh strength into the ranks of freedom in time to turn the whole tide and sweep of the fateful struggle.

Praises the Women.

"And what shall we say of the women! of their instant intelligence, quickening every task they touched their capacity for organization and co-operation which gave their action discipline and enhanced the effectiveness of everything they attempted; their aptitude at tasks at which they never before set their hands; their utter self sacrifice alike in what they did and what they gave? Their contribution to the great result is beyond appraisal. They have added a new luster to the annals of American womanhood. The least tribute we can pay them is to make them the equals of men in political rights as they have proved themselves equal in every field of practical work they have entered whether for themselves or for their country.

The Railroad Question.

"The question that causes me the greatest concern is the question of the policy to be adopted towards the railroads. I frankly turn to you for council upon it. I have no confident judgment of my own and I do not see how any thoughtful man can have who knows nothing of the complexities of the problem. It is a problem which must be settled, settled immediately without bias or prejudice. Nothing can be gained by becoming partisan of any particular settlement. Let me say at once that I have no answer ready. The only thing that is perfectly clear to me is that it is not fair either to the public or to the owners of the railroads to leave the question unanswered and it presently will become my duty to relinquish control of the roads even before the expiration of the statutory period unless there should appear some prospect in the meantime of a legislative solution."

His Duty to Go.

"I welcome this occasion to announce to the congress my purpose to join in Paris the representatives of the governments with which we have been associated in the war against the central empires, for the purpose of discussing with them the main features of the treaty of peace. I realize the great inconvenience that will attend my leaving the country at this time but the conclusion that it is my paramount duty to go has been forced on me by considerations which I hope will seem as conclusive to you as they seem to me. The allied governments have accepted the basis of peace which I outlined to congress on the eighth of January, last, as the central empires also have and they very reasonably desire my personal council in their interpretation and application and it is highly desirable that I should divulge it in order that the sincere desire of our government to contribute without selfish purposes of my kind and the statement that we will be of common benefit to all nations concerned, may be made fully manifest. The peace settlements which are now to be agreed upon are of trancendive importance both to us and to the rest of the world and I know of no business or interest which should take precedence over them. I shall be in close touch with you and the affairs on the other side of the water and you will know all that I do."

THREE YOUNG MEN IN ONE FAMILY DIE

LIZETTE BROTHERS OF RED LAKE COUNTY, ALL PNEUMONIA VICTIMS.

The heaviest toll claimed by influenza in any one family in this section is reported from the township of Louisville in Red Lake county. The family is well known to many of our citizens and deep sorrow is expressed for the aged parents.

The boys were the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Damose Lizette, Paulite, their second son, died Sunday evening at nine o'clock. He was 20 years old and had just returned eight days previous from Seattle, where he had been employed in the shipyards. Adelord, their third son, age 18, died at six o'clock Monday evening. Damose, their eldest son, died at noon Wednesday, at the age of 21. These three young men were popular in their neighborhood and their deaths are a terrible shock to the family, all of whom are ill with the influenza. The boys are survived by their parents, one sister, Mrs. Fred Doyen of Crookston and four brothers, Alere, Leo, Eldric and John, all of whom are at home.

The epidemic seems to have run its course in Red Lake Falls, as conditions have materially improved there, and though there are many cases in the country there are no new cases in the city. Those who are down with pneumonia are reported to be surely and slowly improving. The board of health allowed the schools to reopen Monday, after being closed for six weeks.

Excess Charge is Eliminated.

There is no longer an excess charge for sleeping car accommodations on railroads, the new order having gone into effect on Dec. 1.

The passenger train rates are reduced to the basis of June 10, when the general increase was ordered, excepting that the basic 3 cents a mile rate still is to be maintained.

The elimination of the excess charges for extra accommodations which include the privilege of occupying sleeping or parlor cars will save the traveling public on Northwest roads hundreds of thousands of dollars a month, officials said.

To persons traveling between Thief River Falls and the Twin Cities a who wish to take advantage of sle er accommodations this makes a ference of $1.66, the new rate be $12.18 as compared with $13.84 un the former tariff.

Be a Joy-Walker, "Gets-It" for Corns

2 Drops, 2 Seconds—Corn Is Doomed!

When you almost die with your shoes on and corns make you almost walk sideways to get away from the pain, take a vacation for a minute or two and apply 2 or 3 drops of the world's magic and only genuine corn-peeler, "Gets-It." Then, and then only, will you be sure that your corn will loosen from your toe so that you can peel it right off gloriously easy with your fingers. Take no chances of continued pain and soreness—why use greasy, irritating salves, plasters that shift and press into the "quick," razors and "diggers" that make corns bleed and also grow faster? Use painless, easy, always sure "Gets-It." There's only one like it in the world—that's "Gets-It." Millions have tried and O. K.'d it for years. It never fails. "Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'f'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

"My Corns Peel Clean Off, With 'Gets-It'"!

MAY VISIT SCANDIA BEFORE RETURNING

ATTEMPT MADE TO EXTEND THIS PRIVILEGE TO NORTHWEST SOLDIERS.

Pennington county soldiers of Scandinavian extraction—which means a considerable majority of those who went to war from here—may have an opportunity to visit the land of their forefathers before returning to America. A suggestion that this be made possible has been made by the Normanden, a Norwegian language paper published at Grand Forks and the matter has been taken up and urged by Senator Knute Nelson and other members of congress.

A special cable dispatch to the Normanden from Christiana indicates the Nobel peace prize for 1918 may be awarded to President Wilson, who, according to the dispatch, probably will be invited to visit the Norwegian capital in order to accept the prize personally.

The Danish and Swedish governments also are said to consider extending an invitation to the president.

Visitor From Camp.

Theodore Rustad, son of Mrs. J. Rustad of Highlanding township, was a visitor with relatives and friends last Friday and Saturday, being home on a furlough. He returned Saturday night as he only had a ten day leave, six of which are taken up in traveling between Pennington county and the Kansas camp. Mr. Rustad is attached to the mail detachment of the Tenth division.

THE "NEW FANGLED FLU."

(By Amateur Astronomer.)

Planetary positions, atmospheric conditions
Are causes of the new fangled flu,
Old Sol's requisitions, to guard off collisions,
While others are passing right thru.

Your meals should be right and your actions precise;
Too much work is as bad as to loaf—and be glad,
Open windows day and night will help in your fight
'Gainst the fad—if you're properly clad.

A little more learning "keep the home fires burning;"
Fill your lungs thrice a day or just two;
Plenty of bathing, and not too much "skating"
Will cause the new fangled flu to skiddoo!

SNOW IS WELCOME TO GRAIN HAULERS

LIFTING OF EMBARGO WILL ALSO AID THE SHIPPERS.

It is doubtful if more than 20 per cent of the Pennington county wheat crop has reached the elevators. During the past two months there has been an embargo on grain shipments at the terminal markets and as the country elevators were early filled up the farmers have been compelled to keep their wheat on the farm. This has thus far proven no hardship as most of them would wait for snow before doing any considerable amount of hauling in any event.

The embargo has now been lifted and the grain movement will soon assume its normal proportions. Sleighing is also possible, although there is not yet sufficient snow to make the hauling of any considerable loads practicable. A few inches more would fix matters just right.

As an indication of what may be expected when things properly open up, it is reported that on one evening after the first passable sleighing weather, there were 40 teams at the Goodridge elevators awaiting their turn to be unloaded. Very much the same condition is reported from Hazel and other points on the railroads. That no wheat will be held, outside of what is required for seed, is certain. The price is fixed and the farmers will not take the risk of holding the crop any longer than necessary.

DARTING, PIERCING SCIATIC PAINS

Give way before the penetrating effects of Sloan's Liniment

So do those rheumatic twinges and the loin-aches of lumbago, the nerve-inflammation of neuritis, the wry neck, the joint wrench, the ligament sprain, the muscle strain, and the throbbing bruise.

The ease of applying, the quickness of relief, the positive results, the cleanliness, and the economy of Sloan's Liniment make it universally preferred.

Sloan's Liniment Kills Pain

Be a Joy-Walker, "Gets-It" for Corns

2 Drops, 2 Seconds—Corn Is Doomed!

When you almost die with your shoes on and corns make you almost walk sideways to get away from the pain, take a vacation for a minute or two and apply 2 or 3 drops of the world's magic and only genuine corn-peeler, "Gets-It." Then, and then only, will you be sure that your corn will loosen from your toe so that you can peel it right off gloriously easy with your fingers. Take no chances of continued pain and soreness—why use greasy, irritating salves, plasters that shift and press into the "quick," razors and "diggers" that make corns bleed and also grow faster? Use painless, easy, always sure "Gets-It." There's only one like it in the world—that's "Gets-It." Millions have tried and O. K.'d it for years. It never fails. "Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'f'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

"My Corns Peel Clean Off, With 'Gets-It'!"

Sold in Thief River Falls and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by J. P. Curtis.

MAY VISIT SCANDIA BEFORE RETURNING

ATTEMPT MADE TO EXTEND THIS PRIVILEGE TO NORTHWEST SOLDIERS.

Pennington county soldiers of Scandinavian extraction—which means a considerable majority of those who went to war from here—may have an opportunity to visit the land of their forefathers before returning to America. A suggestion that this be made possible has been made by the Normanden, a Norwegian language paper published at Grand Forks and the matter has been taken up and urged by Senator Knute Nelson and other members of congress.

A special cable dispatch to the Normanden from Christiania indicates the Nobel peace prize for 1918 may be awarded to President Wilson, who, according to the dispatch, probably will be invited to visit the Norwegian capital in order to accept the prize personally.

The Danish and Swedish governments also are said to consider extending an invitation to the president.

Visitor From Camp.

Theodore Rustad, son of Mrs. J. Rustad of Highlanding township, was a visitor with relatives and friends last Friday and Saturday, being home on a furlough. He returned Saturday night as he only had a ten day leave, six of which are taken up in traveling between Pennington county and the Kansas camp. Mr. Rustad is attached to the mail detachment of the Tenth division.

THE "NEW FANGLED FLU."

(By Amateur Astronomer.)

Planetary positions, atmospheric conditions,
Are causes of the new fangled flu,
Old Sol's requisitions, to guard off collisions,
While others are passing right thru.

Your meals should be right and your actions precise;
Too much work is as bad as to loaf—and be glad,
Open windows day and night will help in your fight
'Gainst the fad—if you're properly clad.

A little more learning "keep the home fires burning;"
Fill your lungs thrice a day or just two;
Plenty of bathing, and not too much "skating"
Will cause the new fangled flu to skiddoo!

—H. C. I. Sub Urban.

SNOW IS WELCOME TO GRAIN HAULERS

LIFTING OF EMBARGO WILL ALSO AID THE SHIPPERS.

It is doubtful if more than 20 per cent of the Pennington county wheat crop has reached the elevators. During the past two months there has been an embargo on grain shipments at the terminal markets and as the country elevators were early filled up the farmers have been compelled to keep their wheat on the farm. This has thus far proven no hardship as most of them would wait for snow before doing any considerable amount of hauling in any event.

The embargo has now been lifted and the grain movement will soon assume its normal proportions. Sleighing is also possible, although there is not yet sufficient snow to make the hauling of any considerable loads practicable. A few inches more would fix matters just right.

As an indication of what may be expected when things properly open up, it is reported that on one evening after the first passable sleighing weather, there were 40 teams at the Goodridge elevators awaiting their turn to be unloaded. Very much the same condition is reported from Hazel and other points on the railroads. That no wheat will be held, outside of what is required for seed, is certain. The price is fixed and the farmers will not take the risk of holding the crop any longer than necessary.

Illness from which he was still weak, had prevented this young military enthusiast from participating in any military routine, before demobilization of the U. S. Army had commenced.

Rev. J. A. Orrock of Thief River Falls, occupied the pulpit of the local M. E. church Thursday evening and Sunday afternoon.

The several inches of snow which fell Saturday night, made sleighing possible. The snowfall of Monday evening not only improved the sleighing but assured us of a white Christmas unless the weather turns real summery again.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Steinhauer and children took their guests, Mrs. A. Seaverson and children home from Holt in their auto Wednesday of last week.

G. Motherhead and son, Fred, left Monday for Minneapolis where they are to be employed.

Owing to illness, Sergt. McBirnie, who was scheduled to deliver a lecture the first number of the Lyceum course, at the Imperial hall Monday evening, could not be here. In his stead there was an impersonator and reader of talent, who gave a splendid entertainment. This came as a complete surprise to the Rafteseths here as it was but a few days ago that in a letter he wrote that he had been discharged from his duties in camp at New Jersey and was getting ready to leave for home. It appears that it must have been in the last minute that the orders were changed and he would have the opportunity of seeing France after all, and from former letters we are sure that nothing pleased young J. SMITH MAKES GOOD AT TRAINING CAMP

COMES OUT WITH RANK OF SECOND LIEUTENANT AT CAMP PIKE.

G. Howard Smith, attorney and former secretary of the Thief River Falls Commercial club, has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the United States army. He entered the officers' training school at Camp Pike, Ark., last September, joining the infantry branch of the service. He is the third Thief River Falls man to gain a commission, the others being First Lieutenant Hans O. Kjomme and Second Lieutenant Ralph Falk.

Lieut. Smith left his family as well as his law practice and other business affairs here to join the army and his success in gaining almost the highest rank possible at the school is most gratifying to his many friends. He has worked hard, according to letters received here, and his application and determination have been rewarded. A severe attack of Spanish influenza had the effect of checking his progress for a time, but he has fully recovered. While his plans for the future are not known it is expected that he will return to this city and resume his law practice when Uncle Sam is through with him.

A Large Service Flag.

At the Methodist church next Sunday will be displayed the conference service flag of the district of Northern Minnesota. This banner contains 4249 stars, representing the members of the church who have been engaged with some department of the army or navy during the war. Every church in the big district is represented, there being 35 stars in honor of those who went from Thief River Falls.

Bound to Grand Jury.

A. B. Remmem, who conducts a livery stable on South Third street, was on Monday bound over to the grand jury on a charge of selling liquor without a license. He pleaded not guilty to the charge when arraigned, but County Attorney E. M. Stanton presented evidence which seemed sufficiently conclusive to Judge Tarrant to warrant defendant in being held. He was allowed his freedom upon furnishing bail of $300.

Came a Long Distance.

Arrivals from the old countries of Europe have been very few during the years the war has been raging and it is probable that a big increase will be noted from now on. The first emigrant to arrive in this city from Europe for a long time, so far as known, is H. Oklund, a citizen of Sweden, who came in Tuesday night. He is a nephew of Gust Gustin of this city and intends remaining here.

Arrives From Iowa.

E. W. Battenfield, a young man who has been farming in Iowa, arrived this week and will go onto the farm recently vacated by Charles Schnabel in Norden township. Mr. Battenfield is an experienced farmer and will pay particular attention to live stock. Mr. Schnabel left a month or so ago for the purpose of joining the army. He was in the last registry list and did not wait for his classification although he was married, but offered himself to the local board for service at once.

Will Open Garage.

E. P. Burstad and Iver E. Aaseby have rented the Tessum building at the corner of Horace avenue and Third street and will within a short time open a fully equipped garage. The premises were formerly used for a similar purpose by M. Anderson & Sons and is well adapted to this kind of business.

Mr. Burstad, who has been at Cass Lake for about two years, expects to return shortly and again make his home in this city. Mr. Aaseby has been engaged in auto repairing for some years, having his shop near his home.

As a young lady she came west with her parents who settled near the village of Monticello, this state, in 1865. In the fall of 1870 she was married to V. S. Baily, Mr. and Mrs. Baily have lived in Minneapolis, Pine City, Kandihoyi, and Atwater. They came to this city in 1898, when it was in its infancy and are among the older residents. Mrs. Baily has been prominent in the affairs that concern women, having been active in the Royal Neighbors, of which she has been the recorder for the past seventeen years, and it is largely due to her efforts that that order has attained its present strength in this city. She was also a member of the Eastern Star. Her activities have won for her a wide circle of friends who join with the bereaved family in mourning her loss.

For the past several months she has suffered very severely at times from the affliction that caused her death. Besides her husband she leaves a daughter, Mrs. Dr. Archibald of Mahnomen and the latter's children, one brother and two sisters.

The funeral services were held from the Methodist church Wednesday afternoon by the pastor, Rev. J. A. Orrock, assisted by Rev. R. L. Barackman of the Presbyterian church. The body was taken to Monticello for interment, where she sleeps beside the dust of her loved ones.

From the International Falls Daily Journal it is learned that Blanche Elizabeth Kimpton, wife of Harry Kimpton, passed away on Nov. 25, after an illness extending over three years. Thief River Falls Merchants Invite Fair Visitors to an Inspection of Their Holiday Offerings

TO HAVE PUBLIC CHRISTMAS TREE

GOOD FELLOWS WILL PROVIDE MEANS FOR REGULAR COMMUNITY HOLIDAY.

ENTIRE COUNTY INVITED

CITY WILL FURNISH LIGHTS AND COMMITTEE IS LOOKING AFTER DETAILS.

Are you a good fellow?

If so you are invited to join with hundreds of others of your kind to help make the coming Christmas full of happiness and neighborly feeling for every resident of Pennington county.

The Thief River Falls Merchants' association is sponsoring a community Christmas tree to be placed at the corner of LaBree avenue and Third street for at least one week before Dec. 25. Every evening the tree will be lit up by hundreds of electric bulbs, the city council at its meeting on Tuesday evening offering to see that the necessary wiring was done as soon as the tree is placed in position.

Committee in Charge.

A good, enthusiastic committee has been put in charge of the arrangements, the following citizens having been chosen for this important post: Roy Lambert, R. P. White, H. W. Protzeller, W. W. Prichard, Jr., and F. H. Herrick. These gentlemen will have full control and will associate with themselves every other good fellow whom they happen to run across.

Is Mostly For Kiddies.

This tree will give the city a Christmassy look and will be the Mecca of every youngster who can possibly get to view it. On some evening just before Christmas every man, woman and child in the county will be invited to a regular old-fashioned Christmas celebration. The plan to be followed is being worked out and will be announced as soon as the committee has finished its work.

Good Fellows Must Pay.

Without candy, pop corn and such things it would be impossible to convince any boy or girl that Christmas is actually here. In order to provide these necessary items the Good Fellows will have to dig down and the committee will make it a point to see each and every one of them. A great many children can be made happy at a comparatively small cost if the money is wisely expended and the distribution properly made. This matter may safely be left in the hands of the committee.

It is a matter in which we are interested. The way to be happy yourself is to make others happy. This Christmas tree will create a lot of general good feeling and everybody should have a part in making it a success.

PRESENT PETITION TO PAVE STREETS

COUNCIL VIEWS MATTER FAVORABLY AND WILL DOUBTLESS ACT SOON.

A petition to the city council is being circulated by the Merchants' and Business Men's association asking that the down town streets be paved at the earliest possible moment. This petition was presented informally to the council Tuesday night that the city fathers might learn that they were being backed up in their endeavor to bring about this improvement. As there were a large number of citizens yet to be seen it was requested that the petition be returned so that others might have the opportunity of affixing their signatures. Among the signers were many large property owners who previously have opposed the movement but who are now in favor of it and Mr. Mogenson stated that no delay should be allowed in making the necessary preliminary arrangements.

The installation of paving may mean the relaying of some of the sewerage system, but this will be necessary at some time in any event and might better be done now.

OFFICERS CAPTURE CHRISTMAS BOOZE

CONFISCATE 2 TRUNKS FILLED WITH PROHIBITED TROUBLE PRODUCER.

Certain disappointed bootleggers, whose identity is well known but whose whereabouts just at present is a mystery, no doubt think Sheriff W. J. LaBree and Chief of Police E. O. Erickson are possessed of particularly mean dispositions. The officers are holding until further orders and for use as evidence, two trunks filled to the top with a particularly choice brand of whiskey. The booze was in bottles, properly stoppered and labeled, so there can be no doubt concerning its genuineness.

The shipment arrived on the Great Northern one day toward the end of last week. There was nothing about the trunks to indicate their contents, but the officers had either been "tipped off" or they suspected something from the fact that two worn trunks arrived addressed to one party. A drayman picked up the baggage and conveyed it to a shack in the western section of the city, where he left it. He is known to have had nothing to do with the matter outside of acting transfer agent.

The chief and sheriff were on the ground as soon as the parcels were delivered and proceeded to investigate. They found what they suspected and brought the trunks back. For fear that something may happen to the evidence it has been placed under lock and key and where it will take a considerable charge of dynamite to get at it.

INFLUENZA NEARLY STAMPED OUT HERE

SURVEY DISCLOSES BUT FORTY CASES—SCHOOL ATTENDANCE NOW NORMAL.

Miss Laura Haggert, school nurse, has made a careful survey of the influenza situation in the city and reports that the epidemic has evidently not only been checked but that the few new cases encountered indicate that it is practically past. Miss Haggert has investigated the matter thoroughly, both by doctor's reports and personal inquiry, and finds that at the present time there are not more than 40 persons suffering from the malady.

During the five weeks the school nurse has been employed here she has had better opportunity of observing conditions than any other person. She has made 202 calls at homes for the purpose of lending assistance and giving advice and has thus aided many who were in doubt as to the best course to pursue. Besides this Miss Haggert has inoculated 568 persons against the disease, these being for the most part teachers and students at the Lincoln high and junior high schools.

The influenza cases still remaining are scattered about the city, the largest number being at the emergency hospital, where there are four. In no instance are there more than two cases in any one family. Patients are isolated from the rest of the household and do not come into close touch with any other person. Everyone agrees that the situation is very satisfactory.

Supt. J. H. Hay reports the school attendance as normal. In fact, there has been no unusual amount of absences for two weeks past.

Ben Christenson Dead.

Word was received in the city this week of the death of Ben Christenson at Gulfport, Miss. Deceased was one of the pioneer residents of Thief River Falls, having lived here about 20 years before going south five years ago. He was about 50 years of age at the time of his death and was well known to almost all the old-timers in this section, having been at one time engaged in the general mercantile business in this city.

Attending Doctors' Meeting.

City Physician O. F. Mellby and County Physician H. W. Froehlich left Sunday night for Chicago, where they will attend a meeting of the American Public Health association. The principal subject of discussion will be the control and cure of Spanish influenza, the subject being handled by the foremost specialists in this country. Besides these there are expected to be present doctors from Canada and Europe. The subject will be gone into thoroughly and the reports on the success of vaccination as a preventative will be heard from all sections of the country.
